LAW INTELLIGENCE.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

SATURDAY, March 15, 1851.

Present:—His Honor Mr. Justice Aylwin.

Joseph Forgette took oath that he was upwards of 60 years of age, and was exempted from serving as a Juror. He was a hale, hearty looking man.

Joseph Martin was placed at the bar.

Mr. Chamberlin, on the prisoner's behalf, stated, that he was instructed to say, that he wanted to withdrew his plea.

The prisoner pleaded guilty.

Mr. Chamberlin prayed that sentence might be deferred, in order that some circumstances might be laid before the Court, in mitigation of punishment. He believed he had the consent of the Crown.

Mr. Driscoll stated, the offence was only for the stealing of half a dozen jack-knives.

The Grand Jury found true bills against Martin Quinn, for larceny; Abraham Raineau, do, three bills.

Patrick Keefe and James Jennings, were placed at the bar.

Mr. Driscoll briefly opened the case.

George Elsdale Molson, sworn—I had a cable of Manilla rope on board the Jenny Lind, in January last; the rope before me is mine, to the best of my knowledge; the one stolen was of the same size; there is nothing about the rope to distinguish it from other similar ropes; I missed ropes from the Jenny Lind on the 10th of January last; the ropes were used to hold up the shears on board the boat; the rope was cut; about 25 fathoms were stolen: Patrick Keefe asked me if I did not want some body to watch on board the boat; I said no, I do not want to have anything to do with you, some ropes have been stolen from the boat, and I must look into it; I afterwards saw him in custody of the police, for stealing the ropes: he confessed having taken the ropes; they were worth about £6 8s.

Joseph Leon Vidal, sworn—Was employed by William Miller & Co., in Jan. last, and on the 10th was offered the smaller piece of the rope for sale; it weighed 17 lbs.; he told him he had received the rope in payment for fixing the fly-wheel of a steam engine; I bought the rope for 1s 6d, and gave two coppers per lb. for it; it was worth much more.

Mr. Justice Aylwin said that this was the second time that he had known, in the administration of justice, paper makers to purchase articles for less than their real value. He would charge Mr. Vidal to inform his employers that they should be more careful in purchasing articles of that kind.

John Gaven Grey Watson, sworn—Was employed at W. Miller & Co.'s in January last; he saw the two prisoners at the bar bring another piece of the rope to the store.

Mr. Justice Aylwin impressed upon this witness the necessity of care in the purchase of valuable articles at a penny a lb.

The Witness said they had no idea the ropes were stolen.

Mr. Justice Aylwin did not believe the ropes were purchased in bad faith. He did not believe the house by which he was employed wished to encourage stealing.

A voluntary confession before the Police Magistrate was here read, to the effect, that Keefe had stolen the rope. Col. Ermatinger believed Keefe was the man who made it.

Some other witnesses were examined; the name of one of them, John McKenzie, was not put on the back of the indictment.

Mr. Justice Aylwin ruled that he should not be examined.

Mr. Justice Aylwin (in French) charged the Jury, going over the circumstances of the case.—He stated the prisoner was charged: in the indictment with having committed a theft on board a vessel on a navigable river, and that offences of this nature were punished more severely than simple thefts; but in the present case the offence was alleged to have been committed in the month of January, when there were no navigable streams in the country; consequently, the prisoners could not be found guilty of the charge brought against them in the indictment; but they might be simple thefts. His Honor went on to shew that the proof against Keefe was of the most overwhelming character; but that there was no proof whatever against Jennings, further than having been seen in bad company.

One of the Jurors (a habitant) asked if the prisoner had made any coup-de-foire the present instance. (suppressed laughter.)

Mr. Justice Aylwin said they had nothing to do with that.

The Jurors said, if they had to decide without retiring, he should like to know that.

The Jury retired, and returned a verdict of guilty of simple larceny against Keefe; Jennings was acquitted.

Mr. Justice Aylwin admonished in an emphatic manner the latter prisoner before his discharge. He hoped that he would never forget so long as he lived the circumstance of his being placed in that dock in consequence of his bad companionship. He would warn him, that if he ever appeared there again under other circumstances, and a different verdict should be rendered, that his present appearance would not be forgotten; and it would be well that he should take a lesson from it. He could assure him, that the arm of the law was powerful, although it might strike late.

The prisoner was discharged.

Martin Quinn was placed at the bar.

Mr. Driscoll opened the case.

Noel Marcil identified an etoffe de pays coat that had been stolen from him; he recognized the coat from several marks; it was stolen from him eight days ago from Thursday last. The coat was worth $6.

Thomas Patton, sworn—Is a shop keeper in the market place, and deals in old clothes; he had purchased the coat from the prisoner at the bar for 7s; he afterwards sold the coat to a carter named Damis.

Alexis Damis, sworn—Had bought the coat for 11s. 6d., on the condition that if a master was found for the coat that he would return the money. The prisoner said to the Jury that he had bought the coat of a boy, in the street, who asked him if he wanted to buy a coat, and asked 7s. 6d. for it. Prisoner offered 5s., which the boy took; and he afterwards sold it for 7s.

Mr. Justice Aylwin (in French) charged the Jury, narrating the circumstances of the case, and shewing that the prisoner had failed to bring any proof as to how he became possessed of the coat, as he was bound to do, and, as the witnesses, Thomas Patton and Alexis Damis, had done. The presumption then was, according to well known principles of law, that the prisoner was guilty. Direct proof could seldom be brought against individuals who committed theft, as this kind of offence was always supposed to be committed when no eye was looking on; but there were circumstances which enabled justice to put its hand upon the criminal, by tracing the crime home to him.

The Jury returned a verdict of Guilty.

Mr. Justice Aylwin said to Mr. Driscoll, that he could not allow that case to pass without paying his tribute of praise to the efficiency of the Police of Montreal. He added, that it would be well for the city, if the Police could be made equally efficacious for the suppression of lawlessness and violence.

Robert Buchanan, late of the Township of Acton, pleaded guilty of having stolen a mare from Jean Baptiste Bouchard, the younger. The prisoner also pleaded guilty to another indictment of having stolen a sleigh and some harness from the same person.

The Court adjourned until Monday.—Gazette.

MONDAY, March 17, 1851.

Present:—The Hon. Mr. Justice Rolland, the Hon. Mr. Justice Aylwin.

Abraham Raineau, larceny on two indictments, was tried and found not guilty. Mr. Coursol Counsel for prisoner.

Francois Bohemier, larceny, was put on his trial and found guilty. Mr. Demaras Counsel for prisoner.

Charles Bryant, on charge of stealing a gelding, was put on his trial and convicted. Mr. Johnson Counsel for prisoner.

The Grand Jury returned "true bills" against Joseph Lescarbeau, larceny; Alexis Jourdain, larceny; Hilaire Patnaude, larceny; Antoine Desroches, principal, and Alexander Desroches, larceny of Bank Notes, (no bill against accessory); and "no bills" against Pie re Piette, larceny; Antoine Desroches, and Alexander Desroches, larceny of bank Notes.—Herald.

Monday being St. Patrick's Day, was observed as a Holiday by our fellow-countrymen of Irish origin. The day was fine, and the attendance at St. Patrick's Church was very great. The Church was decorated by evergreens, which had a pleasing effect. High Mass was sung by the Bishop of Montreal. The Sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. O'Brien, and was much admired. In the Sanctuary we observed the Superior of the Seminary, and other Clergymen of the city. At the conclusion of High Mass, the Procession formed, preceded by the Voltigeur Band. The Band of the Bishop's Church headed the Young Men's St. Patrick's Association. Altogether, the Procession had a most imposing effect, and was most numerously attended; we are informed by a greater number than on any former occasion. The Music at Mass was Mozart's, and was executed in a masterly manner by ladies and gentlemen, who were accompanied by the organ. The pain beni, which was a most magnificent one, was presented by J. A. B. McGill, Esq. The collection, we have no doubt, was most abundant, as it always is. Such was the immense number of people present on this occasion, that not more than one-half could gain admittance into the Church, large as it is. In the evening a large number of Irishmen with many guests sat down to a handsome dinner, at Mr. Ryan's Hotel in St. Paul Street, and the festivities were kept up till an advanced hour, in a style which did ample honour to the festival.—Transcript.

A RACE PROPOSED.—A shipbuilder in Liverpool has challenged the American shipbuilders to construct a clipper built ship of certain dimensions, and on a liberal scale, both vessels to be of precisely the same tonnage. The ships to sail from Europe to the East Indies and back, or to make a circuit of the earth. A few weeks ago it was asserted that a party of gentlemen had already subscribed a large sum toward building a vessel to compete with one of English construction, but it was subsequently affirmed that they had abandoned the scheme. We are by no means sure that such a challenge ought to be accepted. It would involve a responsibility of individual expenditure and national reputation greatly disproportionate to the utmost good that would result from the trial. Our shipbuilders are steadily and surely acquiring a renown for the construction of fast sailing vessels, which will eventualy set the question of supremacy at rest. In so long a race as that proposed many contingencies might arise to prevent any useful result from being reached. One vessel might be disabled by storms, either, or both, might be cast away. Nor would a single trip decide the question of supremacy.

THE EXCITEMENT IN BELGRAVIA.—Jeames and the Butler—Jeames: "Aving now igsamined my sattifigite, and found my figger satisfactory, elow my to hask one question—Is Sir John's a High-Church Family, Mr. Brown? and do you fast, according to the Rubric, hevery Friday w the year? Because in this case, the place will not do for me!"—Butler: "Mr. Jeames, we will try and get you a dispensation."—Punch.

THE BRITISH PERIODICALS
AND THE FARMERS' GUIDE.

LEONARD SCOTT & Co,
No 54, Gold Street, New York,

CONTINUE to publish the four leading British Quarterly Reviews and Blackwood's Magazine; in addition to which they have recently commenced the publication of a valuable Agricultural Work, called

"THE FARMERS' GUIDE TO SCIENTIFIC AND PRACTICAL AGRICULTURE."

By HENRY STEPHENS, F. R. S., of Edinburgh, Author of the "Book of the Farm," &c., &c., assisted by JOHN P. NORTON, M. A., New Haven, Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, &c., &c.

This highly valuable Work will comprise two large royal octavo volumes, containing over 1400 pages, with 18 or 20 splendid Steel Engravings, and more than 600 Engravings on Wood, in the highest style of the Art, illustrating almost every implement of husbandry now in use by the best farmers, the best methods of ploughing, planting, haying, harvesting, &c., &c., the various domestic animals in their highest perfection; in short, the pictorial feature of the book is unique, and will render it of incalculable value to the student of agriculture.

The Work is being published in Semi-Monthly Numbers, of 64 pages each, exclusive of the Steel Engravings, and is sold at 25 cents each, or $5 for the entire Work in Numbers, of which there will be at least 22.

The British Periodicals Re-Published are as follows, viz.:—

The London Quarterly Review, (Conservative.)
The Edinburgh Review, (Whig.)
The North British Review, (Free-Church.)
The Westminster Review, (Liberal.)

AND

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, (Tory.)

Although these Works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial Works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that Magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer,) "My Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Scott & Co., so that Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.
