LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Yes, it is rather warm.

—Miss Empey, London, is visiting in Brantford.

—John Purdom, builder, of this city, has secured the contract for the work to be done at the London Insane Asylum.

—Rev. Mr. McIntyre, of Askin Street Methodist Church, preached an interesting sermon to the children yesterday morning.

—The father of Joseph Palucci, the "D" Company private who was shot at the Cove ranges, is a wealthy banker in Canton, Ohio.

—The combination of good management and warm weather has resulted in a splendid patronage of the sulphur springs baths.

—Richard Madge, of Gerry's pianing mill, South London, inflicted an ugly gash in his thumb while working with a chisel Saturday.

—At the meeting of the Congregational Union in Montreal, the name of the Union Church, London, was changed on the roll to the Southern Congregational Church, London.

—There is an interesting exhibition in E. N. Hunt's window consisting of a fine collection of Royal Worcester paintings, the work of Miss Paul, who has opened a class in this city.

—A meeting of the district committee of the I. O. O. F. has been called for Wednesday evening next in Oddfellows' Hall by District Superintendent Grand Master D. W. Blackwell.

—The Masonic fraternity of this city will celebrate St. John's Day at the end of the present month by attending divine worship in a body. A committee has been appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

—A large congregation witnessed the ordination of deacons and presbyters by the Bishop of Huron at St. Paul's yesterday morning. Several of the candidates preached in the local Anglican churches in the evening.

—The many friends of Rev. Mr. Treleaven, St. Thomas, formerly of this city, will be gratified to learn that his little son who has been dangerously ill, has passed the critical point, and hopes are now entertained of his recovery.

—The closing exercises continue each evening at Hellmuth College, and many from the city attend. The elocution recital was held Saturday evening and the art exhibition will commence to-day. Wednesday will mark the finish of the term.

—A special train of four coaches and a baggage car passed through this city yesterday afternoon conveying Lodge No. 48, B. P. O. Elks, Grand Rapids, Mich., to the annual convention in Buffalo this week. About 90 of the party took dinner at the Tecumseh House.

—Mr. Alex. McIntyre, of Winnipeg, who died in Winnipeg last week, was well known in this district. He was 51 years of age, and leaves a widow and three children. Deceased is survived by his father, who resides in the county of Middlesex with his son and daughter.

—People who were growling a week ago because summer hadn't put in an appearance were tempted to change their minds yesterday, and think that the best thing to do was to "keep cool." The thermometer at the meteorological station, South London, registered at the highest 88.5°, although many will vow that the mercury rose near the century mark.

—The botanical section of the Entomological Society held its regular meeting Saturday. Mr. Dearness gave a very interesting account of a recent trip to the Niagara Peninsula. The recent rains made botanizing difficult, but at Jordan (Twenty Mile Creek) the following specimens were collected: Viola rotunditolia (first reported in Ontario), Valerianella Olitoria (rare), Linaria Cymbalaria (first reported in Ontario), Sepidium Campestra (rare), Barbara Vulgare (rare). It will be noticed that two of the above plants are reported for the first time in Ontario by Mr. Dearness.

—The Church of St. John the Evangelist was filled with a large congregation yesterday, the holy rite of confirmation being administered by the Bishop of Huron. About 25 candidates presented themselves. Before proceeding with the ceremony the bishop addressed them in an earnest and impressive manner. After all were confirmed each one was presented with a certificate, accompanied by an oral verse, which the bishop asked them to remember in their walk through this life. Mr. "Tommy" Mitcheltree presided at the organ, and as a voluntary rendered "Nearer My God to Thee" in a sweet and solemn manner. Rev. W. T. Hill assisted in the service.

Attempted Suicide at Strathroy.

A Strathroy dispatch says that Saturday morning Andrew Banghart, an employe of Bixel's brewery there, shot himself in the head with suicidal intent. He was at last reports in a precarious condition. The reason for the rash act is unknown to his friends, though mental aberration is assigned. The victim is connected with a well-known and respected family. He formerly kept the Wharncliffe Inn, Westminster.

The Police Magistrate's Docket.

James Burton, who was charged with selling liquor from his grocery store, decided this morning to plead guilty to keeping bottled ale in stock contrary to law. The magistrate fined him $20 and costs. The penalty for selling would have been $50.

James Scott had threatened to "rip up" Robert Aitken. He was bound over in two sureties of $40 each to keep the peace.

Richard Rawlings declined to move his market wagon at Clerk Wilson's bidding, and will pay an assessment of $2 for his refusal.

Maurice Baldwin and George Nevitt were charged with fighting on the streets. The case was enlarged until Wednesday.

Richard Curtin, an old time vagrant was sent to jail for two months. Curtin is 60 years old and the magistrate had some compunctions about committing him to the central. "Send me there for three months," said Curtin with a grin. "I was there before, and liked it first rate."

Isaac Thompson, drunk and disorderly, promised to take the pledge and was dismissed.

Promising Pupils.

On Saturday afternoon the pupils of Miss Ethel Holmes and Miss Quita Moore gave a recital at Mrs. Moore's residence. All the young ladies taking part acquitted themselves most admirably, and their efforts must give entire satisfaction to the talented young ladies who instruct them. The following are the performers' names: Nettie Waterman, Mary Meredith, Lucy Hungerford, Dora Labatt, Nellie Marshall, L. Frances, Winnie and Mary Moore, E. Commander, Mabel and Tabbie Moore, Masters Hugh Labatt, John Fitzgerald, and C. A. Payne. Miss Quita Moore's singing of "Venezia" (P. Rodney), and Miss Ethel Holmes' brilliant piano solo "Hungarian Dance" (Brahms), were highly appreciated.

Choir Sunday at St. Peter's.

The music at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday was grand. Special preparation had been made for "choir Sunday," and the result was highly creditable to the participants and delightful to the large congregation that assembled for high mass and vespers. The choir was assisted by the orchestra of "D" Company Band. The soloists were: Soprano, Mrs. Keltie; contralto, Miss J. Dibb; tenors, Mr. C. W. Davis and Mr. T. J. Ranahan; bassos, Mr. P. J. Watt and Mr. J. T. Leech. Their numbers were of a high order, the chorus was notable for volume and quality of tone and the artistic manner in which the selections were handled. The members of the chorus were: Sopranos, Misses P. Hennesy, M. Dwyer, E. McCarthy, R. Burns, L. Bird, J. McCarthy, M. McLaughlin, M. Leech, A. O'Neill, E. Orendorff, M. Orendorff, L. Riley. Altos, Misses E. Harper, M. Toohey, L. O'Mara. Tenors, Messrs. F. Coles, J. Harper, W. Mullins, J. Costello, J. Lockart, J. Tynan, J. Daly. Bassos, Messrs. A. Birmingham, W. Burns, C. Jones. P. Cruickshank, F. Coles, J. Rananap, A. McLaughlin, P. Mohan, F. Forestal. The orchestra, Miss B. Cruickshank, violin; Mr. Twomey, flute; Messrs. Walsh and O'Rourke, clarionets; Mr. Henry, trombone; Mr. Woorster, cornet; Mr. Barrett, bass. Mrs. Cruickshank presided at the organ with her usual efficiency. Mr. W. E. Miller was the director. The evening offertory was for the choir's benefit.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

Don't Blame a Race for Individual Sins.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

In your issues of last Friday and Saturday I notice Mr. W. S. B. Barkwell's advertisement headed by the following beautiful (?) expression, viz.: "No Jew shop," which Mr. B. has selected as a suitable attraction to his announcements.

Now, dear sir, before making any comments upon the said so-called Christian Mr. B., I wish to be distinctly understood, in particular by the author of the same, that I do not for a moment entertain the least fear that such an insolent expression will in any shape or manner degrade the standing of the honorable few Hebrew citizens in this city, as I am fully more aware of the tolerance and indulgence of the intelligent public of this city than is Mr. B., although there are always a few black sheep which unfortunately have crept into existence in this enlightened century, pretending to be adherers to the humane principles of the modern Christian Church, instead of existing in the dark ages when autos-da-fe were built to cremate human beings who happened to differ in traditional beliefs.

Consequently I cannot anticipate as Mr. B. does that the name of the ancient race will serve as an obstruction to the business of his adversary, or as a gain to his own mercenary purposes. My object with these few lines is merely to indicate the ignorance of Mr. B. of the history of the ancient race and of the connection and relationship of the Hebrew to the true Christian Church. Mr. B. forgets the prescribed text and law which advises him and co-associate religious pursuers that the entire race ought not to share in or be responsible for the acts and deeds of a few individual transgressors, a teaching which has long since been entertained in the enlightened principles of the modern civilized world. As to the personalities of the Hebrew race, I may add that as far as intellectual, mental and moral qualities are concerned, they are fully equal to all other denominations, as indicated by official statistical records.

Trusting that Mr. B. will in future uphold the liberty, the enlightened motto of this country, and cease his attacks by using his business tactics in a more gentlemanly manner, I will conclude, thanking the editor for valuable space, and assuring Mr. B. that my few words are not in any way co-operated with personalities or ill-feelings, but are the thoughts and sentiments of every intelligent mind.

NINETEENTH CENTURY.

An Infant Saved.

A month ago a prominent lady in Montreal almost lost her infant child by death. The mother's distress was dreadful, and she seemed powerless to help the little one. It had become pale and emaciated from dysentery; its stomach was weak and seemed to refuse all nourishment.

The physician in attendance advised a trial of Lactated Food. Small quantities were administered for the first two or three days, from which the infant derived strength and vitality. The Food was continued, and in three weeks' time the child was perfectly healthy.

Lactated Food saved the little life; without it death would have resulted. This experience should be a warning to all mothers who have delicate infants. The ordinary cow's milk, and the poorly-prepared artificial foods, are never tolerated on the weak stomach. It requires a food in every respect like mother's milk—a food suited for weak and impaired digestion.

Infants who are fed on Lactated Food are never sick; they pass safely every ill which surrounds them, and fast increase in fat, bone and muscle. Try it, mothers.

The Commercial Hotel, Seaforth, has been thoroughly overhauled by the new proprietor, H. G. Edsall (formerly of this city), and is now one of the leading hotels of the west.

It is possible to be below flattery as well as above it. One who trusts nobody will not trust sycophants. One who does not value real glory will not value its counterfeit.—[Macaulay.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrup and Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

The young woman who marries a dissipated young man with the idea of reforming him is liable to have her hands full as we" as her husband.
