ANNUAL STATEMENT OF CALGARY POWER

Creditable Increase Shown In Net Profits For Past Year.

Special to The Advertiser.

Montreal, June 25. — The annual meeting of Calgary Power shareholders will be held at the head offices of the company in Montreal on Monday, July 16, at noon.

The statement for 1922 sent to shareholders shows that the gross revenue for the year showed an advance of $306,807.79, compared with $303,724.35 the previous year. Operating expenses and interest, taxes and other charges payable out of revenue absorbed $212,030.18, leaving a profit for the year of $94,777.61, as against $74,352.57 for 1921. After appropriating $62,317.81 for depreciation, bond discount and provision for income tax, the balance remaining at the credit of the surplus account and carried forward to 1923 is $232,414.87.

Referring to the expansion plans of the company, the president, V. M. Drury, has the following to say in his report to the shareholders: "During the latter part of 1922 investigations were commenced by competent engineers employed by your company of the possibilities of development of additional water power sites and storage adjacent to your company's plants on the Bow River to enable the company to meet increasing demands for power. Indications were such as to warrant a detail examination and survey, which are now being carried on. Application has already been made to the federal government for the water rights at the sites under investigation."

TICKER TALK

STOCKS.

Post & Flagg—We should have a steadier market with more disposition to buy good stocks.

Harris Winthrop—Stocks bought on declines will be sold on rallies, but not to depress prices.

Clarke Childs—There is nothing in the immediate situation to cause a repetition of the events early in the week.

Jones, Easton, McCallum — For a period of three and a half months we have been consistently and almost daily pointing out what we regarded as the weak points in the markets. The level of prices prevailing today is therefore no surprise to us, and is not to you, if you have given the least bit of attention to what we have said. We see no reason to change our views.

GRAIN.

Hurlburd Warren—If unfavorable crop developments fail to come out of the northwest, hedges against winter wheat will meet with poor absorption.

Bartlett Frazier—Wheat needs a revival in buying power or a decided reversal in the export demand to prevent further recessions.

Lamson Bros.—Much depends on the progress of spring wheat.

Jones, Easton, McCallum—The prevailing weather over the entire wheat belt being now favorable, there is no motive for higher prices from that source, but on the other hand, the market ought not to display any weakness, considering the comparatively small offerings of the new crop.

BERRY RECEIPTS ARE HEAVIEST OF SEASON

Estimated That Over Fifteen Thousand Boxes Were Offered.

While the heavy rainfull did not cover the entire agricultural district surrounding London, farmers generally are well satisfied, feeling that now rain has been headed this wey, more will folbow. As previously expected, there were large offerings of strawberries on the market this morning, the estimate reaching from 15,000 to 20,000 boxes. From as far east as Port Burwell five truck loads were sent. The opening prices were rather irregular. Starting at 12c per box by the crate, the quotations rose to 12½c, then 13c, and at noon 14c was reached. The tendency at that hour was still upward, and there is no doubt that the heavy demand will cause an increase in these figures. Retail, the prices quoted ranged from 13c to 15c at the opening, and increasing perceptibly as the day proceeded.

The arrival of rain had little effect on the market, but later sessions this week will be brisk, owing to the benefit that will accrue. London seems to have been the northern limit of the storm, as dealers coming to the city say there were no signs of rain at the Adelaide street north bridge, three miles east on Dundas street, or in the northwestern section.

Five or six loads of hay were sold at $10 to $12.50, and the demand was fairly brisk.

Potatoes were slow of sale at $1.35 per 90-lb bag.

Fresh vegetables were in demand. Peas in the pod sold at 10c per quart; asparagus, 3 bunches for 25c, and 60c to 75c per dozen bunches; cucumbers, 5c each; home-grown tomatoes, 40c to 50c per lb.

Three loads of oats were received, one load selling at $1.70 per cwt, one at $1.80, and the third at $1.85.

There appeared to be no reason for the difference in prices, as the buyer of the load at $1.70 said the grade was good.

Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, June 25.—There was no special feature to the local wheat market today; offerings were light and well absorbed, and values were ranging lower at the close. Following the easier opening, prices advanced ½c above Saturday's close, but the advance was not held, and final figures showed a loss of ½c to 1⅝c lower, as compared with Saturday. Trading in December wheat was opened this morning, the opening figures being $1.01 and the close ⅝c higher.

The volume was light in coarse grains, the market featureless and values fractionally lower. Trade was limited in flax, but values were ruling higher, and closed 1c up for July and 1⅞c higher for October.

Both cash wheat and coarse grains were quiet, with very little business reported. There was some dealing in wheat, and spreads were ¼c to ½c lower.

TODAY'S OPENING PRICES.

Chicago, June 26.—Favorable weather had a bearish effect on the wheat market today during the early dealings.

Rains and cooler temperatures Northwest were auspicious for the growth of the spring crop, whereas in the Southwest clear skies and continued heat were ideal for the harvesting of winter wheat. Lower quotations at Liverpool tended also to bring about a decline in values here. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to ¾c lower, with September at $1.03¾ to $1.03⅞, and December at $1.06½ to $1.06⅝, were followed by a moderate down turn all around.

Corn and oats were easier with wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅛c off for September at 79⅛c to 79¼c, the corn market underwent a general sag.

Oats started unchanged to ⅛c higher for September at 37⅝c. Later all the months showed a slight setback.
