Ed. Barrow Elected Unopposed Eastern League President

Note and Comment

The parting of Patsy Powers from his former friends of the Eastern League must have been pathetic. Nevertheless, as theex-president gives out in his valedictory, he has nother jobs on hand, meaning a lead mine in Ireland, a baseball club in Boston, and likely various athletic events to attend to in and around Madison-square Garden.

Right to the last his friends looked for Powers to outflank the enemy, but the man from Toronto had the campaign too well in hand. For the most part of the eighteen years in office, Powers has been an ideal chief executive, but of late years he undoubtedly grew careless in regard to the rights of some club-owners. The McMillan case settled him as far as Toronto and Montreal were concerned. Powers permitted the player mentioned to perfor mfor Rochester when he was shown to be ineligible, but the president was inexorable, and the matter was not righted until la full meeting of the clubs was called and the Rochester games ni which McMillan participated were thrown out. Jersey City, Baltimore and Buffalo fell into line with Toronto and Montreal, and all counted on Ed. Barrow, with yesterday's result.

The Toronto man is not without experience as a league executive head. He came originally to Toronto from the Atlantic League, and has had a varied career ever since with major and minor league clubs. Mr. Barrow has a splendid presence, a perfect fund of baseball knowledge and law, and, with an executive ability of considerable merit, it is not without reason to expect him to continue at the head of the Eastern for many years.

You cannot but think that after a reign of eighteen years Pat Powers' manner of meeting the delegates and his doom was rather undignified.

And so the Ontario Hockey Association has conquered everything, as far as Toronto is concerned. The big provincial body has the field all to itself, except the leagues in open-air rinks, that are working in unison, and as natural feders to the parent body. More power to Bill Hewitt.

M'INTOSH FIGHT PROMOTER

Offers Big Purses for Yankee Boxers to Scrap in London.

Hugh D. McIntosh is arranging the final details for bringing over practically all the crack boxers of the States to the mother country, says The London (Eng.) Sporting Life.

Mr. McIntosh discussed his scheme with a Sporting Life representative. Others had, he said, been made to all the big men. Jack Johnson had been offered £2000 to meet Langford in London, or a purse of £5000 if he (Johnson) would put up a £500 guarantee that he would be on the spot. Other offers include Frank Klaus, £5000 for three contests; Kaufman, £15,000 to meet Langford or Lang in London; Packy McFarland, guarantee of £1000 to meet Freddy Welsh or Owen Moran in London; Ad Wolgast $4000 for each contest.

"It sounds a big scheme, Mr. McIntosh. Do you think much actual business will result?"

"Oh, yes, I think a lot of them will be over in the new year. McFarland and Klaus have already accepted. I have also got Langford's acceptance to meet Burns in London next February."

"When will they come over?"

"As soon as the arrangements are finally completed."

Mr. McIntosh added that the band of American boxers now in Australia, including Billy Papke, Ray Bronson, Jimmy Clabby and Cyclone Johnny Thompson, were coming direct to England from the Commonwealth and would arrive at the end of February. T. S. And ews will have complete charge as Mr. McIntosh's agent.

Klaus has cabled his readiness to meet Papke if required, and another match on the tape is Eddie McGoorty of Oshkosh, and Jim Sullivan, the middleweight champion.

Lang arrives on the Minnehaha next Monday, and, Mr. McIntosh stated, was open to meet any man in England within a month of his arrival.

Asked for an expression of opinion as to the progress of the "search for a white champion," Mr. McIntosh replied: "We have most hope of Wells, altho Voyles is a good man, but Wells shows more promise. There is some talk of Chase, but you may state that Wells is prepared to meet him for any part of £1000.

In an article entitled "My Reminiscences," which Mr. McIntosh has specially written for the December number of Fry's Magazine, the well-known Australian promoter speaks of his search for a white champion, and says:

"At the present moment the question uppermost in the minds of every sportsman is: 'What white man can be matched with Johnson with any chance of success?' The conundrum is not an easy one to answer. . . . As far as I am concerned, I shall leave no stone unturned to unearth a white champion, for an intimate knowledge of both races has impressed the fact on my mind that there simply must exist a white man who can hold his own with the best representative of the colored race.

"With that object in view, during the next few months I shall promote boxing contests all over England, in which every white man of proved ability, or, rather, perhaps, I should say, of claims to boxing ability, will have a chance of proving his merit. The more I ponder on the subject the more strongly do I feel that it would be an influence for the good of the white race were the world's boxing championship to be in the hands of a white instead of a black. In England, of course, the importance of this point cannot be realized quite as clearly as is the case in America. But, all the same, as one who has traveled a great deal, I can assure readers of this article that it is a matter of real importance that the colored races should be made to feel their inferiority to the white race.

"A white champion must and will be found, and, for my part, I shall never rest content until I have discovered the missing man."

That Soccer Tournament.

G. A. Parker, the Association football man, resents The Calgary Herald's poetic inference concerning his alleged withholding of any gate receipts that should have gone to the club in the soccer tournament last fall. Mr. Parker states that the tourney was a financial failure. The amount handed over was not much above $400, and $150 was paid out by him to some of the visiting teams, amounts in excess of what they were entitled to. Parker had to meet all expenses, and was out on the tournament. He declares it has been so ever since he took an interest in soccer in Canada, and that so far it has cost him a considerable sum on every tournament held (four in all).

POWERS ISSUES STATEMENT AND STALKS OUT OF MEETING

Five Clubs Stand Steadfast to the Toronto Man — McCaffery Signs Three New Players.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The Eastern League of Professional Baseball Clubs met in annual session to-day, ousted Pat T. Powers of Jersey City from the presidency, which he held for eighteen years (except for one year), and elected Edward G. Barrow of Toronto, recently manager of the Montreal Club, to the position.

For the first time in the history of the Eastern League its session was attended and closely watched by the magnates of the two major leagues. The national agreement expires with the close of next season, and there is grave fear that the Eastern, now in a prosperous condition, will demand recognition as a major league, ranking with the American and National.

President Powers had set the time for the Eastern League meeting for noon today. For months it had been apparent that there was a line-up against him, but he had hoped to run matters to the last moment and then retire. But baseball politics, which is much more complex than public politics, had ordained otherwise, and Powers, who has been credited with building up the Eastern League, was literally led to the block and decapitated.

Powers is Sullen.

Noon came, and Powers, who was in the corridor, refused to call the meeting, saying he was expecting a document from his office. His opponents waited until 1.30 p.m., and then Jacob Stein, president of the Buffalo Club and vice-president of the league, ordered that the league meeting be called. He, representing Buffalo, with George Stallings; Joe McGinnity and T. J. Martin of Newark; Jack Dunn and E. W. Wicke of Baltimore; Sam Lichtenheim of Montreal and President McCaffery of Toronto, went to the room which had been set aside, and Mr. Stein sent a messenger for Mr. Powers. Powers refused to go upstairs. The five clubs then took a vote and elected Barrow president, and adjourned for a half-hour. When Powers appeared he called the meeting to order and issued a statement of retirement.

His Valedictory.

When the second session of the meeting convened this afternoon Mr. Powers was present. He told the members he had a statement for them, and handed each one a copy of a paper containing it. Then he walked out of the room amidst a dead silence. The statement was as follows:

"Immediately after my re-election as president of the Eastern League last year I stated I would not be a candidate another year. That statement was voluntary on my part.

"My election was not brought about by any statement of this kind made by me prior to my election, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. For eighteen years I have been elected president of the league, and of late years, just prior to the annual meeting, some disgruntled manager or magnate who could not influence me to discriminate in his or their favor during the playing season would bring forth a candidate as ambitious to succeed me, but at no time during the entire period has there been one vote cast against me for the office.

Embarrassing Opposition.

"To one who has given the best of his ability in the performance of his duties, and this without fear or favor, such opposition is of necessity embarrassing and annoying. This and the fact that opportunities are open to me at the present time which seen inviting, have prompted me not to be a candidate for re-election.

"Since the date of the last annual meeting I have not in any way solicited any club-owner to vote for me, nor have I requested any of my friends to do so.

"In conclusion I want to say that I have nothing but the most kindly feelings towards the members of the league, and I will always hope for the future success, artistically and financially, of the organization."

Schedule of 154 Games.

With the new president selected, the league decided on a 154-game schedule for next season. The meeting to fix the schedule is to be held in Baltimore on Feb. 6. The season is to start on April 20. A number of protests and other business will be considered to-morrow.

The National League meeting is also scheduled for to-morrow.

The presidents of the three minority clubs remained steadfast to Powers until the last. They were: O'Mara of Jersey City, Chapin of Rochester and Crowley of Providence.

It was understood that Powers had made no personal campaign for re-election, but it was said that Robert Davis, the Democratic leader in New Jersey, and other influential politicians across the Hudson had pulled the wires in his behalf; also that August Hartmann, chairman of the National Commission, had done some quiet missionary work, but that did not alter the fact that Powers soon realized that he was up against it.

The new board of directors are: Stein (chairman), Chapin, Dunn, O'Mara and McCaffrey.

President-elect Barrow said he would not remove the league's headquarters from this city, and would open new offices in a few days.

The Montreal Club signed E. J. McCafferty to manage the team in place of Barrow, and the former promptly made two trades. He exchanged Winters for Carroll of Toronto, and let Dorner go to Wilkes-Barre in exchange for Hunter.

John Ganzel has a deal on with the Highlanders for Catcher Fred Mitchell and Otis Johson, but nothing has been done so far.

Gossip of the Meeting.

Ganzel may land McMullan from the Brooklyn Club. President Ebbets had a talk with Ganzel this afternoon, but he said nothing had transpired. Incidentally, Ebbets signed Third Baseman Lennox and Outfielder Lefeane for his own team.

The Hotel Victoria was crowded with baseball men all day. Some of the National Leaguers, who will be in their annual meeting at the Hotel Breslin to-morrow, dropped in and indulged in the general fanning.

August Herrmann of Cincinnati, Stanley Robinson of St. Louis, Barney Dreyfuss of Pittsburg and Horace Fogel of Philadelphia, seemed to think that Thos. J. Lynch would be re-elected without serious opposition.

Ebbets of Brooklyn, said that he would try to have both big leagues extend the schedules until Oct. 12 in order to take in Columbus Day, and he also declared that he would find out whether President Lynch acted legally when he fined the Brooklyn club $500 last summer, because McMillan, a player, was sent to the Rochester Club without an application of the waiver rule.

C. W. Murphy of Chicago arrived tonight and so did John S. C. Dovey, who sold the Boston Club recently to John P. Harris. The latter will be here to-morrow, and may be accompanied by the syndicate organized by William Hepburn Russell, who, it is said, will buy the Hub club for $120,000, if he has not done so already.

All those who waited while the Eastern League president conferred were C. W. Somers, president of the Cleveland Club; John I. Taylor, president of the Boston Americans; Frank J. Farrell, owner of the Highlanders; Louis Pieper, president of the Lawrence, Mass., Club; T. H. Murnane, president of the New England League; William Smith, former manager of the Buffalo Club, and Thomas Down of the Springfield, Mass., Club.

NEW MEN FOR TORONTO.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—President James J. McCaffery to-day purchased from the St. Louis Nationals Pitchers John Lush and Backman, and Catcher Ed Phelps for the Toronto Club. The last named was formerly in the Eastern League with Rochester.

ED. G. BARROW
Toronto baseball man who is elected president of the Eastern League.

Horses Average Good Prices at Maher's Exchange

The attendance at the Monday sale at Maher's Horse Exchange was exceptionally good. Quite a number of outside buyers were present, and the bidding from the start to the finish was very spirited. There was an exceptionally fine lot of horses offered, and prices were high for all the good stock.

Mr. Crosier Coulter had a consignment of thirty-four horses, and every horse was sold. They were a grand lot, right out of hard work, but re ady to go at it again, and the thirty-four averaged $[illegible]. T. A. Crow of Crow & Murray bought a beautifully-matched pair of carriage horses, a show team. They stepped like one horse, good knee action; in fact, it would be hard to beat them; splendid color, the right kind of feet and legs. This pair brought $860. The pair of carriage horses consigned by Mrs. Leys, a good-looking paid, perfectly city-broken and kind in all harness, were bought by H. Conn of Ottawa for $[illegible]. The team consigned by Mr. Gooderham, a nice pair of bay mares, a real nice pair, well broken and showing a lot of classe, were bought by A. Spear for $317.50. Mr. Townsend bought a very classy road horse, a beautiful bay gelding, black points, with exceptionally good feet and legs, what would be called a perfect gentleman's road horse. This fellow brought $227.50.

J. J. Birchard of Lynden Valley bought a nice kind of a road horse for $177.50. Mr. Struthers bought a good heavy bay gelding, paying $172.50. Mr. Sheehan bought a good kind of a heavy bay gelding for $155. He looked the bargain of the day. Mr. McKay bought a number of good ones—a fine chestnut gelding for $225; a grand bay mare, weighing about 1600 lbs., for $237.50; a black gelding, $202.50, and a pair of bay geldings, weighing 3100 lbs., for $442.50. Robert Purdy bought a nice bay mare for $182.50, and Mr. Williamson bought a grand buckskin gelding, an exceptionally good horse, with the best kind of feet and legs and action, like a hackney, for $245. Mr. Conn of Ottawa bought a number of heavy ones—black mare, weighing 1600 lbs., for $180; bay mare, extra good, for $235; roan gelding for $227.50; bay gelding, $237.50; bay gelding, $172.50.

J. J. Walsh bought a couple of good ones, a bay and a brown gelding, paying $187.50 and $217.50. Mr. McGregor bought several—a bay mare, the real sort, for $201.50; brown mare, $187.50; bay mare, $182.50.

A gentleman from Whitby got a good kind of heavy bay mare, that would make a grand brood mare, for $182.50. J. Coffee bought abaymarefor$ 182.50. J. H. Sawyer of Brantford got a bargain in a bay mare, weighing 1640 lbs., paying $250. Mr. Marshall got a bay gelding for $202.50. A. Spears bought a heavy bay gelding for $[illegible]; the Canadian Express Company a good wagon horse, bay gelding, for $210.

These are about the prices paid for the good ones. The usual quantity of cheap workers were also disposed of. The management were well pleased with the result of the day's sale.

Maine's Log Cabin School.

From the Lewiston Journal.

Maine has one real log cabin schoolhouse, the building being situated on the estate of C. O. DeMerritt, a 1500 acre farm in Riley plantation, of which Ketchum is the post office. It is located some ten miles from Bethel, and about fifty people live thereabout. The inhabitants pay no taxes except for the maintenance of the school, and are not restricted by any special town laws.

TORONTO HOCKEY LEAGUE HAVE BUSY SEASON AHEAD

Senior, Junior and Juvenile Clubs in Line—Hockey News and Gossip.

The first regular meeting of the Toronto Hockey League was held last night at Central Y.M.C.A., and from the interest shown by the many delegates present this is going to be the busiest season in the history of the league. The senior series comprises two sections of the following teams: Canadian Kodak, Parkviews, Chiswick, Curnockinus and Weston composing one district, and Centennial I. and A. Massey-Harris, Grenvilles and Lowndes composing the other district, the junior series comprising Scoten Tristies, Weston, Parkviews and Crusaders in one section and with the juvenile and second section of the junior having openings for two more teams each. The schedule has not been drawn up. Any teams desiring to enter the above sections for this season must send their application in at once to the secretary, Mr. A. V. Ouilett, care of Gendron Manufacturing Company, or phone M. 7627.

J6 hockey team of the T. Eaton Company League held their annual meeting last night. The following officers were elected: Honorary president, S. Lubelsky; honorary vice-president, W. Brown; president, George Darrington; vice-president, Frank Cooper; manager, Richard Cook. The department have a lot of good material to select a fast eleven from, such as J. Long, H. Galbraith, W. Brown, J. Montgomery, A. Rainer, A. Graham, so that they are confident of winning the honors.

The St Paul's Hockey Club, which made such a good showing in the Intermediate O.H.A. last season, are again entering the same series this year, and with a few changes on the team expect to make a good showing. Mr. Harry E. Richard, who is well connected with the C.W.A. in all their bicycle and motor races, has been the successful choice of the members to act as manager, and with such a capable business man at their head the boys all look for bright prospects. The first practice of the season is expected Tuesday night. This hour will appear in Tuesday's issue of the daily papers. All last year's players and all those who wish to play with St. Paul's this season are cordially invited to turn out to practice, and, as no partiality is going to be shown any individual, it is plainly evident that everyone will be given an opportunity to prove his ability. Address all communications to James L. Dillon, secretary St. Paul's Hockey Club, 63 Regent-street.

The St. Mary's hockey team of the Inter-Catholic League will hold their first practice to-night at the Excelsior Rink at 7.30. All players and any others wishing to join are requested to turn out.

The Boys' Union Hockey Leagues have been able to make arrangements whereby boys' hockey teams of 17 years and under may secure free playing ice on the city hockey rinks in different parts of the city. All teams wishing to enter one of the leagues are requested to apply at once to the secretary, stating nights and hours preferred. The Boys' Union Hockey Leagues are: Junior, 15 years and under, fee $1.50; Intermediate, 16 years and under, fee $2; Senior, 17 years and under, fee $2.50. Medals and cups are given in each division, and the winner of the senior division will play off in the Juvenile All-Toronto championship series, when another set of medals and a cup will be given. Each team is requested to have two representatives at the Broadview Boys' Institute Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, when the schedules will be arranged. Address communications to E. D. Otter, secretary Broadview Boys' Institute (phone North 2435).

Fred Mitchell, president of the Scotch Thistle Hockey Club, wishes to announce that any players wishing to have a try-out will be welcomed if they will come to the rink at Varsity Athletic Field.

The West Toronto Hockey League will meet in Dr. L. G. Smith's residence, corner of Medland and Annette-streets, on Wednesday night at 8.30 o'clock. All teams wishing to play in this league are asked to send delegates to the meeting.

There is certainly no lack of junior hockey material around Mutual-street Rink this weather. Every club that is entering a junior team is overwhelmed with candidates and the managers are having a hard time to make choices.

Upper Canada and St. Andrew's Colleges had the early hours yesterday and both teams had a host of youngsters chasing the rubber.

The University squad are always a treat to watch on the ice and their combination and stick handling is better at every appearance.

The Rowing Club sprung a surprise when McCreath was seen to take the ice with them. Thornback of last year's intermediate Lindsay team, and Barclay, a graduate from Whitby, made their first appearance.

The Toronto Canoe Club Juniors were out in force and worked hard for an hour. A new one was Riddell of the Simcoes last year.

Twenty-five seniors and juniors were Parkdale's little lot, among whom for the seniors were: Hunter, Ridpath, Lawson, Lane, Holmes, goaltender from the Canoe Club; Adams from the Royal Military College; Irving, junior of last season, and Lang, Cameron, a wing man from New Brunswick, made his debut with the juniors.

The Eaton crowd, with Fred Waghorne calling the off-sides, had a good hour of profitable work and showed speed and head work galore. Every man on the ice seemed fast, making it hard to pick the stars.

The practice hours to-day are as follows:
6.30 to 7.30, St. Michael's.
7.30 to 8.30, Simcoes.
8.30 to 9.30, T.A.A.C.
9.30 to 10.30, Argonauts.

Andy Kyle is getting in shape and works out with the Parkdale crowd whenever they appear.

The postoffice team will practice this afternoon on Broadview Rink, commencing at 1.45.

The Aberdeen five cleaned up the College team in the Athenaeum Two-Man League yesterday afternoon for five straight games, which is a new record for the league. SIDELIGHTS.

George Smith, agent for the Valley Mills, Providence, R.I., and also councilman for the Ninth Ward in the Clam City, is a visitor to the city, and, accompanied by his wife, is paying a visit to his brother-in-law, Jack White, the well-known Bison outfielder. George is an enthusiastic ball fan, having played professionally, and he thinks that, next to Toronto, Providence is the greatest ball town on the map. Speaking of his impressions of Toronto, George said: "I struck your town the night of the street car riots, and I can assure you I thought I was receiving a royal welcome when I kept dodging bricks and stones in a Dundas street car all the way out to my place of domicile. Outside of this, I think Toronto is all right, and expect to pay a return visit next summer."

Ten teams have entered the Beaches Two-Man League, and rolling will commence to-night, when four games will be played.
