SPORTING MATTERS

ST. PETERS DOUBLED F. M. A.'s LAST NIGHT

About 500 spectators witnessed a fairly good game of ball on the Shamrock grounds last evening, when in the Inter-Society League series the St. Peters defeated the Father Matthew Association team by a score of 4 to 2.

The score would have undoubtedly been more even had it not been for the loose base running of some of the F. M. A. players. Bent pitched a good game for his team, but his errors helped to defeat them.

Homer McIntyre of last season's St. Johns, occupied the box for last night's winners, and like Bent, pitched good ball.

The umpire was Mr. Wells of Amherst, and he gave perfect satisfaction.

Mahoney opened the first inning by striking out. Small followed with a single to right field, and stole second. C. McCormick struck out. Donnelly drew a base on balls, and with Small advanced a bag on a wild pitch, and both scored on J. McCormick's single to the centre field. Howe retired the side by striking out.

Two fly balls to the right fielder and a strike out, retired the F. M. A.'s in 1—2—3 order.

In the second inning the St. Peters were retired quickly with a fly to centre, the second man went out, short stop to first base, and the third, Donovan, to first.

For the F. M. A.'s, Flynn drew a base and was forced out at second on John McDermott's liner to Mahoney at short. Donovan hit to J. McCormick at second, who failed to handle it. Bent landed a nice single to right field, and on the throw in McDermott scored and Donovan reached third safely, but tried to get home and was caught, Mahoney to Rogers. A bad throw from Mahoney gave White a life on first. Riley placed a safe one to short, and the bases were filled, and it looked as if the score was to be tied, but Joe McDermott struck out and his team went to the field.

In the third, Bent failed to handle one from Mahoney. Small once more placed a safe one in the outer garden, this time in the left field, and Mahoney advanced a bag. Charlie McCormick was the next to bat and cracked the leather on the nose for two bases, as it landed in right field. Mahoney scored and Small reached third. Donnelly flied out to White in centre, who, with a nice double to Joe McDermott at second, caught Charlie McCormick napping. J. McCormick struck out and left Small on third base.

Donnelly at first retired the F. M. A.'s in the third unassisted. Kelly, the first batter, hit out to Donnelly, McGivern followed with a single to right. Flynn flied out to Donnelly, who caught McGivern off the bag and made a double play unassisted.

The fourth inning opened with Howe drawing a base on balls. Doherty hit to Bent, who had an easy chance for a double play, but a bad throw to second gave Howe that bag safe and he started for third. A bad throw by White to third allowed Howe to score the fourth and last run for St. Peters, and Doherty went to second on the error. Rogers flied out to Donovan, McIntyre drew a base on balls, Mahoney flied out to McGivern, and Small flied out to White.

For the F. M. A. only one man out of the four up reached first safely and that was Bent with a single to centre. The others hit out to the infield.

In the fifth the first three St. Peters' men went out to the infield, while the F. M. A.'s scored one with two nice hits by Kelly and McGivern.

In the sixth and last inning Howe struck out; Doherty hit safe to centre and stole second; Rogers drew a base on balls; McIntyre struck out; Mahoney singled to second, but Doherty died on third, when Small flied out to right field.

The F. M. A.'s were retired in 1, 2, 3 order, and the game was won by St. Peters, 4 to 2. The following is the score and summary of the game:

HAUNTS OF THE MOOSE AND THE SALMON

One of the most recent publications of the Canadian Pacific Railway, entitled "Fishing and Shooting," is descriptive of the opportunities afforded the sportsman in the various sections of the Dominion reached by the Canadian Pacific.

The booklet is in three sections—"Fishing," "Shooting" "Canoe Trips and "Camping." In all three sections the province of New Brunswick is mentioned frequently.

Under the head of "Big Game Shooting" the hunting possibilities of the entire Dominion from Nova Scotia to the Pacific are discussed. The best district in which to get the moose, the grizzly, the musk ox, the caribou, are all covered in detail. Concerning New Brunswick, the booklet says: "At least one third of the Province of New Brunswick is good hunting ground, and most easily reached by the Canadian Pacific Railway." This province is also mentioned as the home of the deer and the caribou. Ontario, Quebec, the West and the Rockies are also dealt with as far as big game shooting is concerned.

Under the head of "Fishing" all the noted salmon and trout rivers of Canada are touched upon. Lake fishing is also dealt with. New Brunswick is again to the fore with the Tobique, Nepisiquit, Miramichi, and other rivers. Skiff Lake, York County, is mentioned on account of its fame as a trout lake. The famous salmon streams of Northern Quebec and of New Ontario have their advantages set forth in glowing colors, and the rivers of British Columbia are not forgotten. Besides salmon and trout districts the best localities for bass, pike, maskinonge and other fish are pointed out.

In the final section of the pamphlet, that devoted to canoe trips, many canoe routes are discussed. In New Brunswick the merits of the St. John and Tobique are portrayed. In the other parts of the Dominion are the Yoho Valley of British Columbia, the Okanagan in the same province, the Temiskaming and Kipawa in Ontario, as well as the Ottawa.

The booklet is handsomely illustrated with views of hunting, fishing and canoeing.
