LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

Our friends the public will please remember that for all sorts of casual advertising, such as Help Wanted, Houses to Let, Amusements, Specific Articles for Sale, etc., etc., the ADVERTISER is an unsurpassed medium.

—P. C. Monaghan has been laid up for a week with a sore knee.

—Mr. John Barons, of this city, is spending a few holidays in Melbourne.

—Rev. J. V. Smith, D.D., of the Centenary Church, Hamilton, is in the city today.

—Sheriff Cameron has ordered that the court house flag be hoisted during fair week.

—The Bishop of Huron is announced to preach in St. James' Church, South London, on Sunday evening.

—Messrs. Harry T. Reason and Frank W. Edy have just returned from a delightful trip to Montreal and Quebec, via the St. Lawrence and the Rapids.

—P. C. Robert Weir was taken ill at the police station yesterday afternoon, and had to be removed home in a hack. He is suffering from a heavy cold.

—Mr. W. P. Plant, a former resident of this city, but now proprietor of the Norwood foundry and implement works, is visiting his brother, Frank Plant.

—J. Ratcliffe, murdered at Tilbury Center, was at one time an engineer on the G. T. R., running from Hamilton to Buffalo, and was for a short time on the M. C. R.

—Mr. James Annet, defendant in the recent capias suit, purposes appealing from Judge Elliott's decision protecting Mr. E. Cleghorn from action for alleged false arrest.

—Mr. Joseph Gabay, a veteran theatrical man, in in the city representing the pretty Irish drama "The Ivy Leaf," which appears at the Grand, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of next week.

—Dr. Robert R. Smith, con. 3, lot 6, Lobo, has been ejected from his farm on a writ issed by Miss H. L. Thompson, city, who became owner under a foreclosure of mortgage. Dr. Smith formerly practiced here.

—A Gobles (Oxford county) correspondent writes: John Radloff is very ill at present with typhoid fever. His brother, Herman, who was working at London, was brought to his home on Friday last with the same disease.

—Mr. J. D. Sharman, whose genial face bears impress of a pleasant and healthful outing in Winnipeg and the Northwest, has returned to the city, and reports having had a most enjoyable visit to the Prairie Province. Mrs. Sharman accompanied.

—The Middlesex fall assizes will open Oct. 1 with Justice Robertson on the bench. The criminal docket includes a charge against Edward Bowers for having killed William Cain in Biddulph, and another case against Herrington, of Strathroy, charged with having fired a planing mill in that place on Aug. 15

—Sheriff Bettes, of Muskoka, was conducted through the county jail yesterday by Sheriff Cameron. He was very much surprised at the size of the building, and more surprised on being told that the accommodation was overtaxed during the summer. The jail at Bracebridge, Mr. Bettes said, had only nine cells, and the largest known number of inmates at one time was thirteen. The visitor was very much impressed with the cleanliness throughout the institution. Mr. Bettes is a delegate to the General Conference.

—A very enjoyable time was spent last evening in the lecture room of the First Congregational Church, the occasion being a social given by the Y. P. S. C. E. of that church to two of its members, Messrs. R. H. Lewis and W. E. Harding, who are leaving next week for Montreal, where, for the next five years they will take a course in the McGill University, preparatory to entering the ministry. After a programme was carried out, consisting of solos by Mr. Moule, Montreal; quartets by Messrs. Anundson, Dixon, Moule, Brock and Lewis and Misses E. Moule and A. Moule, a few words of farewell were said by Messrs. Harding and Lewis. Rev. J. R. Adams gave them some good advice, and everyone joined in wishing them success.

Funeral of Mr. Jesse M. Symonds.

It was arranged that the funeral of the late Mr. Jesse M. Symonds, of the ADVERTISER, should be held tomorrow, but today a telegram was received from his brother Harry, now resident in the Western States, that he was on his way here and could not possibly reach London till Saturday evening. He requested that the funeral be delayed, consequently the time was changed to Sunday. On this account solely, Canon Davis, pastor of the deceased, consented to officiate on Sunday, regarding it as an occasion upon which the rule of the city clergy against Sunday funerals might be departed from.

Police Court Troubles.

Mrs. Mary Ann Taylor, of 531 Talbot street, told the police magistrate her many grievances this morning. She said she had trouble several times with her husband, Robert. He frequently came home drunk and abused her, and on a recent occasion kicked her in the stomach and in other ways ill-treated her. Robert did not have very much to say. The magistrate enlarged the case for a week, but after the court was over the couple walked into the clerk's office, Taylor paid the costs and both went home happy. J. S. Backus, a huckster on the market, was caught buying live poultry on the market in prohibited hours. He admitted the offense, promised never to repeat it and paid $1 into the treasury. Arthur Smith, a fruit vendor, monopolized another tenant's stall and refused to leave when requested to do so. He was also fined $1. Louis Dambra and Gilbert O'Meara, two youths, got fighting on Talbot street on Sunday last. They were cautioned not to repeat the offense and discharged. Benj. Whitehead and Elizabeth Kent were charged with a breach of the bylaw in moving a frame house within the fire limits without the consent of the engineer. The case was enlarged for a week.

'Twas a Pet Alligator.

"Tweeg, of the Indians, mud devil, ground puppy and young alligator of the Americans" was the name the naturalist gave it. That it had descended from the clouds and had traveled from the Ohio and Allegheny Rivers were the opinions of the theorists. A little girl's pet 'gator that had escaped from its tub in a neighboring yard is the proper one. A day or so ago the ADVERTISER chronicled the fact that a young alligator had been killed in Mr. John Connors' yard, Grey street. A scientific inquest was held by the learned to give it a name before burial, and while this was in progress little Miss Porteous, around the corner on Colborne street, was bewailing the loss of her pet. Next evening the Porteous family read an account of the supposed descendant from cloudland and came to the conclusion that their pet alligator had been slain. They were not a little indignant. The animal was given to Mr. Porteous, who is a Grand Trunk driver, by a friend from Florida. The family recently moved into a new house on Colborne street and it was not generally known that a young suarian accompanied them. Several times it has wandered away but always instinctively headed south. He resolved on a little strategy on the afternoon of his death, and with a view to escape recapture made a detour to the north and then headed for the M. C. R.—to ship as freight, it is said, but this could not be verified. Then he fell in with Master Connor and a spade. Now he is in the future abode of alligators. He was "fierce and ferocious," the learned say, but there is one little girl in London who mourns a docile, if a truant, pet.

Dr. Beemer's Farewell.

The London Club was the scene of a merry gathering last night when a complimentary dinner was given to the asylum medical staff and cricket club, prior to the departure from the city of Dr. Beemer. The doctor in addition to being a brilliant player has been one of the most enthusiastic pushers of the game in London and had much to do with inaugurating the present clubs and raising them to their present high standard of excellence. About 50 persons were present, among whom were: Mr. George C. Gibbons, Q.C., Dr. Beemer, Dr. Ross, Dr. Sippi, John Marshall, W. C. Furness, F. F. Harper, N. P. Graydon, H. C. Pope, A. O. Graydon, Dr. Bayly, Richard Bayly, Dr. Wilson, F. Love, G. N. Sayers, A. B. Patterson, A. M. Smith, G. H. Gillespie, Geo. Macbeth, Campbell Becher, M. Masuret, J. D. Pigott, P. Mulkern, Dr. Weld, Thos. Gillean, W. M. Gartshore, Dr. Moore, Dr. Drake, George Sippi, A. B. Cox, H. Cronyn and F. P. Betts. An excellent luncheon was first enjoyed, and then Mr. George C. Gibbons took up the toast list, which included "The Queen," "Canada," "Our Guests," "Dr. Beemer," and "Our Matches, as viewed by Our Umpires, Our Friends, Our Scorers and Ourselves. Everyone was responded to by a half dozen or more, and in each speech heartfelt regret was expressed at the approaching departure from the city of Dr. Beemer, who goes to Mimico. As the evening was about concluded, Dr. Beemer was presented with a handsome bronze clock, on which was engraved on a silver plate, "N. H. Beemer, from a few London friends and fellow-cricketers. London, Sept. 13, 1894." In social as well as professional circles the doctor will be much missed. He is, in common parlance, "a splendid fellow."

For more than 30 years the LONDON EVENING ADVERTISER has been a household word. But the EARLY MORNING EDITION is an equally effective newspaper, containing all the telegraphic news of the world up to the last minute, all the markets, local news, etc. Some like a morning edition and some like an evening edition. Take your choice! You can have either delivered or sent by mail.

The Wilkinson Truss.

In the main building of the Toronto Industrial Fair, on the ground floor, Mr. B. Lindman had an exhibit of more than ordinary interest to those suffering from hernia, and as an estimate gives the number of sufferers to be one in six of the population, this exhibit should have been seen by all who are su
