VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE IRISH SITUATION.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

T. P. O'Connor, who, as everyone knows, is a man of exceptional intelligence and breadth of vision, assures us that the British Government in introducing conscription for Ireland, is guilty of the most flagrant injustice, and that its efforts to secure more men are doomed to failure. It remains to be seen whether Lloyd George or T. P. O'Connor are right.

When it comes to a question of British control, Messrs. Devlin, Dillon and the other Nationalist leaders, otherwise sane, intelligent men, scream, yell, and talk the most illogical nonsense that ever disgraced the parliamentary records. What is the cause of this extraordinary phenomenon? I think it is probably exactly the same cause which produces similar ebullitions in Quebec, these two countries being altogether unique in this respect, as far as the British Empire is concerned. Who is kicking in South Africa, Scotland or Wales over the horrible injustice of the English? It seems to me that there is only one difference between the Russian Bolsheviki and the Irish Bolsheviki (or Sinn Feiners), and that is the Russian Bolsheviki have been mad for a year, but are already rapidly returning to their senses, whereas the Irish Bolsheviki have been mad for 500 years, and there is no sign of improvement yet.

CHARLES LUSH.

London, April 16, 1918.

A FEW DISCREDIT MANY.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I notice that "A Soldier's Wife" considers her lot a hard one, because the landlord of a house would not rent it to her when he learned she was a soldier's wife.

There are two sides to every case. My living depends on the rental from four houses, and I could not afford to rent to any soldiers' wives. I have done so three times. They did not pay their rent, and defiantly asserted that "I could not make them." Getting them out was trouble and expense, but even if the law did not protect them, there would be unpleasant things said of anyone who tried to force them to pay. The landlord must pay his taxes, repairs and rates, and small wonder, I say, that he does not rent to people who cannot be made to pay.

A SUFFERER.

A.Y.P.A. OF ST. MATHEW'S STAGES AN AMUSING PLAY

Members of Cast Win Generous Applause for Their Acting.

A play, "Engaged by Wednesday," was put on by the members of the A. Y. P. A. of St. Matthew's Church on Tuesday evening. Rev. G. W. Latimer, rector, ably performed the duties of chairman.

Mrs. M. E. Cooke impersonated Mrs. Watson; Miss Vida England took the part of Miss Persons, spinster; A. Henderson was known as Arthur Watson; Russel Ardiel, Orvil Wyckoff and Corp. Matthews, as Ted, Jack and Dick, besom friends of Arthur Watson; Miss Vita Isaac as Lucille Pedsons; Miss Verna Ardiel as B. Edmonds; Miss Daisy Gibbons as Mabel Johnson and Jean Isaac as Jane Richmond, also were important members of the cast. Sergt. Mercer as Martin Henry, also made a hit with the audience. Miss Nellie Thurling played the part of Mary the cook. Miss M. Dyson, Miss Nellie Jacobs, Miss Dorothy Wallace and Miss Florence Gibbons assisted in the play.

A solo by A. H. Whitlow and a reading by Miss Jean Walker delighted the audience. There was a good attendance, and all present were well pleased with the quality of the entertainment.

CHELSEA GREEN BRIDGE BRINGING COMPLAINTS FROM RESIDENTS THERE

Bad State of Repair of Flooring Causes Fear of Accidents.

Residents of Chelsea Green are complaining of the condition of the Adelaide street bridge. It is positively dangerous, they assert, and something ought to be done before an accident occurs. The bridge was erected by the Chelsea Green Land Company when this suburb was first laid out in building lots. The growth of this community has been rapid, and the traffic over the bridge has been greater than was anticipated. The flooring is weak in many places, and it is feared that a horse will break through it.

The suburbanites assert that the damages arising from a probable accident like this would go a long ways to make the repairs.

Opinions are expressed by some that a new bridge is needed. The time is not far distant when the street railway system will be extended over Adelaide street through the Green, they say. In this event, the present structure would not be of sufficient strength. That a new flooring ought to be laid on the bridge immediately is the general opinion, however.

350,000,000 CART WHEELS ARE TO BE MELTED DOWN

WASHINGTON, April 16.—After an all-day meeting the Senate banking and currency committee late today decided to report favorably the silver bill introduced by Senator Pittman of Nevada, after amending it so as to provide for the withdrawal of the federal treasury and melting into bullion $350,000,000 in silver dollars, instead of $250,000,000, as originally proposed. This bullion is to be used in meeting foreign trade balances.

TABLEAU PRESENTED AT ANNIVERSARY OF ASKIN ST. W. M. S.

Thirtieth Birthday of Society Marked by Unique Program.

Celebration of the 30th anniversary of the organization of the Women's Missionary Society of Askin Street Methodist Church took the form last evening of an entertainment, at which interest centred in the presentation of an impressive sacred drama, "The Challenge of the Cross." The messenger of the cross (Mrs. McMurtry) appeared with a number of crosses which she challenged the six others, taking part, in turn to accept. One refused a cross because she wanted a life of ease and pleasure; a second wanted to select a cross that appealed more to her taste; a third was willing to bear a cross on condition that she could hide it. Only the last was willing to bear the cross and follow Christ. Rejected by the messenger, the five unwilling, on witnessing the example of the sixth, came in humility to offer also to take up their crosses. An effective tableau closed the drama, the first one willing to bear her cross kneeling in front of the cross, while the others grouped around, a quartet composed of Misses Dobbyn and Cullis and Messrs. Ballantyne and McCulloch, singing an appropriate number. In addition to Mrs. McMurtry, those taking part in the drama were Mesdames Ross Smith, A. V. Johnston, Maine, E. R. Wilson, Wescott, and John McArthur.

Mrs. Gordon Wright presided, reviewing the work of the auxiliary during the thirty years of its history. Much appreciated numbers were solos by Mrs. Munroe, soprano, and Miss Frances Cullis, contralto; piano duets by Miss Dobbyn and Miss Helen Miller, and readings by Mrs. Westland.

INTERESTING MODELS

"Little People of the Cornfields" Being Shown Here This Week.

An exhibition of the "Little People of the Cornfields," under the direction of Mrs. Coburn of Walkerville will be held in the Royal Bank building next Friday and Saturday afternoons under the auspices of the Lieut.-Col. Carey Bell Becher Chapter, I. O. D. E. Mrs. Coburn has delighted audiences in Detroit, Toronto and Chatham, and has with her thirty little models of her own making. These tiny people are fashioned from cornstalks and are representative of human nature in its various phases. Mrs. Coburn will give half-hour talks at 2, 3, 4 and 5 o'clock on each of the afternoons, after which her audiences may file past and examine the models.

This exhibition will be especially interesting to children. The entire proceeds will be used for patriotic purposes.

ORANGE LODGE CONCERT IS SUCCESSFUL EVENT

Program at Egerton Street Hall Most Entertaining.

A successful entertainment was held Tuesday evening under the auspices of Langemarck Orange Lodge in the Egerton Street Hall. E. H. Johnston, the chairman, introduced the program with a brief address.

Miss Gladys Comber and her company supplied the talent for the concert. The songs by Pte. Bennett, Miss Margaret Laing, A. Wilmer, Miss Winnie Griffith and Miss Mina Crittle, and the readings by Miss Edna Quinn and Miss Edna Griffith were well received. The sword dance by Miss Gladys Comber and a Scotch song by Geo. Garrow also delighted the audience. The Highland Fling by Earl Pearson, an instrumental duet by Mr. and Mrs. Vize, and a violin selection by Sergt. Thoburn, were applauded. Ira Carling, in a character sketch, was much appreciated.

A large audience was present, and all expressed their appreciation of the entertainment.

GRAIN.

Chicago, April 17.—Opening: Corn—May, $1 26⅞; July, $1 16⅞.

Oats—May, 82¾c; July, 74⅜c.

Chicago, April 17.—Welcome rains beneficial to newly seeded corn brought about sharp breaks in the price of corn. Free selling in which important houses were conspicuous made the fact speedily evident that the market lacked any aggressive support. About the only demand came from shorts collecting profits. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c to ¾c lower, with May at $1 26⅞ and July at $1 16½@1 16¾, were followed by decided additional losses.

Oats headed down grade with corn. Trading in the July delivery took place for the first time this season, but the bulk of business continued to be in May. After opening unchanged to ¾c to ⅞c lower, with May at 82½@83c, the market receded further before beginning to react.

Winnipeg, April 17.—Oats opened ¼c to ⅞c lower for May at 90⅝@90, and July 1c lower at 87c.

Flax, ⅜c higher for May at $3 84.
