Our Paragrapher.

THE country is always several millions better off after the work done at a boat race.

'Tis rumored Sir A. J. Smith, K. C. M. G., is to start a new paper in this place. 'Tis a pity he had not started the Cape Tormentine Railway, and he would have had no need of a paper to defend him.

JOHN A. never does things by halves. At a Mansion House dinner the other day, Sir John not to be outdone in civility by the Lord Mayor, in a fit of hospitality invited that dignitary to visit Canada, assuring him he should catch a salmon fifty feet long!

THOSE Tories who are profane—and they are few, being confined principally, to recently converted Grits, are no doubt desirous to know how to pronounce Schreiber correctly, in order that they may not spend their compliments on the wrong man. Well, escaping steam from an angry boiler represents the first syllable and the last by a falsetto shriek.

Do our Lieutenant Governors really represent Her Majesty, as has been so loudly contended, of late? If so, fancy Her Majesty writing to the Earl of Beaconsfield, as follows:

"MY LORD,—The dressing room belonging to the state bed-room requires a carpet as the old one has been taken to patch the bed-room carpet, and the bed itself wants a new tick, as the present one is all tattered torn." I have the honor to be, your obt. servant, VICTORIA REX.

THE building of a 100 ton schooner in Moncton is a serious and weighty undertaking. In the first place the Times, in a series of formidable articles, admonishes to the citizens on their lethargy in failing to participate in the benefits of the depression in freights. Public meetings are then held, the brass band parades the streets, subscription papers, with headings neatly printed at the Times office are handed around, and finally some outside fellow comes in, planks down the money and builds her himself. And when she is launched, the Times gives a two column description, headed "Moncton Enterprise."

The New Vessel of G. S Turner, Esq.

G. S. Turner, Esq., M. P. P., of Harvey, has now ready for launching at his yard a fine vessel of 900 tons register. Her dimensions are 165.5 feet keel, 35.5 feet beam, 19.5 hold. She is modelled like the Salacia (built last year, that has proved very satisfactory) except she possesses somewhat rounder lines and a quicker shear. She has a large and excellent frame of best black spruce without chocks. Every pains have been taken to make her a thoroughly strong vessel. Her keelsons are bolted through and through with 1⅜ inch iron. Her stern and stem posts are bolted through at heels with 1¼ inch copper. In addition to ordinary fastening she has a clinch bolt every streak and timber between decks. She has a full set of iron knees. Her lower hold iron knees are bolted to the throat with copper. The best of materials have entered into her construction. She has American oak bits, pitch pine hatch combings, which also forms rails, waterways amidships, keelsons, dead woods, spirketing, sheet streaks, turn posts and rails, bolting streaks, lower masts, jibboom, lower yards, topsail yards and topmasts. She has white oak stem and stern posts. She is copper fastened 17 feet up and yellow mettled. Her main cabin is 30x24, divided into saloons and state-rooms, finished in pine and walnut. The forward house is 28x19 and comprises galley, carpenters shop, sail loft and forecastle. She registers 9 years. She is owned one half by Geo. F. Smith, Esq., of St. John, and the other half by her builder and others. She will be commanded by Capt. Benjamin Carter, of Hopewell Cape, formerly master of the "St. Olives." Her master builder is Mr. C. F. Dow, who has now built 38 vessels. As a proof of his skill it may be added that over two thirds of his vessels are now afloat and "sail the seas over," the ones lost being principally those built many years ago.

WESTCOCK LOCALS.—One of our residents the other morning saw in his door-yard a pit-hole that had been dug the night previously. The next night another hole appeared. A few nights after another resident found his farm decorated with freshly made cellar-like excavations. How much of Capt. Kidd's money has been thus recovered from its secret hiding places has not yet been discovered.—The wealth of Manitoba with its yellow plains of grain is far behind this locality, for here pork grows on trees! Fact! A few days ago, a teamster in hauling poles came across a fine piece of salt pork on a tree by the road side by the Church. Pork was not previously supposed to be of vegetable origin, but the same species of tree is supposed to have flourished in the Sheriff's pig-pen.—COM.

THE crops on P. E. Island promise to be the finest ever raised on that gem of the sea, and the Islanders are expecting a good market for their oats in Europe, and if the Americans take their potatoes the farmers will be able to snap their fingers at the hard times.

The mowing machine that has been such a boon to farmers everywhere, but especially in this district, has not been followed so closely by the reaping machine as in many other places, for the reason of course that the cutting of grain in comparison to hay here is a lesser consideration. Agents, however, this season are trying to introduce the combined reaper and mower. The Smith Bros., in Fort Lawrence, have a reaper on trial, and Mr. Irvine from Tidnish has a combined reaper and mower in Point de Bute ready for work.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

FROM SPRING HILL.

Special to Chignecto Post.

SPRING HILL, Sept. 3.—The strike, which has been the topic of conversation for the past month, is over, and business is going on far more active than ever. The Company having failed to get men in other places, were compelled to accept the terms dictated by the miners, who, throughout the whole proceedings, deserve the greatest credit for the manner in which they conducted themselves.

Great interest is being manifested in the approaching County Council Election. No less than six gentlemen aspire to represent this district, viz.: Messrs. A. G. Purdy and Stephen Herritt, for the Mines; R. W. Read, J. A. Pugsley and H. W. Baker, for Athol; G. C. Harrison, for Southampton. They have all taken the stump, and in consequence things look lively.

Work is being rapidly pushed forward on the new Catholic Church here.

FROM POINT DU CHENE.

Special to Chignecto Post.

POINT DU CHENE, Sept. 3.—Barque "Warrior" arrived here this morning from Summerside. She loads for E. J. Smith. That makes three barques and one brigantine at the wharf now.

The oyster trade has now commenced, and large quantities are being shipped to Montreal and Quebec daily.

Memorials of Chignecto.

The Eddy Invasion.

No. 1.

(Account given by Ibrook Eddy, son of Jonathan, who was with his father, 1776.)

Jonathan Eddy, a native of Norton in Mass., who had resided ten years in the immediate vicinity of Fort Cumberland, at the head of Chignecto Bay, and was Sheriff of the County, represented to the General Court that the garrison had been lessened from time to time till the number remaining was only sufficient to take care of the artillery and military stores; and that in his opinion it might be easily taken by a small force. Though in fact he received no aid nor direct encouragement, yet he returned and projected a plan for taking the fort. To ascertain its true condition he sent Capt. Zebulon Rane, who visited and thoroughly examined it without exciting suspicion. Eddy next had the address by persuasives, threats, and the promises of rewards to raise about 150 men; and with a competent number of them he proceeded to Shepody Hill, in the night time and took a captain, a sergeant and 14 men prisoners without loss. The third night afterwards he and a party of 25 men attacked a vessel of 100 tons as she lay aground and made prize of her. She had on board 600 barrels of pork and beef, a ton of candles, 50 firkins of butter, 700 new blankets and two hogsheads of rum, all intended for the garrison; a part of which however was retaken.

Sept. 27th, 1776.—Collecting his whole force inclusive of nine indians, belonging to St. John's river, he approached the fort on a cloudy night by three parties; one attempted to ascend the banks, by scaling ladders, while the others in different quarters made a furious assault. But Col. Gorham, commander of the garrison, having been apprized of the design and been reinforced, made a brave defence, killed several of the invaders and completely repulsed the rest. Seldom is a defeat attended with more painful circumstances. Those who had houses in the vicinity soon saw them in flames and their families in the depths of distress. No other alternative remained to the unfortunate assailants than for them either to surrender at discretion or flee the Province. If caught, their fate might be that of rebels or even traitors; and therefore they left their families and took their route along the north shore across the river St. John at Fredericton, proceeding down the Schoodic and thence to Machias. Here they arrived, half naked and famished, having been in the woods twenty-five days. These families, who remained behind, through a winter of severe suffering were brought away in the spring, under a flag of truce.

TEMPERANCE IN OLD TIMES.

Halifax.—Hon. Alex. Grant writes to Dr. Stiles, Boston, in May, 1760. The population is 3,000. We have one hundred licensed houses, and perhaps as many more that retail spirits without license, so the business of one half the town is to sell rum and the other half to drink it. You may from this single circumstance judge of our morals and naturally infer we are not enthusiasts in religion * * * one of the first things to be done after peace takes place will be to make carriage roads from this place to the several intended settlements of Pisquid, Minas, etc.

Loss of Barque "Joseph Hickman."

DORCHESTER, Aug. 29.—A cable to Wm. Hickman, Esq., this morning, reports the barque "Joseph Hickmam" run into by the Bremen steamer "Rhein." Crew saved and taken to Bremenhaven. The "Joseph Hickman," Bishop master, left Bremenhaven for New York on the 27th July, with a cargo of oil barrels and salt. She was a fine barque of 1080 tons, three years old and uninsured. She was owned here by Messrs. Hickman, A. J. Smith and others.

John Cody, who was injured in a shipyard, died last night.

ANOTHER FOOT RACE has been arranged to take place on Saturday, September 27th, for $1,000, at St. Stephen.

Anderson Settlement.

For the Chignecto Post.

The history of this place is quite interesting. About forty years ago, Mr. Alex. Anderson, the pioneer of this settlement, entered its primeval forest, and having cut down and cleared away the trees on a small patch of ground, erected a small cabin for his dwelling. Being several miles distant from the nearest settler, and labouring under many disadvantages, Mr. Anderson did not prosper for the first few years. A path through the woods, inhabited by bears and other wild animals, was the only road over which he could carry his provisions. He became discouraged, quit his forest home, and removed to Shemogue, where he remained two years. In the year 1850, Mr. Arch. Simpson, being then a young man, determined to try his fortune in this new region, and having married a "bonny Scotch lassie," he found no difficulty in effecting a settlement on a rich and promising soil. Mr. Anderson, now finding that he would have a friend and neighbor in his new settlement, again returned and commenced afresh on his farm. With the help of Government, and by the energy and perseverance of Messrs. Anderson and Simpson, a passable road was soon got to their dwellings. Interchanges of work and feelings were indulged in by these two men and their families, the one helping and encouraging the other, and, at length, they obtained comfortable circumstances. The next settler was Mr. Robert Faraday, who was soon followed by Mr. Geo. G. Crossman, the former belonging to Newfoundland, the latter to P. E. Island. Active operations now commenced. The road, which was only a blazed line, when Mr. Anderson settled here, was soon made passable to Sackville, and Mr. Simpson drove the first wheels over it. To-day, Anderson District numbers fourteen settlers, the most of whom occupy well cultivated little farms, and there is ample room for more. The land is very good and affords a very promising prospect to the new settler, and a young man of energy willing to chop down trees and make himself a forest home, can here find unoccupied land. This place, too, has many privileges. A Methodist Minister, in connection with the Tantramar Mission, visits and preaches here every four weeks, and occasionally, we have the pleasure of listening to a sermon from a Presbyterian preacher. There is a school, which is taught by a trained Teacher, who diligently trains the youthful minds. We have a Post Office and a weekly mail, and we are delighted when Friday comes, that we may see the POST and the Times, and read the news from abroad. There are members of four different churches here, the Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist and Roman Catholic, and they often all attend the one service, no matter to what denomination the preacher belongs. Altogether, then, we may say that this is a highly favoured community. Here, as in many other parts of our Province, can be seen the fruits of toil and perseverance, which should encourage our young men, with scanty means, to imitate the examples of these pioneers, and show the world a like example.

J. G. A.

AMERICAN AND CANADIAN FOOD.—The increased restrictions in the deportation of cattle from the United States do not seem to affect the arrivals of live stock at Liverpool, for last week the number of sheep was by far the largest that has ever come to hand in one week since the trade was first engaged in. There was also a good supply of cattle, while the arrivals of fresh meat were much above the average of recent weeks. The steamers of one line to Canada, which were principally started for the conveyance of live stock, now bring over very large numbers of both cattle and sheep, though chiefly the latter. The steamers last week were the Nestorian, with 102 cattle and 2,671 sheep; the Massachusetts, with 400 cattle and 1,000 sheep; the Minnesota, with 378 cattle and 1,505 sheep; the Prussian, with 115 cattle and 2,351 sheep; the Lord Clive, with 342 cattle and 1,050 sheep; the Mississippi, with 1,995 sheep; the Iberian, with 442 cattle; and the Erin, with 176 cattle—making the totals 1,955 cattle and 10,572 sheep, which, when compared with the arrivals during the previous week, show a slight decrease in cattle, but an increase in sheep to the extent of nearly 5,000 head. The steamers conveying fresh meat were eight in number, and brought 5,652 quarters of beef and 1,160 carcases of mutton, being nearly double the figures of the former week.—London Shipping Gazette, Aug. 4.

THE Concert and Refreshment at River Hebert on Thursday was a success. They took about $170. The day and evening was fine and pleasant. A large number of persons from Amherst and other places were present, and all seemed pleased with the entertainment. The entertainment consisted of spicy speeches by Rev. Mr. Steel and Rev. Mr. Pike, some splendid reading by Miss E. Read, and the singing by Miss Hibbard, and some ladies and gentlemen from Amherst, and assisted by Professor Stafford and Mr. Robb, on a very fine piano, from Mr. Cole's shop in Amherst, was excellent. The Refreshment tables was tastefully arranged by the ladies of River Hebert and Barronsfield.

Within a few days criminal proceedings will be commenced against whole board of directors and late manager of Consolidated Bank, on charge of preparing submitting to shareholders untrue statement of affairs of bank. The action will be taken by a large shareholder, and will be of a nature similar to that taken against Mr. Cote, of Jacques Cartier Bank. It is stated that writings are already prepared.

The Boston Murderers.

The Boston policemen have made quick work in discovering the murderers of Mr. Frye. Three men were concerned in the crime, and a fourth was only shut out because he could not be depended upon for courage. The principal is an Italian barber named Nicolo Infantino, who was accustomed to shave Mr. Frye, and to whom that gentleman had taken a great liking. The second is a Greek named Antonio Ardito, who fled from Italy for a murder committed there; and the third is an Italian named Lorenzo, commonly called Larry. These three plotted to rob and murder the old man, and to that end obtained an invitation to go to the house and play a game of billiards. On Thursday night two of the murderers entered the house, leaving their companion, Lorenzo, outside to keep guard. Several games were played, and much liquor was drank, and at last the old man was asked to show the two men through the house, which he did. When they reached the cellar Ardito turned suddenly on Mr. Frye and stabbed him several times with a large pair of shears, and, although taken by surprise, the wounded man made a desperate resistance. At last he appealed to Nicolo Infantino, for whom he had done so much, to spare his life. The reply to this was a shot which killed him. There is no doubting these details, for they were got from the murderers themselves, and the annals of crime show few, if any, more dastardly and treacherous murders.

These two men spent some time pleasantly with Mr. Frye playing billiards with him, and drinking his liquor, when all the time resolved to murder him. It is not difficult to believe that the secret societies of Europe can always depend on instruments who will remove their enemies by assassination, when two men can be found for the sake of a few dollars to strike down the man who kindly entertains them. It does, however, seem strange that Mr. Frye should keep company with men so far beneath him in social standing; but a partial explanation of this may be found in the freedom with which liquor flowed in his house in the absence of his family. There is also probably something more yet to be revealed concerning this terribly terminated orgy.

It is to be hoped that the trial of these foreign demons may be speedy, and also that they may not be exhibited, as foul murderers have often been, to the admiring gaze of all who wish to see them. It is very poor taste which induces visitors to supply cigars or delicacies to murderers, and the curiosity which induces such action should not be encouraged. Indeed its indulgence should not be allowed. There are certain classes of Italians and Greeks who have long been accustomed to brigandage, robbery and murder: who think no more of killing a man than a chicken. These must be taught obedience to law by swift and exemplary punishment whenever they violate it.—N. Y. Witness.

PUGWASH ITEMS.—Our detectives have at last succeeded in arresting two of a gang of burglars whose series of robberies have extended over a period of some years. On Thursday, 28th ult., the store of Mr. W. Matheson at Thomson Station was broken into, and about $300 in goods and cash stolen. As these two worthies had been prowling around they were suspected, and a search made on their premises about two miles from here, a large quantity of goods was found and identified by Mr. Matheson and shopkeepers of Pugwash who had been robbed at various times, and now Mr. James and Thomas Armour remain in "durance vile" with leispre to look forward to a pleasant family reunion, which will probably take place in the Provincial Penitentiary, where their worthy sire Mr. George Armour is serving his term of four years for like offences.—A terrific storm of thunder and lightning accompanied by the heaviest rain ever felt here took place this morning between 2 and 3 o'clock.—The Odd Fellows of Crystal Wave Lodge are making extensive preparations for a tea-meeting and boat-race to come off on Tuesday, 9th Sept.

Restored to Complete Health.

Brooks, Me., Sept. 7. 1870.

Dear Sir—From early youth I was in feeble health, troubled with humor in my blood, weakness and debility of the system generally; was unable to labor much, and only at some light business, and then only with great caution.

Seven years ago, the past Spring, I had a severe attack of Diphtheria, which left my limbs paralized and useless, so I was unable to walk or even sit up. Noticing the advertisement of PERUVIAN SYRUP, I concluded to give it a trial, and to my great joy soon found my health improving. I continued to use of the SYRUP until three bottles had been used, and was restored to complete health, and have remained so to this day.

I attribute my present health entirely to the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, and hold it in high estimation, I cannot speak too highly in its praise. I have in several cases recommended it in cases very similar to my own with the same good results,

Yours truly,
CHARLES E. PEARCY.

Cure Your Horses.

It is the interest of all who own horses to keep them in a healthy and sound condition; experience has proved that "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy" is the most efficacious, and has been used by thousands who will cheerfully confirm this statement. For Heaves, Coughs, Colds, and all diseases which affect the wind of horses it has no equal, nor is it equalled as a condition medicine; it purifies the blood, corrects and improves the appetite, and softens the skin; in fact, so great is the improvement in the condition and appearance of the animal as to have led many to doubt if it could be the same horse. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., is on each package. Sold by all medicine dealers.

War, famine and pestilence all combined do not produce the evil consequences to a nation which result from impure blood in our veins. Parson's Purgative Pills make new rich blood and prevent all manner of diseases.

VEGETINE.

A Home in the Celestial City.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Dec. 18, 1878.

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON,

About nine and a half years ago I had a fever; the doctor gave me some poisonous medicine, drove the disease into my leg, and it broke out, and has been from two to ten running sores ever since. I could not sleep a fourth of a night once in six months, and a great many nights was compelled to get up and take opium—a piece as large as a pea—to deaden the pain. I have tried everything I could hear of, in fact I have paid out hundreds of dollars, and found no relief until I commenced taking Vegetine, and now I can go to bed at eight o'clock at night and sleep until seven o'clock in the morning, and no occasion to waken from pain. I was used up, perfectly dead inwardly, and frequently when I would get up, would be dizzy, and have to put my hand on something to keep from falling; but since I commenced taking Vegetine it all disappeared, and I feel like a new man. My honest conviction is that it will cure my leg entirely, from the present looks and feelings. I shall continue taking Vegetine, and recommend it to all whom I come across; and I hope the man who introduced Vegetine into the United States will have a home in the Celestial City.

Yours most sincerely,
W. S. LEACH.

For sale by Amasa Dixon.

THE Supreme Court of the State of New York has decided that J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell, have the sole right to use the words Cherry Pectoral for a medicine, and has issued an injunction against F. This decision of the high court includes all dealers who sell any similar article.—Port Jefferson (L. I.) Leader.
