On the Wings of the Freshet.

FROM WOODSTOCK TO FREDERICTON BY BOAT.

Effects of the Flood along the River.

"All aboard for down river! Haul in those planks, haul in, haul in! (Whang, whang.) Look sharp there, we can't stay here all day! Hi, you boy with the straw hat, cast off that warp will you! Lively now, lively!" It is Captain Duncan whose voice thus rises above the din of the revolving wheels, hissing steam, bellowing cattle, and the shouts of parting friends. Captain Duncan, the tall, straight, broad-shouldered master of the steamer Florenceville, which vessel is drawing away from the bank at Woodstock, (for alas! wharf or warehouse there is none,) and backing out into the rushing, yellow torrent, that has of late usurped the once peaceful bed of the noble St. John. From which Woodstock aforesaid with its kind-hearted people, its many fine private dwellings, its streets busy with commerce, its maidens beautiful but shy, its horses speedy and spirited, its hotels fortified with iron-clad beef-steak and

SUPPLIED WITH FISH-BALL GATLINGS,

"to repel boarders," we part with violent, but vain regret. Out we go into the raging current, amid the clanging of the signal gong, the rush of steam from the pipes, and the laughter of girls on the bank at the tragic farewell of the bald-headed drummer on the bow. The big wheel astern churns the water into soapsuds, that the rudder is placed hard-aport by "Jo." Winslow, the veteran pilot who has made the river his home for half a century, and like an arrow we go speeding down the boiling flood.

The boat has about fifty passengers on board, and is loaded down with freight, consisting chiefly of cattle, horses, wagons, grain and general supplies for the farmers down-river. The sun is shining brightly and a stiff nor-wester is beginning to ruffle the water. Among the passengers are, a judge of the Supreme Court, an M. P. P., two lawyers, a hardware merchant, three mill proprietors, three drummers, a gentlemen farmer, who owns the finest herd of Jerseys in the Province, several produce purchasers from Fredericton and Woodstock, a quartette of blushing school-ma'ams, and a crew of stalwart stream drivers en route for the scene of operations.

Of course the chief topic of consideration is the freshet, which, however, has not caused anything like the amount of damage on this section of the river, as in the lowlands of Sheffield and Maugerville. As the boat passes down the river, we have an excellent opportunity of observing

THE EFFECTS OF THE FLOOD.

At Woodstock, Drysdales' sash and door factory has shut down for some days, and many of the adjacent dwellings are badly flooded. Last week the warehouse of the Peoples' Line was washed away, and we passed the wreck lying on the northern side of Bear Island. The water works machinery at Woodstock, which was shut down for two days last week, is now in operation, the water having receded sufficiently to allow the fires to be lighted. At and below Grafton, (opposite Woodstock) the highway road is impassable and the same is true of the bridge at that point. Three bridges on the main road in this vicinity are destroyed. Every Island between Woodstock and Fredericton is under water, and over most of them the boat could sail without difficulty. Engineer Johnston informed your reporter that he believed the report in some of the papers that 17 barns had been washed away, to be incorrect. Captain Duncan shares in this belief and cannot account for more than six or eight that have been thus destroyed.

Along the river on both sides are to be seen many trees levelled or displaced by the force of the flood. Many trees also show the effects of the ice jam at various points, more particularly on the Islands in the parish of Prince William. Mr. Richard Estey of Fredericton, who was on board, stated that the chief injury occasioned by the freshet on the upper part of the river

WOULD FALL UPON THE LUMBERMEN

who had already lost a great many logs and will have to drive the lumber down the streams after the water begins to fall. He said that 17,000,000 feet of logs had been carried away by the freshet, 14,500,000 comprising the drives of Stevens and MacIntosh & Kilburn at Seven Islands above Fort Kent, and the remaining 2,500,000 being Nixon's drive at the Aroostook Falls. These logs have been scattered over a vast area. Most of them have been caught down about the Reach, and he thought about half a million had gone out to sea. The Sterling & Mitchell booms below Fredericton, Mr. Estey stated, have been placed in position but none of the Douglas booms have yet been strung. Four and a half millions have been cut on the Keswick this winter, none of which is down yet. All the saw mills along the river are shut down. That of Hill & Berry at Pokiok will resume work on Monday. The freshet in the Pokiok stream by the way is the highest ever experienced there, and for several days last week fears were entertained that the lumber in the booms would break away. The bridges at Eel River, Long's Creek and the Macnaquac have and sustained only slight damages. That at McNally's is partly carried away and the entire structure submerged. We passed two horse ferries neither of which could be operated owing to the strength of the current.

The consensus of opinion among old residents is that the freshet in 1854 at Woodstock and other points upriver was a foot or two higher than the present one, but that at Fredericton and other points lower down river the water this year is a foot or more higher than its old competitor. As we sped at railroad speed down the Meductic Falls, (which by the way are scarcely recognizable as falls now,) the water rushing through them in a solid body without any visible break in the descent), Richard Bellamy, M. P. P., remarked that in 1854 six steamers remained at the foot of the falls several days from inability to face the current. The Florenceville is, however, the best and fastest boat that ever ran on the Fredericton-Woodstock route and nobly overcomes the pressure She was built at Fredericton in 1878, went on the route the following year and is apparently in as good a condition as the day she was launched,

CAPT. DUNCAN IS DESERVEDLY POPULAR

with the travelling public as well as the river residents. Without doubt the boat would be the best paying property on the river were it not for the shortness of the season during which the water is high enough to allow her to run. A longer season than usual is expected this year. The engines of the steamer were manufactured by James Harris & Co., St. John, and have proved well adapted for the service. Engineer Johnston keeps them looking as bright as a new shilling. An amusing incident occurred at Eel River. A native had brought down a yoke of steers for the boat but had neglected to secure them. The festive bovines naturally objected to walk the plank and made for the hilltops at a rattling gait. For half an hour one judge of the supreme court, two lawyers, one hardware merchant, one gentleman farmer, three drummers, one court stenographer, and a dozen log-drivers, besides the captain and entire crew of the boat, armed with ropes, slabs, fence-rails, poles and bludgeons endeavored without avail to capture the wayward

CANDIDATES FOR THE BEEFERY.

The hardware merchant wielded a large board, and frantically bombarded the rear of the fugitives. Despite the assistance of the natives the animals escaped the lasso, and at last accounts were heading for the back districts at a record-breaking clip. The judge and the stenographer were the only happy men among the vanquished group, each having added ten miles to his mileage claim, payment of which the Government will hardly be able to "steer" clear of.

At Southampton a family named Hamilton boarded the boat with all their house and farm effects. They were removing to the farm recently vacated by Jacob Lounsbury at Prince William, the latter gentleman having gone into the hotel business at Fredericton. As we neared the Meductic rapids, we passed the Southampton (front) public hall which was on fire, and almost burnt to the ground. The incident derived an additional interest from the fact that Messrs. Temple and Gregory both stood at the poll in this building at the last election.

After making about two dozen stops, we reached Fredericton at 3 o'clock, a trifle over six hours from Woodstock. Those who have never seen our beautiful river in all the wealth of its vernal beauty, and there are many such among our population, should patronize the Florenceville. They will find the boat manned by obliging officers, (including a very efficient caterer) and supplied with everything necessary to the full enjoyment of the trip.

☞ Try Rex Flour, it is unequalled for cake.

Mr. T. Carleton Ketchum, late of Woodstock, has secured a position on the staff of the Boston Post. Mr Ketchum is a young man of excellent parts, and ought to succeed in the newspaper business. The FARMER in the past has been indebted to his facile pen for interesting correspondence from Woodstock.

☞ Nelson Campbell has received another large shipment of American hats from the firm of Moore, Smith & Co., Boston. They have been selected by Mr. Frank Gross, personally, which is a sufficient guarantee for their style and quality. Also a number of cases of English hats of the latest styles have been added to his already large stock. Hats and price guaranteed to suit customers. Give him a call.

Mr. J. W. McCready resident agent of the Citizens Insurance Company, received a telegram last evening from the general manager, authorizing him to subscribe $200 for the relief of the distress from the flood. Although no relief is necessary, this generous and unsolicited offer should be appreciated by the business men of Fredericton. An Insurance Company so willing to tender aid, is deserving of liberal patronage.

A double tenement house on George street, owned by Mr. Daniel Casey, and occupied by William Todd and——Goodine, was destroyed by fire, early Thursdry morning, the fire originating it is said from ashes. Much of the furniture was destroyed. The building was insured with Mr. John Richards. The firemen were prompt in their response to the alarm, and were ably assisted by the men of the I. S. C., under Adjt. Young.

Barlow Bros. and Frost's Minstrels, gave an excellent entertainment in the City Hall Monday evening, to a crowded and delighted house. The programme throughout was one of great merit, and of the kind that has been seldom, if ever, surpassed here. The musical abilities of the troupe, both vocal and instrumental, are first class; the dancing and juggling fine, and the jokes fresh and clean. The company promise to return at an early date.

☞ Try Rex Flour, it is unequalled for cake.

The flood at Fredericton reached its greatest height on Wednesday last, when the water covered the floor of the engine-room at the water works to the depth of 35 inches. On Thursday morning it was found that the water had begun to recede, and on Friday it commenced to fall rapidly. At present writing the water is four feet lower than when the last issue of the FARMER was published. The water works engines were not injured in the slightest. They have resumed operations and the brave little steamer "Alexandra," which has done noble service for the public, has been sent to her quarters. The water has left many of the cellars in this city as well as the flooded districts. The only industrial institution in the city still effected, is West End saw mill, which will probably resume operations next week.

The Chicago Canadian American, in referring to the marriage of Mr. Slason Thompson, son of Mr. George Thompson of the Education office, Fredericton, and brother-in-law of the Hon. Attorney General, says:—"A few days ago Miss Julia Watson, daughter of Mr. George, Watson one of Evanston's wealthiest citizens, and who was formerly managing director of the Bank of Montreal, Chicago, was married to Mr. Slason Thompson, a well-known editor and playwright, who is now connected with the Chicago Daily News. The ceremony was strictly private. One of the wedding presents was a handsome brown stone house on Superior street from the bride's father, which was completely furnished by her mother. They will reside there on their return from the East. Mr. Thompson is a young Canadian, and is well known in New Brunswick."

Our Maugerville correspondent, writing on the 13th, says: "It would be impossible to give a correct pen picture of the situation of this place at this time. From ten to fifteen feet of water covers the whole face of land, from a few miles below Fredericton to Jemseg, an area of nearly 100 square miles. Not a panel of fence left standing, a greater part of which is all carried away, beside everything floatable. The residents have lost cattle, sheep, hogs, poultry and provisions, etc. There appears nothing but one vast waste of waters dotted here and there with buildings and trees. The steamer "Sarah H." which has been sent to the rescue by the Provincial Government is doing good work in removing the live stock to the high lands. Dr. Brown came down in a boat and rendered what assistance he could in advising, directing and administering to the wants of the sick, which happily are few at present.

Thos. H. Perley's dwelling house, occupied by his son Medley and two daughters, caught fire from a spark in the roof and was burned to the waters edge with nearly all its contents. It was a hard fight with the flames to to save the out buildings. It was a long time before help could get to the place as in many cases they had to contend against wind and tide. Mr. Perley's tenement house on another place was burned last Sunday. He is also a heavy losser by the floods and had no insurance on the buildings burned."

WONDERFUL!

BETWEEN eight and ten years ago, a medicine was introduced to the public, and suffering humanity was invited to try the same.

The proprietor knew from experience, that success was certain, but the human breast so imbued with prejudice that it forms one of the strongest barriers to break down and the greatest enemy to overcome before any headway can be made towards the mansion of success. Truth has often proved itself to be "stranger than fiction," and it is a fact as solid as truth that have now become one of the leading Patent Medicines of the present day, from north to south, and from east to west, they are to be found in the homes of the rich and poor. All classes of society use them, and they are by thousands declared to be Worth their Weight in Gold

For a Weak Stomach, Impaired Digestion, and all disorders of the Liver, they act like "MAGIC," and a few doses will be found to work wonders on the most important organs in the human machine. They strengthen the whole muscular system, restore the long-lost complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite, and arouse into action, with the rose-bud of health, the whole physical energy of the human frame. These are "facts" admitted by thousands, embracing all classes of society; and one of the best guarantees to the nervous and debilitated is, Smith's Chamomile Pills have the largest sale of any Patent Medicine in the Dominion.

Directions for taking Smith's Chamomile Pills.

If the bowels are costive, the countenance sallow and the tongue furred, take 3 or 4 pills on going to bed; if they do not operate in ten hours, then take two more afterwards. Take one pill every (or every other night), just enough to keep the bowels gently moved. For ordinary Bilious Complaints one or two doses are sufficient. These pills act on the system very similar to blue pills, or blue Mass, but do not contain the least particle of mercury or calomel.
