HUNDREDS WERE KILLED.

Insurgents Near Bogota Defeated, Leaving Three Hundred and Sixty Men Dead.

GOVERNMENT LOST NINETY SOULS

Capital Saved From Attack and Revolutionists Repulsed After Fierce Battle.

Bogota, Colombia, Jan. 26.—The government has made a successful effort to prevent the revolutionists from attacking Bogota.

An important battle was fought several days ago at Facatativa, which is about twenty miles from Bogota. The struggle was bitter.

After long fighting the government troops repulsed the insurgents, who left three hundred and sixty of their number dead on the field. Ninety of the government troops were killed.

Antioquia and other departments are sending troops here. Foreigners are enjoying every safety.

Business has been suspended temporarily.

Acting President Marroquin has issued an address to the Colombian people, part of which is translated as follows:

"I wish that peace were firmly established in this Republic. Peace is absent, unfortunately, but I wish to inform you that within a short time the revolution will be crushed.

"Danger of a foreign war has been avoided by events which have recently taken place.

"In all parts of the Republic there has been surprise that Colombia has borne up so well in the prolonged internecine strife.

"The riches of this country are inexhaustible. We never imagined that in spite of the damages caused by the rebellion our country could make such a showing as that of to-day.

"There is abundant success for those who work. The day has not come when Colombians can say that owing to the public disorder they cannot make fortunes.

"Enemies of the government are waging this revolution as a means of making money. Peace would terminate their source of income.

"May the tears and blood that continue to be shed fall on the heads of those who are not fighting for political causes. My citizens may expect that once peace is restored they will be governed by a government that will forget past discords, irrespective of political parties."

TO COLONIZE SOUTH AFRICA.

British Subjects Now in America to Be Asked to Go There.

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 26.—The Rev. I. N. Barr, for two years rector of the Episcopal Church at Whatcom, has gone to South Africa by way of London to arrange with Lord Milner for what he says will be one of the most extensive colonization schemes ever attempted by the British government. He says:

"The British government has come to the conclusion that the only way by which the race prejudice in South Africa can be eradicated is by the sending into that country of a large number of British-born people, at present residing in parts of the world not under the British flag. To send in the people fresh from England or some of her colonies would only intensify the feeling and prolong the present miserable war.

"In America there are thousands of British-born subjects who still cherish a love for the British flag, and it is to those people that the authorities charged with a peaceful solution of the South African question turn. To induce them to leave their homes and seek new ones in this tropical country most liberal inducements will be offered in the way of grants of land, cattle, farming utensils, etc.

"These colonists would receive the homes of the Boers, which have been declared forfeited to the Crown, and also unoccupied lands. House will be built for them by the government."

Mr. Barr will return in July prepared to give the details to the American farmers who are willing to emigrate. Barr has been president of the local British League. His only son was killed in battle by the Boers.

Coming to this country when quite young he spent some years at Charleston, Boston and Toronto, and came to Kingston about the year 1842.

A Wedding Postponed.

Owing to the illness of the prospective bride a wedding, which was to have taken place in the west end this evening, is postponed for a few days.

The groom had a nice suit made by Archambault, the tailor, at 125 Yonge-street, for the occasion. Of course he is rather disappointed, but not with the suit.

BRIGANDS LOOT MONASTERY

King of Italy Honors Prior for Making an Exceptionally Brave Defence.

HE FOUGHT TILL BADLY WOUNDED

Lay Brother Kills One of the Thieves—Gendarmes Arrive in Time.

London, Jan. 26.—Here is a typical Neapolitan story, which has the merit of being scrupulously accurate. A small band of brigands had been troubling the countryside only a few miles from Naples. The other night the miscreants conceived the bold idea of pillaging the Franciscan Monastery, which was believed to contain much wealth, including golden altar vessels in the chapel.

About midnight, the brigands, with the aid of ladders, scaled two lofty walls, and entered the monastery thru the windows. The monk keeping vigil gave the alarm, and the monks, numbering about a dozen, barricaded themselves in their cells and started praying. The brigands stormed each cell in turn, gagged each inmate, and finally attacked the venerable prior. He stoutly refused to surrender, and, as the doors of his room were also stout, the brigands were not able to force them. It happened that the prior had a revolver, which he used to good advantage, when, presently, the brigands appeared at his window.

The unequal combat ended by the prior falling, badly wounded, and the brigands then pillaged the monastery at their leisure. Fortunately, an alarm, telling that the gendarmes were coming, prevented them from entering the chapel.

As they retired with their booty, an aged servitor, a lay brother, who had been hidden in the garden, fired six shots with his revolver. When the gendarmes tardily arrived, it was discovered that the lay brother had displayed lay skill in the use of his secular weapon, for the body of a dead brigand was stretched under a bush, and traces of blood along the route of the brigands' flight showed that others had been wounded. The good prior had also wounded at least a couple.

As soon as the young King of Italy heard of the affair, he instructed the Minister of the Interior to send the prior a gold medal, with a suitable inscription recording the occasion of his valor.

WHERE PROHIBITION PROHIBITS.

Mrs. Owen Hitchcock Tells of the Law in Iowa.

Controller Graham presided at the gospel temperance meeting in Massey Hall Sunday afternoon. The choir of Central Methodist Church rendered a delightful song service, Miss Claire Hungerford's solo, "I Shall See Him Face to Face," receiving hearty plaudits from the audience. Next Sunday Rev. William Patterson of Philadelphia, former pastor of Cooke's Church, will deliver the address, and Mr. A. E. Ames, president of the Toronto Board of Trade, will preside.

President J. S. Robertson read a resolution that was passed at the regular meeting of the league on Friday night, calling on the government to enact prohibition at the present session of the legislature, and protesting against any steps that may be taken to apply the principle of the referendum to such a law or to require that other than a majority vote shall be necessary to make the law operative.

Ald. Graham referred to the deputation of the liquor trade which waited on the government on Friday. He watched the procession coming from the parliament buildings, and failed to see the pinch of want or poverty on the faces of any one of the well-fed or well-clothed men. Mr. Graham contrasted this picture with three cases that came under his notice on the same day, as chief officer of the Children's Aid Society, where children had been deprived of the care and protection of parents because of intemperance. He questioned whether a business that was productive of results like this should be called a legitimate one.

Mrs. Owen Hitchcock of Toronto, who has labored for eighteen months in the lecture field of Iowa, gave a vigorous address, speaking of the results of prohibition in that State. She took up the statement of speakers of the liquor sellers' deputation, who would contend that prohibition did not prohibit. Her experience in Iowa, where she had every opportunity to observe the working of the law, proved the opposite. The population of the State was about 2,000,000, and during all the time she had lived there she had only seen five men the worse for liquor. The hotels would compare with those of Toronto, but they were absolutely without bar-rooms. Their success proved that the bar-room was not an essential of the hotel any more than it might be of a blacksmith's shop or a drg goods store. She had conversed with hotel proprietors and this was their view. Prohibition in the State had resulted in closing 2000 saloons, 150 breweries, and quenching the fire of the largest distillery. Surely this, the speaker remarked, proved that prohibition did prohibit.

Rev. Mr. Esler spoke briefly at the close of Mrs. Hitchcock's address. He was there to show on which side he stood on this great question now agitating the people of this province.

TO HAVE THRU LINE.

C.P.R. Completes Survey of a Route Across Maine.

Montreal, Jan. 26.—The C.P.R. have just completed the surveying of a route across Maine to form a connecting link between parts of this system and provide a thru line for its traffic from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The road now crosses Maine from Mattawamkeag to Vancouver, under a lease arrangement on Maine Central tracks. By building a line from Mattawamkeag to Princeton, the Canadian Pacific can be independent and can make arrangements which will give it thru traffic by a shorter and easier route. It is understood that work will be begun in the spring.

WEALTH OF WEDDING GIFTS.

Marriage of Marquis of Londonderry's Daughter Picturesque Sight.

London, Jan. 26.—If the Chancellor of the Exchequer were radical, he could find a source of revenue in the taxation of wedding presents. The magnificence of gifts is the feature of every fashionable marriage, and there is a record breaking tendency. If Lady Wicklow had 400 and Mrs. Henege 600 presents, there were over 700 on exhibition at the Marquis of Londonderry's house after the marriage on Friday of his only daughter to Lord Stavordale, the only son of the Earl of Ilchester, and the heir to Holland House. A strong force of detectives was required for the protection of the diamonds contributed from the royal and from all the great houses of the United Kingdom. The marriage at St. Peter's, Eaton Square was witnessed by the smartest people of London. It was a picturesque spectacle, with four little girls in Empire frocks of old lace over quickstiver silk, with cloth of gold sashes and gold shoes and stockings. There were six additional bridesmaids in similar costumes, with touches of Russian sable and large white hats, and the bride wore an exquisite gown of ivory satin, with Limerck lace. The bridesmaids carried gilt baskets filled with yellow jonquils.

RETURNED FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

Bishop Coppin Says the War is One of Slow Extermination.

New York, Jan. 26.—The Right Rev. L. J. Coppin, who sailed from this city about a year ago on the Umbria to take charge of the 14th Episcopal diocese of the A.M.E. Church in South Africa, returned by the same ship, arriving here to-day. He is from Philadelphia, and the first bishop sent out by the A.M.E. Church to take charge of this diocese, which lies south of the Zambesi River, and comprises two conferences, South African and Transvaal.

"I found plenty of work awaiting me when I got out there," he said to-day. "The two conferences were mapped out, but were not organized, and only a start had been made in their development. We now have between 40 and 50 churches established, with over 100 traveling ministers. We have recently bought a large building in Cape Town, in February next we will open a school to prepare students for a collegiate course. We are also hoping soon to start an industrial and literary school near Bloemfontein, modeled on the same general plan as the school at Tuskegee.

"We are seriously handicapped in this project by the unsettled condition of the country, owing to the war. There seems little hope of the terrible war cloud lifting. You cannot conceive the condition of affairs over there. The Boers are gradually being wiped off the earth. It is no longer war, but a slow process of extermination. England will never listen to any arbitration proposition which means restoration of the Republic, and the Boers will accept no other settlement. Just as long as they are able to keep up this guerilla method of warfare they can, notwithstanding the smallness of their numbers, keep thousand of soldiers in the field busy watching them and trying to head them off."

Bishop Coppin goes from here to Philadelphia, where he will remain for some two months.

DIVORCE FOR LORD ROSSLYN

Testifies Theatrical and Literary Work Yields Him $5000 a Year.

Edinburgh, Jan. 26.—The suit of Lord Rosslyn for divorce from the Countess on tr. A. L. Barber will be about on the ground of desertion came up in court here yesterday. The court room was densely crowded.

The Earl, who wore a heavy overcoat with astrachan trimmings, appeared to be very weary of the whole affair. He testified in a tiresome way that his wife had refused constantly to live with him since 1896. He had repeatedly prayed her to return to him, and had also sought the intervention of friends but without avail.

The Earl said that in the last five years he had earned £1000 a year from his theatrical and literary engagements and had an additional allowance from a friend of $500 a year.

After hearing all the evidence in the case the court granted the divorce.

NASSAU, BAHAMAS AND FLORIDA WINTER RESORTS.

Mr. J. R. Walker, 26 Victoria-street, is sending out on behalf of the Florida East Coast Railway a very beautiful illustrated lithographed album, illustrating some of the leading winter resorts of Florida and Nassau, such as St. Augustine, Palm Beach and Miami, with their palatial hotels—Ponce de Leon, Alcazar, Royal Poinciana, Royal Pon, etc., and swimming cascino. Among the most interesting are some beautiful photographs and descriptions of lovely Nassau, with its superb hotels, Royal Victoria and Colonial, showing the most wonderfully beautiful of all, the harbor of Nassau. Only those who have seen the many changing colors of its crystal waters can form any idea of its great beauty. Nassau has become the most popular winter resort in the last year or two for Canadians and Americans, principally on account of its uniform and perfect climate, and also on account of the many attractions, such as golf, tennis, driving, sailing and surf-bathing. Think of seabathing in a temperature of 72 to 78 degrees in midwinter. There are at present a number of our most prominent Toronto families spending the winter in Nassau, and many others going for February, March and April, the weather remaining cool on into June. Special railway and steamship and hotel rates have been arranged for until May, and any who may wish to avail themselves of this opportunity should take a winter holiday in the land of perpetual sunshine and flowers.

Dairy Building Plans.

A meeting of the Dairy Committee of the Industrial Exhibition was held on Saturday afternoon, to confer with Professor Deane of Guelph, and the architects, Messrs. Gregg & Gregg, on the plans for the proposed new dairy building. Besides the professor and the architects, there were present Mr. A. F. Maclaren, M.P., chairman; Dr. Andrew Smith, Dr. J. O. Orr and Messrs. W. K. McNaught, R. J. Score, R. Y. Ellis and H. J. Hill. The plans were thoroly gone over and ultimately adopted, after some difficulty had been experienced in bringing them within the prescribed $14,000. There will be seating capacity for 500 in connection with the working dairy. Lectures will be given at frequent intervals, and the dairy will be in operation five hours a day all during the Exhibition, so that everybody may have a chance to see and hear at some time or other. There will be departments for dairy appliances, cheese and butter, with plenty of cold storage accommodation. Altogether the new dairy building, under the practical guidance of Mr. Maclaren, promises to be one of the most interesting, useful and best equipped structures on the grounds.

Bananas Are Scarce.

An attempt to purchase some bananas in several grocery stores on Yonge-street Saturday night revealed the knowledge that this fruit is hard to get, excepting from Italians. Asked why that was the case, one grocery-man and fruiterer said that he could not buy bananas from the wholesale dealers as cheap as the Italians can sell them retail. Therefore, there is no money in handling them just now. The cause of this was, he said, the action of the Italians in clubbing together and buying their bananas in enormous quantities where they grow, and thus always having a stock on hand to draw from.

BARBER'S TURBINE YACHT

Will Be 1400 Tons Burden—Facts re Coal Consumption.

London, Jan. 26.—The turbine yacht which the Hon. C. Parsons is building for Mr. A. L. Barber will be about 1400 tons burden. Her length is designed to be 260 feet 8 inches, and her maximum breadth 33 feet 3 inches.

A comparison of the fuel consumption of the turbine steamer King Edward and the paddle-wheeler Duchess of Hamilton, both of the same class, made by the same builders and plying on the Clyde, shows that the turbine boat does not suffer when one considers her higher speed. The figures for the season show that the King Edward burned 1429 tons 16 cwt. of coal and covered a total mileage of 12,116, meaning 8.47 miles per ton of coal used, and an average speed of 18 1-2 miles per hour. The Duchess of Hamilton consumed 1758 tons 13 cwt. of coal, covered 15,604 miles, being 8.87 miles per ton, an average speed of 16 1-2 miles per hour.

In washing woollens and flannels, the soft soap made from Lever's Dry Soap (a powder), will be found very satisfactory.

Killed With a Hammer.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 25.—The coroner's jury, this afternoon, found the following verdict in the case of Alex. Dean Cooper, who was killed in the Vista Turkish Bath House:

"We, the jury, find that A. Dean Cooper came to his death Jan. 21, 1902, at 9.30 o'clock a.m., from a fracture of the skull, resulting from a blow, struck with a sledgehammer, by William Strother.

"Verdict, unjustifiable homicide."

LOOK OUT!

Many a man is looking out for his health, but looking for disease in the wrong direction. He takes medicine for his nerves, which seem "gone to pieces." He "doctors" for his heart, which is acting irregularly. He constantly stirs up his liver with pills and powder. But he does not get any better. He is looking for the cause of his complaints in the wrong direction.

It is a common thing for some one who has used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for "stomach trouble" to find that when the diseased stomach is cured the "weak" heart is made sound, the sluggish liver stimulated, and the throbbing nerves tranquilized. This fact alone suggests the truth which every leading medical scientist knows and recognizes—that diseases which seem remote from the stomach are often caused by the disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When the diseased stomach and the digestive and nutritive system are cured of disease, the other organs are cured with them.

Food is the basis of life and of strength. But it is not the quantity of food eaten which supports the life and health of the body. The body is sustained by that portion of the food which after being eaten is converted into nourishment and properly assimilated. When the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased or "weak," only part of the food eaten is converted into nutrition, and the body and its organs are therefore only partly nourished. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures the diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system which prevent the proper nourishment of the body. In that way the body is once more strengthened in the only way possible, by food properly digested and perfectly assimilated.

Any person suffering from disease in chronic or aggravated form, is invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence strictly private and confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." The main motive of substitution is the desire of the dealer to make a little more profit out of you by selling you a less meritorious medicine.

ABLE TO WORK AGAIN.

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Glensavage, Somerset Co., Penna., writes: "I had been doctoring for about a year and a half, being unable to work most of the time. The doctor said I had heart disease and indigestion. It began with a choking and oppressed feeling in the chest; later on I was troubled with a hungry feeling, and I seemed to be raw from my throat clear down into my stomach. My appetite was unusually poor, I was weak and nervous, and my heart kept throbbing continually, and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice. I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

"SUFFERED ALL THE TIME."

"I feel that I would be doing an injustice to you if I did not send you a statement of my case," writes Mrs. David W. Guice, of Hamburg, Franklin Co., Miss. "I had liver complaint and indigestion. Everything that I ate disagreed with me. I suffered all the time with swimming in my head; heart beat too fast; my feet and hands were cold all the time. Did not sleep well at all. Was able to get about but very little. I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' in May, 1897, and by December I could begin to get about very well. Have been doing my work ever since except washing. Feel better than I have for several years. I would recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who are troubled as I was. I am now sixty-one years old and I thank you most kindly for the happy relief and cure."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery" and should be used with it when a laxative is needed.

A MOST DELICATE APPARATUS.

One of the most delicate pieces of apparatus is that used for counting the number of cells in the blood. Medical scholars tell us that in a minute drop of blood no larger than the head of a pin there are from three to four million of these red cells. In health there are a certain number in a certain amount of blood; while in certain diseases, as anemia, this number is greatly deficient, causing pale cheeks, white lips, transparent ears and great debility. This delicate apparatus has proven over and over again that Scott's Emulsion increases these red corpuscles faster than any other known preparation, thus curing or preventing the many diseases and conditions caused by thin, poor blood. 51

CHAPEL GIVES WAY TO FLATS.

Venerable House of Worship Goes Down Before Improvement.

London, Jan. 26.—Eaton Chapel, a quaint relic of former days, is being torn down to make way for the erection of a huge pile of flats. The days of the chapel are past; besides, land is exceedingly valuable and rents are good in that part of London. The improvement is due to the Board of the Westminster estate, and will undoubtedly mean a considerable addition to the ducal revenues.
