MOST HONEST MAN IN LONDON A SCRIBE

Turns In To Police a Cent Found On Streets.

The most honest man in the city of London has been discovered. It happened this way: A local scribe while pursuing his course along Richmond street today perceived in his path the munificent sum of 1 cent, which he lifted into his pocket. Proceeding a few paces along his beat his conscience suddenly smote him, and demanded that the money be returned to its rightful owner. With this end in view he hied himself to the local police station, strode up to the sergeant on duty at the desk and threw down the coin with an explanation regarding the find.

But, horrors! The copper refused to cop the copper. When he had recovered from the shock the reporter heard the sergeant in the far-off distance mumble: "Keep it; the coin may bring you luck." The object of Diogenes' search has been located, and before leaving police headquarters the honest one left a description of this find with the police, in case an owner turned up.

The copper is of 1916 vintage, Canadian style, King's head (naturally). It is slightly worn, and was found near Dundas street on Richmond. If the rightful owner does not claim his property by pay day it will be deposited in the bank along with other weekly profits.

SNELGROVE WINS ONTARIO TROPHY AT O. B. A. TOURNEY

London Rowing Club Rink Bowls Splendidly Against Toronto Granites.

Toronto, Aug. 14.—W. J. Snelgrove, of the London Rowing Club, won the Ontario trophy in the Dominion bowling tournament this morning, defeating W. W. Digby of the Granite Club, Toronto, in the final 17 to 9. In the semi-final Digby won from Brooks of Lawrence Park, 16 to 14, and Snelgrove won from Ogilvie of Brantford, 14 to 11. Snelgrove played magnificently all through, losing only one game in the tournament. On the form displayed by his rink today they will take some beating in the Butt trophy competition for champion rinks, which will be played here on Saturday. In the Toronto trophy, Chambers of Hamilton qualified for the finals by virtue of his 11 to 9 victory over Ogilvie of Brantford this morning. He will meet the winner of the Rennie Granite vs. Pearcy Victoria game in the finals, which will be played late today. Much progress has been made in the doubles and singles, and the finals should be reached tomorrow.

DUNDAS STREET AT RIDOUT

LOCAL NEWS

FIVE SUMMONED.—Health Inspector James Lutman reported today that he had issued five summonses for citizens who had failed to comply with the board of health's order to make satisfactory plumbing arrangements on their property.

DANCING ON GREEN.—Open-air dancing will be one of the features of the band concert to be given by the Comrades' Club in Victoria Park Friday evening. Refreshments will be provided from booths and the G. W. V. A. band will furnish the music.

MARCH WITH PRINCE.—If the 33rd Battalion Band instruments can be secured in time, the former members of that unit will march behind their own band and colors when the Prince of Wales arrives here. This was decided at a meeting of the 33rd Comrades' Club last night.

COWAN IS WANTED.—As the result of a communication from John Lessard, Edmonton, Alta., local police are searching for a discharged soldier named Cowan, believed to be visiting his mother in this city. Cowan, whose first name is not given, was a member of the 27th Canadian Battalion from Winnipeg. Lessard desires to learn of his whereabouts in connection with an important business matter.

BUILDING FIGURES.—Building figures for this month are rising rapidly. Permits for more than six thousand dollars' worth of building were taken out yesterday, bringing the figures for the month to $334,665. The Olympia Candy Company is installing an elevator at a cost of $250. Russell Waide is building a 1½-story brick-veneer dwelling on Maitland street at a cost of $3,000. Selak-Orth, tailors, are erecting a new glass store front, which will cost $2,160.

TOMATO WORMS.—Large worms are now waging war on tomato plants in this city. Many citizens, who noticed green tomatoes half eaten, investigated to find the criminal. Large worms were found measuring as much as four inches long and half an inch across. The worms have yellow bands. As many as five or six have been taken from a small garden. At the rate they eat the tomatoes, the whole crop would easily be destroyed within two weeks, stated one owner of a ravaged garden.

ALL HANDS AT PORT.—"What's the matter, everybody dead?" asked the discomfited reporter of the passing policeman after a vain endeavor to get into a whole bunch of offices today in quest of crumbs of news. The big policeman grinned cheerfully. "Everybody's Irish today," he said. "And what for are ye not down at the picnic yerself? That's where you would be afther getting the real news. No use staying at home when the Irish are holding a picnic."

A GRAND PICNIC SEASON. — The picnic season is still going strong in London, notwithstanding the fact that it started a month earlier than usual this year, and the days of July were literally crammed with church, Sunday school, society, club and business firm outings.

Special car service has been booked for Saturday for picnics at Springbank Park to be held by McClary's Band, the Somerville Paper Box Company and the London Bolt and Hinge Company.

While the folks of Irish birth and descent and their hundreds of good friends are making merry at Port Stanley today, members of the Christian Workers' Church have taken advantage of a quiet day at Springbank Park to hold their annual picnic there.

DISSATISFIED WITH WAGES.—Local postoffice employees, especially the returned soldiers, who are in the majority, are dissatisfied with the wages paid by the Dominion Government. One of the civil service men, who is a member of the Great War Veterans' Association, told that organization recently that, although the Government was saying that a family of five could not live on less than $1,500 per year, some of its employees in this city were not getting more than $900 per annum. Committees from the Letter-Carriers' Association and the Great War Veterans will meet and discuss the matter. It has been said that the soldiers will give their comrades in the postoffice their utmost support in their endeavor to rectify affairs.

HOUSING COMMISSION.—Building under the Government housing plan will likely get definitely underway tonight, when the local housing commission will meet to consider applications and to make final arrangements for proceeding with five applications which have already been accepted. Chairman J. G. Richter's resignation will come before the meeting in protest against the plan of speculative building proposed by E. R. Dennis at the last meeting. Mr. Dennis wants the commission to build 36 houses in addition to those for which applications have been made. Mr. Richter is strongly opposed to this, and when the matter was discussed at the last meeting he intimated that he might resign. The matter was adjourned to the next meeting, and owing to the absence of Mayor Somerville, it is doubtful whether it will be considered tonight.

EMBARGO AGAINST U. S. GOODS NOT CURE FOR EXCHANGE PLAGUE

Would Work Hardship To Many For Benefit of the Few.

A citizen of London, anticipating a short holiday trip to the United States, went into a local bank yesterday to draw a check on himself for $100, making a request for "American money."

What he actually received through the wicket was $95 in bills of various denominations, and some odd pieces of silver.

He told his experience to the newspaper, declaring himself a convert to the idea mooted locally some days ago, namely that the Government be urged to place an embargo on goods imported to Canada from the United States until the "balance of trade" is restored.

The Balance of Trade.

"What's the balance of trade," the young woman wanted to know who had a few hours before paid something like $2.50 in order to get $50 of her own money out of the bank in American money.

"You see," she was told, "we have been buying so many more things from the United States than the United States has been buying from Canada "that it is necessary to even things up by charging just so much more for American money. In other words, when it comes to doing business with the United States, a Canadian dollar just now is only worth about 95¼ or 95½ cent."

"And we earn our money just as hard, if not harder, than they do over there," said the young woman indignantly. The embargo can't come too soon for her.

A Banker's Opinion.

A leading local bank manager is not of the same opinion, however, as the two victims of a balance of trade on the wrong side of the line for Canada.

"The cure would be worse than the disease," he says. "It simply can't be done without causing great hardship. Think of the many who would be deprived of goods for the benefit of the comparatively few who travel and visit in the United States! We are obliged at the present time, and will be for some time to come, to get many things from the United States which we formerly bought from England. This is the reason for the growth of the balance of trade against us in the United States. It is also responsible for the fact that the sterling rate has gone down.

No Relief For Present.

"The rate of exchange on American money has steadily increased during the period of the war until the present, and there won't be much change in the situation until England is again able to supply us with goods formerly received from there, but now bought in the United States."

An assistant bank manager, in the absence of his chief, ventures the opinion that the exchange business is "all a gamble," and that it isn't possible to predict improvement or otherwise in the present conditions.

A third financial institution representative, calling attention to the fact that the balance of trade has been piling up rapidly on the side of the United States in the past six weeks, with consequent large increase in exchange rates, adds: "It is to be expected that there will not be any substantial decrease until after the wheat crop is sold. The wheat crop is a large factor in restoring the balance of trade." This expert numbers steel products, American-made motor cars and coal among the factors which contribute largely to the building up of a balance of trade on the wrong side for Canada."

GOVERNMENT PLAYS WITH LONDON, SAYS EAST MIDDLESEX MEMBER

Mr. Glass Says Something Has Got To Be Done About Port Stanley.

"If something is not done soon there will be a real row in the House when it meets," said S. F. Glass, M.P., today, regarding the delayed improvements to Port Stanley harbor and the construction of public buildings in the city. "The Government spends large amounts of money on Halifax, Quebec and Fort William, but when it comes to a tit-bit for Port Stanley they play with us. I don't see why the members of the House in the southwestern part of this province stand for it. I'm not going to any longer."

Mr. Glass has written to the deputy minister of public works for a copy of the night telegram report of District Engineer Craig on the inspection which was made immediately after the grounding of the Roosevelt on its first trip. The report to the local board of trade stated that the harbor was not dangerous, and did not need dredging this year, but Mr. Glass is of the opinion that this has created a wrong impression. He does not know whether the deputy minister will forward the report that he has requested.

The New Buildings.

In connection with the new public buildings in this city, the need for which has been urged, Mr. Glass said: "Money has been appropriated for this work. Tenders should be let at once. The old buildings should be torn down and cleared away, ready for construction work next spring. If something is not done this year the voting on the matter will have to be done all over again next year, and the money again put in the estimates."

At this time there was great need for new buildings in the city as a great deal of accommodation was needed for the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Commission and the military and other departments located here.

Referring to Port Stanley again Mr. Glass said that London had spent a $1,000,000 on a road to that place, and that improvements to the harbor were necessary to international trade.

Newton, Mass., Aug. 14.—Play in the final round of the national lawn tennis doubles championship was postponed today because of rain. Tomorrow, if weather permits, Gerald L. Patterson and Norman E. Brookes, the Australian team, will meet William M. Johnston and Clarence J. Griffin, both of San Francisco, holders of the northwestern sectional titles. The winners will play the present titleholders, William Tilden of Philadelphia and Vincent Richards of Yonkers, N. P., Saturday in the challenge match for the title.

SEES MOTOR STOLEN BY JOY-RIDERS, BUT CANNOT PREVENT IT

Denfield Man's Car Carried Off From Springbank.

To see his Ford car stolen by auto thieves, but to be powerless to prevent the crime, was the experience of Gordon McEwen of Denfied, at Springbank last night about 11:30 o'clock. Mr. McEwen, after spending the evening at the riverside park was returning to his car, when he saw two youths board the machine. He rushed toward them to protect his property, shouting to them to stop, but his only reward was the dust from his car. The offenders proceeded toward this city, but there was no other auto in the vicinity by means of which they could be pursued.

The theft was reported to the local and county police this morning, and the authorities are of the opinion that the car was taken by local youthful joy riders, and that it will be located stranded in this city today. The car is a 1916 Ford model, with engine No. C42050, and bearing license markers numbered 48608. The right fender has been bent and straightened, and this fact is noticeable on the car.

Local police have also been notified of the theft last night at Port Stanley of a Ford car owned in St. Thomas, carrying license number 116892 and believed to have been driven to this city early this morning.

HAYLESS DAYS ARE AHEAD FOR HORSES

If Farmers Do Not Soon Increase Supply For Market.

If farmers do not bring more hay to the market than they have brought during the past few weeks, there will be some hayless days for many horses in this city.

Ordinarily, the consumption of hay in London amounts to 75 loads per week. Last week only 28 loads passed over the scales at the market. A little better record is shown this week, as 27 loads have been sold. Before automobiles were used in such great numbers, the weekly consumption of this farm product was 100 loads. Except for a few tons received this week, the C. P. R. barns, where 48 horses are kept, is without hay. At this place four loads are used each week. Private citizens are having a harder time getting this horse food than companies are having.

One north end citizen went out into the country and hauled a load with his own team. Another has been meeting the loads at the city limits. He did not meet with success, however, for every farmer that he met informed him that his hay had been purchased.

Farmers have their crops stored in the barns, and as they are busy on the farm, they are not bringing the product to the city. Another reason is the scarcity of corn and barley straw. The grass is not said to be in very good condition either.

Only a month ago, new hay was selling at $16 to $18 per ton, but today there is a brisk demand for it at $23 to $26.

GENERAL CURRIE MAY OPEN WESTERN FAIR

Distinguished Soldier Has Been Asked To Officiate.

The great and only Western Fair may be honored this year by the distinguished presence of Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, commander-in-chief of the Canadian overseas forces, and Lady Currie. Secretary A. M. Hunt of the Western Fair board cabled Gen. Currie some days ago, in time to reach him the day before he sailed; in fact, to invite him to formally open the Western Fair on Monday, September 8.

This will be somewhat of a change from the usual order of procedure. Hitherto, for several years past, at least, the Western Fair has sort of automatically opened itself, with the opening of the gates and the placing of a staff upon the ticket booths and the turnstiles.

No answer has been received to the cable, but the secretary and other officials of the board are still hoping that the old Middlesex boy, who has become mighty as a warrior, will cherish fond recollections of the Western Fair to the extent of "including it in his itinerary" on his return home.

SUPREME COUNCIL RECEIVES TEXT OF RUMANIAN ANSWER

Paris, Aug. 14,—The Rumanian delegation sent to the peace conference today the text of the answer of the Rumanain Government to the notes sent by the conference. The supreme council will meet this afternoon to discuss the Rumanian reply.

LIBERTY LEAGUE AWAITS DATE OF THE REFERENDUM

Fear That Government May Postpone the Balloting.

No campaign in connection with the coming referendum will be started by the local Liberty League which is now in the process of organization until the Ontario Government announces the date on which the balloting is to be done. This decision was actuated by the fear that the powers-that-be might have the taking of the vost postponed for some time, with the result that if the league's campaign commenced immediately it would be a long, and incidentally, a costly one.

Will Elect Soon.

Prominent members of the chamber of Commerce are associated with the new organization, and it is expected that they will call a general meeting in the near future, when officers will be elected and new members enrolled. Many businessmen of the city have been recruited as a nucleus around which will grow up a strong organization, it is said.

For some weeks past those interested in the formation of a league here have been in touch with officers of the Windsor Liberty League, it is understood; in fact, a number of Border City men were said to have been here concerning the matter about a month ago.

Any measure, organization or other thing that interferes with the liberties of the people will be combatted by the league. This is the reason for its existence.

"WETS" SEE DANGER OF BOOZE BALLOTS CONFUSING VOTERS

Point Out Necessity of Close Study of the Ballot.

When voting takes place on the Ontario temperance referendum act four questions will be upon the ballot, and every question must be voted upon, otherwise the ballot becomes void, and all questions will be rejected. Champions of the "wets" claim that there is liable to be a slight misunderstanding on the part of voters on the first question, which asks, "Are you in favor of the repeal of the Ontario temperance act?" with space for an X below "yes" or "no." According to them, a voter might mark his vote no, when he really wished to repeal the Ontario temperance act, and to have conditions as they were before prohibition came into force.

The second question applies to the sale of light beer through Government agencies, while the third gives the option of such by means of standard hotels throughout the province. The fourth question asks the voter to record his opinion regarding the sale of spirituous and malt liquors through Government agencies as an amendment to the Ontario temperance act permitting such sale.

Campaigners for a dry Ontario urge that four "Noes" are necessary on the majority of the ballots in the provincial polling in order that their object may be achieved, and both sides on the Ontario temperance referendum act have mobilized their forces in this city and a real campaign has been begun in earnest.

When voting is concluded, the result will be taken for the whole Province of Ontario, and not for districts. That is to say, London may vote overwhelmingly for a dry Ontario, indicating that the public here wish the Ontario temperance act to remain in force, but this balloting may be over-ridden by a majority vote of the wets in other portions of the province, and hence the Forest City would obey the will of the people of Ontario and would become wet with the rest of the province.

FORD LIBEL SUIT GOES TO THE JURY AFTER THREE MONTHS

Judge Tucker of Mt. Clemens Gives Jurymen Lengthy Instructions.

Mount Clemens, Mich., Aug. 14.—The jury which for three months has been hearing testimony and arguments in Henry Ford's $1,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Daily Tribune, retired today to consider its verdict.

Judge Tucker instructed the jury that "the right of fair comment" is expected in the case of Mr. Ford, because his position as a great employer of labor and entry as a propagandist into the discussion of the preparedness question made him a public character. The judge held that a newspaper has no greater privileges in making comment than has an individual.

The jury was instructed further to dismiss the case against the Solomon News Company, which on a purely technical charge that it distributed in Michigan 208 copies of the Tribune issue of June 23, 1916, containing the alleged libelous editorial headed, "Ford Is An Anarchist," was made a co-defendant. Counsel for the plaintiff, at the opening of the case, announced that, as the Solomon Bros. distributed the paper in ignorance of its contents, no damages were sought.

The courtroom was crowded while the judge was charging the jury. The only one of the principals in the suit present was Capt. Joseph M. Patterson, one of the publishers of the Tribune. Mr. Ford is in the Adirondacks on a vacation.

Defines Word Anarchist.

Judge Tucker gave the several definitions of the words "anarchist" and "anarchy," but instructed that it was the duty of the jury itself to determine in what sense the newspaper used the words and what it would mean to its readers.

There were two defences, he continued. If the jury find that charges in the editorial were true, that Mr. Ford was in fact an "anarchist" and "ignorant idealist," it was a complete defence. The "right of fair comment," he instructed, was a second defence to be considered only in event that the first defence was inadequate. In the course of his charge the court said:

"The editorial, as it appeared in the paper and standing by itself without explanation is libelous, or in legal terms, libelous per se (of itself).

"The defendant Chicago Times admits the publication and insists that it was true, and therefore justified, and that even if not true, it was fair comment on a matter of public interest, either of which defences are sufficient, if proven."

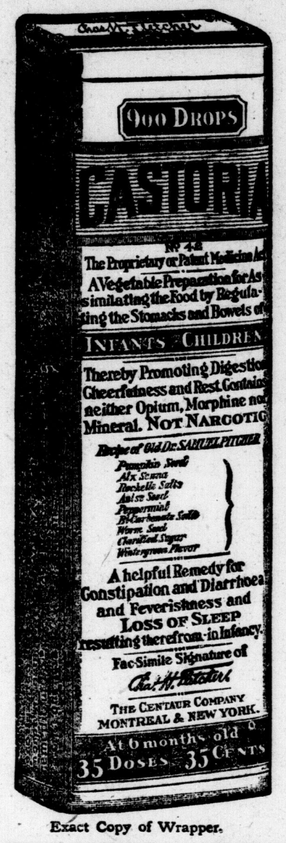
Castor Oil, Ugh!

FOR many years most mothers have known that Fletcher's Castoria is the only ready-at-hand substitute for Castor Oil, yet there are mothers who do not know. Few mothers there are who know that the seeds from which old-fashioned, out-of-date Castor Oil is extracted are to a degree poisonous and when eaten set up a severe inflamation of the digestive organs.

In its most refined form the Oil is rarely used now for Infants and Children on the advice of up-to-date physicians, and the purest Castor Oil to be had still has the nauseating, griping, distressing qualities that to the little-one make the remedy worse than the ailment.

Every physician understands this and freely recommends Fletcher's Castoria as they have been familiar with its use for the ailments of Children for over thirty years and in all that time it has served them well.

Its ingredients, in their common English names, are on every wrapper that all may know of what it is composed. There is no secret. It is just a happy combination for the little-ones and its use will make happy mothers.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.
