THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JUNE 8, 1900.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The many friends of J. W. Barss, Esq., were glad to see that his health permitted him to attend the exercises on Wednesday morning. The regard in which he is held in the Baptist denomination was amply manifested by the ovation that greeted him when he took his seat upon the platform, where he remained throughout the exercises.

The news of the fall of Pretoria which was current when we went to press last week turned out to be unauthentic. Since then, however, Lord Roberts has entered the city without opposition and the Transvaal is now in the hands of the British. Although the war has not been yet declared at an end it cannot last much longer, and under British rule peace and progress will soon reign there.

The June number of the Acadia Athenaeum is to hand and is an unusually interesting one, containing a number of good illustrations in addition to a large amount of valuable reading matter. The current issue closes the year. Mr E. C. Stubbert, the editor-in-chief, and his assistants have put forth strenuous efforts during the year to make the paper successful and have succeeded. Mr R. J. Colpitts, who was business manager this year will succeed Mr Stubbert as editor-in-chief, while, Mr John McFadden will be business manager.

Wolfville presented a gay scene Wednesday. Flags floated in every direction, and a number of lines of flags were strung across Main street. The bright colored bunting among the rich green foliage and delicate apple blossoms presented a pretty appearance indeed. A visit to our town just now is worth considerable effort. Those who attended the anniversary exercises this year certainly thought so, and will come again and again. Many took the walk up over the hill and feasted on the panorama of beauty spread out before them there. On either side of the "ridge" the sight is a rare one just now.

On Wednesday evening at the close of the conversazione in College Hall a demonstration was held on the campus in celebration of the entry of our troops into the Transvaal capital. The arrangements were hurriedly made during a busy time in Wolfville, but the whole affair was a most creditable testimonial to the loyalty and patriotism of our people. Mayor Thomson presided in his usual good form and patriotic addresses were delivered by Rev. R. F. Dixon, Rev. E. M. Dill and Hon. H. R. Emmerson, premier of New Brunswick. Miss Grace Patriquin gave a well rendered reading. A cannon was procured and discharged a number of times, while there were rifles and small arms in abundance. The manuel training hall was prettily illuminated and the campus thronged with spectators in teams and on foot. The immense bon-fire illuminated the scene and revealed an exceedingly pretty picture. The Wolfville band was present and added not a little to the enjoyment of the occasion by rendering an excellent programme. The celebration closed with cheers for "Bobs" and the Queen.

Sunday afternoon a memoral service was held in College Hall for the late Dr. T. H. Rand. Dr. Trotter presided and spoke with touching words of his relations with the deceased at Toronto and how his life had been enriched by this connection. Dr. Sawyer spoke of Dr. Rand as a student at Acadia and his subsequent career as an educationist, commending his earnestness of purpose and his ability to accomplish great things. Dr. Saunders spoke sympathetically and feelingly of his life long friend, having known him from boyhood, always finding him a true adviser and friend. Rev. Dr. Goodspeed, Toronto, spoke of Dr. Rand's career at Fredricton, his intense zeal, his love of truth, and his outpouring of himself for others. Chancellor Wallace spoke in eulogistic terms of his late colleague, especially of his services to McMaster during the last five years of his life. Dr. R. V. Jones, a classmate, offered prayer, and Rev. Dr. Boggs, who has just arrived from India, pronounced the benediction.

Funeral of Dr. Rand.

The funeral of the late Dr. T. H. Rand took place at Canard on Saturday from the home of his brother, Mr Everett Rand. There was a large attendance notwithstanding the very disagreeable state of the weather. Prayer was offered at the house by Rev. B. Nobles, of Kentville, after which the remains were taken to the Canard Baptist Church. The pall-bearers, selected from those associated with Dr. Rand at Acadia, were Dr. R. V. Jones, Prof. J. F. Tufts, Prof. A. E. Coldwell and Prof. I. B. Oakes. Rev. W. N. Hutchings, of Canning, read the scripture, and the sermon was preached by Dr. Keirstead from the 87th Psalm, who delivered a most touching and eloquent tribute and sublime eulogy to the deceased. Appropriate remarks were made by Rev. Dr. Saunders, and Dr. O. C. S. Wallace. Rev. C. H. Martell presided and read the burial service at the grave. Among the many floral tributes were wreaths from the faculty of McMaster University, the faculty of Acadia and Dr R. V. Jones, who was the only member of the noted class of '60 present.

Acadia's Anniversary.

We venture to say that never in the history of the educational institutions here has their anniversary exercises been under more favorable conditions than existed during the present week. All nature smiled her brightest smiles. Every day the sun shone, a rather unusual thing of late years' closings. Our beautiful town was thronged with visitors and admired by all.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached on Sunday morning in the Baptist church by Rev. Kerr Boyce Tupper, D. D., LL. D., of Philadelphia, and was a scholarly and pleasing address. The church was beautifully decorated with apple blossoms and palms, and was filled to the doors. The students occupied the seats usually alloted to them on such occasions, while on the platform were President Trotter, Dr. Tupper, Dr. O. C. S. Wallace and Rev. H. R. Hatch. The opening prayer was made by Chancellor Wallace after which the speaker was introduced by President Trotter. The subject of the address was "A Beautiful Portrait of the Christ; or, Jesus of Nazareth Went About Doing Good." In closing the preacher addressed a few personal words to the outgoing class and urged them to "Do noble deeds and make life and death and the vast forever one grand, sweet song." A large choir furnished excellent music, the rendering of "Holy, holy, holy," being especially beautiful.

FIELD DAY SPORTS.

For a number of years past one of the interesting features of the commencement season has been the field day sports of the Acadia Amateur Athletic Association. These took place on Monday afternoon in the presence of a throng of spectators. Considerable attention is paid to athletics at Acadia, and the boys always make a good showing. Following is the programme of events with the names of the prize winners:

100 yards dash—Steele 1st, time, 11 seconds; Jas. Howe 2nd.

High jump—Richardson, 5 ft. 2 in., 1st; Schurman, 5 ft. 1 in., 2nd.

Putting shot—White, 36 ft. 10 in., 1st; Dickson, 32 ft. 11½ in., 2nd.

Pole vault—Steele, 8 ft., 1st; Schurman 2nd.

220 yards dash—Steele, 26 seconds, 1st; Howe 2nd.

Hop, skip and jump—Howe, 41 ft. 8 inches, 1st; Richardson 2nd.

ADDRESS BEFORE THE SENATE.

The annual address before the senate of the University was delivered on Monday evening by Rev. Dr. Tupper to a large and very appreciative audience. President Trotter presided and introduced the speaker. The subject was, "Optimism vs. Pesimism, or the World Growing Better," and it was discussed by the learned speaker in a scholarly, eloquent and interesting manner. He showed the advance being made in material conditions, in social relations, in moral elevation and in Christian growth. All this is because God reigns supreme from generation to generation in the hearts of his people. Let us then believe in God that is always awake and always at home. Let us have faith that truth is nobler than falsehood, right is stronger than wrong, love is stronger than hate, God is stronger than the devil. The whole address was listened to attentively by the large audience present.

The class day exercises on Tuesday morning drew a large crowd. The programme, which was as follows, was highly enjoyed, the many hits in the papers causing much amusement:

Address...Class President, E. L. Franklin
Class History.....J. C. Jones
Music.....Class Quartette
Class Prophecy.....Austin P. Bill
Music.....Cass Quartette
Valedictory.....W. E. McNeill

HORTON COLLEGIATE ACADEMY.

An excellent address was delivered by Rev. D. H. Simpson, of Berwick, and short addresses were given by other visitors. The graduating class numbering 19 received their diplomas. This the first year under the direction of Principal Brittain has been a successful one and the new principal has proved himself eminently qualified for the position.

The manual training hall was visited by a large number of people all of whom were highly pleased. The work in this department has during the past year been exceedingly encouraging. While there have not been a large number of students in attendence, the standard of work done has been exceptionally high. The present director, Mr Fairn, has devoted himself to the work with commendable zeal, and the results, as shown in the complete specimens, which are placed on sale, reflect credit upon him as an instructor and upon his students. The course in manual training is taken more generally by students from the Academy and is practically in connection with that institution.

ACADIA SEMINARY.

The closing exercises of Acadia Seminary on Tuesday evening were as usual of a very interesting character. Under the guiding hand of the new president the seminary has experienced perhaps the most successful year of its history. There have been 139 students in attendance, 89 of whom have taken the regular course. Of this number 65 were from N. S., 21 from N. B., 3 from P. E. I. and one from the United States. That this institution has a firm hold on the interest of the public is shown by the large number who seek admittance to the closing exercises each year. This year was no exception to the rule and the large hall was filled to overflowing before the hour appointed for the beginning of the programme. The hall was prettily decorated with class colors. On the platform were the president and faculty and speakers of the evening. President McDonald presided very happily and the whole proceedings passed off most successfully. To the melodious strains of a processional skillfully preformed by Miss Lounsbury and Starr, the young ladies marched in and took the places reserved for them. Prayer was offered by Rev. Howard Whidden, of Galt, Ont., after which a sweet song entitled "The Lonely Rose" was exquisitely rendered by a chorus of Seminary students. Of the class of eighteen the following delivered essays:—

"Mathematics in Nature,"—Olive Winifred Smith, Halifax, N. S.

"Italy's Struggle for Liberty," Grace Gwendolyn Hamm, St. John, N. B.

"The Red Cross in War,"—Sadie Marinda Dykeman, Fairville, N. B.

"Rosa Bonheur and Her Work,"—Lillie Claire Webster, Kentville, N. S.

All the essays were well written and gracefully delivered.

Miss Alice Maude Lounsbury, of Newcastle, N. B, and Miss Mary June Davidson, of Hantsport, N. S., gave well rendered selections on the piano, and Miss Lida Munro sang "With Verdure Clad" much to the enjoyment of all present.

Mrs Archibald, of Halifax, was introduced by President McDonald and gave an instructive an earnest address to the young lady graduates, urging them to lives of usefulness to home and country.

Diplomas were then presented to the graduates as follows:

Collegiate course: Cora Peters Archibald, Myrtle Coldwell, Emily May Christie, Winifred Crisp, Ethel May Crossley, Sadie Marinda Dykeman, Grace Gwendolyn Hamm, Cora Nettie Lantz, Lida May Munro, Mary G. Henderson McCain, Nina Violet Shaw, Coryl Campbell Schurman, Olive Winifred Smith, Mattie Borden Vaughn, Lillie Claire Webster. Musical course: Mary June Davidson, Eva Maude Doyle, Annie Starr Chipman (post-graduate work).

Principal McDonald announced that two memorials had been donated to the Seminary during the year. The first was the establishment of a hospital in the building by friends of Adelaide McCully, of Amherst, and the second a complete equipment for electric lighting by friends of Mrs Helen Reed Taylor also of Amherst. Both these ladies were students and warm friends of the Seminary.

The Prizes were announced as follows: Godfrey Payzant priz, Miss Lillie Webster, Kentville, first; Miss Mary G. McCain, Florenceville, N. B., second, with honorable mention to Miss Sadie Dykeman, of Fairville, N. B.; Miss Alice Lounsbury, Newcastle N. B., third, with honorable mention to Miss Mary June Davidson, Hantsport.

StClair Scholarship—Mrs C. M. Vaughn, Wolfville, first; Miss Bessie King, Wolfville, second, with honorable mention to Miss Olive Smith, of Halifax. The Gov. Gen. gold medal for excellency in essay work was won by Miss Portia Starr, of Wolfville.

Addresses were delivered by Premier Emmerson and Dr. Hall.

ACADIA'S CONVOCATION.

On Wednesday morning College hall was crowded to the doors with an expectant throng to witness the graduation of the class of 1900. The long procession of governors, members of the senate, alumni and faculty was an impressive sight as they filed into the hall.

Dr. Trotter, together with the faculty, occupied the front platform, while the governors, senate and alumni were seated upon the side platform. The members of the seminary in the west gallery, the friends of the graduating class in the south gallery, the friends of the faculty in the east gallery, and the class of 1900 occupied the front seats.

After prayer by the Rev. Dr. Boggs the exercises took place according to the following programme:

Addresses by members of the graduating class.

The Christian Pulpit in the Twentieth Century—Horace Greeley Colpitts, Elgin, N. B.

The Ethical World of Shakespeare—Edward Herbert Cameron, Yarmouth, N. S.

The Power of Memory—Elizabeth Shaw Colwell, St John N. B.

Rand's "At Minas Basin"—John Alexander Glendenning, Moncton, N. B.

The Anglo Saxon—Austin Fredric Bill, Lockeport, N. S.

Vocal solo by Miss Lida Munro.

The class, led by Dr. Kempton, then filed past and each received the well earned parchment which conferred upon them the B. A. degree. They then retired from the room and soon returned with a hood trimmed with white down and stood to receive the president's address. His subject, "Success in Life," treated in his impressive manner, gave much good advice to the outgoing class.

In closing he said that the class of 1900 ranked intellectually with the best class that ever graduated from Acadia.

The class of 1900 numbers 27, two of whom are young ladies. During their residence here they made many warm friends who will follow them with best wishes as they leave the halls of Acadia behind them.

The degrees and honors were then announced:—

E. H. Cameron, V. L. Miller, S. S. Poole, honors in classics.

H. G. Colpitts and R. S. Leonard—History and economics.

The governor-general's bronze medal was awarded to W. E. McNeil, Montague, P. E. I., for excellence in work during the last three years of the course. Dr. Trotter announced that Dr. K. B. Tupper had offered a gold medal for excellence in oratory. He also announced that Dr. Myers, of New York, had presented the college with $1,000.

The newly created Drs. Tufts and Manning spoke a few words of appreciation and thanks for the honor conferred on them. Remarks were also made by Dr. Goodspeed, Dr. B. H. Eaton and Dr. Sawyer, after which the exercises closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

On Wednesday evening the exercises of the week were brought to a close by a conversazione held in College Hall. This was a very pleasant affair. The hall was well filled and presented a gay spectacle. An excellent programme was rendered by the Wolfville orchestra, and Prof. H. N. Shaw gave a reading rendered in his usual good style. The time was pleasantly spent in renewing old acquaintances and making new ones, and the whole affair was a most fitting finale to the successful anniversary exercises of 1900.

The first electrical storm of the season occurred on Thursday evening of last week. The lightning was very vivid at times, while the rain fell in torrents. No injury was done here, but in some parts of the county a number of buildings were struck and narrow escapes are reported.
