St. Thomas, Dec. 14.—Rene Wrigglesworth, one of the unfortunate Bessemer's crew, was a New Sarum man, where he lived with his brother-in-law, James Gillard. He had been on the ill-fated boat for four years and held the position of fireman. Two weeks ago he was home and when his brother-in-law, Mr. Gillard, drove him into town, where he took the traction car to Port Stanley, he expressed great reluctance at having to go back to the boat. Mr. Wrigglesworth was a young man who was well liked by all who knew him. He was born at Norwich about 22 years ago, and leaves to mourn his loss three sisters, Mrs. Jas. Gillard, New Sarum; Mrs. Purdy, Norwich; Mrs. Wm. Exelby, Owen Sound, and two brothers, William Wrigglesworth, Owen Sound, and Robert Wrigglesworth, Lake City, Mich.

Cannon, of the provincial district court, appointed by the Provincial Government in investigate Montreal's civic government, made his report to the lieutenant-governor-in-council at Quebec yesterday. The report finds that for many years past there has been corruption in nearly every department of the civic government and names fourteen officials and others, including eight aldermen, a chief of police, a fire chief and two or three outside go-betweens, as having been guilty of specific acts of misfeasance.

The report recommends that the new city council to be elected in February take steps to bring the accused to justice.

A FINE FLIGHT AND A BAD FIRE

McCurdy Flies Eight Miles and Flames Destroy Baldwin's Home.

Baddeck, N. S., Dec. 13.—J. A. D. McCurdy, the Canadian aviator, made a remarkable flight at daybreak today. There was no wind. The machinery took the air easily, circled the meadow the first time at an elevation of 30 feet, and gradually ascended until he was about 250 feet in the air, then circled the meadow four times at this elevation, covering about eight miles in all.

In the flight he crossed the Baddeck River twice.

It was the most satisfactory flight yet made with Baddeck No. 2. The machine was wonderfully steady in the air.

While the party were at the big Baddeck witnessing the flight, Mr. Casey Baldwin's cottage, on Beinn Breagh, was completely destroyed by fire, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin losing all their wedding presents, together with many valuable scientific records.

A northwest wind saved Dr. Bell's laboratories.

REJANE'S METHOD.

Paris, Dec. 14.—Mme. Rejane will introduce a striking innovation. The critics who attend her performances will be invited to give Mme. Rejane and her manager, as well as the author of the play, their opinions at the rehearsals.

"Between the acts and after the play is finished," said Mme. Rejane, "I shall discuss it with the critics and get their suggestions. In this fashion we will work together, and I shall secure the advice of competent judges. At the same time the task of the critic will be lightened."

Instead of the usual miscellaneous audience, Mme. Rejane intends that none but critics, some authors, and a very few personal friends will be allowed to attend the "grand rehearsal," with the exception of 40 members of the public, who will be permitted to purchase the surplus seats.

THE DON BRIDGE.

Toronto, Dec. 13—Order for the Queen street high level bridge at the Don has been settled by the board of railway commissioners for Canada, and is expected to arrive in the city within a day or so. The order, it is understood, is based on plans prepared by Mr George Mountain, the board's chief engineer. The city is to bear 15 per cent of the initial cost of the work, according to an order passed by the board several months ago, and 70 per cent of the cost of maintenance. The remaining 85 per cent of the cost is to be shared by the railway companies, including the Toronto Street Railway Company, which tried to escape liability.

SAW CAR FERRY SINK IN DREAM

Sister of One Member of Crew Declares All Hands Are Lost.

LATEST LIST OF LOST

Big Gale of Yesterday Prevented a Search for Possible Survivors.

Erie, Pa., Dec. 13.—Four of the nine bodies picked up by the Comomdore Perry yesterday, the first of the remains found of the men who lost their lives when the car ferry Bessemer and Marquette No. 2 foundered on the angry billows of Lake Erie, were sent to their homes tonight. The bodies shipped are those of William Ray, to Butler, Pa.; Manuel Souars, to Renova, Pa.; Thomas Steele, to Conneaut, O.; George R. Smith, to Conneaut, O.

Late today the body believed to be that of J. O'Hagan, of London, Ont., was positively identified as that of R. Hines, of Port Stanley, Ont. A telegram received by Coroner Hanly tonight from Port Stanley stated that an undertaker from that place will arrive in Erie tomorrow morning to take charge of the remains of Harry A. Thomas and Hines, both of whom are residents of that place. The other bodies will be sent to their homes tomorrow.

The Commodore Perry, which did such heroic work in bringing the bodies Sunday afternoon, lay in her slip all day with steam up, but the gale that blew over the entire lake region was of such nature that to venture out would have meant death. The wind subsided tonight.

Dreamed Disaster.

Sarah Clancy, a sister of one of the missing men, says she saw the car ferry sink while dreaming Tuesday night, and since that time she has insisted that her brother and all with him are dead.

A report was received here this afternoon that another yawl boat had been sighted near Westfield, N. Y. This rumor proved to be false. The south wind, which has been blowing all day, would have washed all wreckage and bodies toward the Canadian shore and lake men expect that the next discovery will be made on the other side of the lake.

Following is a corrected list of the men still missing, not including all of the passengers: R. R. McLeod, captain, Conneaut; J. C. McLeod, first mate, Courtright, Ont.; Frank Stone, second mate, Conneaut; Eugene Wood, chief engineer, Conneaut; E. Buckler, first assistant, Conneaut; T. Kennedy, second engineer, Conneaut; W. Wrigglesworth, fireman, Conneaut; W. Wilson, wheelsman, Conneaut; Fred Walker, address not known; Watchman P. Annis, Conneaut; J. Clancy, Cleveland; Oiler J. Wirtz, Detroit; Coal Passers P. Keith, Conneaut; J. King, Port Stanley; J. Bailey, Canada; F. Barrett, seaman, Wisconsin; E. Harvey, seaman, address not known; P. Hughes, seaman, Conneaut; D. Ball, seaman, address not known; Charles Krutts, seaman, address not known; Albert J. Wells, passenger, Erie; Christ. Johnson, passenger, Erie.

Port Stanley Mourns.

Port Stanley, Dec. 13.—Port Stanley is in mourning today over the definite knowledge that at least one of its young citizens perished in the foundering of the coal ferry, Bessemer No. 2.

The parents and friends of Harry Thomas after hoping against hope that probably the Bessemer's crew was somewhere in safety know today that the young man lost his life and grief over the tragedy is not confined at all to the bereaved mother and father, and the others of the family.

Yesterday an inkling came of the truth, that the Erie fishboat had picked up a yawl with nine bodies, and that Harry Thomas was one of the identified. But even then Mr. and Mrs. Thomas hoped that today would bring a different story. Today, however, the worst fears were confirmed, and now the family only awaits the return of the lad's remains. No definite arrangement can be made for the funeral, as it is not known yet whether an inquest will be held at Conneaut.

No word has, of course, come as to the missing Roy Hines, but there is no hope left that he has escaped death.

So it is that the whole village deeply mourns today. Everywhere is felt the tragedy that has overcast the community and the deepest sympathy is being extended to those dearest to both young Thomas and Hines.
