one of the attendants, who was engaged in trench digging. About 1 p. m. the doctor was at the trench when he saw another patient come up in an excited manner from the direction of the barn. Two of the attendants, Curran and Cameron, started towards the barn with the doctor, and they found Clark suspended by the neck to a beam. A short ladder was near him, from which he had swung himself off. Life was extinct, as all vigorous efforts to resuscitate him failed. James Curran, one of the attendants, on the inquest testified that deceased worked in the trench till dinner, and showed no unusual symptoms. Robert Graham, another attendant, said deceased took his dinner as usual. He did not see him afterwards. John Duff, another attendant, said he saw deceased at half-past twelve; did not see him again till he was dead. Grahaham, Curran, and Duff, the only three keeepers examined all testtified they had no charge of deceased after dinner. Dr. Waddell notified the lads relatives of his death. The following is the verdict of the Coroner's jury in the sad affair:—

City and County of St. John:

An inquisition taken for our Sovereign Lady the Queen, at the Provincial Lunatic Asylum, situated at the Parish of Lancaster, in the City and County of St. John aforesaid, on the 12th day of September, in the 35th year of the reign of Queen Victoria, before me, Sam Robinson, one of the Coroners for the City and County of St. John aforesaid, on view of the body of William Clark, then and there lying dead, upon the oaths of James Masson, Archibald McAuley, William Griffith, James Reavey, H. P. Cowperthwaite, John Mealey and Robert Hair, good and lawful men of the City and County of St. John aforesaid, duly sworn and charged to enquire for our said Lady the Queen, when, where, how, and by what means the said William Clark came to his death, do upon their oath say that the said William Clark, not being of sound mind, memory and understanding, but lunatic, and being an in patient of the Provincial Lunatic Asylum, on the 11th day of September instant, in the year aforesaid, was found suspended by the neck by a certain small rope then fastened to a beam in a barn belonging to the said institution, situate in the Parish of Lancaster, in the county aforesaid, and the other end about his own neck, did fix, tie and fasten therewith, did tie and fasten and did hang, suffocate, and strangle himself, of which said hanging, suffocation and strangling he, the said William Clark, then died. And so the jurors aforesaid, upon their oath aforesaid, do say that the said William Clark, not being of sound mind, memory, and understanding, but lunatic, by the manner and means aforesaid did kill himself.

(Signed) JAMES MASSON,
ARCHIBALD McAULEY,
WILLIAM GRIFFITH,
JAMES BRADY,
H. P. COWPERTHWAITE,
JOHN MEALEY,
ROBERT FAIR.

Coroner Robinson handed to Dr. Waddell a permissive order to bury the body or hand it over to his relatives if they should arrive to claim it.

Nursery Rhymes, No. 16.

THE TURTLE.

Down King street once I wandered, while before me there meandered
A beast with curious action that I'd noticed not before;
And I watched it gaily flitting, as hither it came skipping,
Like a stone upon the waters, near proud Oromocto's shore,
"'Tis young 'Bolivar' or 'Shellback' sporting on the pebbly shore:
This it is, and nothing more."

And then there came a tapping, like unto a wild beast's snapping,
Or like a dragon dancing on a stalwart oaken floor:—
Cutting quaint and curious capers worthy notice in the papers:
And I halted at the druggist's on King street, twenty-four.—
And pushing back the crowd, glanced meekly through the door.
And saw—a turtle—nothing more.

And while the crowd was standing, a man came in demanding
A vial of QUAKER BITTERS—such as he had before:—
"I want it made by Shakers, a select tribe of the Quakers,
To cure an eye-ball painful and a torpid system sore—
Dyspepsia, cramp and ague, and pains and aches a score—
Only these and nothing more.

"My liver's in disorder, and my stomach's out of order:
I have chills and intermittents, less or more:
My chest is like a bank—light, clammy, cold and dark,
And the gnawing at my vitals is tearing my heart's core,
Have you anything to cure me in your varied stock and store?"—
Quaker Bitters—nothing more.

Then nothing more was spoken, and the silence only broken,
By the movement of the turtle as, in vain, it tried to soar:
And then there came a groaning—a tender plaintive moaning,
And on its back the turtle lay, wildly struggling on the floor:
The man with Quaker Bitters had just turned him slightly o'er—
Only this and nothing more.
