Canadian Apple Exhibition

The speed at which Canadian products can be put on the market in England was strikingly demonstrated recently.

The Department of Colonization and Development of the Canadian Pacific Railway recently shipped by Dominion Express on the "Empress of Britain" a consignment of Canadian apples for exhibition at 62-65, Charing Cross, and the other offices of the company in Europe. The apples came from various Canadian provinces, and it is interesting to note that some of them actually left the producer and were on show in less than eight days. For instance, the Ontario consignment left Trenton, Ontario, at 2 a.m., November 1, by C.P.R., arrived Montreal at 9 a.m., left at 9 a.m., and arrived Quebec at 2 p.m. They were immediately placed on board the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain," which arrived Liverpool on Tuesday morning, Nov. 8. Before the last passenger was off the ship the apples were discharged, whisked in Dominion Express motors to the special train to Euston Station, London, which was reached soon after 2 p.m. the same day. Here Dominion Express men collected them, and at 3 o'clock they were on exhibition in the windows of the Canadian Pacific at Charing Cross, with a card reading, "Canadian apples, from producer to consumer in less than eight days."

"Though Canada is three thousand miles from England, our system of quick transportation is bringing as nearer to that country every day. Recently the "Empress of Britain" went to Liverpool and back to Quebec in 15 days, including the time taken in embarking and disembarking passengers.

"They cannot speak too highly of this wonderful Zam-Buk," says Mrs. Jane E. Zoethey, an ex-Major of the Salvation Army and daughter of the late Dr. Swart, of St. David's, South Wales.

Blood and system poisoning the sore, without doing good, when, hearing wonderful reports about Zam-Buk, I decided to try it. The one lotion my relief, when, after a few applications of Zam-Buk, I was delighted to find matter ceased, inflammation quickly went and every sore in the manner sore. It made me realize what pain and suffering I might have saved the boy, had I got Zam-Buk at first.

"When I fell over a steel fender and injured my knee badly, I again used Zam-Buk. My daughter, who was a nurse, thought an operation would be necessary to remove the mass of inflammation and pus, but I didn't forgetting my previous experience with Zam-Buk.
