I. Maximin and Melanie.

On September 19th, 1846, two children, a boy of 11 years and a girl of 15 years, were tending their cattle on the mountain of Salette, when they saw a light shining like a star, and a lady appeared to them, who spoke to them for about half an hour. The children ran to their parents and told them what they had seen and heard. The parents went to the place and saw the light and the lady. The lady told the children to tell their parents that if they did not pray and do penance, a great punishment would come upon them. The lady also told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them. The lady also told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them. The lady also told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them.

On September 19th, 1846, the lady appeared to the children and told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them. The lady also told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them. The lady also told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them.

On September 19th, 1846, the lady appeared to the children and told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them. The lady also told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them. The lady also told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them.

On September 19th, 1846, the lady appeared to the children and told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them. The lady also told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them. The lady also told them that if people would pray and do penance, God would bless them.