GALLANT DEEDS BY THE CANADIANS

back, who had surrendered to a single foe.

Drove Enemy off.

A lieutenant, after the ridge of Vimy had been carried by the Canadians, went out scouting 2500 yards in front of our victorious men. By personal observation he discovered the enemy establishing a line that would have been dangerous to our further advance. Returning to our line he took out a patrol with him and drove the enemy off. The record shows that he killed eight of the enemy.

Were it not that these and many similar incidents are vouched for by witnesses they might be regarded as a manuscript continuation of the adventures of "The Three Musketeers" some of whose deeds Dumas staged in this very district.

Among others whose bravery was so conspicuous as to warrant bringing it to the attention of the authorities, is a machine gunner who, after the members of his gun crew were killed, operated the gun alone. A party of thirty-five of the enemy tried to rush his gun which occupied an advance post. Had they done so they might have turned back the attack. The lone machine gunner swept away the last of the group at a distance of 15 yards.

A Brave Signaller.

From his position, a signaller, sorely wounded, continued to perform his duties till the close of the action and when the telephone lines were destroyed, carried messages over the shell torn ground, tho among his injuries was an unset broken arm.

A major, when the other officers of his battalion had been killed or wounded, handled it alone, and sent back a report to battalion headquarters. The fighting on both sides was vicious.

There are but a few incidents, many of which would fill a volume and more came to light daily. On Wednesday of this week, a search party found the bodies of two gallant officers who, on the first day of the battle, had penetrated far into what were then the enemy lines on a scouting expedition, and lost their lives.

Hamilton Waterworks Plant Equipment Will Cost Much

Hamilton, Friday, April 20.—An endorsement of the joint report of Engineers Gray and Bain, which recommended the installation of a steam turbine centrifugal pump of 10,000,000 gallons capacity, and another electrical unit of 10,000,000 gallons capacity, and an almost unanimous vote that there should be but one head to the works on the committee, instead of the present arrangement of three heads, was the outcome of last evening's special meeting of the board of control and works committee.

It was estimated that the new equipment for the waterworks plant would cost in the neighborhood of $102,000.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil, Remove Them With the Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any druggist under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

HAMILTON AD CLUB HEARS GOOD SPEAKERS

America Will Cultivate Every Inch of Soil, Members Are Assured.

Hamilton, Friday, April 20.—Altho it would take the Americans some time to send an army to the front, every available inch of soil will be cultivated for the purpose of feeding the allies, declared Frank B. White, representative of a Chicago firm, in an address before the Hamilton Ad Club last night. Mr. White said in the United States 100,000 boys would go to the farms, and men, women and children would aid in the work. He thought the United States should make a gift to the allies of $3,000,000,000 for the great work they were doing for humanity, rather than give them a loan of that amount. Mr. White's theme was, "How to Reach the Farmer."

Ald. W. C. Thompson, who had secured the largest number of members this season, was elected delegate to the Ad Club Convention in St. Louis. A brief address was delivered by Judge Quentin D. Corsley of Dallas, Texas, and also by President Coryell of the Toronto Club.

The board of directors announced the election of the following: F. L. J. Seldon, president; G. H. Schnillbacher, vice-president; G. B. Perry, treasurer; D. E. Malcolm, corresponding secretary; W. W. Lindsay, recording secretary; Ald. W. C. Thompson, Fred Cloke, K. H. Green, T. H. Edgington, E. D. Reed and C. C. Morin, directors.

DEMOCRACY BASED ON PUBLIC OPINION

Large Audience, in Convocation Hall, Hears Lecture by Prof. R. M. MacIver.

CANADIAN NEWSPAPERS

Says Tendency Towards Sensationalism is One Fault of the Press.

Last evening at Convocation Hall Prof. R. M. MacIver lectured on "The Formation of Public Opinion" before a very representative audience. Public opinion, as expressed, was influenced to a great extent by traditions, especially in a new country, he declared, to such an extent that sects and cliques were formed, voicing and often retaining the old enmities. These ulterior influences made themselves hurtful in that they would not permit of unity in democracy, the true dream of the future and national government. As public opinion was one of the fundamental bases for the forward movement of democracy then public opinion should be controlled and guided so that the national life might be preserved. He pointed out that public institutions must take a part in that formation, but he desired to impress upon his audience that the history of public opinion showed that it had affected policy but never thought.

He declared that civilization was the result of the fusion of nations and as a result of this the present war would bite deeply into the consciousness of the nations, but, altho it was hard to understand the ultimate reaction of thought which must come, seeing as we do only the immediate reaction, still that reaction would come and would prove an overwhelming force. The oscillations on which public opinion depend, he said, were to trace and to control but the stimulants or mediums of propagating any individual thought, commonly used today, were the written word the spoken word and the moving picture.

The moving picture, he believed, had become what the printing press had to the pen, and that it should not be misunderstood or undervalued. The use of elaborately-prepared screen pictures was being widely developed for the forcible portrayal of political and other issues, but the press had an unlimited power for the control and reflection of public opinion. The press was in a position to spread it abroad with great rapidity, knowing that it would enter into every home, and, unfortunately, this widespread influence was inclined to be hypnotic and often displayed a tendency to hurt democracy. One of the faults of the Canadian press was that it tended towards sensationalism, but it had rendered a great service in making the public understand the justification of our cause in the great war.

He regretted that there was a newspaper Napoleon in England who controlled strings of newspapers, which to him was a deeply-disquieting phenomenon. "There are Canadian papers which claim to be national organs," he declared; "but there is no organ that can claim to be national. There is no Canadian paper which can claim to be the mouthpiece of any dominating force." Canada, he thought, to the public, appeared as a democracy, but still class differences were creeping in, but as yet were not effective barriers against public opinion.

The industrial changes were more marked in Canada than the agricultural, he said. By some the accentuated wages in the industrial field had been welcomed joyously, but he thought they were providing a menace for after the war, which would have to be gravely considered. National issues and democracy, being dependent upon public opinion, should, therefore, be carefully cared for and propagated.

AGRICULTURE MAY STICK TO SCHOOLS

Board of Education Considers Placing it Permanently in Curriculum.

SOMETHING MUST GO

Question is What Can Be Taken Out for This Subject.

A cordial invitation was extended by Trustee Edmunds, chairman of the property committee of the board of education, to all the trustees at the regular meeting of the board last evening to join them at lunch today at the Carls-Rite Hotel, where the committee that is inspecting the schools stops for refreshments. The invitation was accepted with considerable alacrity. Today makes the third day of the inspection.

Considerable discussion took place over the motion of Trustee Mrs. Courtice that the teaching of agriculture be made a permanent feature of the public school work. The trustee pointed out that, altho the curriculum is now full, something must be taken out to make room for this subject. Trustee Hodgson asked if it would be wise to spend the children's time in learning this subject, when, perhaps, they will have little chance to practise it. "If this war lasts twelve months more," said Trustee Dr. Noble, "we shall be living on two meals a day, and what we want is to get back to the land, and we should teach our children to be able to do this, instead of teaching them how to find out the square root of X plus Y." It was finally decided to refer the motion to the management committee. Chairman Miles Vokes said he took exception to a statement in the papers to the effect that the board of control said many items in the estimates of the board were illegal, but he was told by one of the trustees that "he need not worry about that."

Classes to Go Visiting.

Trustee Dr. Noble gave notice of motion "that each of our principals is hereby authorized to allow any class under his charge, accompanied by the teacher, to visit, during one-half day, a farm adjacent to Toronto." It was decided to grant the request of the Margaret Eaton School of Expression to announce a "fete" to be held in the Arena by the students of Branksome Hall in aid of the returned soldiers.

Secretary Wilkinson started to read a letter from City Clerk Littlejohn stating that he had received a communication from a man named Hancock, who tendered for some lumber, but, altho his tender was lower by $200 than that accepted, it had been turned down, but he was interrupted by Trustee Dr. Hopkins. "Send it back and tell him we mind our own business."

The question of taking up the new by-laws was discussed, but it was decided to call a special meeting of the board sometime next week for this purpose. The finance, management, property, advisory industrial and advisory commercial reports were adopted for public and high schools.

Balfour and Joffre Not Likely to Visit Ottawa

By a Staff Reporter.

Ottawa, April 19.—Much interest is manifested in the arrival of Rt. Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, and it is hoped that both he and Gen. Joffre may visit the capital. In the house this afternoon, however, Sir George Foster stated that he thought it unlikely that the distinguished visitors would prolong their stay on this continent an hour beyond the time required by the urgent business which brought them to Washington.

RUSSIA DETERMINED TO STAND BY ALLIES

Foregn Minister Milukoff Says Foe Will Be Met Confidently.

Petrograd, April 19.—Russia's allies need not fear that she will desert the alliance or weaken her resistance to the enemy, Professor Paul Milukoff, the foreign minister, said today in an address to the representatives of the British and French workingmen who are now in Petrograd.

"We understood that at the moment of the revolution you might be afraid we would lose our strength for resistance," said the foreign minister.

"I beg you to announce to your countrymen that free Russia has become doubly strong thru democratization, and that she will overcome all sufferings which war entails; that, despite the revolution, we stand firmly for the principal object which was imposed on us. Russia will continue the crusade for annihilation of German militarim with the greatest intensity, for our ideal is to prevent all possibility of war in the future. Our present problem consists of organizing our forces of defence, shaken by the revolution. We shall encounter the enemy with redoubled strength, confident of victory."

NO GERMAN SUBMARINE ON THIS SIDE OF OCEAN

Berlin Government Issues Denial of Attack on U. S. Destroyer.

Berlin, via London, April 19.—It is officially announced that there is no submarine as yet in the western part of the Atlantic.

The statement follows: "The Reuter telegram regarding an attack by a German submarine on the American destroyer Smith can be described only as a frivolous means of attributing to Germany the opening of hostilities. In fact, no submarine is yet in the western half of the Atlantic."
