These persons are all notorious and disorderly characters.

Contractors frequently complain of scaffolding being stolen from buildings they have in course of erection. The last complaint comes from Mr. Beaver, who says that twenty-two of his planks, branded T. & F. B., were stolen from a building at the corner of Beverley and Cecil streets within a week. Cannot something be done to stop this kind of thieving, which is very annoying and keeps work back?

"Owing to circumstances over which," etc., a reporter was unable to attend an important service in a city church yesterday. When he subsequently called at the church, not one of the many deacons and church members could tell him the text, where it was to be found, the line of discourse, or the slightest information concerning it. Of Puritans they are the most puritanical, and they would have severely lectured their families if the latter knew as little about the sermon.

A woman named Mary Cooper gave much annoyance to George Hamblyn at his furniture store, Queen street west, Saturday. Mary used to work for Mr. Hamblyn, but got into trouble and was sent to gaol, and because he would not take her back she abused and assaulted him. The birds were recovered, and yesterday they flooded the central station with song.

Writs of habeas corpus and certiorari were granted by Mr. Justice Osler on Saturday on the application of Mr. Munson (G. H. Watson's office) to remove a commitment by the judge of the county of Elgin of a man named N. L. Crane, who he sentenced to forty days' imprisonment for not attending pursuant to a judgment summons. The judge had adjourned the summons on two occasions in order to give Crane an opportunity of attending, but he failed to put in an appearance, and this motion to remove the commitment arises out of the judge's kindness in enlarging the summons, as it is contended that he had no authority to make an adjournment.

Ann Healey is well known to the police. She was picked up by two peelers in front of Shaftesbury hall last night in a state of drunkenness. Ashmore is somewhat of a pugilistic turn of mind, and could not endure the remarks of the ward rabble who invariably run after a prisoner. The policemen in charge knew this, and allowing Ann a little latitude she doubled up a cad by a kick in the equator. At the corner of James and Albert another gent was convulsing himself with laughter at the prisoner's expense. When within a proper distance the policemen again let out their slack, and the young man got a blow straight from the shoulder. Ann was then lodged in the station without further ceremonies.

The Twelfth of July being at hand, Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick took occasion to address a few words to Orangemen at Cooke's church yesterday morning. The congregation was large, a goodly number being members of the order. The reverend gentleman preached from Exodus, 2 ch. 11 v. He said there was some truth in the adage that history not unfrequently repeats itself, and that great men are usually raised up in pressing emergencies in the life of nations. He referred to the important parts played by Moses in the national organization of Israel, by Martin Luther in the period of the reformation, and by the Prince of Orange during the reign of one of the Stuart kings, and the course of subsequent events and of the spiritual emancipation accomplished by the gospel in the happy experience of human hearts.

STABBED ON THE STREET.

A Young Man Set Upon by Roughs and Cut in the Head and Hand.

A peculiarly dastardly attack was made last night on a young man named Andrew Shaughnessy, foreman in Mathieson's tailor shop, King street east. It appears that on the 24th of May last Shaughnessy was at Victoria park, and was dancing with a girl, when a young man known as "Shorty," who bears the reputation of a rough, came up and struck him with an umbrella. A fight ensued, but the parties were separated before much damage had been done on either side.

About 8.30 last night Shaughnessy and a friend were walking up George street. Between Richmond and Queen they encountered Shorty and a number of his friends. Shorty said, "We've got the fellow that was fighting me at Scarboro' Heights on the queen's birthday. Do you want to fight now?" Shaughnessy replied that he didn't want to fight there, but would go off with Shorty and fight him in some quiet place, accordingly the two started off, but had only gone a short distance when Shorty's friends crowded Shaughnessy up against the wall of the Waverley house, Shorty striking while some of the others held him. While defending himself as well as he could, Shaughnessy felt himself struck with a knife, and in trying to seize it received a cut in the hand. Shorty and his crowd then ran away. Shaughnessy then went into Rose's drug store to have his wounds attended to, but the druggist sent him to Dr. Wagner, who dressed them. The first stab was found to be behind the ear, the knife having penetrated downwards about an inch in an oblique direction.

Shorty's proper name is supposed to be Bill Short. No arrests have yet been made.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

THE CHAMPION LACROSSE MATCH ON SATURDAY.

A Magnificent Game—Tremendous Excitement—Unsatisfactory Conclusion—Six Thousand Spectators.

On Saturday afternoon no less than between 5000 and 6000 people assembled on the Toronto lacrosse grounds to witness what was unquestionably the finest exhibition of the game ever seen. Both teams were in first-class condition, and each played with a fierce determination to win. For two or three days previous to the match the odds in the betting was given in favor of the Torontos, on account of the report that Lally and Morton were unable to play, but when those men appeared on the field Saturday large sums of money were put up even. The Shamrocks, as they came on the field, created a favorable impression with their nice new suits, consisting of cardinal jerseys and stockings, with black knickerbockers and caps. A few minutes later the Torontos came on the field, their fine muscular forms showing to advantage as they indulged in a little preliminary practice. The following are the names of the teams:

Torontos—Goal, Burns; point, Mackenzie; cover-point, Bonnell; defence field, McQuillan, Logan, Garvin; centre, Orr; home field, F. Martin, Gerry, Hughes; home, Smith, A. Martin; field captain, M. E. Suckling.

Shamrocks—Goal, Lally; point, Hoobin; cover-point, Heelan; defence field, Butler, McGuire, Hart; centre, Farmer; home field, McKeown, Morton, Murphy; home, Daly and Tucker; field captain, M. J. Polan. The umpires were T. S. Darling and Ald. Ryan, while W. K. McNaught officiated as referee.

FIRST GAME.

The Torontos having won the toss, elected to play down the field, and the ball was faced by Orr and Farmer, the latter getting it and sending it towards the Toronto goal. Here it was stopped by Bonnell and sent to centre field, where a struggle took place between Hart and Garvin, the latter coming out best, and sending the rubber to the Shamrock goal, where a shot was made by Martin which was well stopped by Lally. The rubber was by degrees worked up to the Toronto flags, where an opportunity was given to Ross Mackenzie to make one of his long throws which landed the sphere in the midst of the Shamrock defence. Here Martin made another shot at goal which went a few inches too high, and further immediate danger was averted by Hoobin. For some time the ball travelled up and down the field until it was secured by Martin and tipped to Hughes, who, with a terrific overhand throw, sent the ball whizzing through the Shamrock goal, thus winning, amidst the greatest excitement, the first game for the Torontos. Time of game twenty-five minutes.

The game was certainly the finest ever seen on a lacrosse field. Garvin, Orr and Gerry worked like Trojans, while Bonnell and Mackenzie were a perfect wall of defence. For the Shamrocks the playing of Heelan, Butler, Farmer and Daly was the most conspicuous.

SECOND GAME.

After a few minutes' rest the ball was faced for the second game, Garvin securing and sending it toward the Shamrock defence, where it was stopped by Heelan and thrown down to the Toronto goal. Here Murphy succeeded in making a throw for the flags, but the ball was well stopped by Burns, who threw to Orr. Orr ran well up the field and made a fine shot for goal. The Toronto stick went into the air, but the umpire shook his head and the game proceeded. After a scrimmage Hoobin secured the rubber and threw well down the field, where a good catch was made by McQuillan, and the ball again found its way to the Shamrock goal. Butler, however, came to the rescue, and the Toronto goal was soon again in danger. A terrible struggle took place in the vicinity of the Toronto flags, and, Burns being drawn out, the ball was slipped through by Daly, winning the first game for the Shamrocks in eight minutes. In this game the Torontos appeared to be considerably excited, and did not play sufficiently well together, frequently leaving their opponents uncovered, while the Shamrocks played with the greatest coolness.

THIRD GAME.

This game was of short duration, Orr getting the best of the face, and the ball was sent to the Shamrock goal, and after a brief scrimmage rolled easily toward the flags, and striking one of the posts went through. Time, half a minute.

FOURTH GAME.

In the face off McKeown, securing the rubber, sent it at once to the Toronto flags, where a beautiful catch was made in goal by Burns, who made a good run and throw. Here one of the Shamrocks committed a deliberate foul, and considerable delay took place, but finally the referee decided the difficulty by ordering the ball to be faced at centre. The ball was captured by Martin and thrown up the field, but was immediately sent back, where Bonnell, although checked by several of the Shamrocks, made a magnificent run almost the entire length of the field amid loud cheers from the delighted spectators. After a number of charges on the Shamrock goal, during which Hughes made some splendid shots, the rubber was sent down by Hoobin. The ball alighted on McQuillan's stick and was quickly passed to Logan, who in turn threw to Orr, and for the next few minutes the Shamrock defence was kept in hot water, Gerry and Hughes running and dodging beautifully. For some time after this the ball traveled rapidly up and down the field, neither side gaining any particular advantage, until at length Murphy getting the rubber shot it through the Toronto flags after thirty-six minutes' hard play.

Each side having now two goals to their credit the excitement was intense, but the friends of the home team were confident that the champions could score the fifth game.

FIFTH GAME.

In the face Orr secured the ball and threw to the Shamrock flags, where Hughes made a splendid shot for goal, but the ball was stopped and returned by Butler. During the next two minutes a terrific onslaught was made on the Shamrock flags. The ball being sent up the field again a shot was made on the Toronto goal, but no notice was taken of it, the Shamrocks continuing the game. The umpire, however, for some reason not known to the thousands of spectators, called game, which as a matter of course was eagerly accepted by the Shamrocks. Cries of "Shame" were heard on all sides, and the Torontos warmly protested, but in vain, and although the ball was seen by hundreds to pass fully two feet above the flags Ald. Ryan would not reverse his decision. The Shamrocks were wild with delight, and no doubt afterwards laughed in their sleeve at the manner in which the match was won. Not only the Torontos, but the thousands who witnessed it, felt that grave injustice had been done to our city and her representatives. The result, however, must be accepted, and it now remains for the Torontos to go down to Montreal and bring the championship back to our city, where it properly belongs. In regard to the members of the team, there are many who would like to see the committee, if at all possible, secure R. H. Mitchell for the next game, who, with Sam Hughes on the home, would leave little doubt as to the result.

THE FEELING IN THE CITY

both on Saturday night and yesterday appeared to be that the Torontos had been done out of a chance of winning the game through an error in judgment on the part of the umpire. The partizans of the Shamrocks, however, assert that the ball passed under the flags, and therefore justify the decision of the umpire. A quick return match is the quickest way of settling the dispute.

THE SHAMROCKS HOME AGAIN.

MONTREAL, July 10.—The Shamrock lacrosse club were met at the depot this morning and received an ovation from about 1000 citizens, headed by a brass band. James McShane, M. P. P., thanked the team in the name of the city, and new brooms were hoisted with green streamers flying.

The Cornell crew state that they do not regard favorably the offer of the Dublin university rowing club to row three races, because the date fixed clashes with the date of their race with the Vienna university crew, the 5th of August, and because they have no boats or experienced sculler to compete in such an anomalous trial. They have already informed the Dublin crew that they will row them a four-oared race at Putney next week, and now repeat the offer.
