Parties from here who saw the entertainment at Granville speak very highly of it. It will be given here at Victoria Hall on the 23rd inst. Further particulars and programme in our next issue.

—The Weymouth Times says:—L. S. Morse, Esq., inspector of Schools has been quite ill of inflammation of the lungs, for several days, at Forbes Jones' Hotel. At this time his condition is somewhat improved though he is still weak and unable to leave his bed.

His illness will prevent him from visiting all the schools this term, but blank returns, &c., will be forwarded to teachers and trustees in due time.

We are pleasod to say that Mr. Morse returned to Bridgetown yesterday, nearly recovered.—ED. MON.

A LUCKY NUMBER.—Mr. C. L. Miller, of Truro, Colchester Co., having bought a ticket in the Louisiana Lottery, was surprised the other day to learn he had drawn a prize of $5,000.00. The money was forwarded to Boston through the Adams Express Co.

A FOREST KING.—The largest tree cut on these waters this season was hauled this month by Messrs. A. B. &A. R. Spence, of St. Stephen, who have been operating on the Dobsis under contract with F. H. Todd & Sons. The tree was a pine 110 feet in length, which was cut into four logs measuring respectively as follows: The butt was 33 feet long, and scaled 29 inches; 2nd, 22 feet long—26 inches; 3rd, 25 feet—20 inches; 4th, 30 feet—12 inches. The whole tree scaled 2721 feet.—Calais Times.

A SAD END.—New York, April 4.—A vagrant who died in St. Luke Hospital last month proves to have been E. C. Daniels, who, in 1870, was a trusted cashier of a Boston bank with a happy family, with whom he resided in a suburb of that city. He robbed the bank of $86,000, served a short term in prison; was pardoned; again betrayed his employer's trust and coming to New York became an outcast, finally dying a pauper's death.

—A very bold robbery was perpetrated upon the First National Bank of Denver recently. A well dressed man walked into the bank and requested to see Mr. Moffatt, the president of the bank. He was directed to Mr. Moffatt's private room, and while there compelled him to sign a cheque for $21,000, threatening to blow up the whole place with nitro-glycerine if his demand was not complied with. Mr. Moffatt finding resistance useless, signed the cheque and was also obliged to see that it was cashed. The bold robber disappeared around the corner and has not yet been heard of. Mr. Moffatt is completely prostrated by the shock. Detectives are after the man.

—In the Century four articles, copiously illustrated, present to the American public still further information of the life, times and surroundings of the man whom they most reverence. They are "The Inauguration of Washington," by Clarence W. Bowen; "Washington at Mount Veruon after the Revolution," by Constance Cary Harrison; "Washington in New York in 1789," by the same writer, and "Original Portraits of Washington," by Charles Henry Hart, with a contribution about Russian police, from George Kennan, and facts about Abraham Lincoln from his two private secretaries, J. G. Nicolay and John Hay, besides "A Scout with the Buffalo Soldiers," written and illustrated by Frederic Remington. It can readily be appreciated what attractions this issue of this valuable magazine presents.

"BRAVO, YEA, BRAVISSIMO!"—The sixth volume of Alden's Manifold Cyclopedia extends from Bravo to Calville, its 635 nicely printed pages including 120 illustrations. Along with its manifold number of words and topics treated briefly, there are many extended articles, as for instance, Brazil, seven pages; Breach Loading Guns, eleven pages; Bridge, eleven pages; British Museum, ten pages; Brooklyn, five pages; Buddhism, fifteen pages; and California, sixteen pages. The Cyclopedia well deserves the enthusiastic commendation it is receiving from all sides; it is certainly THE Cyclopedia for popular use. Its small handy volume, contrasting so greatly with the usual bulky, unwieldy volumes adopted by publishers of Cyclopedias, is a very pleasant characteristic, and undoubtedly adds greatly to the usefulness of the work, as stated by Dr. Hasty of Indianapolis, who says: "I have the American Cyclopedia, but reference is made to the Manifold so far as I have it, ten times to once to the former. It is a marvel of compactness and completeness." The publisher sends specimen pages free to any applicant, or specimen volumes, which may be returned if not wanted, for 60 cents for cloth binding, 75 cents for half Morocco, postpaid; the better binding is particularly commended. John B. Alden, Publisher, 393 Pearl Street, New York, 218 Clark Street, Chicago.

NOVA SCOTIA GOLD MINES.—The following, taken from the Engineering and Mining Journal of New York, shews that gold mines in Nova Scotia when well managed can be made to pay very handsomely:—

"At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oxford Gold Mining Company, held recently in New York, the following officers were elected: Emerson Coleman, president; Edward Tuck, vice-president, and F. F. Randolph, secretary and treasurer. The capital stock of the company is $125,000. There are nominally 125,000 shares, although only 100,000 were issued. The company is organized under the laws of this state. For a number of years it paid dividends, the last being the 27th. Mr. Randolph informs us that the company paid 12 per cent. in 1888, and 21 per cent. in 1887. Up to January 1st, 1885, the company had paid $36,000 in dividends." Dividends amounting to upwards of 70 per cent. of the total stock are not so bad when it is remembered that the company have one of the best equipped mines in the province, their mill, hoisting and pumping gear being of the best. We must congratulate Manager Reid on the success of the mine under his management."

The amount of quartz crushed at the Oxford mine during the year 1888 was 1,611 tons, yielding 2,284¾ ozs. gold, valued at $45,695. The average quantity of gold per ton of quartz was 1 oz. 8 dwt. 2 grs.

Father Had Quinsy.

"We find Burdock Blood Bitters excellent for weakness, and equally so for headache. Father also suffered severely from quinsy, which B. B. B., by its tonic and purifying proprieties, completely cured."

Michell, Dakota, April 5.—The loss by prairie fire within a few days in South Dakota will reach $2,050,000. The fire swept houses and barns and stocks away. Several people were badly burned to death.

—"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is a sure cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor Enquirer, McArthur, Ohio.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 2.—The ship St. David reached this port yesterday from Havre with the steward in irons, a hopeless lunatic, the first mate down with bronchitis, the second mate a victim of rheumatic fever, and a seaman also suffering from a complication of diseases. Ever since the ship left Havre, one month ago, the steward, T. S. Hughes, of England, has been locked in irons. He is crazy upon the subject of religion.

Ottawa, April 5.—The supplementary estimates brought down yesterday afternoon, for the year ending June 30, 1889, totalled $2,097,167. The Nova Scotia items are Broad Cove Marsh, $2,900; Digby, $1,150; commissions to post-masters, saving banks, $500, steamer communication, Port Mulgrave to East Bay, C. B., $1,000; Intercolonial Railway, increased accommodation at Halifax, $2,800; Dartmouth branch, $1,000; Pictou town branch, $30,000; Amherst post office, $145; Halifax examining warehouse, $400.

The Railway.

THE BILL NOW BEFORE PARLIAMENT.

The following is the bill introduced in the House of Commons by Sir John Thompson to enable the Government to build the missing link:

"Whereas by an Act of the Parliament of Canada passed in the session held in the fiftieth and fifty-first years of Her Majesty's reign, chapter twenty-five, entitled: "An Act to confirm a certain agreement between Her Majesty and the Western Counties Railway Company and for other purposes," a sum not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars was voted to Her Majesty for the purpose of carrying into effect the agreement in the said Act mentioned; and whereas it is provided by the said Act that, in the event of failure on the part of the company to carry out their agreement, the said amount might be applied by the Government for the construction of the railway in the said agreement mentioned; and whereas the Western Counties Railway Company has failed to complete the railway between Annapolis and Digby in the said Act mentioned, and has otherwise failed to carry out the agreement by the said Act confirmed, and the said sum of five hundred thousand dollars is therefore now available for the building of the said railway by the Government, or otherwise; Therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows:

1. The Minister of Railways and Canals is hereby authorized out of the said appropriation of five hundred thousand dollars to build and complete the railway between Annapolis and Digby in the said Act mentioned, and to take all such proceedings therefor as may be necessary under the provisions of "The Government Railways Act," or "The Expropriation Act," or any Acts amending the same."

The Prairie Fires.

HURON, DAK., April 4.—No prairie fire in the history of this part of Dakota equals the one of Tuesday. In this county the losses are much less than in the counties west. Half a dozen houses were burned and many settlers lost their barns and some stock, and a large quantity of hay and grain. The wind was 60 miles an hour, and sent the burning embers over the ground and fire breaks, several rods wide, setting fire to everything in their course. The fire came up so rapidly that the settlers had only time to save themselves, leaving their property to the mercy of the flames; $200,000 worth of property has been destroyed. Two persons were burned to death.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., April 4.—During the last two days South Dakota and Minnesota have been swept by a series of wind storms which have caused hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to property, and several lives have been lost. The storm started Monday night and swept over a large area south of the Northern Pacific road in Dakota, and extending into the southern tiers of counties in this state. The greatest damage has not been caused by wind alone, but in many places fires, fanned into fury by the storm, have wiped out of existence several small villages and hundreds of houses. The towns almost completely destroyed are Volin, Olivet, Pukawana, Lesterville and Mount Vernon, and three or four other villages are badly damaged. At Volin every house in the place except three is demolished, and 100 people are without homes. A terrible gale of wind struck Mount Vernon, and fire started from a small house that was blown over early Tuesday night. No power could stop it, and in an hour the business portion of the place was a great raging fire. Nearly 200 families are homeless, and the loss will foot up $200,000. It is reported that several lives were lost. Four large elevators at the Milwaukee depot were destroyed.

So great was the force of the wind, clouds of dust prevented the engineers from seeing the track. A report from Gary says the sun was almost totally obscured, and the superstitious thought the end of world had come. Farm houses and barns were swept away and horses and cattle burned to death by scores. Near Milbank fifty head of live stock are reported lost and fire has swept over twenty miles of country, causing an immense loss. The storm has abated somewhat, but the wind is yet high enough to keep the fires burning fiercely and further heavy losses are almost certain. The damage in Minnesota is much less than Dakota, as the force of the storm was pretty well spent before it reached the boundary. A despatch from Yanton, Dak., says: "Records of the signal office show that during the prevalence of fires in this region the humidity was but 7 per cent., a condition of dryness never before attained in this region. The atmosphere was almost devoid of moisture. The velocity of the wind was 46 miles an hour. The losses in South Dakota will foot up $2,000,000 at the lowest calculation.

Free Rum or Cider—Which?

Whether the proposed constitutional amendment in Massachusetts against rum is also against cider, is being, as it ought, well agitated. We believe fruit-growers feel about manufacturing a home beverage somewhat like the woman whom the learned Dr. Abernethy once remonstrated with for mutilating her husband's face and head with her finger-nails in a family jar, Said the worthy doctor,—"Madam, are you not ashamed, treating the head of this family thus?—in fact, your head, madam." The virago retorted fiercely, "Well, doctor, if that be true, haven't I a right to scratch my own head?" It seems to us, prohibition advocates should reflect that, so long as humanity is unfitted to its surroundings and conditions of life, so long evil will exist, and human beings foolishly try to "drown misery" with strong drink. But increase human happiness by every possible means; lessen that mother's burden that she may bear more healthy children; then ameliorate their hunger, disease, and pain by better physical as well as moral training, and you will have plucked out the most deadly fang of the monster—intemperance, while farmers and fruit-growers are left to pursue an honest calling. Acting upon this precept, we would go farther and proclaim that thousands of families are now suffering with troubles that scores of persons have repeatedly tried to relieve with strong drink. "Hot lemonade with a stick," "rock and rye" are familar recipes. Temperance people should teach others to find some better remedy for hacking coughs, bronchial irritations, catarrhal inflammations, rheumatism, and neuralgia than whiskey. Said a well-known Boston merchant, recently, to a party of friends: "I used to resort to whiskey when attacked with rheumatism and neuralgia; I could get drunk, but I couldn't cure neuralgia. But I know a remedy—Johnson's Anodyne Liniment—that will fix it for me every time." Truly, it is the most certain remedy known for any pain or inflammation. It is used internally as much as externally Many people do not know this. The manufacturers, I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send free to any one a pamphlet telling how to use it. A teaspoonful, properly used, will accomplish wonders.

Correspondence.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions of our correspondents.

MR. EDITOR:—

DEAR SIR,—In late issues of your valuable paper, I find a correspondence between "N" and "Parishioner," regarding the state of affairs in St. James' Parish. In the issue of the 13th March, "N" said as we had no minister the Bishop's presence would be hailed. "Parishioner" answered saying the statement was an unjust one toward the Rector, and was not the whole truth. As regards the whole truth I am not prepared to say. Nodoubt "N" thought as the church had been closed for some months we had no minister. Parishioner goes on to state that the Rector is willing to hold regular services in St. Mary's and to administer to the sick and those whoare in health the offices of the Church without fee or reward, for the small consideration on our part, of the Rector's conveyance to and fro. (Quite true.) But will Parishioner tell me just here, what the $84 interest from Glebe lands owned in this part of the Parish is appropriated for; also what benefit is derived from some hundreds of dollars paid from this part of the Parish into the Rectory. Will Parishioner please answer these two questions, if acquainted with the financial affairs of the Parish; if not, perhaps the vestry clerk of St. James' will. Parishioner says, "how is it that our fellow-parishioners in that quarter expect to have those services which I trust and believe they so much desire." How? because we have paid in advance $84 yearly interest from Glebe lands amounting to $1344 since the Rector came to this Parish. Parishioner then says fair play must be had in religious as well as secular matters nowa-days.

Who would attempt to deny this last paragraph? All we ask is fair play, and expect it will be given us.

Now, Mr. Editor, in the last issue of your paper I notice another communication signed Albert Morse, Vestry Clerk. Mr. Morse says your correspondent there states that our present minister receives $114.33 (should read $194.33) per annum from the S. P. G. society. The last annual report of the B. H. and F. M. has it laid down as a portion of the Rector's stipend. No doubt "N" thought it was still paid for missionary work, seeing it in the report. Again, Mr. Morse states, your correspondent would lead all who see and read your paper to believe that the present Rector was in a feeble state of health. Mr. Editor, no such statement was made. "N" said, "I do think, owing to the uncertain state of the Rector's health, that a parish where less exertion is required would be better adapted to his taste." I think the Rector would testify to it himself, that his health was not sufficient to attend to his duties, especially the mountain mission, where the roads are very rough, and quite a long journey.

Now, Mr. Editor, regarding the last paragraph in the communication, stating that the Bishop, who advised in the matter says, "We are told in the Holy Scriptures 'that the laborer is worthy of his hire.'" Surely His Lordship must have meant it for the congregation at St. James', for such a statement never fell from his lips while in St. Mary's Church addressing the congregation, or to the committee who waited on his Lordship in connection with business matters.

Thanking you for space in your columns, I remain yours, CHAS. E. BENT.

Belleisle, April 8th, 1889.

DEAR EDITOR:—

I gather from Quidam's last that he is a preacher, whether of law or gospel I am not quite sure. But I do hope in his preaching he sticks to his text and to facts a little more closely than he does in his writings. He says "Mr. Young is styled a graceless preacher and the opinion is confirmed by reference, &c." Be careful Quidam, the 9th commandment is as much a law of God as the 7th, "Thou shalt not bear false witness." Who styled Mr. Y. a "graceless preacher?" As a rule I believe he is "a good minister of Jesus Christ." We are only talking about the sermons he published and preached on the 6th and 7th commandments. I say they were not gospel sermons. Quidam admits the marching orders of the Christian minister are in Mark 16, 15, and then says: "The theory of limiting them (ministers) to the four Evangelists, or even to the New Testament at large, is too absurd to be entertained a moment." Who has tried to limit the gospel of the four Evangelists? Does Quidam know what gospel means? Is it not "glad tidings" or "good news?" How much of that was there in those sermons? Will he tell us which one of the many sermons of Mr. Spurgeon's that he has read, has so little Christ in it? Please give the number of the sermon and the text, if you can. If not, don't quote Spurgeon's preaching as a parallel case.

He answers my first objection by a reference to 1 Cor., 5, where Paul advises discipline that the Spirit might be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus. That soul was to be saved by means of discipline and not by a sermon of any kind. Can the Bro. distinguish between things that differ? We are not discussing discipline but the propriety of preaching the laws and leaving Christ out.

He answers my second objection in a very triumphant way and asks to be instructed as to the time of David's conversion. That question is not half so important to this discussion as another would have been, viz., what kind of a discourse had David to a sense of his sin? Was it a sermon on the 7th commandment, or was it a simple parable about a rich man who took away his poor neighbor's only ewe lamb? And to-day if the story of the Cross will not win back the wanderer what will?

Quidam wonders if I am endowed with the gift of prophecy or become a discerner of the thought and intents of the heart? Not at all. I am not a prophet or the son of one. But will he turn to the New Testament and give us chapter and verse for a single case where God blessed to the salvation of a soul a sermon that had no Christ in it, or even tell us where God has promised to do so. If it is not in the commission and you have not a precedent for it, then by what authority can you leave Christ out of a sermon that is intended to save a soul.

Quidam says when the opportunity offers he will direct the inquirer to the Cross of Christ. Whenever you stand in the pulpit on a Sabbath that opportunity should offer; then be sure and improve it, and don't make the mistake into which Bro. Young and others have fallen and you are trying to defend.

Yours, NEMO.

BURNED TO DEATH.—A terrible accident occurred at Lawrence station (St. Stephen branch of the N. B. R.,) which resulted, Saturday evening, in the death of Mrs. McGregor, wife of Rev. Mr. McGregor, Baptist minister, of Buffalo, New York, and daughter of Mr. Levi Richardson, of Lawrence station. Mrs. McGregor came home last fall to spend the winter with her parents, and, being troubled with sciatica, had tried many remedies. The only one which gave her any relief was kerosene, and while applying that remedy too near the open stove, her clothing caught fire, every shred of which was burned, leaving her body in a frightful condition. Her sister in trying to extinguish the flames was severely burned about the hands and arms. Mrs. McGregor leaves a family of five small children, the eldest being about 13 years of age.—Globe.

—The first consignment of thoroughbred fowls, for the annual sale of the Nova Scotia Poultry association, arrived by the Carroll on her last trip from the States. The lot comprises light and dark Brahmas, and were imported from Geo. C. Bucknam, of Melrose Highlands, Mass., and are magnificent specimens of the breed, the cockerels weighing from 10 to twelve pounds each, and the hens from 9 to 11 lbs. The English and Canadian birds will not arrive for a week.—Hx. Chronicle.

Ulcerated Stomach.

"For three years I was unable to work, suffering from ulcerated stomach. Medical aid having failed, I was told to try Burdock Blood Bitters, of which seven bottles made a permanent cure. This was two years ago, and I feel that I have to thank B. B. B. for being alive and well to-day." Mrs. Rose Ann McCloskey, Marmora, Ont.

—New Brunswick was set off from Nova Scotia in 1784.

Ottawa, April 8.—In the house of common to-day Mr. Tupper stated that the ordinary fishery officers had been instructed to look after mill owners and prevent them from throwing sawdust into rivers, and no new officers would be appointed.

—In purchasing medicines, don't try experiments; the first and only consideration should be genuineness. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has stood the test of forty years, and to-day it is in greater demand than ever—a triumphant proof of popular approval.

Toronto, April 5.—The Scott act was repealed yesterday in Guelph, Lennox, Addington, Kent, St. Thomas, Frontenac, Victoria, Northumberland and Dunham, Brant, Wellington, Lanark, Ontario, Carleton, Peterboro, and Lincoln, by large majorities.

Ottawa, April 8.—The arrangement with the Canadian Pacific as to the Shore Line will, the Herald correspondent is reliably informed, provide for the construction of the road by the government and its future operation by the Canadian Pacific from Harvey to Salisbury, with free running powers over the Fredericton bridge. The work will cost two millions, which the house will be asked to vote in lieu of the twenty years subsidy already granted by parliament for this section.—Hx. Herald.

These are but some of the common symptoms of this malady, which accounts for Warner's Safe Cure curing so many diseases (so-called) which are not diseases, but are symptoms of advanced kidney disorders.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females (whites) this remedy when specially prepared is a specific. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of ten cents by A. H. DIXON & SON, 306 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.
