One Man Rolls 119 and is Beaten at That—Three Big Strings—Ring, Baseball, Turf, Athletic and General Sporting News

A friendly game that made the eyes of some of the bowlers stick out, was played yesterday afternoon on the alleys in the Victoria Bowling Academy, between Wm. Griffiths and Roy Gregory. The former knocked down 119 pins, but the latter went one better, having a total of 120 to his credit. It was great bowling.

Hockey

A Cape Breton dispatch says:—"Chester Gregory, of Moncton; M. Murphy, of New Glasgow, and Frank Morrison arrived in town a few days ago. All three are employed at the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Campony's works at Sydney Mines. These veteran players, it is stated, will be in the line-up in the N. S. A. A. team, the team to be composed as follows: Goal, Morrison, point, W. Chase, cover point, Murphy, rover, W. Dunphy, centre Gregory, right wing, George Stewart, left wing, M. Wilkie. Altogether it looks as if North Sydney would be heard from in hockey circles.

The Ring

Boxing is to be revived in Bath, Me., Jack Twin Sullivan will be one of the principals in the opening show.

Jim Barry is red-hot after Jack O'Brien. Al. Kaufman et al. When right the Chicago Italian can beat a whole lot of second-raters.

Tom Lees, the old-time Australian heavy weight, who some weeks ago boxed Tommy Burns in Australia, has arrived in England and is to make another visit to the states.

The complete card for tonight's entertainment at the Pastime A. C., of Haverhill will be Young Jack Johnson vs. Joe Walcott, with preliminaries between Jack Milliken vs. Jack McCabe and Young Belmont vs Young Noury.

Packey McFarland is an observant youth. Knowing the he is now a full fledged welter, but believing that he would be able to get to 135 pounds at 3 o'clock he sends word to the National Sporting Club of London that he is willing to meet Freddie Welsh, the new lightweight champion of England in that country. The light weight limit over there is 135 pounds at 3 p. m.

A constable in New York yesterday put an attachment on the stakes for the Jeffries-Johnson fight. The amount is for $1,050 claimed by a New York doctor as owing him by Tex Rickard.

Arthur Droapeau, a Canadian fight promoter, is in Boston, and has practically clinched a match between Al Lynch, the bantam champion of Canada, and Jimmy Walsh of Boston. They will probably meet in Quebec, on December 23, at 116 pounds. He will give a belt valued at $500, representing the bantamweight championship of the world, to the winner of this battle.

Baseball

Says Bob Dunbar in the Boston Journal: "Baseball has made a decided hit throughout Nova Scotia, and a friend who has just returned from Windsor informs me that he never recalled a time when so much interest was taken in the game. He was of the opinion that it would not be a bad financial proposition for someone to take a semi-professional team to Halifax, Windsor, Truro and other places where baseball is popular. Halifax is just ripe for the game. I saw a match at the Wanderer's cricket grounds last summer and there was an exceptionally large attendance. Baseball is the greatest sport in the world."

The playing schedules of both the National and the American Leagues will be increased from 154 to 168 games, with the season closing in the east on Saturday, Oct. 15 and in the west on Sunday, Oct. 16. This positive statement is made by a man closely connected with the national game, who declares that six club owners of the National League favor the change, while several managers of the American League are in favor of the extension.

According to this same authority the world's series will be played as heretofore except the first game will be delayed until after the close of the season's in the two major leagues. The contracts of the players will also be changed so that they will become effective "on ar about April 14," and continue till "on or about Oct. 15."

Athletic

Alfred Shrubb's challenge, in The Manitoba Free Press of Nov. 25 is accepted by Fred Meadows at twelve miles, winner to take all.

Longboat beat Sherring at Chatham in their fixe-mile race by two laps. Sherring showed lack of condition. The Indian was a lap ahead at the third mile.

Cal Bricker the Canadian champion hurdler, is sick with pneumonia. Added to this his wife has just died, leaving a two-year-old baby. He has the sympathy of all the athletes.

Bobby Kerr's first appearance in running togs since Thanksgiving Day will be at the 74th Regimental games in Buffalo on Dec. 31st. It is likely that a Canadian team will be taken to the Bison City on that date.

Ted Coy may develop into a shot-putter of class next spring and add to Yale's total of points in the dual meet with Harvard. Coy has been improving in this event each year, and should be about due to put the sixteen-pound missile close to 44 feet next May. He is as strong as a young moose, but shot-putting requires skill as well as strength. Capt. Little of the Harvard track team would probably stand little chance with Coy in a rough and tumble encounter, but would defeat him in a shot-putting contest. Ted is helpless as a hammer thrower.

The Turf

Ben Brush heads the list of winning stallions for 1909 on this continent, with $66,262. Sweep being his most successful son. Plaudit, the sire of Harrigan and King James, stands second, with $64,557. Yankee, the sire of Joe Madden, with $59,385, third; Wool's Thorpe fourth, with $58,845; Star Shoot, sire of Oscar Bound and Nimbus, comes next, with $53,005; Sain, whose most successful son is Jack Atkin, is sixth, with $51,015. Fitz Herbert's sire, Ethelbert, is credited with $50,837, and Voter, the sire of Hilarious, follows with $46,535. Following these are: Cesario, $45,575; Meddler, $40,776; Ornament, $39,405; Hastings, $38,975; Hamburg, $28,800; Ogden, $26,400; Disguise, $24,895; Planudes, $26,275; Ben Strome, $23,845; Kingston, $22,020, and Cunard, $21,490.

Sport Briefs

At the semi-annual meeting of the Ottawa Cricket Club it was decided to send a team to Philadelphia next August for a ten- day series of games. Ottawa will play a game with every club in and around Philadelphia and may also take a trip to New York. The members will all pay their own expenses and about fifteen will take the trip. Hal. B. McGiverin, M. P., is one of the men behind the proposition.

California has produced another woman tennis player in Miss Mary Brown of Glendale, who is expected to ultimately replace both Miss May Sutton and Miss Hotchkiss. Miss Brown has just won the Hotel Hollywood tournament at Hollywood, Cal., and will play in practically all of the season's tournaments.

The New York Times contains the account of the sudden illness of W. S. Porter, a former St. John man, born at the Cedars. Mr. Porter, who is vice-president of the Associated Oil Company, fell unconscious in the office of Judge R. S. Leavitt and was taken to a sanitarium where he recovered. The doctors pronounced it an attack of stomach trouble.

WORK OF THE FREE KINDERGARTENS

The management of the Free Kindergartens yesterday issued the following:

The reports for November show a full attendance in each of the three kindergartens and the plan of work for the month is very interesting.

Following the Thanksgiving thought when the crops are all gathered in the work of man providing for winter claims the attention, the stories of the miller and the baker are very instructive—the grain being ground, the flour and meal being made ready for the baker and the mother. The farmer provides for the care of the cow and sheep, and the value of these two animals to man is the subject of many talks. A very bright, happy morning is spent in kindergarten when "really, truly butter" is made and tasted—made from some cream in a bottle. The lesson on sheep will be followed next month when the Christmas thought comes about the sheep on Bethlehem's hills.

In all these lessons on the preparation for winter, about man, animals, birds, the leaves, etc.—all nature taking part in the preparation—dependence and interdependence come out very plainly. The little children may only be able to grasp the lesser lessons, but we older ones know that "No man liveth to himself."

The occupations, the songs and games have all related to the lessons that the impressions may be lasting.

The King's birthday was celebrated and in one room each child had a Union Jack to carry home.

Each kindergarten is to have a Christmas tree on closing day. The children are now preparing their own little gifts of pasting, weaving, etc., for their own friends. The Kindergarten Association will be grateful for donations of candy, toys, clothing, which may be sent to any one of the three trees for the children. Portland street will close the day the public schools do, but Brussels street and Waterloo street will not close till Thursday, the 23rd.

The work of the young ladies who are helping this mission cause is very highly appreciated.

McDONALD'S POINT

McDonald's Point, Queens Co., Dec. 2—With the stopping of the river steamer Sincennes this place has taken on a very quiet appearance. The weather during the past few days has been very rough, the wind blowing a gale from the north, with a slight fall of snow, it looks very much like winter.

Joseph Allingham passed through here yesterday from Millstream to his home in Gagetown.

Byron McKiel, of this place, who has had charge of the steward's department, of the steamer Champlain, arrived home today. His friends are pleased to have him among them again.

The river is still open and it looks like more open weather.

F. M. SCLANDERS GROWS TOBACCO

Grand Trunk Pacific Gets Interesting Report From Former St. John Man

(Montreal Gazette.)

The Grand Trunk Pacific has received a report of the results obtained by some experiments which have been made during the past season near Saskatoon by F. Maclure Sclanders, commissioner for the Board of Trade of his town.

Mr. Sclanders experimented with Alfalfa, Alsike, Red Clover, and three varieties of tobacco with remarkable success.

Alfalfa grew five feet to six feet high.

Alsike sown on the 6th of June grew to three feet.

Red Clover sown the last week in May grew two feet high.

In his private garden Mr. Sclanders grew pumpkins, cucumbers, squash, and watermelons, Tomatoes and cape gooseberries were also grown and ripened.

Mr. Sclanders is an Englishman, who has traveled extensively and has lived in many parts of the world. His observations in South Africa and other countries where the soil is similar to the soil of Saskatchewan has given him great faith in the future of this favored section.

Saskatoon may be regarded as the northeasterly limits of a great "warm belt" which extends away south via Biggar and down through the Tramping Lake country to Southern Alberta.

It is hardly necessary to say that many in St. John will be interested in Mr. Sclanders' report, as he lived here for years.

The Rev. A. J. Waugh at the Presbyterian church, Monticello, N. Y., took for his subject a Sullivan county tragedy. He said in part that James N. Ketchum, eighty-five years old, residing in Hartwood, had sought and found the Lord, but not until after he had been thrown from off a load of feed down a fifty-foot embankment.

Ketchum, he said, received a fractured skull, and his neck was permanently deformed so that he could not turn his head. Physicians could do nothing for his neck, but he immediately sought and found religion.

Soon after he accidentally fell against one of his horses, and in grasping its tail caused the animal to kick viciously. The horse's hind heels caught him squarely under the chin, and he was picked up for dead. Examination proved that while the man was severely injured, the kink in his neck was entirely gone, and he is today enjoying health and happiness in the work of the Lord.

KENT COUNTY HAD HURRICANE BLOW

Rexton, N. B., Dec. 3—The storm which prevailed here on Wednesday and Thursday was one of the worst experienced here in twenty-nine years. The wind blew a gale from the north and northeast and the tide rose to a great height doing much damage along the water front. Parts of Jardine's wharf and Curran's wharf were carried away and a quantity of lumber was sent adrift. Schoonermen and boat owners were kept busy keeping their vessels from being destroyed and all escaped with only slight damage caused by coming in contact with the wharves.

The schooner John Millard, Captain Arseneau, which was anchored off Lanigan's wharf, dragged her anchors and came ashore just below the sunken wreck of the Colonist, but fortunately floated again with the tide, and was not damaged. One of Curran's scows was washed off the shore, landed on one of the blocks in the boom and broken in two.

The smelt fishing season, which opened on December 1, will be retarded somewhat on account of the storm.

THE LOSS OF THE EUGENE BORDA

Capt. Barman, of the steamer Vaderland (Belg.), New York, Dec. 1 for Antwerp, reports taking off Capt. Bigelow, wife, child and crew from the schooner Eugene Borda, from Liverpool, N. S., for Philadelphia, with lumber. The schooner is waterlogged, with foremast standing, mainmast broken off 30 feet above deck, and is dangerous to navigation.

The schooner was owned by Samuel W. Goss, of Stonington, Me., and was valued at $5,000. Her cargo of 225,000 feet of log lumber valued at $7,000, was owned by the Sable River Lumber Company, which had chartered the vessel for the trip from Liverpool, N. S., to Philadelphia.

Captain Edgar E. Bigelow, who was in command of Borda, is a native of Nova Scotia.

THE PEOPLE'S MISSION

St. John, N. B., Dec. 2, 1909.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—In the Telegraph of the first of March appeared the following letter form the Rev. B. Beatty:

"To all whom it may concern:

"Allow me to make a statement through the press concerning the property known as the People's Mission Hall, on Waterloo street, this city. In oredr to wind up the affairs of the mission honorably, I have disposed of the said property and will satisfy all legal claims, pay all outstanding accounts, also refund subscriptions to all bona fide subscribers who so desire and will make their application in writing within three months. The residue, if any, after all obligations have been met, will be devoted to evangelistic work as the Lord may direct."

Now, Mr. Editor, as there are a number of people who subscribed to the hall and have not received their money back, and as the reverend gentleman claims to have divine guidance in his philanthropic enterprise in disposing of the property, surely the time has come when he should give a public account of the $1500 he is said to have received for the building.

The amount of subscriptions and outstanding accounts would not exceed $500, consequently there is $1,000 left. As the evangelist is engaged in missionary work, it would be interesting to know how the Lord directed him to spend the residue.

Thanking you for space, I am,

A Subscriber to the Hall.

At the monthly business meeting of the King's Daughters Guild held yesterday afternoon, it was decided to assist in the work of the woman's department at the dominion exhibition next year. The proceeds from the last tea and sale will enable the guild to burn the mortgage on their building, which will be done at a social next week.

Arthur K. Mundee sustained painful injuries in a fall in St. Andrew's rink yesterday, breaking his nose and spraining his wrist.

DYING MAN SENT FROM CHATHAM

Patrick Henessy in Last Stages of Consumption—Place Found For Him

(Montreal Gazette.)

One of the most pitiable of the many unfortunate persons with whom the Charity Organization Society has to deal, entered the institution yesterday afternoon and asked Mr. Lane, the secretary, to aid him. The man's name is Patrick Hennessy; he is only thirty-three, but is in the last stages of tuberculosis. He was a resident of Chatham, N. B. Ten weeks ago his health became so bad that the man had to leave work and he has not been able to return to it since. He applied to an hospital in Chatham, but the officials would not receive him. Some of the man's friends then decided that Montreal would be a better place for the sufferer than the town that should have taken care of him, so they raised enough money to pay his fare to this city, and gave him $2 to help him on his way.

He arrived here on Tuesday night and spent half of his money for a night's lodging in a hotel close to the railway station. Yesterday he applied to the Tuberculosis League and the officials sent him to Mr. Lane.

As there is no place in the city where advanced cases of tuberculosis are taken in, Mr. Lane was at a loss to know what to do with the man, who is scarcely able to walk. The work of the society is to help the poor, but hospital work and the care of the dying are out of their sphere. Mr. Lane telephoned to several institutions in the city and finally the General Hospital was called upon and Dr. Tees said that the man could rest there for the night. The man could not walk and a cab had to be called to take him to the hospital. Today he will be placed on the I. C. R. Maritime Express and sent back to Chatham at the expense of the society.

Mr. Lane expressed indignation at the action of other places dumping their unfortunates on the charitable societies of this city, who have enough to do to help along the poor here with the limited funds that are at their disposal. Hennessy is an unmarried man, he came to Montreal from England seventeen years ago and is without relatives in this country.

STRIKES IN THE RAILROAD SERVICE

(N. Y. Journal of Commerce.)

The strike of switchmen on the railroads of the Northwest, covering the territory from St. Paul and Minneapolis to the Pacific coast, calls attention again to the need of some compulsory system for settling disputes between common carriers by railroads and their employes, which shall do justice to both. On the face of them the demands of the switchmen appear to be less reasonable than the offers of the committee representing the railroad companies, but that is not the most important question. The committee sought the mediation of the chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Labor Commissioner of the United States and offered to submit the dispute to arbitration under the Erdman law. This the officers of the union absolutely refused. Furthermore, the strike was abruptly ordered, practically without notice, while negotiations were still pending.

It is evident that the Switchmen's Union presumed upon the advantage the employes have over the companies. The latter are under legal obligation to perform the service for which they are chartered, while their employes cannot be compelled to continue work, however unreasonable their demands, and are in a position to tie up traffice and interfere with the business of shippers as well as the operation of railroads by suddenly striking. It is in the tone of boasting that the president of the union declares that "this strike will result in the most complete tie-up of railroad traffic in the territory affected that has ever been known, not even excepting the great strike of 1894." "We did not wish a strike," he says, "and used every reasonable means to avoid one." This means that they did not wish a strike if they could get all they demanded without it, and makes one side to a dispute the sole judge of what is reasonable as a means of avoiding it.

This kind of arbitrary power for interrupting traffic on railroads should be made impossible. Some reasonable plan for compulsory arbitration should be devised for such disputes, with a continuance of the service pending settlement and acceptance of the judgment rendered after a fair hearing. Men cannot be compelled to work individually against their will, but they can be deterred from what amounts to a conspiracy to interrupt railroad service as a means of forcing submission to their demands, by making a combination so used unlawful and imposing penalties for the abuse of its power.

To leave railroads to fight out contests of this kind is not only to involve them in expense and losses which are either without redress or have to be made up out of later charges for their service, but to leave the shipping public without protection against serious injury for which there is no redress. There is a manifest wrong in this for which a remedy should be found. This case is another demonstration that the most lawless and reckless of all "trusts" is that of labor organization under irresponsible leadership.

Rev. F. H. Wentworth, the new pastor of Waterloo street Baptist church arrived in the city last night from Andover where he has had charge of the church there. He will preach his first sermon in his new pastorate tomorrow, and will address the scholars of the Sunday School at a rally in the afternoon.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE PREACHER'S FAREWELL.

This is the latest current story in Kansas: A certain preacher had received a call and was taking leave of his congregation.

"Brothers and sisters," he said, "I came to say good-bye to you. I don't think the members of this church are popular in Heaven, for none of you ever die.

"I get no salary. Your donations are carpet slippers, and wormy apples. I don't know whether you have anything to eat at home, because I have never been invited there to see.

"I've lost my taste for chicken. You hold up your trousers with nails, and your dresses with pins, for I get all the buttons in the contribution plate.

"And now, dearly beloved, I am going away to prepare a place for your coming. I go to be chaplain of the penitentiary."—Kansas City Journal.
