FENIAN NEWS.

NEW YORK, August 10.—Gen John H. Gleeson, Captain Condon, and Major Comerford, have arrived from Ireland. The two former were released by the Government on condition of leaving at once for America. While confined they had a correspondence with Mr. West, United States Consul at Dublin, who admitted they were American citizens, but stated that the Lord Lieutenant would deal with them the same as ordinary subjects. Major Comerford comes as an envoy to Mr. Stephens, and says the numerical strength and hope of the Fenians in Ireland are better now than when Stephens left that the people are determined to fight, aid or no aid from America. The confidence in Stephens is unabated, and they condemn the factions in America.

Resignation of Hon. Mr. Galt.

SPEECHES OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL WEST AND FINANCE MINISTER.

M. Langevin moved the second reading of the Lower Canada education bill.

Mr. John A. Macdonald said this motion gave him the opportunity of making certain explanations to the House. This session the government, in pursuance of pledges, believed it their duty to bring down the bill, of which a second reading was now moved.—They were assured from the long tried liberality of the Lower Canada majority, that had the bill stood alone a majority in its favor would have been obtained, but another bill had been introduced extending to the Roman Catholic minority in Upper Canada similar privileges as these proposed to be given to the Protestant minority in Lower Canada. The government had no doubt that that bill would meet with the most decided opposition of a large majority from Upper Canada, including that of every member of the government but himself—Hear, hear. Had the Lower Canada bill stood alone he repeated that there was no sort of a doubt a majority would have voted for it. Yet when the two bills came up together, the government had ascertained also that the majority of Lower Canada would have felt it their duty to their co-religionists in Upper Canada to insist that the two bills should pass through the House at the same moment. Then we should have the unfortunate spectacle of a majority in Lower Canada in conflict with a majority in Upper Canada, just on the eve of seperation. The provisions of this bill formed part of the guarantees provided by confederation, and any laws on this subject in force when con federation is consummated should not afterwards be altered, and each section would have felt itself suffering under grievences which there was no constitutional method of escaping from. Canada, therefore, instead of starting on the new race of confederation in peace and harmony, would present to the lower Provinces the unfortunate spectacle of two Houses divided against themselves, instead of a double minority. The government, on the whole, considering the deep importance of this question, though with the deepest regret, felt it their duty to say that they were going to abandon this bill, and the minority both in Upper and Lower Canada would be obliged to the majorities in the respective sections.—Hear, hear. He hoped this confidence might not be unfounded. He felt sure that the Protestant majority in Upper Canada would show that if they were strong they could be generous.—Hear, hear He repeated that it was with the greatest pain that the government, looking to the future prosperity and welfare of the country, felt it to be their duty to take this course. This was a great cause of regret, but it was a still greater cause of regret to himself and colleagues, that by adopting this course they would lose the assistance of one of the most able and distinguished members of the government. He referred to the Minister of Finance, who had identified himself with this question, and who was looked upon in this House and in Lower Canada as the exponent of the feelings and wishes of the Protestant minority in Lower Canada. But that hon. gentleman felt that his usefulness and influence would be destroyed, and that he would have laid himself open to charges of insincerity, and with preferring office to the interest and feelings of those for whom he had so zealously fought and labored.—Hear, hear.—He—Mr. Galt had therefore felt it his bounden duty to inform his colleagues that he could not be responsible for the policy of the government on this question, and he had presented his resignation to His Excellency, who had been graciously pleased to accept it. This was a matter of most unfeigned regret to this government, and he believed it would be equally a matter of regret to the whole country; but the only consolation they had was this, that in withdrawing from his position, none of the ties of personal friendship which had so long existed between him—Mr. Galt—and his colleagues were broken.—In the meantime he was happy to inform the house that government had invited the honorable gentleman—Mr. Galt to aid and assist them in carrying through the measures which he had so ably initiated in this House, and that he had consented to do so. He—Mr. John A. Macdonald—had further to announce that, in consequence of the withdrawal of this bill, the session would be speedily ended, and that it was the intention of His Excellency to prorogue the House on Saturday next.

Mr. Galt said it had not been without a deep sense of the great responsibility of the step which he had taken that he had resigned his position in the present government His hon. friend had explained the position of the matters which led to the adoption of the course which led to his resignation. He—Mr. Galt—was bound in all candor to say that he thought the government had taken the course which he believed the interests of the country required, but it was one which he could not approve. It was not that he thought the Protestants of Lower Canada would be dealt with unfairly by the Catholic majority, but it was because he had, in his place in the House and in the government, taken certain ground on this question which rendered it impossible for him to be responsible for the policy of the government on this measure. (Hear. hear.) With regard to the policy which he intended to pursue on this question he should now have the opportunity of consulting his friends in the country, but he felt assured that the future parliament of Lower Canada would agree that the interests of the country required the government to urge this question in deeper consideration of the public welfare. He felt sure the minority in Lower Canada would not be sufferers in this matter. It was no light thing for him to retire from he position he occupied and the friends with whom he had acted so many years, but there were considerations which he felt must outweigh those. He repeated that he thought the government had taken a proper, wise and patriotic course, even though it had placed him in this position. He thought that the House must be aware that to have given offence to a large section of the country by the last act of the of the concluding session of this parliament would be highly injudicious. It would be highly dangerous to agrive the Catholic portion of Upper Canada just cause of complaint, and therefore he had not one word of complaint to make against the government. It was only due to his colleagues of Lower Canada to say that they had at least shown no disposition to recede from the pledge which was given at the formation of the coalition.—He was bound to say this in justice to them and especially to the Attorney-General East. Public interests in their opinion compelled the government to take this course.

Great Excitement in London.

Supposed attempt to burn the Parliament Buildings.

1,053 Deaths from Cholera in one week.

INTERESTING NEWS FROM THE CONTINENT.

HEART'S CONTENT, Aug. 8.—Her Majesty's steamer Terrible and the steamer Albany left on Wednesday morning and the Great Eastern and Medway are fully supplied with coal and provisions. The members of the expedition are determined to recover and complete the cable of 1863, if it be possible. The Great Eastern has about 8,000 tons of coal on board and provisions enough for six a months cruise.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10. midnight.—A despatch received from Supt. Mackay, dated at Aspby Bay to-night, states that the cable across the gulf of St. Lawrence from Aspy Bay to Port Au Basque, was under run by him to a depth of 75 fathoms. That portion of it lying in water of 60 fathoms deep was found imbedded in mud and was in a splendid state of preservation. It was found to have been broken in two places by the anchors of fishing vessels It was spliced at a distance of 13 miles from the shore, but the night coming on dark, with a high gale and heavy sea, they were obliged to cut the cable under Cape North, where it was safely buoyed in thirty fathoms of water. Mr. Mackay states, "we shall await a fine day to land the shore end. The Cable tests well and there is not the least defect in it. New York will soon be in satisfactory communication with London.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. The morning papers have the following despatches from Europe by the cable.

LONDON, Aug. 9. There is great excitement here this evening at a supposed attempt to blow up the two houses of Parliament.—Ten packages of gunpowder with a fuse partially burned, were found near the entrance to the Lord Chamberlain's office in the House of Lords.

The members of Parliament have visions of another "Guy Fawkes" gunpowder plot.

The deaths from cholera in London during the last week were 1,053.

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—Gen. Mantouffel having attended a military council and had a favorable audience of the king, left yesterday on a special mission to St. Petersburg.

Referring to it the semi-official journal the provincial correspondence of this evening says:—Russia by her position as a great power, and also on account of her numerous family ties with the German courts, takes a lively interest in the German question. The relations subsisting between Russia and Prussia might suggest to Russia the expediency and desirability of making confidential communications to the cabinet in Berlin in relation to the views entertained by the Czar's government upon the recent steps adopted by Russia. Any apprehensions respecting the attitude attributed to Russia by certain German journals, will, in all probability, speedily prove to be groundless. The same journal hopes that the Prussian legislative chamber, by passing a bill of indemnity, will end the conflict with the government.

Herr Huhl and Baron Vaerst are re-elected members from Berlin to the legislative chambers.

The Deputies voted that the order of the Black Eagle be conferred on Gen. Von Roon and Gen. Baron Moltke.

Yesterday, in the Upper House of the Legislature, a letter was read from the Count of Westphalia declaring his oath of alliance with the King of Prussia, and his duty as a Federal Prince no longer binding on him since his majesty had withdrawn from the German Confederation.

The municipal authorities of Berlin have presented an address to the Crown Prince of Prussia, sympathizing with him in his affliction caused by the death of his infant son, and eulogizing the war, glory and military achievements in behalf of Prussia, in the part personal to the Prince. The Crown Prince in returning thanks, pointed to the joyous prospect about to be soon realized, which would fulfil the just hopes of Prussia and the nation.

The term of the suspension of hostilities has been prolonged. The peace negotiations between Austria and Italy will take place at Prague. Count Bairol and General Monalee will be the the Italian Plenipotentiaries.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Advices received to-day announces that the truce between Italy and Austria has been extended ten days. The latest telegrams from the continent to-day indicate no change in the aspect of affairs, and the Italian position remains unaltered.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 9—The officers of the British Customs' service have seized six blockade runners at this port on behalf of the United States government.

Prussia Claiming the Hanoverian Treasures Sent to England.

Hamburg (July 8) Correspondence of London Daily News.

Just before the flight of the King of Hanover from his capital, the minister of Finance, who appears to have been the only one that had his wits about him and knew his duty, packed up the money in the treasury, to the amount of a million and two hundred thousand dollars, and sent it off in charge of Herr von Klencke, one of the functionaries of the Finance Department, to Bremberhaven, by railway, for shipment by the North German Lloyd's steamer Bremen, which landed it safely at Southampton, whence it was conveyed by railway to London, and deposited for security in the cellars of the bank of England. Prussia now claims that property as money belonging to the State, and demands its delivery to the Prussian Legation in London as part of the spoils of the war taken from Hanover, already so seriously crippled as to be nearly ruined, in a financial point of view. A correspondence on the subject has been carried on between the Prussian Civil Commissioner in Hanover, Privy Councillor Von Hardenberg, and King George, who is still residing at the country seat of his father-in-law, Duke Joseph of Saxe-Altenburg, at Rummelhaim, near Altenberg, in which the former demands the bank receipt for the eighty-five chests of treasure, threatening, in case of non-compliance, to make the King personally responsiable, and to seize and retain possession of the royal demains and other private property of the Crown, till the money in question is given up to Prussia.

THE ERIE CANAL—This Canal is 360 miles in length, and the Tolls collected upon it for 1861 amounted to over three million dollars, which is nearly double the amount collected in any previous year; and while our neighbors have so much reason to be pleased at this result, it is gratifying to know that the sales of the "Canadian Pain Destroyer," for the cure of coughs, colds, sprains, bruises rheumatism, frost-bites, chilblains, &c., is increasing much faster. Sold by all Medicine dealers at 25 cts. per bottle.

STRATFORD AGRICULTURAL WORKS.
BALLS CELEBRATED OHIO COMBINED
REAPING and MOWING MACHINES
MANUFACTURED BY JOSEPH SHARMAN,
CARRIED OFF THE PALM AT THE ROYAL HIGHLAND AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY'S EXHIBITION HELD AT INVERNESS, SCOTLAND, LAST YEAR, COMPETING AGAINST MACHINES OF BOTH SCOTCH AND ENGLISH MANUFACTURE.
ALSO AN EXTRA PRIZE FOR A GRAIN BINDER AT THE LATE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION HELD IN LONDON.
THE BALL'S OHIO MACHINE is so universally known and approved of by the Farmers of Canada, that we deem it inexpedient here to say anything in its favor. It stands unrivalled as a Combined Machine. We would simply say that the success attending our introducing it into the country has induced us to dev te our almost exclusive and undivided attention to its manufacture.
We have this season introduced VALUABLE IMPROVEMENTS, which are not included in any Machines manufactured in the United States or Canada—which we cannot here enumerate—and for which we received EXTRA PRIZES AT THE LATE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITON HELD IN LONDON.
No time, Trouble or Expense spared in perfecting our machines. We have a host of recommendations, which are published in pamphlet form.
Intending purchasers will please leave their orders without delay, in order to secure Machines, as we cannot guarantee them without.
Each Machine will be set up and put in operation if required.
AN AMPLE WARRANTY furnished with each machine. On failing to perform as guaranteed, the money or notes which may have been given therefor, will be refunded.
