IS JULIA ARTHUR GUARDED?

It Is Alleged She Thinks Another Young Woman Intends to Make Trouble for Her.

THAT RUMPUS IN THE THEATRE

Resulted in the Press Agent Being Removed, and He Now Wants Damages.

N.Y. Telegraph: Whether Miss Julia Arthur is beginning to imagine she is really the Empress Josephine, and, therefore, in need of unusual protection or not, doesn't seem to be quite clear. But it is a fact that she is not alone guarded by a private detective but that an officer from Capt. McClusky's central force has also been especially detailed to watch over her.

Miss Arthur is not afraid of being held up by highwaymen and robbed, but there is a weighty something on her mind which leads her to think it advisable to be prepared for emergencies.

It is mysteriously whispered by those who are supposed to be familiar with the facts that Miss Arthur imagines she is likely to be attacked and to sustain bodily injury at the hands of Miss Florence Crosby, a dark-eyed and frivolously inclined young woman who at one time was going to sue Mr. Cheney (Miss Arthur's millionaire husband) for breach of promise damages.

At the time, as the suit never came to trial, it was presumed in a general way that Miss Crosby's lacerated feelings had been soothed by the process familiar to lawyers dealing in such cases, and that, to employ a phrase of the race tracks, all bets were off.

But Miss Arthur has somehow or other gained the impression that Miss Crosby entertains a wild, impassioned yearning for her scalp.

She had heard in advance that Miss Crosby threatened to create a disturbance in the Broadway Theatre during the present engagement of "More Than Queen," and as has been hinted heretofore, she thought the Crosby girl was the person making the rumpus in one of the private boxes the other night when Miss Arthur had the curtain rung down and freed her mind.

Mr. Thorold, the press agent who issued the tickets for the box on the evening of the unannounced scene at the Broadway, has been replaced by another man, and through A. H. Hummel has brought suit against Mr. Cheney for $2000 damages for breach of contract. So, it will be seen, the ramifications of the Arthur-Crosby situation are decidedly extensive.

From the fact that Miss Arthur is carefully guarded wherever she goes, it is gathered that she has heard renewed rumors of intentions on Miss Crosby's part rather more personal than the mere kicking up of a fuss in a private box. The actress obviously doesn't intend to take any unnecessary chances.

On the other hand, Miss Crosby laughs at the whole affair, declares that she wasn't mixed up in the Broadway Theatre episode at all, and insists that a whole range of mountains is being made of one poor solitary little molehill.

TO HELP THE BOER WOUNDED

A Subscription List Has Been Started in Montreal, With the Holland Consul as Treasurer.

THE BOER SYMPATHISERS MET

And Some $350 Has Already Been Raised for the Benefit of the Ambulance Service.

Montreal, Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Mr. Karel Boissevain, the Consul General of Holland in Montreal, has become the treasurer of a subscription for the Dutch Ambulance Corps. He has so far received $350, and he defends his position by saying that sympathizers with the cause of the Boers have a right to take such action. There was a meeting of these sympathizers held last week, and a committee was then appointed to collect subscriptions. Mr. Boissevain was asked to become honorary treasurer, and he accepted the position. He will acknowledge all moneys and forward them to the Central Committee of the Red Cross Society at Amsterdam. In talking to a reporter to-day, he said: "I have received quite a lot of correspondence from people all over Canada, some of which I referred to Mr. Paul Den Tix, the Secretary of the South African Association at Amsterdam."

The hospital ship Konig, with a complete staff of surgeons, nurses and equipment, left Amsterdam for Lorenzo Marquez on the 4th inst. Hospital supplies will be sent fortnightly to Delagoa Bay with the steamers of the Deutsche East African Line. Doctor Korteweg, a surgeon of high standing in Holland, has volunteered his services gratis, for the cause.

Although the Canadian Government was supporting the Empire in this war, individuals may have their own sympathizers. A liberal support of this fund would show a magnanimity of spirit which could not but have a salutary influence on the free feeling now existing in South Africa. Mr. Boissevain ended by saying that he did not think anyone could find fault with the effort to extend help to the suffering Afrikanders. The fact that he held the office of Consul-General of Holland should not bar him from actively showing his sympathy with the Boers.

How Mr. Nix Tests His Men.

Just now the street railway company are putting on some new men. These men are in training. They spend a few days in company with old employes. They work the motor under the eye of the motorman, and they hustle for tickets under the eye of the conductor. A car thus manned was coming down Yonge-street yesterday. A stranger jumped on at Queen-street. The new man put the fare-box under his nose. "Tickets!" The stranger gave the new conductor "the finger." It was not exactly a Masonic motion, but it didn't go with the new man. "Tickets!" and the stranger, who was Chief Roadmaster Nix, floated out of his pocket an employe's ticket. "That's right, young man, always get a ticket from every passenger." The inference is that had the new conductor let this passenger go it would have been "nix" with him.

Knox College Students.

The students of Knox College held their 31st public meeting last night, with Mr. Mortimer Clark in the chair, and a large number of students in attendance. The meeting was opened with devotional service, led by J. W. McNamara, and prayer by Prof. McFadyen. This was followed by the chairman's address, after which a good program was gone through, including first-rate selections by the College Glee Club and a most interesting address by Rev. A. F. Grant of Dawson City, who told of the missionary work done in the Yukon. The singing of "The Evening Hymn" brought a most pleasant evening to an end.

$50 Fur-Lined Coats.

J. W. T. Fairweather & Co., 84 Yonge-st. (successors to J. & J. Lugsdin), are offering a lot of coats lined with fine spring ratskins in a splendid tailor-made shell for $50.00. Another one at $65.00. The firm are perfectly satisfied that this is the best value that you will find in fur lined coats in Canada to-day, and they would like you to come in and inspect them for your own satisfaction. They court comparison with any coat you may have seen anywhere at the same price, feeling that your judgment will favor theirs on a quality basis—for the money.

DAY LABOR FOR BEACH CANAL

Was Another Subject Talked Over—The London Street Car Strike Also—General News.

Hamilton, Nov. 17.—(Special.)—The alien labor law was the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council this evening, and it was decided to again ask the Dominion Government to enforce it, in view of the fact that the United States Government is enforcing its alien law. The council decided to write Hon. Mr. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, asking for an interview with him on the question of day labor on the Beach Canal improvements.

J. Johnson, president of the London Labor Council, was present and spoke on the street railway employes' strike. He said that the citizens are supporting the strikers, who are as firm as they were six months ago. Eugene V. Debs will lecture under the auspices of the local council on Dec. 18. The council urged union men to patronize stores which close early on Saturday evenings.

Williams; "Supreme Grand Lodge," J. D. Gadsby, D.D., S.G.P., and "Sister Societies," G. S. Robinson. F. Hayward, G. W. Kemp, John Park and J. H. Robinson gave songs. George S. Crerar was appointed executor and Mrs. Bankier executrix. Mr. Crerar has renounced his executorship.

May Be an Investigation.

Members of the Board of Cemetery Governors have been advised that a certain employe of the board has been doing "private work," such as caring for plots in the cemetery, and collecting for same. The understanding with the employes is that they must not do work for any person but the city. There will likely be an investigation.

Want Reid's Job.

No word has been received from or of Detective Willie Reid, who has been missing for some days. It is thought Reid has gone to Europe. He was seen in New York on Tuesday. Among those mentioned as applicants for his position are: Constables Yeats, Miller, Campaign and W. Clark.

Ross, the hatter, corner of James and Rebecca-streets, is giving away, on Saturday only, accident insurance policies. To every third customer who purchases a $2 or better hat, a $500 with $5 a week accident policy will be given free. Ross' hats are famous.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

If Augustus Thomas is given time, he is liable to give to every state in the Union the dignity of personal portraiture of its costumes and people in a stage-told story. Following his earliest success, "Alabama," which was announced at the time as "the greatest American play," came "In Mizzoura," that excellent comedy drama in which Nat Goodwin added so conspicuously to his artistic laurels. Now comes the announcement of another novelty from the pen of this clever playwright, which is said to be better from an artistic standpoint than either of his previous efforts. "Arizona" is what Mr. Thomas calls his latest drama, and the title indicates the locale and suggests the people and subject matter of the story at the same time. "Arizona" is not a melodrama, though there are some melodramatic material and a first-class, thorough-paced villain in it. Mr. Thomas has shown that amidst the crude surroundings of frontier army posts and cattle ranches human hearts and human emotions are as tender, as loyal, as responsive as they are to be found in more favored localities. The play introduces Uncle Sam's cavalrymen, the picturesque cowboys and vaqueros of the western ranges, Mexicans and Chinese, and, of course, some delightful types of far-west womanhood. The author has supervised the staging of the play himself, and in the incidental features of the work he has had the valuable expert assistance of Frederick Remington, the incomparable pictorial delineator of western scenes and characters. "Arizona" will be produced at the Grand Opera House for three nights, beginning Monday. The only matinee will be given Wednesday.

Success of "The White Heather."

The engagement of Rose Coghlan and John T. Sullivan, who are playing in "The White Heather" at the Academy of Music, New York, has been indefinitely prolonged, owing to enormous business. Owing to this the appearance here of Miss Coghlan this season will be somewhat delayed.

Greatest of Romantic Actors.

"The Last of the Rohans" is apparently one of the few really successful plays of the year. Mr. Andrew Mack, whom a recent criticism by Franklyn Fyles of The New York Sun placed at the head of the romantic actors in this country, is starring in the play. During the recent engagement of "The Last of the Rohans" in Philadelphia the advance sale of seats for the entire engagement was concluded before the opening performance.

Cora Tanner Next Week.

Cora Tanner & Co., presenting one of the most refined, expensive and best staged acts in vaudeville, will be the topliner of a splendid bill at Shea's Theatre next week. Miss Tanner is widely known as one of the best actresses of the legitimate stage who have entered the vaudeville ranks and met with tremendous success. Her sketch, "My Husband's Model," with its interesting complications, gives Miss Tanner many opportunities to show her extensive abilities, and her support is splendid. Miss Tanner's costumes are as fine as any on the stage, and they set off her commanding figure to advantage.

Hines and Remington have a skit that is different from anything ever seen in Toronto. They are extremely funny and never fail to catch the audience for a laugh every minute. Mlle. Flora, the contortionist, on the wire, is the best in her line. She is humorous, and at the same time an expert on the wire. James Richmond Glenroy, the man with the green gloves, made such a big hit on his last appearance in Toronto that many requests were made that he be re-engaged. He will have a lot of new stories and will probably be one of the hits of the show.

The Broadway Trio introduce an act comprising classical, popular, spectacular and comedy singing. They will sing several of Charles K. Harris' latest song successes. The Gardownie Troupe of international dancers, five in number, is one of the best dancing acts ever imported from Europe. There are three women and two men in the company, and they have a style of dancing never before seen in Toronto. Evans and White, in a black-face singing and dancing act, are said to be very clever, and they have met with great success wherever they have played. The St. Onge Brothers, in a comedy bicycle act, have a laugh-provoker of the best kind. In the Biograph there will be a lot of new views. The show promises to be up to the sandard set by Mr. Shea.

Cast of The "O'Shaughnessey."

The attraction at the Toronto Opera House for the week beginning Monday will be George Monroe in the new comedy from the pen of Edith Ellis Baker, entitled "Mrs. B. O'Shaughnessey," and Mr. Monroe brings to the patrons of Toronto Opera House another Bridget. His "Bridgets" have all been different, yet the nonest, hearty, contagious laugh and the quaint comments of the Irish domestic never fail to disclose the delineator. Mr. Monroe's latest "Bridget" is surnamed O'Shaughnessey, and her occupation is a wash lady in Paradise Alley. His supporting company is said to be the best in their individual lines. The comedy is tersely written, entirely void of vulgarity or any attendant efforts to obtain a laugh by suggestive methods. The music is tuneful and embraces many ditties that are sure to become local favorites. In the cast will be found Mr. Dick Brown, Edward M. Ellis, John Turton, Chester DeMonde, Frank E. Baker, Miss Edmond Ellis, Elsie Cresey, Georgia Lingard and others. Mr. Turton is a Toronto boy who has sung here on many occasions, and who is said to have developed into a very good actor. His powers as a baritone soloist are so well known here that there is no necessity to refer to them, but Mr. Monroe will be certain of a warm reception on Monday night.

Butterfly Extravaganza.

The "Butterfly Extravaganza," which has achieved such a success the past two seasons, is the coming attraction at the Bijou Theatre, Monday, Nov. 20. The organization this season comprises some of the best vaudeville acts money could procure, and the show is up to the hour, full of catchy music, witty sayings and is for laughing only. Following are the well-known artists with the company: Monte Collins and Norma Wills, America's great travesty artists; Barrett Brothers, funny little Irish comedians, in an act "Now, You Stop;" Philips and Maynon from Arial Roof Garden, New York, after a six months' engagement with their trained tropical birds, 100 in number; the noted Eldridges, who have just returned from touring the Continent, and Miss Dora Busch. The first part and burlesque is away from anything yet seen in this house, and is produced on a grand scale, the company carrying all their scenery and electrical effects. The costumes are gorgeous, the ladies are beautiful, and all in all a great performance is assured during this engagement. Usual matinees.

Blanche Walsh.

An interesting dramatic event will be the appearance of Blanche Walsh and Melbourne Macdowell, presenting Sardou's "La Tosca," "Gismonda" and "Fedora," at the Grand Opera House, week of Monday, November 27th. Miss Walsh has been royally received throughout the largest cities in the country, and her work and genius have been warmly praised. The characters she enacts call for talent of the highest kind, and she would have been retired a year ago did she not meet the full requirements of the Sardou characters. The sale of seats and boxes will open on next Friday morning.

The Carpetbagger.

One of the most striking features of "The Carpetbagger," the new comedy which Tim Murphy will present at the Grand for three nights, commencing next Thursday night, is the duel scene in the third act. The duel is between Tim Murphy, the Governor of Mississippi, and the candidate for the same office of the opposition party. It is fought by moonlight in the magnolia garden surrounding the Governor's mansion, and without seconds. Tim Murphy, being challenged, has the choice of weapons, and he selects the heaviest of cavalry sabres. Each man fights with the intensity born of conviction that his cause is the only just one; consequently, the audience witness a fierce and courageous fight, which, happily, is interrupted before either has been able to inflict upon the other any bodily injury.

A Tennyson Song-Cycle.

The Bispham concert at Massey Hall on Monday night promises to be one of the choicest events of the present season. The program published in these columns yesterday morning reveals a series of selections that will appeal to every lover of English song, and the book of words, which is to be given away, will in itself be a little golden treasury of the best lyrics. So many people have read and loved Tennyson's masterpiece, "In Memoriam," that the mere announcement of a song-cycle of extracts from it will be a great allurement to many. The music is by Siza Lehmann, whose great success in treating the lyrics of Omar Khayyam in her cycle, "A Persian Garden," won her very wide fame. Mr. Bispham in all his numbers will be accompanied by Mr. Henry Waller, a brilliant young pianist, whose personal gifts are of a very high order.

To-night's Military Event.

The program at the big popular-price military entertainment in Massey Hall to-night may be summarized with interest to everyone. The celebrated 29th Battalion Band of Berlin, which has so often been heard here on Germania Day at the Industrial Exhibition, will play Gounod's beautiful overture to "Mireille," selections from Balfe's "Bohemian Girl," a patrol march by Ellenberg, "Soldiers of the Queen" and "The Death of Nelson," the latter as a euphonium solo. Mr. W. J. A. Carnahan, the brilliant baritone, will render "Jolly Jack" and "All's Well," two attractive military numbers. The humorous songs of Mr. Ramsay, the recital of Kipling's ballads by Miss Tessa McCallum, and Mr. F. M. Bell-Smith and the series of seventy stereopticon views of topical interest will form a program of rare variety and excellence.

St. James' Cathedral.

Editor World: There seems to be considerable misconception concerning the clergyman whom the congregation of St. James' Cathedral, in spite of all obstacles, is seeking to secure. This misconception is due to the jealous misrepresentation of those in this city and elsewhere, who anxiously desire a high churchman to be elected, or at least one who can be counted on to give silent approval to High Church activities. These persons represent Mr. de Soyres as an extreme Low Churchman and an ardent partisan. Those who know his career in England and in New Brunswick are aware that this is absurdly contrary to fact. Mr. de Soyres is essentially a broad churchman, the pupil of Lightfoot, Westcott and Hort, the friend of Dean Farrar.

The one disagreement he ever had with his present congregation was caused by his invitation of Father Davenport, a prominent ritualist in St. John, to preach in his pulpit. Mr. de Soyres has never receded from his broad-minded attitude, and invited the same clergyman quite recently to take part in a service at his church.

On one occasion, indeed, he came into opposition with his present bishop. A certain theological manual had been placed in his curate's hand by Bishop Kingdon, containing statements which I am sure Bishop Sweatman would never endorse, nor any other Canadian bishop. Mr. de Soyres pointed out the blunders in leadership and the doctrinal fallacies in the book, while abstaining from any reference to his bishop's action.

But this protest has never been forgiven him. It is the real cause of the present opposition to him. Surely, it is an extraordinary thing that a clergyman, whose record, both academical and literary, is so distinguished, and who never offered himself as a candidate for this or any other position, should have been subjected to the affront of Bishop Sweatman's public declaration.

A Toronto Churchman.

The World Endorsed.

The Canadian Socialist League held a very large meeting in St. George's Hall last night. Rev. Charles Ingles of St. Mark's Church, Parkdale, delivered an address on "The Church and Socialism" and said he desired to emphasize the fact that there was no antagonism between the Christian church and socialism, as the latter is merely the application of Christ's teachings to daily life. Competition is not the life of trade, but a curse both in business and in preventing Christian progress.

An interesting discussion followed, and the following resolution, moved by G. W. Wrigley and Phillips Thompson, was unanimously passed: Whereas this league endorses the principle of nationalization of railways in Canada, and believes that no subsidy should be granted in future unless an equivalent is secured in paid-up stock in the railway assisted; therefore, be it resolved that we commend Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways, for extending our national system of railways and condemn the Railway Committee of Canada for giving the C.P.R. connection with the Metropolitan Electric Railway, contrary to the wishes of the people of Toronto; and resolved, further, that it is expedient that the Ontario Legislature should take prompt action to limit the power of electric railway companies to operate on the highways throughout the province; and we do hereby express our hearty approval of the manly and statesmanlike stand taken by The Toronto World in its advocacy of Government ownership of such franchises in its editorial columns.

Dreyfus Family at Bern.

Berne, Nov. 17.—M. Alfred Dreyfus, with Mme. Dreyfus, passed through Berne to-day on their way from Geneva to Basle and Muhlhausen, in his native Alsace. The railway station was crowded with persons curious to catch sight of the careworn face of the former prisoner of the French army.
