THE TORONTO WORLD.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 1, 1884.

Signor Liberati at the Granite Rink.

There was but a small attendance at the promenade concert in the Granite rink last evening. Signor Liberati's cornet solos were the chief attraction, and were thoroughly appreciated by the select audience, who demanded encores for each of his numbers. He plays with considerable vivacity and produces a pure tone, which, however, is lacking in sympathy. The full band of the Governor-General's Foot Guards (Ottawa) was present and played several selections, but these were by no means well executed. There was a lack of firmness in attack, and a general unevenness and want of life throughout, and the accompaniments to Signor Liberati's solos were, to say the least, ragged. Arthur E. Fisher's piano solo was executed with his usual ability. Signor Liberati appears at the rink again to-night, and will be assisted by the Princess of Wales' Rifles' band of Kingston, under the direction of Mr. Carey, formerly leader of the Queen's Own band in this city.

Bubbles at the Theatre Royal.

Bubbles entered upon its second week at the Theatre Royal last night. For fun and farce it ranks with anything that has been produced here for some time. There is nothing dull about the piece. When you are not bubbling over with laughter, you are entertained and delighted with popular songs and operatic selections, sung in excellent style by the different members of the company. Miss Sally Holman nightly adds something new to her "But for goodness don't say I told you." Last night the new verse was:

In the procession to-day we missed our Toronto boy,
But for goodness don't say I told you;
His name, I am sure it will give you much joy;
But for goodness don't say I told you.

He's in Australia now, and perhaps afloat,
Or speaking, or dining, or in his own boat,
I mean our Ned Hanlan, on whom we all dote,
But for goodness sake don't say I told you.

It is almost needless to add that it tickled the audience immensely. Mr. McAdiff, Mr. Dalton, Mr. Holman, Miss Bradshaw, Miss Flint, Miss Evans, and Mr. Bradshaw, continue to blow their bubbles and keep up the fun all the while. There will be a matinee every afternoon this week for the benefit of visitors who cannot attend at night. Prices moderate.

Furniture.

One of the principal stores in Toronto is that occupied by Potter & Co., corner of Queen and Portland streets. They have an immense variety of furniture of every description, comprising drawing-room, dining-room, bedroom and parlor suites. They do their own upholstering and make a specialty of ladies' needlework, and the greatest attention is paid to this department, and consequently can guarantee the goods they send out to be what they are represented, and can offer them at a rate lower than any in the city. They employ first class workmen and plenty of them, so that orders entrusted to the firm will have prompt attention. As will be seen from their advertisement in another column they can offer to the public great bargains in furniture. Note the address.

Well Done "Charlie."

Mr. Charles Robertson, the Toronto member of the firm of J. S. Robertson & Bros., post office bookstore, corner Toronto and Adelaide streets, and also of Whitby, has issued a program for the entire week of the semi-centennial celebration. The little pamphlet of sixteen pages is neatly got up and contains the most minute information concerning the proceedings of each day. It is the only authorized program. Along with it this enterprising firm give away gratis a six-page program giving the important events of each day.

Praise for the Police.

An officer of the Montreal Fusiliers said to a World reporter last night: I have traveled a good deal in my time and witnessed a number of processions but for a fine looking police force Toronto takes the cake. The city has every reason to be proud of them.

Young Men!—Read This.

—The Voltaic Belt Co., of Marshall, Mich., offer to send their celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belt and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days, to men (young or old) afflicted with nervous debility, loss of vitality and manhood, and all kindred troubles. Also for rheumatism, neuralgia, paralysis, and many other diseases. Complete restoration to health, vigor and manhood guaranteed. No risk is incurred as thirty days' trial is allowed. Write them at once for illustrated pamphlet free.

Parlor Furniture.

—There is great deception in the manufacture of upholstered goods; purchasers should be careful and buy from a reliable house. T. F. Cummings & Co., 349 Yonge street, are manufacturing none but first-class work; the prices are very reasonable for the inducements they offer. We would recommend our readers to give them a call.

A Defendant Squelched.

The motion to extend the time for appealing to the court of appeal from the judgment of Justice Ferguson in the case of Langtry v. Dumoulin came before the chancellor at Osgoode hall yesterday. His lordship ruled that he could not help the appellants to remedy their own error—to do so would be putting a premium upon inertness. "The defendant's case," said he "is an eminently unmeritorious one. The application in my judgment fails, and is dismissed with costs."

Separate School Inspection.

We were pleased to have a visit yesterday from an old friend, C. Donovan, M.A., provincial inspector of separate schools. Since he commenced work on the 1st of May he examined the classes of nearly thirty teachers in the district lying between Owen Sound, Orillia and Niagara Falls. He reports the general standing of these schools to be satisfactory.

A Story Older than the Semi-Centennial.

A young man named Wilkins came from Belleville to Toronto yesterday to take part in the celebration. At the Union station last night he was seen wearing a countenance sober enough for a funeral, and when questioned told the old story. Some rascal had worked the confidence racket on him, giving him a bogus $20 check. Wilkins had enough to take him home simply because he had bought a return ticket in Belleville.

—The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all grocers. Lowden & Co., Wholesale, Agents for Toronto.

Pride & Sackett's Amusements.

The museum at Pride & Sackett's big tent on York street possesses some wonderful features this week. Eli Bowen the legless gymnast, Ashbury the leopard boy, the two Zulus, Barney Nelson, the armless wonder, and Zip, Barnum's what is it, are all to be seen. Barney Nelson is a cute colored youngster who writes with his toes and says smart things. The Zulus look very ferocious, but are perfectly harmless. They have a smattering of English and like to talk to visitors. Zip is not the handsomest man in Toronto, but he is decidedly odd-looking. Eli Bowen is wonderful to behold, and finally Lucia Zarate, the Mexican mite, is there for another week, the smallest woman in the world. The program in the theatorium offers a variety of entertainment in the way of sketches, songs, dances, instrumental music and comedy, all of an ejoyable and refined nature. Open all day; performances afternoon and night.

Additional Mail Service to Port Arthur.

The post office inspector of the Toronto division has been instructed by the postmaster general to arrange for the despatch of mails from Toronto to Port Arthur by the Canadian Pacific steamships leaving Owen Sound Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. These mails will be despatched from Toronto by the 11.30 a.m. Toronto, Grey and Bruce train, and will leave Owen Sound the same day at 4 p.m., arriving at Port Arthur some forty hours afterwards. Through mails will also be despatched from Toronto to Port Arthur every Wednesday morning, to be conveyed from Collingwood by the steamer Campana.

Semi-Centennial Courtiers.

The colonel had a long docket to dispose of at the police court yesterday. Several drunks were given a chance to celebrate. Pete Connors got three months in the Central prison for larceny. Patrick Hayden will be kept in limbo for a week for the good of the community, being a light-fingered suspect. John McCann and John Davies, trespass, $1 and costs and $10 and costs respectively. Alex. Crawford, frequenting disreputable house, $20 and costs. John Norton, assaulting Owen Gleeson, $10 and costs.

Semi-Centennial Weather.

Moses Oates predicted at the operahouse last week that semi-centennial weather would embrace a few hot days, two cool nights and probably two days on which rain would fall. He still holds much the same opinion of the week. The hot weather will not be at all continuous like the last hot spell, but broken. One day will be rather rainy. Another will have one or two slight showers. The heat will be dry and not especially oppressive, considering the temperature. The month of July, says the prophet, will probably be hot, perhaps the hottest since July, 1868.

Semi-Centennial Sentences.

Chief [illegible] Cameron yesterday sentenced [illegible] prisoners at the assize court as [illegible]. Ettie Wilson, theft of $120 from her employer, one year in the Mercer reformatory. John Murphy was sentenced to pay $20 for a common assault on Martin O'Rourke. Chas. Davis, the young man who picked the pocket of Mrs. Baker of Orillia in February last, three months at hard labor. Joshua Glover, who stabbed John Howard, three months. John Ellijott, larceny, three months. Walter Wright and Chas. M. Winger were bailed.

Concerts at Hanlan's Point.

The St. Quinten opera singers have been engaged to give a concert at Hanlan's point every afternoon this week. They commenced yesterday afternoon when Miss St. Quinten and other members of the company sang several selections, operatic and otherwise, to the delight of a large crowd of listeners. The vocalists occupied the balcony of the Hotel Hanlan. These concerts are free to all and should attract large crowds to the point.

Crooks Run In.

The detectives are on the look out for crooks attracted here by the chances of making a haul. They yesterday run in John Kennedy, Matt. Carpenter and Bob Storey, who will celebrate the semi-centennial over the Don. Others of their ilk will meet with a similar style.

—George Washington could not tell a lie. We can, but we won't. Our rivals can and do when they tell the public that we do not make as good work at lower prices than they do. The Last of the Muskoka Election Case.

Decision in the Muskoka provincial election case was given in the court of appeal yesterday by Chief Justice Hagarty and Justices Burton, Morrison and Galt. The appeal was against the decision of Justices Ferguson and Patterson, in the court below, disqualifying the conservative candidate, Fauquier, for personal infraction of the law. The court dismissed the appeal. Justice Galt dissenting.

The World at the Grand.

Owing to outside attractions a small audience greeted The World company at the Grand last night. The play was, however, well put upon the boards, W. H. Lytell, who is an old Toronto favorite, taking the role of Mo Jewell, the Jew, in a masterly manner. J. H. Gilmore as Sir Clement Huntingford and Miss Mortimer as Mabel Huntingford also did well. The piece passed off smoothly. There is a special matinee this afternoon, besides the regular performance to-night.

Comic Opera at the Zoo.

The St. Quinten comic opera company hold the boards of the Zoo this week. Last night they put on The Chimes of Normandy, Miss St. Quinten appearing in her great role of Serpolette. She established herself a favorite with the audience at once and was much admired for her charming acting and beautiful singing. The stage costumes are pretty and the support fair. Chimes again to-night.

The Little Brown Mule.

There is a "celebrated case" in Iron county, Mo., which has at last been brought to an end. It was all about the ownership of a little brown mule, worth about $60. It had been pending for years and had been tried many times in different courts. There were seventy-five witnesses subpœnaed in the case, and the costs in the last trial amounted to $600.

A Sure Cure for Hiccoughs.

From the Philadelphia Progress.

She (as they walk lovingly side by side)—Do you know I am a subject to hiccough? I read in a book, written by a doctor for families, that ice cream was a sure cure.

He—You ought to pay no attention to such books. It's a dangerous thing to attempt to prescribe for yourself, no matter how slight you may think your complaint. Besides no lady ought to have the hiccoughs. (Sotto voce: I'd like to punch that doctor's head.)

A Nice Matter.

From the Philadelphia Call.

Iceman—Well, as to non-conductors of heat, wool cloth is very good, but paper does first-rate.

Consumer—Paper?

Iceman—Yes; wrap the ice up in it.

Consumer—Well, when you leave your lump, just, please, wrap it in the bill.

Other People's Property.

From London Truth.

"Kleptomania" used only to be the name for stealing when the thief was well-to-do or well connected, but it seems to have gone down the social scale a little lately, for I noticed a day or two ago that a servant girl, charged before the Hammersmith police magistrates with stealing a bottle of brandy and a pair of gloves, set up the defence that she was a "kleptomaniac." She was, said her counsel, a most "respectable person"—by which he appeared to mean that she was possessed of some money in the Funds, and therefore, he argued, she should not have "stolen" the goods in question. I cannot admit that this is at all my experience; indeed, I should say that no persons are more anxious as a class to appropriate other people's goods than bondholders. The magistrate seemed to have shared my views, for he promptly committed the "kleptomaniac" for trial.

The young man gasped three times, then fainted dead away.

I hereby certify that I have examined samples of JOHN LABATT'S INDIA PALE ALE, submitted to me for analysis by JAMES GOOD & Co., agents for this city, and find it to be perfectly sound, containing no acetic acids, impurities or adulterations, and can strongly recommend it as perfectly pure and a very superior malt liquor. HENRY H. CROFT.

BEAVER HALL HILL, Montreal, Dec. 20, 1880.

I hereby certify that I have analysed several samples of INDIA PALE ALE and XXX STOUT from the brewery of JOHN LABATT, London, Ont. I find them to be remarkably sound Ales, brewed from pure malt and hops. I have examined both the March and October brewings, and find them of uniform quality. They may be recommended to invalids or convalescents where malt beverages are required as a tonic. Signed JOHN BAKER EDWARDS, Phy., Professor of Chemistry and Public Analyst.
