A CHASE OVER HOUSE TOPS

Four Housebreakers Were the Fugitives and New York Policemen Were the Pursuers.

ONE DEAD, ANOTHER IN HOSPITAL.

A Third is Under Arrest and the Fourth Got Away—Were Caught in the Act.

New York June 3.—The police at an early hour this morning chased four house breakers over the rooftops in the 103-street East Side tenement district, with the result that one of the fugitives is dead, one is suffering from concussion of the brain and internal injuries at Harlem Hospital, another is under arrest and the fourth made his escape.

The men were discovered after they had broken into a vacant store, and were attempting to get into a clothing store. The alarm was given and four policemen chased them up the tenement hallway and over the roofs. Three of the men attempted to make a descent to the ground by means of a lofty clothes pole standing close to one of the buildings. At least two of them fell from about the third storey to the paved alleyway below. Alexander Crowe, 21 years old, was killed instantly, and William Dickson was found unconscious. It is thought that the other man fell on top of the two and was not injured. He made his escape at any rate.

Your approval is our ambition, if you like Boston Laundry Starch. We are sure you will if you give it a trial, for it is a beautiful starch.

Race Track Touts.

The police of the Wilton-avenue Division had a chance on Saturday night to test the veracity and memory of three race-track followers who had been given a chance to leave town and failure to keep their part of the agreement. Only one did not come up to the standard, he having forgotten the name he had given when taken into custody on the first occasion. His right name is William Gains, but on the books he was registered as Harry Steward. The others captured were Richard Harris, New York, and Edward Hamilton, Columbus.

Were the Bookmakers Worsted?

It is said that some of the bookmakers at the Woodbine found this season's races decidedly unprofitable. Some of the "talent" have the same complaint, but they were all playing a game of chance. One of the surest things for all-round satisfaction is a suit made by Messrs. Frank Broderick & Co., fashionable tailors, 109 West King-street, a fact that can be vouched for by scores of the best dressers in Toronto. The newest material and ideas at all times, at reasonable prices, combine the secret of the satisfaction given by Messrs. Broderick & Co.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS.

Who Stole Mrs. Shannon's Purse?—S.O.E., B.S., and True Blues Church Parade at Junction.

Toronto Junction, June 3.—Mrs. J. Shannon of Richview placed a small satchel containing a $10 bill under the cushion of her rig before driving to town yesterday morning. Between Islington and Lambton Mills she noticed that the satchel was there; but on nearing Jane-street, a little boy jumped on to the back of her rig and when he departed she missed the satchel and cash. Further than the fact that the boy ran south and wore a blue blouse, the woman was unable to give the police any further clue.

Lodge Worcester S.O.E.B.S. No 47, together with Lodge True Blues and Orangemen, paraded to St. John's Church this afternoon, where they were addressed by Rev. F. H. DuuVernet from St. Matthew, Chap. 12, v. 38. "The Sons of the Kingdom." The reverend gentleman spoke on the privileges and responsibilities of sonship, in which he traced the rise of the British nation from the 5th century. Before this, said the speaker, the Romans held sway and it was worthy of passing note that these Romans never came to settle; but to rule. On the other hand, the Anglo-Saxon settled wherever he went. Under the Romans, the social and political foundation was slavery; under the Anglo-Saxon it was freedom and equal rights to all. The destiny of nations was in the hands of God, and the Sons of England had a glorious heritage to look back upon. In the year 900 King Alfred the Great, the embodiment of all that was noble in the English character, set the nation a kingly example, the foundation of which was his religious disposition, so exactly 1000 years afterwards, there sits on the throne of England, Victoria the Good, whose deep religious fervor has at times moved the nation. Righteousness exalteth a nation, and the Sons of England, whilst accepting the privileges of sonship, should not neglect its responsibilities. Afterwards the brethren returned to the lodge room, where Grand Secretary J. W. Carter and visiting brethren gave addresses. During the service Bro. Rechab Tandy sang two solos, and a collection in aid of the S.O.E. Hospital was taken up.

The Carlton Beavers won from the Vine-street baseball club, 11 to 10 on Saturday and the Young Derbys beat Weston 15 to 10.

Rev. J. W. Rae of Victoria Presbyterian Church to-night preached a patriotic sermon, his subject being, "Christian Patriotism, South Africa and Its Lessons."

The Shanghai Baseball team has reorganized for 1900, with R. Armstrong manager. The club would like to arrange a match with any outside team for June 23.

REPORTS FROM COLLEGES

Occupied the Attention of the Hamilton Methodist Conference on Saturday.

PROF. REYNAR TOLD OF VICTORIA.

A Slight Financial Deficit Which is Expected to Be Overcome—Love Feast and Ordination.

Hamilton, June 3.—(Special.)—At yesterday morning's session of the Hamilton Methodist Conference the Committee on the Twentieth Century Evangelistic Services recommended that services be held on Monday and Tuesday mornings at this Conference. Rev. D. L. Brethour and John G. Scott, respectively, to take charge. The recommendation was accepted.

Ontario Ladies' College.

Prof. Greenwood of the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, presented the 26th annual report of the college, which showed it to be in a prosperous condition. During the year there were 175 students on the roll, 135 of them being resident students. The teaching staff and employes numbered 37.

On motion of Rev. W. Mitchell and Prof. Mills of Guelph, a resolution of congratulation was passed.

Victoria University.

Prof. Reynar addressed the Conference in behalf of Victoria University. He said that one of the worst things about it was that while the income was $24,000, the expenditure was $32,000; but there need be no alarm, as the endowment was left intact. The board had been assured that the university would receive an additional $4000 a year from the Twentieth Century Fund, and this, with the Massey bequest, would make a large enough sum to keep financial matters straight. Speaking of the university training, Prof. Reynar said the course now was more thoro and manly than that of 30 or 40 years ago.

On motion of Rev. Dr. Ross and John Mann, of Brantford, a resolution was passed thanking Prof. Reynar for his address and assuring him and Chancellor Burwash of the hearty co-operation of the Conference.

Rev. W. L. Rutledge, Prof. Mills, Rev. Mr. Ames, Woodstock, and Rev. Dr. Henderson, Berlin, paid their personal tributes to Prof. Reynar and the excellence of Victoria University.

Albert College.

Editor H. P. Moore of The Acton Free Press reported for Albert College, Belleville. The institution had had a most successful year. The roll numbered 130 men students and 128 women students. There had been an increase in the attendance and all the departments were thoroly equipped.

On motion of Rev. T. Albert Moore and W. H. Orr, the Conference recorded its appreciation of the work done by the college.

The Conference showed a progressive spirit, when a motion was moved for the members, at the adjournment, to go and have their photographs taken. The brethren actually voted down the proposal and the photographer was disconsolate.

Theological Union Lecture.

The Theological Union lecture was delivered yesterday afternoon in Wesley Church schoolroom. The lecturer was Rev. D. A. Mair, and his subject was "The Peerless Book." Rev. Hugh S. Dougal was the chairman. Rev. Mr. Moir's lecture was comprehensive and eloquent. He spoke of the Bible's inexhaustibility, breadth, accuracy, beauty of language, unity, types, adaptation, achievements and what the Book accomplishes.

A short discussion followed, during which Rev. Mr. Moir was highly complimented on his lecture.

Conservation.

Last evening the young men accepted into full connection were consecrated at Gore-street Church, Rev. J. H. Dyke having charge of the service.

This morning an old-fashioned love feast was held at Centenary Church, conducted by Rev. R. W. Woodsworth. It was attended by a large congregation and was kept up from 9.30 to nearly 11 o'clock.

The ordination sermon was preached by Rev. J. H. Hazlewood, past-president of the Conference. His text was Acts xvii, 6: "These that have turned the world upside down have come hither also." The sermon was full of sound advice to the young men about to be ordained ministers.

Rev. Dr. Wakefield, Rev. A. E. Russ and Rev. Dr. Henderson assisted in the service.

Ordination.

Then followed the ordination service, conducted by Rev. T. W. Jackson, president of the Conference, assisted by Rev. Drs. Wakefield and Williamson. These 10 young men were ordained Methodist ministers: Alfred T. Wilkinson, Victor J. Gilpin, William H. Douglas, John A. Doyle, John W. Worrall, John M. Haith, Arthur H. Crosby, Andrew S. Colwell, Charles L. McIrvine and Albert W. Shepperson.

Most of the city pulpits were occupied to-day by visiting Methodist ministers, and several of them spoke at the larger Sunday schools.

DEATH OVER A BEER GLASS.

Patrick Falday Didn't Drink Quickly Enough to Suit George Kline—Stabbing Followed.

New York, June 3.—Stab wounds that he had received on last Wednesday resulted in the death to-day of Patrick Falday, in the New York Hospital. Falday got into a fight over an empty beer glass on the steamer John E. Moore, on an outing of the Charles W. Miller Association, and was stabbed by George Kline of East 109th-street, who was arrested. There was a shortage of beer glasses on the boat, and Kline, wanting a glass, found fault with the slow way in which Falday was drinking, and precipitated the fight.

Mr. Frederick Hopcott, who had been a resident of Bronte, Ont., for many years, died at the residence of his daughter, 77 Markham-street, yesterday afternoon. He had been ailing for some time, and his death was not unexpected. Hr. Hopcott was 67 years of age. The remains will be taken to Burlington for interment to-morrow afternoon.

A LIVING DEATH.

Shattered Nerves—Appetite Gone—Digestion Deranged—Discouraged to Death—South American Nervine is Hope and Health in All Such Cases.

Mr. C. J. Curtis of Sandwich West, Ont., testifies: "I had a very severe attack of La Grippe, which left me very weak; no appetite, and my nervous system and general constitution very much shattered. I purchased five bottles of South American Nervine, and when I had taken but three bottles I was as well as ever I was. I attribute my recovery—my regained strength and appetite—entirely to this great remedy. I cannot recommend it too highly."

CROMAR WAS A GOOD RISK

Insurance Men All Over Canada Are Much Interested in This Case.

WHAT THE SUN MANAGER SAYS.

Policies Were Regular and Amounts Will Be Paid as the Judge Directs.

The case of the late Alexander Cromar of Toronto, whose life was insured for $82,000, the premiums being paid by Father Brophy of Holloway, Ont., to whom the policies were assigned, is creating widespread interest among insurance men all over Canada. Mrs. Cromar, widow of the deceased, who was an insurance agent, has, as stated in detail in The World a few days ago, commenced suit to prevent payment to Father Brophy, on the ground that the assignment of the policies was simply to guarantee a loan.

Cromar Was a Good Risk.

Mr. Robertson Macaulay of Montreal, president and managing director of the Sun Life, one of the companies interested, was interviewed, and he said that he had known Cromar years ago, and added that he considered him a very fine risk.

At first Mr. Macaulay was inclined to think the policy might have been what is known in insurance parlance as a wagering policy. In that case, neither Father Brophy nor the widow could have recovered on them. A glance at the policies showed, however, that the insurance had been effected by Cromar himself, and afterwards regularly assigned to Father Brophy.

Done in the Regular Way.

The first connection the Sun Life had with the case was in 1886, when an application came in from Father Brophy for an annuity of $200. The application came regularly thru the Toronto office. In 1898, 10 years afterwards, insurance was taken out on the life of Alexander Cromar for $4050, the amount purchaseable by the payment of $200, the amount of the yearly annuity. In March, 1897, applications came in on the same day to the Toronto office for a further annuity of $300 for Father Brophy, and for a policy on the life of Alexander Cromar for $6024, the amount obtainable for $300. Later the company was served by Cromar with a notice of assignment to Father Brophy of the two insurance policies, which were paid for by the annuities payable to Father Brophy each year. The annuity was payable at the Toronto office, and the premium on Cromar's policies was also payable there, both on the same date, so that there was doubtless an arrangement between the two men.

Insurance Will Be Paid.

As far as the Sun Life is concerned, the moment Father Brophy furnishes the proofs of death and files the necessary papers, they will pay over the amount of insurance, unless, in the meantime Mrs. Cromar should serve them with a process of law whereby they will be restrained from paying the money over.

If the policy had been taken out by Father Brophy on Cromar's life, it would have been a wagering policy, and neither the priest nor the widow would have been entitled to recover. In this case, however, as Cromar took out the policy in his own name, he had a perfect right to assign it to whomsoever he saw fit.

ANYTHING FOR THE SHAH.

His Dirty Crowd Destroyed the Beautiful Furniture of Buckingham Palace—Anything Goes Now.

London, June 2.—A suite of rooms at Buckingham Palace, known as the Belgian apartments, is being prepared for the reception of the Shah of Persia. This does not mean that they are being decorated or beautified, but the reverse.

The last Shah who visited England was housed in the same apartments, and, owing to the entire disregard of civilized notions and domestic and sanitary requirements by himself and his entourage, $20,000 had to be spent in restoring them to a habitable condition. Food and burning cigars and cigarets had been thrown on the costly furniture. The carpets and walls had been defaced and destruction dealt all around.

This time all the valuable or fragile articles are being replaced by cheap, plain furniture, the walls protected by gaudy hangings and every precaution taken to forestall the effects of the careless and dirty habits of the coming Oriental potentate.

TORONTO'S DEATH ROLL.

Three More Old Citizens Pass Away, Alex Gorrie, R. W. Purvis and Robert Sargant.

Mr. Alexander Gorrie, an officer in the City Sheriff's office in the County Court House, died in the General Hospital on Saturday night. About three weeks ago, while Chancellor Boyd was instructing the Grand Jury on their duties in the Assize Court, Mr. Gorrie was overcome with the heat and fell to the floor, breaking his right leg. He was removed to the hospital, where he gradually grew weaker. Heart disease was the direct cause of his death. Deceased was a native of Tayport, Scotland, an dwas 74 years of age. He came to Toronto in 1857 and engaged with the Jacques & Hay Company. Later he started in business on Hayter-street with Robert Porrish, the firm being known as Gorrie & Porrish. In 1872 he retired from business. Besides a widow, he leaves one daughter and five sons, all residents of this city. The funeral this afternoon will take place from the residence of his daughter, 47 Baldwin-street.

Mr. Robert William Purvis, assistant storekeeper at the waterworks presshouse, passed away early Saturday morning, at his late residence, 119 Dovercourt-road. Mr. Purvis had been a resident of this city since 1862, and was highly respected. He came to Toronto with the Grey Battery, Royal Horse Artillery, in which he had served during the Crimean war. Shortly after his arrival here he purchased his discharge, and was appointed station master at Toronto for the Northern Railway, being stationed at Brock-street, and afterwards at the City Hall Depot. Mr. Purvis was a member of Alpha Lodge, A.F. & A.M.; Occident Chapter, R.A.M.; Ionic Lodge, L.O.L.; Bruce Camp, S.O.E.B.S.; Caledonian Society and Her Majesty's Imperial Army and Navy Veterans. He possessed a Crimean and Turkish medal, the former having two clasps. In religion Mr. Purvis was a Protestant, a member of the Presbyterian Church, and in politics a Conservative. He leaves five sons, one of whom is now serving in the South African Light Horse in Natal, and two daughters. The funeral will take place this afternoon.

The death occurred on Saturday of Robert Sargant, at his late home, 278 Sherbourne-street, after an illness of about four months' duration. Deceased had been a resident of this city for 66 years, and was widely known. Some years ago he conducted a clothing store on East King-street, near the St. Lawrence Market. He was in his 87th year. James Sargant, secretary of the Commercial Travelers' Association, S. J. Sargant and Robert H. Sargant, are sons of the deceased. The remains will be interred this afternoon in the Necropolis.

In Grace Hospital on Saturday night Robert Grace passed away, after a brief illness. Mr. Grace was 49 years of age, and lived with his wife and four children at 40 Manning-avenue. He was a member of Court Occident, Canadian Order of Foresters, and Star of the East Tent, K.O.T.M. The funeral this afternoon will take place to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Matty Matthews and Eddie Connolly go twenty rounds at the Seaside A.C. to-morrow.

FOUR FOREIGNERS KILLED.

Were Attempting to Escape From Pao Ting Fu When Attacked By Chinese Boxers.

EXPEDITION SENT TO RELIEF

Of Others Who Are Trying to Reach Tien Tsin—Foreign Guards at Pekin.

Tien Tsin, June 2.—The French Consulate has received information from priests at Pao Ting Fu that thirty foreigners, including six ladies and a child, who were attempting to escape from Pao Ting Fu to Tien Tsin in boats, were attacked by over 700 Boxers armed with rifles and spears.

Four Were Killed.

Many of the foreigners were wounded, four were killed outright, but the fate of the remainder of the party is unknown. Having little ammunition, however, it is considered impossible that they could hold out against their assailants.

An Expedition Sent Out.

Tien Tsin, June 2.—The foreigners who escaped from Pao Ting Fu are ten miles from here. Four of the party have been killed and 4 are wounded. An expedition is proceeding to their relief.

The Foreign Guards at Pekin.

Pekin, Friday, June 1.—The Americans and other foreign guards, numbering 340, arrived here in the midst of the dragon festival. The streets were unusually crowded, and tho the people were greatly interested in the unusual spectacle, no manifestation of hostility was made.

Christians Still Flocking In.

The presence of the guards has already had a marked effect upon the bearing of the Chinese towards foreigners. The excitement in the adjacent country has been much allayed, but many Christian refugees are still flocking into the city.

Boxers Are Afield.

The Boxers are evidently moving afield. Unfortunately no leaders of the Boxers have been arrested, tho their capture would have been easy. All that the Government has done has been to occupy the scenes of the disturbances and no real repressive measures have been taken.

THREE AGED SISTERS DIE.

Death Has Entered the Home of Alfred E. Day Three Times Since May 22.

Since May 22 death has three times entered the house of Alfred E. Day, paperhanger, at 730 West King-street. All three were sisters, two had passed the allotted span of life, while the third had nearly reached the limit.

About the first of May, Mrs. Hogg of London came to the city to visit her sister, Miss Mary J. Ashton, who lived with Mrs. Day. Shortly after her arrival Miss Ashton was taken ill with a cold, which developed into pneumonia. On May 18 Mrs. Hogg was stricken with the same malady at., she was confined to her bed. Two days later another sister, Mrs. Hitchcock of London, came to the city to nurse her two sisters. The latter continued to grow worse, and on Tuesday, May 22, Mrs. Hogg passed away. On the Queen's Birthday the remains of the late Mrs. Hogg were taken to London and laid to rest. On the following Sunday, May 27, the death of Miss Ashton occurred, and the funeral took place to London two days afterwards. Grieved by the loss of her two sisters, Mrs. Hitchcock was taken ill, and despite all aid continued to pine away. She gradually sank until yesterday morning, when she died. To-morrow will see another funeral take place to London, where the remains of the late Mrs. Hitchcock will be buried beside those of her two sisters. Mrs. Hogg was 68, Miss Ashton 70 and Mrs. Hitchcock 75 years of age. A brother of deceased arrived last night from London. There are four brothers and another sister still living. The arrangements for the three funerals were looked after by Undertaker E. J. Humphrey of West Queen-street.

THE DOWNFALL OF PRETORIA.

A Service at St. Andrew's That Was Patriotic Whether Pretoria Has Fallen or Not.

Every preparation was made by the congregation of St. Andrew's Church for a service of praise to be held last evening in honor of the British successes in South Africa when the announcement was made last week of the downfall of Pretoria. The church was appropriately decorated for the occasion, and a special program of music was arranged. Before the service commenced last evening, Rev. Armstrong Black reminded the large congregation present that there was no verification of the reported capture of Pretoria, but advised that the service be proceeded with in anticipation of such a victory. During his remarks Rev. Armstrong Black said:

"After we had in good assurance hung up the flag of the Empire as an emblem of victory, was it for a moment to be thought of that it was to be hauled down again? No; not while Canadian hearts and Canadian hands have it in their keeping. No. Not in St. Andrew's Church, nor in any Protestant church where men read the Book of God in the English tongue. Not as long as we have in the loved ensign the token of liberty and justice and right, and can surround it with our faith and praise and prayer. We have so much for which to thank God already that we can trust Him for the rest. Granted to any lean critic that we are not afraid to be in this case anticipating the future, and in praise and prayer we may happily hasten. We have enough to be thankful for, and to be hopeful of, to warrant our service and the note both of gratitude and of hope."

WEDDED AT WOODSTOCK.

Contracting Parties Were Dr. R. A. Bowie of Brockville and Miss Pearl Pattullo.

Among the guests at the Queen's Hotel last night were Mr. and Mrs. R. Bowie, Mr. E. H. Bissett, Mrs. W. S. Buell, Miss M. E. Bowie and Mr. A. G. Bowie of Brockville, who are returning from Woodstock, where they attended the marriage of Miss Pearl Blanch Mowat Pattullo to Dr. R. A. Bowie of Brockville on Saturday afternoon.

The wedding was a very fashionable one, the bride being the daughter of Mr. G. R. Pattullo, Registrar of Oxford County, and one of the most charming young ladies in Western Ontario, and the groom one of Brockville's most successful medical practitioners.

About 100 guests attended the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Dr. McMullen, pastor of Knox Church, Woodstock. The bride was given away by her father.

Congratulations were received from Lieut.-Governor Sir Oliver Mowat, Premier and Mrs. Ross and many others.

Dr. and Mrs. Bowie will spend a brief honeymoon in the Adirondacks.

THEY DECORATED GRAVES.

Ancient Order of Hibernians Marched to St. Michael's Cemetery to Honor Dead Comrades.

Yesterday afternoon the Ancient Order of Hibernians marched in a body to St. Michael's Cemetery, where they decorated the graves of their deceased brethren. After paying this tribute of respect to the memory of their departed friends, a delegation of those present proceeded to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and also decorated the grave of the late Rev. Dr. Burns, upon which they placed floral offerings in recognition of the unselfish patriotism of that son of Erin, whose memory will long be cherished by all who knew him, and especially by his fellow countrymen, both in Canada and the United States.

WIND-UP OF THE O.J.C. RACES

Beautiful Weather Brought All Toronto's Society Ladies to the Woodbine Track.

WINNING OWNERS AND JOCKEYS

Favorites Fared Fairly Well, Three Out of Four Landing the Coin.

After nine days of racing that averaged a good class, the horses have finished up for the spring, as far as the Woodbine is concerned. Seven races were on the card for the closing day, and good fields faced the starter in each. The day was ideal and there was a splendid attendance there to do the lawns and betting ring.

Favorites fared fairly well, three out of the four landing the coin, Butter Scotch 1 to 2, Charlie O. 3 to 2 and Waterwick 5 to 2, pretty good for a finish. The first choices to fall were Matlock even money, Denman Thompson 1 to 2, Shields entry 7 to 10, and Abbotsford 8 to 5, all four finishing inside the money. M. M. at 8 to 3, the second choice, won the opeing event from Matlock, the even money favorite. Bill Massie 6 to 1, Captive 8 to 1, and Annetbuurn 7 to 1, were the outsiders to land.

It was the greatest betting day of the meeting, and tho four favorites were beaten the talent by no means let any of the winners run loose. Most of the horsemen will take in the Hamilton meeting, tho several have already left for other tracks.

The meeting was the largest and most successful in the history of the Ontario Jockey Club, and the patrons who keep the game agoing will be glad to hear that a portion of the O.J.C.'s velvet will go towards building new stands and a passageway to the stables.

The public resolved itself into talent generally thruout the nine days, as some of the 30 bookmakers will testify, and while the layers did not average losers by any means, it was, perhaps, one of the best meetings ever held at Woodbine Park, as far as the players are concerned.

There were the usual number of dead starters in many fields, against whom alluring prices were chalked, and thereby the lambs were shorn. With this bad feature cut out and a method of perfect starting introduced at Woodbine Park, the O.J.C. would have almost reached the period of perfect racing.

THE TALE OF THE SKIRT.

Tho "The Song of the Shirt"
May never grow stale—
"The tall of the Skirt,"
Is the up-to-date tale.

'Tis a tale that is told,
Thru a freak in the clothes
Of girls young and old,
And it's right—goodness knows!

"I'm the long-tailed skirt,
I don't need to flit.
I collect lots of dirt
And I don't miss a spit.

"I can clean from a rut,
Or grab from afar,
A cigaret butt
Or snipe of cigar.

"I never can lose
In my rounds every day,
Any second hand chews
That lie in my way.

"Thru all kinds of muck,
That strays round the street,
I'm dragged in hard luck
To hide a girl's feet.

"Germs of all classes,
That roost on the ground
I gather in masses,
When scraping around.

"That man with the cart,
Who wears the white clothes,
With me cannot start
Wherever he goes.

"His scraping is neat,
He does his work swell;
But I sweep his street
And the sidewalk as well.

"He gathers wherever
His shovel doth roam,
In all kinds of weather—
I take the rest home.

"I am the stealthiest
Thing you could name,
But I'm not the healthiest
Scavenger game."

—Rub.
