THE CITY AND VICINITY.

THE DAILY ROUND OF LIFE IN AND ABOUT TORONTO.

What the People are Doing and Saying and Thinking About—Brief Notes Gathered Everywhere by Wide-Awake World Reporters.

FALLING LEAVES.

The days are chill and the leaves are falling;
Summer his death-note has softly sung;
The bird no longer his mate is calling;
No longer the leaves shine golden brown,
But wet and dreary,
Through moanings eerie
Of winds, sad sobbing, are drifting down.
The autumn's dying will soon be rung.

The hospital account against the city for October was 3777.

Rev. Wm. Inglis commenced his duties as provincial librarian yesterday.

Lawlor will be flogged at the central prison to-day for assaulting a guard.

Mr. Harry Webb will be the caterer for the banquet to Sir John Macdonald in this city on the 23rd inst.

The mud at the immigrant sheds is two feet deep. It impresses new arrivals very favorably with the country.

The great case of Petrie v. Guelph lumber company, entered upon its sixth day in the chancery court yesterday.

The royal scarlet chapter of Toronto will open for the despatch of business on Monday evening next, in the Yonge street hall.

A squad of students numbering about eighty passed up Queen street west yesterday afternoon, singing some of their jovial songs.

G. T. R. switchman Kennedy had his shoulder dislocated yesterday by a blow from the lever of the switch at the foot of Berkeley street.

A. P. Taylor, a Yorkville barber, was fined $2 and costs by Justice Carr at Yorkville yesterday, for having exercised his calling on the Sabbath.

An exploded lamp set fire to the box that does duty at the foot of Simcoe street as a G.W.R. station. Baggage Forbes of the Northern railway extinguished the flames.

Bro. Wm. Lee, secretary of the loyal orange county lodge of Toronto, has been appointed acting grand secretary of the Y. M. P. B. A., during the absence of Bro. Jameson in Winnipeg.

At the last quarterly meeting of the loyal orange county lodge of Toronto, W. Bro. Alfred Medcalf, P.D.M., east Toronto, was unanimously elected county chaplain for the balance of the year.

The literary society in connection with the P.E.D.S. intend to have a debate and readings this evening, at 8 p.m., in St. James' school house. Hon. S. H. Blake will preside, and all friends are cordially invited.

TO THE WORLD: Sir,—In your issue of yesterday morning I notice a statement that I had sold the Brunswick restaurant to Mr. Edward Hanlan. This, I beg to inform you, is entirely incorrect; and I trust in justice to me you will correct the error.—GEORGE BROWN.

The combined city charities conference was organized Wednesday afternoon: Mr. Goldwin Smith being absent, Dr. Canniff was elected chairman for the season, and Mr. Pell secretary. Weekly meetings will be held until the work of the coming winter is fully arranged.

The members of Mr. A. Watson's bible class in connection with Elm street Methodist church, met at the residence of Mr. Alfred Hirst Wednesday evening and presented their teacher with an address accompanied by a handsome French gilt clock. Mr. Watson was completely taken by surprise, but nevertheless responded in a happy manner. An elegant repast was served by Harry Webb.

The executive committee met yesterday afternoon. An account for $2754 51 for judgment and costs in the case of Bacon v. the waterworks commission was passed, the amount to be taken out of the waterworks fund. An account of J. Matthews for sheep worried by dogs was sent back, not being in proper form. The reports of the committee were adopted without amendment.

It will be remembered that on the 26th of July last, Capt. W. D. Andrews, of the Dolphin swimming club, rescued George Goldstone and Hugh O'Neil from being drowned in Toronto bay, and in recognition of his heroic conduct the Royal humane society of England have forwarded a medallion which will be presented to him by Mayor McMurrich at the first meeting of the city council, on which occasion the gold medal of the Dolphin club will also be presented to him.

The amount of $300 required to pay for the recent much-needed repairs on the parsonage of the Queen street Baptist church is now provided for. Rev. Dr. Wild, congregational minister, pledged himself to raise one half of a balance of $109, provided the members of the church raised the other half. This has been done and pastor and people rejoice. In giving this generous assistance Dr. Wild declares that his wife is a Baptist, and as she is his greater and better half, he is himself more of a Baptist than anything else!

The Young peoples progress and mutual aid association will give their first free breakfast to the deserving poor of Toronto at temperance hall Temperance street next Sunday morning from 7.30 to 9.30. Afterwards a special service will take place till 10.30, so as to allow the public to attend and reach their churches in good time. As the object is a worthy one and is to be sustained by voluntarily contributions the public are earnestly requested to aid the cause, and any subscriptions will be thankfully received by Mr. J. E. Pell at 7 Louisa street, and Mr. John Baillie at 303 Yonge street.

The Cathedral young men's association again offer prizes for the best examination passed on Vol. I. of "Ryle's Expository Thoughts on the Gospel of St. John," (especially chapters III. and VI. of the Gospel), "Nelson on Infidelity," and "Geikie's History of the Reformation." The examination will be held in the spring, probably in May. The first prize will be books to the value of $12, and the second prize books to the value of $8. Competition open to all young men (not Divinity students) who are members of any association in connection with any of the church of England congregations in the city of Yorkville.

Canadian Baptist: A young man named Johnson from the island of Jamaica, who calls himself an Independent Baptist minister, has been preaching for one or two of our churches in this city. It is known to us that all the Baptist ministers in Jamaica have withdrawn from him their confidence and recognition, and that the general committee of the English Baptist missionary society in a resolution adopted in September of last year, condemned his "evil and mistaken courses." In view of these undoubted facts it is proper to ask, can our pastors and churches afford to welcome to their pulpits a preacher who could not now gain access to Baptist pulpits in the island where he has been living and laboring for several years?

The Brantford papers contain long notices of the marriage at that city on Wednesday of Mr. Stephen Nairn, of the firm of A. & S. Nairn, Toronto, to Miss Lizzie Watt of Brantford. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's father, and was performed by Rev. Dr. Cochrane. The bride was dressed in cream satin, trimmed with Spanish lace and veil and flowers, and was supported by her sister, Miss Belle Watt, as bridesmaid, dressed in pale blue silk, with lace and flowers, and by Misses Ada and Louise Allan of Toronto. The groom was sustained by Mr. David Horn of Hanover, and Master Balmer Watt. Among the Toronto guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Nairn, Mr. John Macdonald and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Allan. At the conclusion of the ceremony the company sat down to a sumptuous dejeuner, after which the health of the happy couple was drunk, and appropriate speeches were made. Mr. and Mrs. Nairn left by the 3 o'clock train on an extended trip, accompained by the best wishes of their many friends. The bridal presents were numerous, costly and appropriate.

Yesterday at noon Mr. J. Herbert Mason of the Canadian Permanent Loan and Savings company, and Miss Campbell, daughter of Mr. James Campbell, publisher, were married. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Reid, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Hogg. Miss Day, Miss Reid and Miss Morrison were the bridesmaids, and Mr. T. G. Mason, Mr. P. Ridout and Mr. B. Jones were groomsmen. After the ceremony the party sat down to breakfast, which was provided by Mr. Harry Webb. The table was georgeously decorated, and presented a brilliant appearance, the figures and flowers in ice cream being especially novel and noticeable. Immediately after breakfast the couple left to spend their honeymoon in New York and Philadelphia.

—Borthwick mineral water, tonic and aperient; 25 cents per gallon at Osgoode hall pharmacy, 107½ Queen street west. 135

—Those n want of sewing machines ought to inspect the Wheeler & Wilson at No. 83 King street west previous to their deciding to buy elsewhere. A visit to Mr. C. C. Pomeroy's office would not be out of place.

—DEAR GEORGE,—Excuse delay in answer to yours of the 3rd inst. I would advise you to order your shirts at Grant's, 283 Queen street west. You are sure to get a perfect fit. His shirts, reinforced fronts at $9 per half-dozen, are the best in the market. Faithfully yours, FRANK.

—A man of punctuality, energy land science, Mr. Charles Cluthe, surgical mechanist, of Toronto, left Montreal on the expiration of his professional visit on the evening of the 27th, attended to this day on the 28th in Port Hope, arrived here at 9 a.m. (the last Saturday in each month being the day he is due here at the American hotel.) He leaves at 5 p.m. today for Washington, D.C., where he may be found at the U. S. patent office on Monday morning to secure a most valuable invention in the shape of a truss for the cure of rupture. Mr. Cluthe will be home from Nov. 3rd to the 12th, on which day he will start on his western trip.—Hamilton Times, Oct. 29. tf

THE POLICE WORLD.

Thomas Carr of 175 Duke street, yesterday stole a bottle of quinine wine from a farmer's waggon on King street. Policeman Ross observed the theft, and promptly run the thief in.

The other day Michael Kelly went to his mother's house and stole a quantity of wearing apparel, afterwards pawning them to get money for drink. The evidence showed a clear case of larceny, and the magistrate sent him to the central prison for four months.

Wm. J. Dwight was charged with having carried off his furniture by night from his house on Denison avenue in August last, thereby defrauding his landlord, William Thomas, of the rent then due. The defendant pleaded not guilty. As W. A. Lee, the house agent, did not appear to give evidence, the magistrate dismissed the case with costs.

The two children belonging to Mr. Allan of 70 St. David street, who took $2 from the house last Tuesday and wandered away, appeared at the police court yesterday and asked to be sent to the boys' home. Mrs. Allan was rejoiced to see the little wanderers. They stated that they slept at a house on King street east the two nights they were absent.

A FERRY IN COURT.

The case of Jellett v. Anderson engaged the attention of the court of appeals yesterday. It is an appeal from the judgment of the late chancellor. The bill was filed by John Jellett of Belleville, ferry proprietor, against James Anderson and J. A. Porter of the same place, ferry proprietors, to have the ferry of the defendants declared an infringement and violation of the plaintiff's rights to do a general ferrying business between the township of Ameliasburg and the city of Belleville. The case was first tried at Belleville and judgment given for the plaintiff. The cause was then brought on for re-hearing before the full court of chancery at Toronto when the judgment was again confirmed. From this the defendants now appeal.

ROYAL OPERA HOUSE.

Oliver Doud Byron is an old favorite with Torontonians, and they gave him a bumper house at the Royal last night. Across the Continent is a good, lively, sensational drama, full of fun and excitement, the interest culminating where "the Teviet" connects the cut wire with a battery and telegraphs for aid; and so life-like was the scene that when the answer came ticking over the wires the audience loudly applauded. To-night and Saturday night will be presented Jolly Joe Banks' creation, written expressly for Oliver Doud Byron, entitled Ten Thousand Miles Away.

YORKVILLE Y. M. C. A.

The Yorkville Y. M. C. A. has begun life under very favorable auspices. Its officers are gentlemen of well known christian experience and it has a strong and faithful membership. The association held its inaugural meeting in the town hall last night. The attendance was good and the proceedings were interesting and stirring. The president, Mr. John Macdonald, occupied the chair, and it is almost needless to say that he filled it in his usual able manner. Speeches were made by Rev. P. McLeod, Rev. Mr. Cochron, Rev. Mr. Warriner, Mr. W. H. Howland and Mr. D. C. Forbes. A collection was taken up amounting to $21.67. Mr. D. McMillan is secretary of the association.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Mr. W. Horace Lingard and his company repeated Our Boys at the Grand opera house last night. To-night they will play Stolen Kisses, which created a very favorable impression on all those who saw it last week. This piece is one of the funniest comedies on the stage, and is played in first-class style by Mr. Lingard and his troupe. Stolen Kisses will be presented at the matinee to-morrow afternoon, and the company will close their engagement to-morrow evening in the new comedy drama of The Lion and the Mouse.

THE PLANTAGENET MURDERERS.

Mr. N. Murphy, counsel for Prevost and Brunel, the Plantagenet murderers, has forwarded to the minister of justice the petition asking a commutation of the death sentence, together with his own reasons why the sentences should not be carried into effect.

THE BURNT CONTRACT.

The Investigation Before the County Judge—An adjournment made.

Notwithstanding the great excitement aroused by the mutilation of the Yonge street block pavement contract, there were only one or two spectators present at the opening of the investigation besides the parties directly interested. Mr. Fenton, county crown attorney, conducted the prosecution, and Mr. Joseph E. Macdougall represented Mr. James Craig.

The judge remarked that he had no jurisdiction over any one but (1st) members of the corporation, (2nd) officers of the corporation, (3rd) contractors, and that it was his duty to ascertain whether any of these parties were guilty of participation in the matter, either by gross negligence or otherwise. He also remarked that the taking out of the word "malfeasance" in the resolution made little difference; the moment he had jurisdiction he would enquire into the whole matter.

After the reading of the resolution of counsel, Mr. Fenton said that at present there was little prospect of anything coming to light beyond what was already public property, and he therefore asked for at least a week's adjournment. He did not want a mere whitewashing investigation.

His honor reminded him that Craig was under the ban of suspension and they should not keep this matter hanging over his head any longer than could be avoided. After some argument his honor said he must insist on the case going on for the present.

James H. Sutherland, clerk in the city solicitor's office, was the first witness. His evidence disclosed the following facts in addition to what is already known: That the contract was signed by Mr. Godson only, in the firm name of Godson & West (so that it was not binding on the latter, who only became liable by going on with the work). That after Godson had signed the contract he was allowed to take it away to get a bond signed, and duly returned it. That after the finding of the contract in a mutilated condition it was at the instance of the engineer, and after two unsuccessful requests by Craig that the new contract was drawn up by Sutherland, and that it was on the mayors advice that the new contract was not signed. It was a common thing Mr. Sutherland said, for contractors to go in and out of all the offices of the board of works, in behind the counters, and in all places. They were never allowed in the vault, and he had never seen them go in. The vault was usually open during business hours. At the conclusion of Mr. Sutherland's evidence Mr. Fenton again applied for an adjournment. His honor said he did not believe the man who committed the villainous act of burning the contract would ever be found out, but they might ascertain a good deal about the good government of the city, which was one of the things to be investigated. It had been suggested that the burning was done by accident. If so, and the person who did it had a spark of decency in him he should come forward and acknowledge it. He then adjourned the investigation until next Wednesday. Mr. Fenton then asked whether the Yonge street merchants might be represented by counsel, but his honor said he did not know them in the matter at all.

The Sand Blast.

(Journal of Science.)

Among the wonderful and useful invention of the times is the common blast. Suppose you desire a piece of marble for a gravestone; you cover the stone with a sheet of wax no thicker than a wafer; then you cut in the wax the name, date, etc., leaving the marble exposed. Now pass it under the blast and the sand shall cut it away. Remove the wax and you have the cut letters. Take a piece of French plate glass, say two by six feet, cover it with fine lace and pass it under the blast and not a thread of the lace will be injured, but the sand will cut deep into the glass wherever it is not covered by the lace. Now remove the lace and you have a delicate and beautiful figure raised in the glass. In this way beautiful figures of all kinds are cut in glass and at a small expense. The workmen can hold their hand under the blast without harm, even when it is rapidly cutting away the hardest cutting glass, iron or stone, but they must look out for their finger-nails, for they will be whittled off right hastily. If they put on steel thimbles to protect their nails, it will do but little good, for the sand will soon whittle them away; but if they wrap a piece of soft cotton around them they are safe. You will at once see the philosophy of it. The sand whittles away and destroys any hard substance—even glass—but does not effect substances that are soft and yielding, like wax, cotton, fine lace or even the human hand.

MY BOUQUET.

(FOR THE WORLD—BY E. A. S., TORONTO.)

A spray of fragrant hawthorne,
Recalling golden dreams
Of sunny hours of childhood,
Green fields and rippling streams;
Of sweet old-fashioned flowers
Close clustered o'er the wall,
Where fair fruit vies in beauty
Till frosts of autumn fall.

From misty, purple moorland,
A tiny heather spray
Enshrined in ponds of fairy fern,
Enhanced by their array.
A lowly, drooping fuschia
Hiding its blushing face
For a wreath of starry jassamine,
Each flower alike in grace.

And now a royal rose-bud,
Beauteous beyond compare,
Asserts her queenly presence
Among my blossoms rare.
Scorning her humble sisters,
"Wee daisies" of Irish birth,
Who laughingly shake their petals
With "bright-eyed," joyous mirth.

Oh here is a fair, wild primrose,
Half hidden 'neath the leaves,
The dear little "sainted flower"
"True homage thy name receives."
A cluster of "English violets,"
Their fragrance breathing forth
A message, pure and hopeful,
To weary sin-stained earth.

Now list to my spray of myrtle,
With proudly drooping head,
Have I not crowned the living,
And softly wreathed the dead,
Unfolded my graceful beauty
On foreign shores so cold;
Then let my praise be penned
When the "bouquet's" song is told.

Ah surely, a valley lily,
I felt its fragrance sweet
Fill every sense with gladness,
Dear flower, with grace replete.
Hidden in sheath of greenness
Thy snowy blossoms gleam
Mid quiet, grave-yard shadows,
By sunny, sparkling stream.

Thy perfume sweet hath wafted
"Rare thought" to poet's strain,
And the painter's hard hath lifted
To portray his dreams again.
Old refrains, the past recalling
Music from "long ago,"
"Fitful gleams" of memory stirring
As thy bells wave to and fro.

Oh, would that my "bouquet" of flowers
Could but scatter griefs that lie
On the wearied hearts of workers
Drooping 'neath their loads to die.
Yet He who hath "clothed the lilies"
In robes of radiant white,
Loves to shed bright gleams of comfort
On the darkest gloom of night.

TRINITY COLLEGE.

Installation of the New Provost—Annual Convocation—Confirming Degrees and Presenting Prizes—Proposition to Establish Two New Professorships—Reception in the Evening.

More than usual interest was attached to the convocation yesterday from the formal installation as provost of Rev. C. W. E. Body. The hall was crowded, and among those on the dais were the chancellor, the new provost, Bishop Coxe of western New York, Bishop Sweatman of Toronto, and Bishop Fuller of Niagara, Prof. Jones, Prof. Boys, Prof Strathy, Rev Dr Davies, Rev Dr Scading, Toronto; Rev Dr Wilson, Kingston; Revs A J Broughall, Toronto; Mockridge, Hamilton; J Langtry, Toronto; J Carry, Port Perry; A H Baldwin, Toronto; C E Thornton, Weston; W C Clarke, Bolton; J David-on, Uxbridge; W Logan, Fenelon Falls; Rural Dean Allen, Millbrook; V Clementi, Peterboro'; Septimus Jones, Yorkville; C C Johnson, Brampton; C J S Bethune, Port Hope, O. The provost was duly and solemnly installed with the customary ceremonies amid loud applause.

The chancellor then presented the prizes and conferred the degrees on the successful candidates, who had to undergo a good deal of chaff from the gods. The latter, however, perhaps a little abashed by the presence of the new provost, were not quite as noisy as usual. Their singing was good, but their conundrums with but one or two exceptions were deserving of the condemnation of all good men. The following is the list of successful candidates:

B A.—H C Coxe, John Gibson, R N Jones, A Greaves, D McD Howard.

M A—W P Atkinson, C B Crawford, P Æ Irving, A L Parker, R J Moore.

C M—W B Duck.

Matriculation—G Nattrass, N F Davidson, C H Brent, J F Dumble, C R Hanning, T B Angel, W W Jones, J E Fidler, C Scadding, J A Ritchie, R S Morris, C E S Radcliffe, S Bennett.

The following matriculated students were admitted as undergraduates:

G Leslie Airth, John Edward Wesley Anderson Oran Beltry, John Charles Bell, John E Brown, Thomas Conolly Cowan, John Albert Couch, Henry Raymond Casgrain, James M Cochrane, Frank Campbell, William John Chambers, Duncan M Carmichael, William F Dickson, P Anderson Dewar, De la Porte, Eli T Eadie, Thomas Stuart Farrar, George Fierheller, John Ferguson, E A Fillmore, William James Gunne, Duncan Gow, Edward Goodman, Frederick Colton Hood, Robert Hislop, Harold Heber Hawley, B W Howard, Ernest A Hall, W S Harrison, Anthony B Hanks, Robert Drury Hart, David Ogden Roeback Jones, George L Johnston, F H Johnston, James Johnston, Kilgour Rennie Logan, Alfred Thomas Little, Robert James Lockhart, Wood Lamoureux, Frederick George Lundy, Andrew D Lake, Thomas Henry Mott, John Francis Martin, Charles J McIntyre, Alexander McKillop, Samuel W McConochie, William John Mitchell, Samuel Alexander McKeague, Robert Ovens, John Park, John Julien Paul, David F Rae, Harold Peter Salter, B H Scott, Charles Frederick Snelgrove, Andrew Eugene Stuart, Alexander K Sturgeon, Alexander Stewart Thompson, Isaac Alonzo Thompson, Alvin Clayton Woodley, James George White, William Augustus Wilson, Archibald Bell Wilson, James Archer Watson, William Wallace Vanvebson.

Bishop Coxe made an eloquent speech expressive of hope of increased amity among all nations, and was greeted with tremendous applause. Bishop Sweatman, speaking of the new provost, said he was a long way the best man of his time, either at Oxford or Cambridge. He hoped there would be no prejudice against Trinity, but that all brave churchmen would rally round her. The bishop of Niagara told the new provost he had splendid material to work on in the Canada youth. Chancellor Allen announced that there was a proposition afoot to establish new professorships; one of theology and another of natural science. The amount required was $100,000, to contribute to which he would appeal to all churchmen. Convocation shortly afterwards rose.

RECEPTION IN THE EVENING.

In the evening a crowded reception was given to the provost in the college. Among those present were the lieutenant-governor and Mrs. Robinson and Miss Robinson. Chancellor and Mrs. Allan, Chancellor and Mrs. Spragge, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dixon, Mr., Mrs. and the Misses Rutherford, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lindsey and Miss Lindsey, Major and Mrs. Foster, Prof. Jones and boys, Mrs. and the Misses Strachan, Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt, Mrs. and Mrs. Totten, Mr. and Mrs. Spragge, Mrs. Daniel Morrison and Miss Morrison.

Between the parts of the programme the Q. O. R. band played in the entrance hall which was prettily decorated with flags, etc. Miss Howland sang "At the Ferry," and was well applauded. Mr. Ransford's reading was Longfellow's "Building of the Ships." Chancellor Allen presented an address to the new provost on behalf of the faculty professors, graduates and undergraduates of Trinity college, expressing the best of good wishes for himself and Mrs. Body. The provost briefly replied that his reverence from his old English university was attended not so much with pain as pleasure. He cheerfully undertook the work to which he had put his hand. He was convinced that higher education could only go on here as at home, accompanied by religious training. Here in this noble college he found these principles, so dear to his own heart, broadly marked out. He returned thanks to all through the vice-president for their kind address.

An interval occurred when refreshments were served in the dining-room. The second part of the programme was well carried out by Miss Nellie Hillary, Mr. Bayley and the Trinity college glee club, and the gathering dispersed at about 11.

NEW MISSION SOCIETY.

A mission society has been formed in connection with the Protestant Episcopal divinity school, the officers being as follows: Patron, bishop of the diocese; president, Dyson Hague, M. A.; vice-president, F. H. DuVernet; secretary and treasurer, W. J. Armitage. Committee—Edwin Daniel, B. A.; G. M. Wrong, W. W. Campbell, James Ardill. The purpose of the association is both to promote a missionary spirit among the students and to do practical missionary work. It is proposed to conduct cottage meetings in destitute portions of the city, similar to the one recently initiated by the students on St. David street, under the supervision of Rev. Mr. Rainsford. Services will also be conducted in such new or unoccupied missions as the bishop from to time places under the care of the association. The services will be conducted by a number of students in rotation, going out on Saturday and returning on Monday to the city. One parish has already been allotted to them by the bishop.
