Keeton Motor Company Get Out a New Car

Firm is Preparing for Big Business Operations at First of the Year---New Car is a Hummer.

The industry of the Keeton Motors, Limited, of Brantford, has been re financed, and the gentlemen now connected with the firm have put in much more money.

A Courier representative recently had the pleasure of a trial spin in the latest model, 4 cylinder, 35 horse power, with Mr. Keeton at the driving wheel, and the test most completely demonstrated the exceptional merits of this high grade but comparatively low priced car. The roadways after leaving the city were especially chosen for their rough, up hill and down dale nature, and under every test the motor behaved in a most delightful and steady manner. In fact the writer never sat in in a machine possessed of easier running qualities.

The concern, which is established in the premises formerly occupied by the Barber-Ellis Company, is in affiliation with the celebrated Keeton motor car works in Detroit, and has the same patents and the same skilled engineering advice. The idea of manufacturing in Canada is to serve the Dominion trade and that of the British possessions.

The car is of beautiful design and the many new mechanical features are of a most notable description. The motto of the firm is in effect "as low a price as possible for a high class product." The cost is $1,175, or $1295 with special equipment—electric starter, electric headlights and tail lamp and an electric horn.

Special features to be noted in connection with this model production are:—

1st.—That there are only two cars marketed in Canada at a lower price and they are much smaller.

2nd.—That it is the lowest price car marketed in Canada with electric starting and lighting equipment.

3rd.—That it is the only car marketed in Canada under $1600 using imported ball bearings.

4th.—That it is the only car marketed in Canada under $3,000 making a specialty of demountable wire wheel equipment, meaning 68 per cent. more tire milage.

5th.—That it is equipped with "one man" top and "quick" curtains that fold away into the top.

6th.—That the body has more room than any car marketed in Canada under $1,800.

7th.—That the chassis is long enough to acommodate closed town car, taxi-cab and roomy delivery bodies, and that it is sold without body equipment if desired, giving a good opening into a lucrative commercial field.

8th.—That it has more power per hundred pounds than any car equipped with electric starter and marketed in Canada under $3,000.

9th.—That it is quiet, easy riding, staunch, roomy, comfortable, powerful, fast and economical to run and is fully guaranteed, the guarantee is for life.

The Company consists of President, F. M. Keeton, Vice-President, and Treas., J. B. Detwiler; Mr. E. Sweet, Secretary, Directors, J. W. Werrily and Perry Verity. Mr. John P. Schultz, General Manager.

The Company has already had enquiries from representative distributing firms in London, England, the Argentine Republic and other countries. Commencing with January it is hoped to produce 500 cars in 1914 and 2,500 in 1915.

If merit, price and attractiveness count, the "Keeton motor" should in the not distant future warrant one of the largest factories in this city.

Situation at the Bridge Looks Much Improved

Mr. Kellett's Mysterious Absence From the City—Civic Authorities Suspect an Old Art.

Where is William P. Kellett, chief engineer of the Lake Erie & Northern Railway Company?

Try as the knight this morning did to find Mr. Kellett, no information as to his whereabouts could be secured, although he was posted to be home to-day.

Mr. Kellett is wanted by Brantford Mountain, of the Dominion Railway Board, in regard to the fissures at Jubilee Terrace. No earthquake or landslide is wanted in that locality, and Engineer Mountain has signified his willingness to come at once, but he deems Mr. Kellett's presence necessary.

In the old street railway days, Mr. Kellett became famous, especially under the regime of Mayor W. Wood, for the succulent art of putting things over. His lost identity or unknown whereabouts at present are taken in civic circles to mean that Mr. Kellett is again engaged in the old art, by no means a last one, for the reason that he is engineering under different auspices.

It is just possible that work at Lorne bridge in a few more days will cease, and that the fissure discovered will be no more. In other words, Mother Earth will contract again, and the rampage of the Noble Lorne will be over. Expected that far completed, it is expected that Mr. Kellett, forthwith, will return to his duties, communicate with Engineer Mountain, inspect Jubilee Terrace at once and then fire at the City Engineer of Brantford. Why all this commotion with a job like this?" Of course it must be said that the weather recently has been an important factor.

This review of the situation is from a civic standpoint largely. An interview with Mr. Kellett was unavoidable to-day. The reasons for Mr. Kellett's absence may be entirely otherwise than those suspected by the civic authorities. However, the situation at the bridge to-day looks much better than earlier in the week. City Engineer Jones is much more optimistic than previously.

With the City Police

Pat Ryan and Joe Ricketts were the only names on the roll at the police court this morning. Both had been drunk, and Chief Slemin is anxious to have all such characters sent to the prison farm. These men were two of a number of loafers whom he suspects will be hanging round the town during the winter unless they are taken away. The Chief declares he is having a clean up for the coming winter, and promises that the town will look better with the banishment of men of the drunken type, so much seen recently. Drunks will now have to be wary, or a straight six months on the prison farm awaits them.

COMPLIMENTED BY REV. DEAN BRADY

The Separate School Board held the last meeting of the present year last evening. Routine matters were principally attended to accounts to the extent of $350.00 were passed. The board was honored by a visit from Very Rev. Dean Brady, superintendent of Separate Schools for the city, who made an eulogistic address complimenting the board on their excellent work and general co-operation with their superintendent in all matters affecting education. Never in the history of the Separate schools in this city have the conditions generally been so favorable for carrying out the work of education.

HE KNEW.

The teacher, who was giving the primary class a nature talk, inquired: "Johnny, how does a bee sting?"

Johnnie, a graduate from the school of experience, replied, with emphasis: "Awful!"

Thomas Gowdy, a prominent citizen of Guelph, a former Alderman and Mayor for two years, died at the age of nearly 88.
