THE LOYALISTS DINNER.

The dinner of the Loyalists' Society at the Dufferin last evening was highly successful in every respect and was an admirable beginning of what it is hoped will prove a series of annual public demonstrations in honor of the Loyalists. In point of numbers the size of the dinner party was only limited by the ability of Mr. Jones to accommodate the guests. Among those present belonging to the Society were His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, the Chief Justice, the Judge in Equity, many members of the bar, two members of the provincial legislature, two editors, and many gentlemen connected with the commercial life of the city. The Loyalists Society already takes its place in line with the societies of St. Andrew and St. George as a hospitable institution and it no doubt will equal or surpass these excellent institutions in point of usefulness. The dinner was remarkable from the fact that it was conducted entirely on temperance principles, a circumstance that would have somewhat surprised the Loyalists if they could have revisited the scene of their toils and sorrows for the occasion, but it was not the less enjoyable on that account. The speaking was very good and would have been better if some of the speakers had abbreviated their remarks a little. In such matters there is always something to be learned from experience, and after last evening no future dinner committee will be likely to place the toast of the memory of the Loyalists after the toast to the Governor General and Parliament of Canada and of the Lieutenant Governor and members of the the Legislature, for such an arrangement puts what is really the toast of the evening too far into the night to give it full effect. It is no doubt a matter of thrilling interest to learn from the lips of Dr. Stockton and Dr. Alward how much they enjoy being in opposition, but the particular business of the Loyalist's Society is not so much with the present as with the past, and any speeches which interfere with the consideration of the subject for which the Society was organized appear rather like impertinences than otherwise. Mr. I. Allen Jack was entrusted with the duty of responding to the memory of the Loyalists and he did his work well, although in a more philosophical vein than is generally to be found in after dinner oratory. Mr. J. Douglas Hazen made an admirable speech in proposing the commercial interests of St. John, and those who heard him for the first time were surprised at the ease, fluency and precision with which he addressed them. Nothing need be said in regard to addresses of the older members of the Society, who are veterans in after dinner oratory, except that they were all very good. The first dinner of the Society having been in all respects highly successful it only remains for it to go on and prosper and increase in numbers and influence, doing quietly and effectively the work which it is called upon to perform by its constitution.

THAT TRUST DEED.

We publish elsewhere on this page the full text of the remarkable trust deed which the benevolent Miss Maria Anning executed in favor of a number of charities and societies in this city, and of Mrs. Ellen McPherson, a few months before her death. This instrument was executed at Sussex at the house of Thomas J. McPherson, a son of the woman who was to be benefitted by the trust deed to the extent of one fifth of Miss Anning's estate. As Mrs. McPherson was not related in any way to Miss Anning, it must be admitted that the latter showed a great deal of generosity in transferring to Mrs. McPherson so freely the sum of ten thousand dollars or thereabouts. But the generosity of this transaction was surpassed by that which she displayed towards the societies mentioned in the trust deed. Miss Anning had never taken any active part in the work of the Free Public Library, or the Protestant Orphan Asylum, yet she gave to each of them one-fifth part of her estate. Miss Anning had all her life displayed a similar indifference to the claims of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the Young Men's Christian Association, the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the Firemen's Mutual Relief Society, yet each of these organizations received one-tenth part of her property. The annals of charitable organizations hardly furnish a parallel case to that of Miss Anning, or disclose so sudden a change from a state of miserly greed to that of extreme liberality. Miss Anning and her brother were both misers, too penurious to purchase themselves the necessaries of life, or pay for the services of a doctor or a nurse. They lived in filth and misery yet through all these years Miss Anning seems to have cherished a noble purpose of giving her money to trustees to be divided among charitable organizations. Nor did her liberality end here. The woman who had lived so long amid filth and rags and who considered bread and water a luxurious diet, gave these trustees such a percentage of her estate as has hardly been heard of outside of the realm of fiction. "The said trustees," says the deed, "are hereby authorized to charge as a commission for the management of the said estate five per centum upon the sums or amounts which may come into their hands, and upon all amounts disbursed or which they may pay out or hand over, this to apply to the corpus of the estate as well as to the accumulations and general disbursements, besides all necessary legal or other expenses." It will thus be seen that supposing the estate to be worth $50,000 the trustees would receive $5,000 of it even if immediately distributed, and much more if not settled at once, besides legal expenses. That the estate could not be settled at once was a necessary consequence of the provision permitting the trustees to give something towards the support of the nephews in Philadelphia, and an enemy of the trustees might say that this provision in favor of the nephews was inserted for the express purpose of preventing the estate from being wound up until these nephews died. After a perusal of this trust deed and after what has been said in open court as to the means by which it was obtained, we think the members of the bar and the public will agree with us in thinking that it was unfortunate the whole circumstances of the case had not been ventilated at the recent trial which ended in a compromise.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The Moncton Times has changed its heading of St. John news from "Foggy City Notes" to "The Commercial Metropolis" which is a much better heading and more respectful to St. John than the one which it has displaced. We congratulate the Times on the change.

Mr. Joseph W. Lawrence was spoken of by Mr. A. A. Stockton in his speech last evening as the person likely to write a history of the Loyalists. That would be an interesting history no doubt, but the public would be still more interested in having from his pen a true and complete history of the Anning trust deed. The story of New Brunswick does not furnish a parallel to that transaction.

We publish elsewhere the reply of Mr. Leary to the mayor and committee on the dry dock matter. It will be seen that Mr. Leary objects to some of the terms imposed upon him by the resolution of the council, particularly that in ragard to the time of commencing the work. Mr. Leary's letter should be read carefully by all who are interested in harbor improvements. He certainly shows a desire to keep faith with the Common Council, and we think ought to receive due consideration.

THE GAZETTE says that now is the time to remove the seat of government to St. John. St. John! Where and what is St. John? Oh yes. We remember. It is a place near Partridge Island that used to be represented in the legislature by Mr. McLellan and some others.

The above is from the Fredericton Herald and if it is intended for a joke, there ought to have been a note attached, explaining it. We are inclined to think that both the owner and the editor of the Herald know more about St. John than they pretend.

Here is one of the appeals to electors of Nova Scotia which appear in the conservative rural papers. It is published in the Lunenburg Argus:

Vote against the men who raised their salaries at the expense of the school teachers.

Vote against men who are borrowing money and reducing the road grant for political purposes.

Vote against the men who stole $16,000 of the road money belonging to other Counties and gave it to Halifax.

Vote against men who spent $124,090 of your money in one building in Halifax.

Vote against men who took the money out of the hands of the municipal Councils.

Vote against Church and Sperry for supporting the men who have robbed the public Treasury of Nova Scotia.

Wednesday is polling day and it looks as if the Fielding government would be defeated.

The Nova Scotia elections take place to-morrow. The following is the Halifax Herald's forecast of the result:—

The government is beaten at the beginning of the campaign. It presents a ragged line of battle, while the formation of the opposition is perfect. It is demoralized and despondent, while the opposition is thoroughly organized and confident. The government is beaten now.

Look at the signs of demoralization, bad generalship and rank insubordination in the government party.

In Cumberland only one straight grit has been nominated—a half ticket. The government would take half a loaf from that county if it could get it, and be thankful. But it hasn't a ghost of a chance in Cumberland.

In Digby there are four grit candidates in the field, two complete sets. What hope can the government have of the election of either of them? It has no hope. Even though a large majority of the electors were grits, which is not the case, the two opposition men would be sure of election in consequence of the division in the grit ranks.

In Guysboro there are three grits in nomination, and the opinion is confidently expressed by gentlemen who are acquainted with the county that the independent grit will lead both of the government nominees. What chance is there for the government in that county? No chance whatever.

In Victoria there are three grits in nomination. The Chronicle tries to deceive the public in respect to this by classing one of these candidates, Mr. McCabe, as an independent conservative, but he is a grit, and was one of the regular government candidates at the last election.

Here are four counties in which the government is beaten, before polling day, by disorganization of its party, so as not to have even a fighting chance to elect a man.

In every county the liberal-conservatives have a full ticket, and no surplus candidates. They have good men in the field, men who have been chosen by their fellows, men of character and repute, men who merit the confidence of the electors. They are united, and the government ranks are divided: united WE stand, divided THEY fall.

No party in so disorganized a condition as the grits are in this contest have ever succeeded at an election in this province, or ever can succeed. The disorganization shown by the grit party is the forerunner of certain defeat: "coming events cast their shadows before."

THE ANNING TRUST DEED.

A DOCUMENT THAT CONVEYED AN ESTATE WORTH $50,000

To Joseph W. Lawrence, A. A. Stockton and Thos. J. McPherson—In Trust for Certain Charities and Public Institutions in St. John—Giving the Trustees ten Per Cent. of the Estate for Their Trouble.

The following is a copy of the famous Anning trust deed:

This indenture made this sixth day of July in the year of our Lord 1886 between Maria Anning of the city of St. John, in the city and county of St. John in the province of New Brunswick spinster, of the first part, and Joseph W. Lawrence of the same place, gentleman, Thomas J. McPherson of the same place, grocer, and Alfred A. Stockton of the same place barrister at law, of the second part. Trustees hereinafter as set forth. Whereas the said Maria Anning is the possessor of considerable real and personal estate and the management and care thereof are onerous to her, and she is desirous of placing the care and management and control of the same in the hands of the said Joseph W. Lawrence, Thomas J. McPherson and Alfred A Stockton, as trustees upon the trusts and for the purposes hereinafter set forth and contained.

Now therefore this indenture witnesseth that the said Maria Anning in consideration of the premises and in further consideration of the sum of one dollar, lawful money of Canada, well and truly paid to her at or before the ensealing and delivery of these presents by the said parties hereto of the second part the receipt and payment whereof are hereby acknowledged has granted, bargained, sold and assigned and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell and assign unto the said Joseph W. Lawrence, Thomas J. McPherson and Alfred A. Stockton as joint tenants, and not as tenants in common, the survivors or survivor of them, their heirs and assigns and the survivors and survivor of them, the following lands and premises situate in the city of St. John and in the city and county of St. John in which the said Maria Anning is interested or to which she is entitled, viz;

Also all right, title and interest of the said Maria Anning, in and to that certain lot piece and parcel of land lying and being in the city of St. John aforesaid, and situate on the north side of Union street in Wellington ward, formerly known as part of Kings ward, in the said city, and bounded, as follows to wit: beginning on the said street at the southwestern corner of a lot belonging to the estate of the late Peter Lawson, thence running northerly along western side line of said lot 100 feet, thence westerly on a line parallel with said street forty feet, thence southerly on a line parallel with said Lawson side line to the said street, thence easterly along said street, to the place of beginning and also all the use and privilege of the alley way leading from rear of said lot to Peter street for the purpose of ingress and egress and regress to and for said lot being the same piece and parcel of land conveyed by James W. Peters to one Thomas Fairas by deed bearing date 2nd day of April 1853 together with all buildings, erections and improvements. Also all that certain lot piece and parcel of land situate, lying and being in the said city of St. John and distinguished on the map or plan of the said city on file in the office of the common clerk, thereof by the number 874 on the south side of Duke street together with all improvements and appurtenances therewith belonging.

Also all that certain piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in the parish of Lancaster in the county of St. John being three fourth parts of lots known and distinguished upon the plan of the ten acre grant so called by 110, 111 and 112, the same being at Negro Point (so called) bounded on the south by the Bay of Fundy, formerly in possession of Alexander Brogan together with all the improvements and appurtenances belonging there-to. Also all those four and several and certain lots, pieces and parcels of land situate lying and being in the said city of St. John and known and distinguished on the map or plan thereof on file in the office of the common clerk by the numbers 1380, 1381, 1382, and 1383, fronting on the north side of Sheffield street in Sydney ward together with all erection and improvements. Also that certain lot piece and parcel of land on Waterloo street in Wellington ward in the said city of St. John and distinguished on the map or plan of the said city on file in the office of the county clerk as number 54 together with the improvements thereon. Also those several lots, pieces and parcels of land, situated in Guys ward on the western side of the harbor in the said city known and distinguished on the plan of Carleton as lots number 44 and 45 together with all improvements and appurtenances thereto belonging. Also all other lands of any nature and kind situate in the city and county of St. John or elsewhere within the province of New Brunswick. Also all moneys, securities for money, bills, notes and other stock, bonds mortgages and all other property of any and every kind which the said Maria Anning may now have or to which she may hereafter become entitled to have and to hold the said above described lands and premises with the buildings and improvements thereon, and the said moneys, securities for moneys, bills, notes, bank and other stock, lands, mortgages and all other property of any and every kind which the said Maria Anning may now have or to which she may hereafter become entitled unto the said Joseph W. Lawrence, Thos J. McPherson and Alfred A. Stockton, the survivors or survivor of them their heirs and assigns of such survivors or survivor upon trust to invest all moneys coming to the hands of the said trustees or the survivors or survivor of them and apply the interest and accumulations arising from the estate hereby assigned in trust for this maintenance and support of the said Maria Anning during the period of her natural life such payments, for her support and maintenance to be made from time to time as necessities may require, any surplus earnings or accumulations arising from said estate to be invested by the said trustees, as the other money of the estate.

Upon the death of the said Maria Anning the said trustees or the survivors or survivor of them shall stand seized and possessed of the said estate both real and personal and mixed and shall hold the same upon trust for the following purposes; that is to say, one fifth part thereof for the benefit of St. John Protestant Orphan Asylum, one fifth thereof for the benefit of the commissioners of the free public library of the city of St. John, one fifth part thereof for the benefit of Ellen McPherson, wife of John McPherson of Sussex, in the county of Kings, cabinet maker, one part for the benefit of the New Brunswick society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, one tenth part for the benefit of the trustees of St. John Young Men's Christian Association, one tenth part for the benefit of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the city of St. John and one tenth part for the benefit of the trustees of the St. John firemen's mutual relief fund,—the above proportions to be ascertained after the demise of the said Maria Anning, after paying all costs, charges and commissions against the said estate.

The fifth part of the said estate hereby given to the said Ellen McPherson to be paid her or her representatives as soon as may be after the decease of the said Maria Anning. The said trustees or the survivors or survivor of them are hereby authorized if they deem it desirable to appropriate from time to time after the death of the said Maria Anning, after paying the amount given to Ellen McPherson, such part or parts of the remaining, four fifths for the support and and maintenance of Benjamin H. Anning and George Albert Anning, nephews of the said Maria Anning and such amounts so paid for the said support of the said Benjamin H. Anning and George Albert Anning shall be deducted pro rata from the amounts hereinbefore given to the above named beneficiaries, such deductions, however, not to apply to any gift herein to Ellen McPherson. After the trusts herein created in favor of the said Benjamin H. Anning and George Albert Anning have been fulfilled, if in the opinion of the said trustees or the survivors or survivor, any portion of the said estate should be devoted to their support, then the balance shall be paid to the St. John Protestant Orphan asylum, the commissioners of the Free Public Library of the city of St. John, the New Brunswick Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the trustees of the St. John Young Men's Christian Association, the Women's Christian Temperance Union of the city of St. John and the trustees of the St. John Firemen's Mutual Relief fund in the proportions above set forth.

It is distinctly understood and agreed except in the case of Ellen McPherson that all the beneficiaries under this deed of trust shall hold the principal money received from the said trustees and not use the same but shall keep the same invested and only use the interest or income arising from the principal sums for the respective purposes for which the same is given. It is also the direction of the said Maria Anning that the said principal when handed over to the said beneficiaries under the terms of the deed of trust shall be held and known as the Anning fund respectively in connection with such beneficiary except in the case of Ellen McPherson, who is authorized to deal with her gift or share as she may deem advisable. It is also understood and agreed, and this deed is upon the condition that the said trustees or the survivors or the survivor of them shall and may have full power and authority from time to time as they may deem desirable and for the best interests of the trust property hereby conveyed to them, to sell and dispose of any or all of the real estate to which the said Maria Anning is entitled, and hereby conveyed to give good and valid conveyances of the same or any part thereof, and to invest the proceeds in stocks, bonds, notes, mortgages or such other securities as they, the said trustees, the survivors or survivor of them, may deem proper.

It is also understood and agreed and this deed is upon the condition that the trustees, the survivors or survivor of them may from time to time as they may deem proper change or call in any investment, deposit security for money, bond, mortgage or other security, for money and reinvest the proceeds in such other safe and paying security as they may deem proper, and the said trustees are hereby authorized to charge as a commission for the management of the said estate five per centum upon the sums or amounts which may come into their hands and upon all amounts dispersed or which they may pay out or hand over, this to apply to the corpus of the estate as well as to the accumulations and disbursements, besides all necessary legal and other expense connected with such management, and all moneys or expenses paid out in connection therewith. It is also agreed and understood and this deed is upon the condition that in case of the death of one or more of the said trustees the survivors or survivor of them by deed under the hand and seal of such survivors or survivor may appoint any other person or persons as trustee or trustees of the estate in this deed set forth and the person or persons so appointed shall have vested in him or them the said estate, and under the same trusts and to the same extent as the same is vested in any trustee or trustees named in this deed, and so often as any vacancy shall occur among said trustees, the survivors or survivor of them, whether named in this deed or otherwise appointed under the authority contained herein, shall have full power and authority before the powers created under this deed and the trusts raised herein, are fully performed to appoint new trustees or trustee, the whole number, however, not to exceed three, and the trustees or trustee so appointed shall be clothed with the same trusts and powers, and the estate shall vest in him or them as fully and to the same extent as if any trustee or trustees named in this deed. And it is also understood and agreed that the said trustees or their survivors or survivor of them shall have full power to lease the said lands and premises or any part thereof, for such prices or rents as they may deem most advantageous for the said estate. And it is hereby agreed and declared that the said trustees shall not, nor shall any of them, be chargeable or liable for any involuntary loss or damage that may arise or happen in the management or sale or disposal of the said trust property or any part thereof or be answerable or liable for any of the said trust property except such as shall actually come into the hands of the said trustees respectively, and that each shall be answerable for himself and not for each other or for their agents, bankers, attorneys or servants that may be employed in and about the carrying out the trust hereby declared, and the said trustees shall have full power and authority to recieve any and all moneys, notes, bills bonds mortgages and other securities for money coming or belonging to said estate and to give good and valid receipts for the same, and the persons or person recieving any such receipt or receipts from said trustees shall not be bound to see to the application of the money or moneys paid to said trustees, the survivors or survivor of them or be answerable for the misapplication or non-application of the same. It is understood and this deed is upon the condition that the said trustees in the management of the said estate shall have full power to act in all particulars in the carrying out of the trusts herein set forth as fully as though the said Maria Anning was acting in her own behalf in the said premises and the said parties hereto of the second part do hereby on their part respectively covenant, promise and agree to and with the said Maria Anning the party hereto of the first part and each of them that the parties hereto of the second part and each and every of them, shall and will execute and perform the trusts hereby in them reposed, to the best of their ability and judgement. In witness whereof the said parties to these presents have hereunto set their hands and seals on the day and year first above written.

Mark Twain's Crustiness.

[New York Letter to Chicago News.]

Mark Twain's success in life seems to have made him crusty and sour. Years ago, when he was struggling for fame and fortune on the Pacific coast, those who knew him said he was warm-hearted and cordial. But he is certainly far from that now. I saw him on the street awhile ago, dressed in a dark business suit. He has an attractive face, a splendid head, set upon a pair of strong shoulders. His eyes are clear, and his mouth denotes great firmness. His hair is silvering gradually, although there is an abundance of it. His mustache is reddish, and his eyebrows are heavy. Mr. Clemens lives in style in Hartford, Conn. His home is on Farmington avenue. It is a house luxuriously furnished and filled with rare pictures and books. The occupant of the house adjoining is Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, and not far away is the home of Charles Dudley Warner. Mr. Clemens never talks about his books except to those whom he knows intimately. But there is one topic that he is willing to discuss at any time, and that is international copyright. In fact, it may be said that he is a crank on the subject. His books still sell well. His "Innocents Abroad," the most successful of all his literary ventures, has steady sale, and his fortune is estimated by those who know him to be considerably over $2,000,000. Sometimes fun pays.

A few days ago two boys named Alfred Dalton and John Smith, living at Lot 7, went out in a small boat, which was overloaded, and not knowing how to handle a boat very well, they ran her under. Smith climbed to the top of the mast, which was about a foot out of water, and Dalton clung to his legs. Here they remained until Dalton's father rescued them.—Summerside Agriculturist.

The rapid progress made by the SUN LIFE may be seen from the following statement:

	Income.	Assets.	Life Assurances in force.
1872	$48,210.93	$546,461.95	$1,064,350.00
1876	102,822.14	715,944.64	2,214,083.00
1880	141,402.81	911,132.93	3,881,479.14
1884	278,379.65	1,274,397.24	6,844,404.04
1889	563,140.52	2,233,322.72	13,337,983.08

The new business of the SUN LIFE was the largest ever secured in the Company's history and was equalled by but one other Canadian life company. The surplus accumulated during the THREE years of the current quinquennium far exceeds the amount earned during any previous FIVE years, and the profits to policy-holders thus cannot fail to be highly satisfactory. The prosperity of the SUN LIFE is no doubt largely due to its issuing unconditional policies and paying its claims promptly. Canadians should also remember that by patronizing a home institution, which invests all its funds in the Dominion, they are benefiting themselves by reducing the rate of interest here, and are helping to build up our own cities rather than those of foreign states.

GARDENIA.

400 BBLS of the above superior oil in stock. Buyers should insist upon getting "GARDENIA." It is very much superior to any burning oil imported and is sold by a local house whose profits arising from its sale are not carried regularly out of the country and spent in the United States. We cry for reciprocity on a large scale, let our people practise it on a small scale first. We have lots of advocates of the reciprocity system; but if you follow the practices of those loudest in their professions of local intercourse you will find room for improvement. We live on each other, and if we persist in buying our goods of houses who carry the money out of the country we will so impoverish ourselves that we will have no money left to spend. Buy "Gardenia" oil, being the only brand of oil sold whose benefits are local.
