ST. JOHN FEATURED IN MONTREAL PAPER

Page Article in Montreal Herald of Saturday Deals With Development in Prospect for This Port.

An evidence of the larger place St. John is occupying in the minds of the Canadian people is found in the fact that the Upper Canadian newspapers are now devoting more space to this city than ever before. The Montreal Herald of Saturday devoted a full page to the development which is taking place here.

Under the caption "New Wave of Progress Sweeps Millions and Men to St. John, N. B." the Herald prints a well written and attractively displayed article on St. John plentifully embellished with cuts. The cuts include a panoramic view of the city, a map showing the proposed improvements to the harbor on both the east and west sides, a picture of the Cantilever and Suspension Bridges, the C. P. R. terminals and elevator at West St. John, and a view of the Market Slip at low tide. The accompanying article deals with the development in prospect for the city and displays facts which contain the essential points of the whole movement. "Boxes" in prominent positions on the page contain the following information:

What St. John Plans.

To have 100,000 people in five years. To be the greatest port in Canada. To be a great manufacturing centre. To be the best governed city on the continent. To be a city beautiful. To keep on "boosting." And if the breed keeps up they'll get it all.

Some Facts of Progress.

Contract let for $12,000,000 dry dock and piers for G. T. P. terminals. A million dollars in real estate deals in six weeks. Twenty thousand new population coming within 18 months. Three new railways coming along. Big water and pit mouth power development near by. New paper and pulp mill, new cement works, new iron and brass foundry, new candy and broom factories coming. New buildings leaping up. And every St. John man's a booster.

The page is a very creditable one. It will be followed later by a special issue which will be devoted to St. John. Charles F. Crandall, managing editor of the Herald, was in the city Saturday and yesterday. Mr. Crandall is a former St. John newspaper man who has made good in the Canadian metropolis. His knowledge of St. John has stood him in good stead in the present articles.

Not Too Fast.

"A verdict of $10,000 insn't so bad," declared the junior partner. "How much shall we give our client?"

"Oh, give him $50, say," replied the senior partner. "But hold!"

"Well."

"Don't be too hasty. Promise to give him $50.

REGIMENTAL ORDERS N. B. REGT. ARTILLERY

The following regimental orders have been issued by order of Lieut. Col. Baxter, commanding officer of the 3rd New Brunswick Regiment of Artillery:

St. John, N. B., Feb. 24, 1912.

1. A salute will be fired at the opening of the legislature on Thursday, 7th March, at 3 p. m. For this purpose the following are detailed: Capt. J. T. McGowan in command with two subalterns, six non-commissioned officers and eight gunners from No. 5 Battery.

2. The detachment will proceed to Fredericton on the morning of the 7th prox. by a train to be announced later. The O. C. detachment will take his instructions from R. S. Barker, private secretary to his honor the lieutenant governor. The detachment must be on parade at the guns not later than 2.45 p. m.

3. Dress: Winter dress will be worn.

4. In firing the salute particular attention must be paid to the following rules:

"In firing blank there will be an interval of not less than 15 seconds between rounds.

"With all M. D. Ordnance no gun will be reloaded within one minute from the time of firing; if there are less than nine guns in the saluting battery, the interval between rounds will be proportionately lengthened to allow for this.

"Vent servers should invariably be supplied, and the officer firing the salute should see that they fit correctly. He will also examine the sponges to see that they are not low 'to gauge.'"

5. Officers of the regiment are requested to attend the ceremony. Those not with the saluting party will rendezvouse at the Parliament Buildings at 2.50 p. m. and meet his honor the lieutenant governor at the main entrance. "Levee dress" with full dress headdress will be worn—officers in full dress have the right to wear busbies but arrangements must be made to secure uniformity. Junior officers, who have not full dress are permitted to attend in undress uniform.

6. The band of the Regiment intend holding a concert at Fredericton on the evening of the 7th prox. Officers are requested to be present. Mess dress or full dress for those in possession of it. Junior officers may wear undress.

7. A circular has been received from Headquarters stating that an accident was recently caused by neglect to examine a rifle after firing, although difficulty was experienced in loading the next round. It was subsequently ascertained that the envelope of the bullet had "stripped" and remained in the bore. The attention of all concerned is drawn to the serious and perhaps fatal results due to neglect in failing to examine the bore of a rifle, if there is the slightest difficulty in loading or the round fired was a "miss."

8. The same authority states that it has been noticed that, in some instances, officers of corps undergoing training in a camp of instruction do not attend for more than a few days, that as the course of training in camps is progressive, unless an officer follows the syllabus from day to day, he is likely to become as much of a hindrance as a help in carrying out the instruction of those under his command. If, therefore, it is found that an officer of this unit is only able to camp for a few days, a recommendation should be put forward that he should be relieved altogether from annual training for the year and thus avoid the expense entailed for his transportation to and from camp, for no benefit is derived, so far as the training of his unit or himself is concerned, by his attendance at camp for a short period only.

9. The annual meeting will be held at the Union Club on Saturday, 9th March, at 8 p. m. Reports of the Regimental and Band Committees must be in the hands of the adjutant not less than three days previous to the meeting.

The scene was indeed a lively one in our new offices at 86 Prince William Street, and clerks were kept busy until long after the day's ordinary business was over.
