PROF. LEMON, M.D.,

MAGNETIC PHYSICIAN,

Victoria Hall, London, 10 to 11, Forenoon, Oct. 20, 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25.

A LADY LIVES FOR YEARS ON SOFT BOILED EGGS.

Mrs. M. T. was taken with a pain and distressed feeling in her stomach upwards of seven years ago, which nothing seemed to relieve. The pain and distress continued until her stomach became so sore and sensitive that she could not bear the weight of her clothing to rest upon it. The most innocent kind of food distressed her. She lost flesh rapidly, grew pale and bloodless, was so weak and languid that she could not superintend her household affairs, and was so nervous and despondent that life was almost a burden to her. It was very difficult to her to find anything she could eat. Ordinarily white bread felt like red hot sand in her stomach. Meat and all kinds of vegetables would lie like a stone and distress her terribly. The only article of diet that she has been able to bear has been rare boiled eggs, and for the past four years she has live almost exclusively on them. Three weeks ago she applied to Dr. Lemon, the Magnetic Physician. Last Sunday she ate roast turkey, vegetable, bread and butter and apple pie for dinner. Mrs. T. says that she has been able to eat anything she desired for the past week, and says it is all due to Dr. Lemon's Magnetic treatment. That she cannot begin to tell what she has suffered, and to be a well woman once more, is more than she ever expected, and gives this statement to the public in token of her esteem for Dr. Lemon for what he has done for her, and advises all who are sick and afflicted to call on him and be cured.

Dr. Lemon may be consulted at the City Hotel, daily, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., except Sundays, free of charge. All welcome. 60n

IN BIRCHALL'S BEHALF.

The Petition Slimly Signed in Woodstock—A Letter from the Doomed Man's Brother.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Oct. 21.—The petition started in London, which is being circulated on Birchall's behalf, has not been numerously signed in this town. It was in circulation two or three days last week, and up to last night only nineteen signatures had been received. Rev. Mr. Wade, Birchall's spritual adviser, and one or two other clergymen and doctors were among the list of names. Several ministers refused to sign the petition.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—A lengthy letter has been received at the Justice Department from Oswald Birchall, praying Crown clemency on the ground that, while admitting Reginald Birchall's rascality, he is satisfied that he did not murder Benwell. He advances the theory that the condemned man and his victim had a quarrel, and ended by struggling with one another, the result being the death of Benwell. Oswald Birchall, in his petition, says he would come to Canada, but was very ill and under medical treatment.

SAVING PENNIES.

A Financial Success—The Nickel Savings Stamp System Very Popular.

Edwin F. Mack, cashier of the Citizens' Savings Bank, may be said to be the originator of the nickel savings stamp system of this country, although he transplanted his ideas from Frankfort, Germany, where the novelty was first introduced in 1882. Its growth in the case of the Citizens' Savings Bank, of this city, has been remarkable, and Mr. Mack is the recipient of letters of inquiry from nearly every State in the Union. The system was popular from the beginning and to-day is unquestionably the most widely recognized means of acquiring small savings deposits in this city. The bank has 110 agents located in every quarter of the city handling stamps, which are bought by workingmen, clerks, servants and especially by children, who are fast learning economy by investing their spare pennies in stamps, which in themselves represent a bank account. Already 3,000 children have books and keep a bank deposit with the bank. A dozen branch agencies have also been established within a radius of 50 miles of Detroit. Within the period of three months and twenty days, one agent, John P. Lieberman, of Gratiot avenue, has sold 20,000 stamps. The system has been introduced into West Bay City, and next week it will be adopted by banks in Grand Rapids, Columbus, O., Denver, Col., and San Francisco, Cal.—[Detroit Free Press.

THE TEMPERANCE TALKS.

P. A. Burdick Continues His Series of Lectures.

Large Gathering at the Princess Rink—The Practice of Moderate Drinking Condemned—The Necessity of Pledging Youth Urged.

The third address of the series of temperance meetings to be held in the city was delivered last evening in the Princess Rink by the well-known orator, P. A. Burdick. Arrangements had been made for heating the large building which the experience of the previous evening rendered necessary, and a stove had been erected. This tended to make the place more comfortable, and, as Mr. Burdick remarked, would be made warmer for the next evening, while he would do his best to throw out heat from his point. Over 1,000 people were assigned seats in the rink by the obliging ushers of the Y. M. C. A. The first part of the evening was devoted to singing by those who kindly volunteered as choir, the audience joining in heartily. Mr. Wm. Bowman occupied the chair. In introducing Mr. Burdick he referred to his own uncomprising attitude on the liquor traffic, as shown by his life.

Mr. Burdick spoke in his usual style, holding the attention of his hearers by his practical manner of illustrating his remarks, dispensing with studied rhetoric and frequently appealing to their risibility by his timely aphorisms, without losing his earnestness nor neglecting to apply his precepts. His address was more particularly leveled at moderate drinking, in the denunciation of which he spoke forcibly. He had found that the history of total abstinence dated back 50 years, and was limited to certain liquors. Philanthropists and Christian workers started it for the purpose of trying to rescue manhood from the fallen condition into which it had come, as the result of the excessive use of intoxicating liquors, and the pledges that were first put for total abstinence were directed more towards the drunkards, than upon those who practiced self-control. The total abstinence pledge was at first applied to the drunkard, as a cure for drunkenness, and those who had not yet formed the habit of using liquor were said to live by the pledges. Experience demonstrated the effect that comparatively few of the great number who put their names on the pledge were saved. Their broken down constitution, their habits, their companionship, and other influences, bore them down. In maintaining that the pledge should be applied to moderate drinkers, the speaker used as a parallel, the fact that radical experience had never yet produced a cure for small-pox; but pointed out vaccination as a preventative of the dread disease. This he declared to fit the case of the liquor traffic. The principles of total abstinence should be leveled more against moderate drinkers than drunkards; the latter were moderate drinkers gone into bankruptcy. One of the great things had been in the past that people were not positive enough in regard to their principles, and had not tried to convince the people of the righteousness of their cause. He illustrated the various ways in which one who had signed a total abstinence pledge, was tempted to break it, one of the inducements being convivial companionship, or the habit of treating. He had formerly spent his leisure moments in the bar-rooms, but when he stopped drinking he swore never to enter a saloon again, and he never did. Referring to the manners of society, he condemned its usage of intoxicants, and also the habit of keeping of wine and other liquors by parents in their houses, as a bad example to their children. On the latter the hope of the future depended. For the purpose of illustration he instanced a lady once coming to him and asking if he thought her little boy, 6 years old, understood the signing of a pledge. He replied that "the child did not reflect much credit on his parents if he didn't." He had no patience with that class of parents, who were found in every Christian church, perhaps, with a fine bright boy under the influence of some Sabbath school teacher, whose love for childhood had bred in her pupil a knowledge of Christ, and then his parents declare they would rather wait until the child was old enough to understand. Teach childhood from its earliest knowledge of truth the danger of this great curse. A parent might as well allow his child, who had formed a habit of swearing, to continue it until 16 or 17 years of age, until he understood the meaning of his offense. The stages of the drunkard he compared to an army of five ranks. In front were the drunkards, and when they fell the excessive drinkers stepped into their places. Then came the moderate drinkers, the occasional drinkers, and lastly the youth of the country, from whose ranks the others were successively supplied. Hence the great necessity of winning the youth to the side of total abstinence. The word "temperance" in the States was so twisted and turned that he didn't know what it meant. He wanted no compromising about the word; it was total abstinence with him. (Applause.) He had no confidence in any temperance reform that was not based upon the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ; and he had no confidence in any religion that was not based upon total abstinence and the prohibition of the liquor traffic. (Applause.) When a man upheld the drinking custom and voted to license the dram shops, it was an act that produced and caused damnation to society, wrong for home and the loss of souls to heaven, for which God would hold him responsible.

BAPTISTS IN COUNCIL.

A Protest Against Dr. Fulton's Fiery Language.

Foreign Missions—Sunday Observance—State Aid—The Carey Centennial.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 21.—The Baptist Convention began the second week of its session yesterday morning. It was foreign missions day. A sensational incident was the condemnation of Dr. Fulton's address on Friday night by Dr. Murdoch, of St. George. Discussion of the missions to the Telugas in India occupied the afternoon and evening. At the morning session resolutions were adopted expressing sympathy with the Prisoners' Aid Association and reappointing the following committee: Rev. Elmore Harris, Principal Huston and Robert Hall. The convention accepted and adopted a pathetic resolutions of Christian condolence with the families of the late Revs. Reddick, Dr. Castle and Principal Gregor. It was voted that in future convention should begin on Tuesday.

Rev. Dr. Murdock, of St. George, said that he felt compelled to move a resolution which he introduced with great reluctance. It had reference to some remarks that had been made on Friday night by Dr. Fulton of Montreal. It was ruled that the resolution would have to go to the Resolutions Committee, and if they rejected it the brother could then appeal to the convention. At the afternoon session Dr. Murdock rose to a question of privilege. In the morning he had framed a very mild resolution in reference to certain points brought up on Friday evening. The chairman of the Resolutions Committee had very kindly intimated to him that the committee would not report the resolution, and he did not think he was violating any confidence when he said that it was not because the resolution was in any way from
