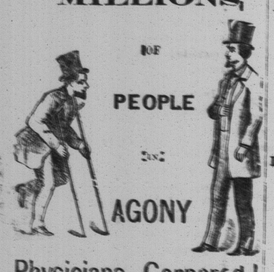
MILLIONS OF PEOPLE AGONY



Physicians Cornered!

I SUPPOSE there is not in the whole of a physician's experience, anything so human suffering which calls forth his sympathy, and gets, to such an extent, as he witness the excruciating pains of a poor mortal, suffering from that fearful disease.

RHEUMATISM!

Heretofore there has been a considerable diversity of opinion among medical men, as to the true character of this disease. Some leaning it in the fibrous or muscular tissues of the system, and others viewing it as an acute nervous disease; but it is now generally admitted to be a disease arising from a poison circulating in the blood, and further it is not a fixed that Rheumatism can never be thoroughly cured without eventuating such poisonous matters from the blood, by a constitutional internal remedy. We feel confident that none will feel better satisfied, and receive more, than the consumptive patient, who has found out that a cure for this scrofulous disease has been discovered. The following testimony from a gentleman of standing, and high respectability, a well known to the Canadian public, cannot fail to satisfy all that the

is a wonderful medical discovery.

MR. ISAACSON'S EXPOSITATION.

MONTREAL, 21st March, 1873.

Messrs. DOWNS & BURTON,

DEAR SIRS, I, with pleasure, concede to the agent's wish that I give my testimonial to the immediate relief I experienced from a few doses of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. As I have been a sufferer from the effects of Rheumatism, and now, after taking two bottles of this medicine, am entirely free from pain. You are at liberty to use this letter, if you think it advisable to do so.

I am, sirs, yours respectfully,

JOHN ISAACSON, N. P.

FURTHER PROOF.

I AM ANOTHER MAN!

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 29, 1874.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH,

Dear Sir,—I have suffered for fifteen months with Chronic Rheumatism, and could not find any relief, after trying every medicine that I saw advertised to cure it, until I was told about the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have used three bottles of this valuable remedy, and now can say that I am another man to what I was. I would advise anyone suffering with this terrible disease to try it, and see if it does not do the same for them that it did for me.

Yours,

JAMES L. DONNEY,
Dalhousie.

BARNES' HOTEL,

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 29, 1874.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH,

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in stating that I put every confidence in your Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have suffered for the last two years with Rheumatic Pains, during which time I have had the advice of some of the most prominent medical men in the Province, and experienced no relief, until I tried the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have now taken three bottles, and I feel greatly improved, and now am confident of a permanent cure.

Yours truly,

JAMES O'BRIEN.

There is no medicine which so promptly restores the depressed vital action, restores the general and local circulation, allays the pain, dissipates the congestion, prevents inflammation, and restores the healthy action as the

DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE!!

This medicine is for sale at all the druggists throughout Canada. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock ask him to send for it to

THE OLD BRIDGE AT FLORENCE

BY H. W. LONGFELLOW.

Taddeo Gaddi built me. I am old;
Five centuries old. I span my foot of stone
Upon the Arno, as St. Trinita its own
Was planned on the dragon. Fold by fold
Beneath me, as it struggles, I unfold
Its glittering scales. Twice hath it overthrown
My kindred and companions. Me alone
It moveth not, but is by me controlled.
I can remember when the Medici
Were driven from Florence: longer still ago
The final wars of Ghibelline and Guelf.
Florence adorns me with her jewelry:
And when I think that Michael Angelo
Hath leaned on me, I glory in myself.

THE KING OF NO LAND. (See 4th page.)

"The Disciples of Christ."

"The Disciples of Christ" form a numerous religious body, which is attaining great strength and influence in some of the Western States. The Disciples are distinguished as an organization for their missionary enterprise, their efforts for the extension and improvement of educational institutions, and their rapid increase in numbers. During the last 25 years they have held annually a missionary convention, the only national organization they have, to deliberate upon the best mode of conducting the missionary work and gaining proselytes. The efficiency of their system and the zeal and energy exercised in carrying it out are plainly shown in the rapid growth of the churches. Their determined efforts to perfect a plan of education have resulted in the establishment of various universities, colleges and schools. Their General Missionary Convention for 1874, organized recently in Cincinnati. The functions of this Convention are to establish and maintain missions, provide for the support of Bible societies, and transact such other business concerning the general interests of the churches as may present itself. The present session is to include the celebration of the completion of the first quarter of a century of the existence of the Convention. It is also intended to form a woman's missionary society. Besides the General Convention, there are several State associations, whose object is similar to that of the General Convention.

"The Disciples of Christ," known also as "Christians," "The Church of Christ," "Campbellites," etc., have their origin in one of several movements made in the early part of the present century for the union of all Protestant churches in one organization. One of these efforts was made in Kentucky, under the leadership of B. W. Jones, and another in Western Pennsylvania by Thomas Campbell and his son Alexander, in 1808. The Campbells are recognized as the founders of the Church of the Disciples. They sought to form a common basis of Christian union upon which all could stand. The Bible was made the only authoritative standard of faith and practice, liberality of opinion being allowed in all matters not clearly defined by Holy Writ. The new brotherhood was formed mainly with members from Presbyterian churches; but a subsequent declaration against infant baptism and sprinkling brought over a considerable number of Baptists. The Kentucky Society under Stone also united with the Disciples and still further augmented their numbers.

The Disciples reject creeds as bonds of fellowship, but are generally in accord with the leading doctrines of Christianity as held by evangelical churches. They have restored some of the practices of primitive Christians, among which is "baptism for the remission of sins," their belief being that through the institution of baptism the divine assurance of pardon is imparted. They also practice weekly communion. Of candidates for baptism they only require a confession "of simple trust or reliance on Christ as the Son of God and the Saviour of sinners." Each church is independent in government, all uniting, however, in the general missionary convention for the establishment of missions, the maintenance of Bible societies, and the promotion of denominational interests generally.

It is estimated that the Disciples number over 500,000 communicants. They are strongest in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, and Illinois. They have six weekly periodicals, 2 semi monthly, 1 quarterly, and 1 annual. They also have 12 academies and schools, 2 universities, and 14 colleges, of which four are for females. Their Sunday schools contain over 250,000 scholars.

The imperial dogs and cats, which are kept for the purpose of destroying rats and mice in the imperial stalls and stores in the German Empire, are fed at an expense of 12 500 thalers a year.

A man whose wife hung herself in his presence, on being asked why he did not prevent the tragedy, replied, "I went her down three times last week, and I can't be always cutting her down."

Six and a half feet of bride stood before the altar in a Paris church the other day, and promised to love, cherish and obey three feet and a quarter of bridegroom; and that is the long and short of it.

The unnatural boy, Jesse Pomeroy, has at last been found guilty of murder in the first degree. If there ever was a case where a person was possessed of the devil this is surely one. It is fortunate for him that he did not live in the time of the Puritans or he would probably have been burned at the stake.

One of the German S. S. companies is threatened with a heavy suit for damages. The injured party is a German nobleman who arrived at New York a few days ago. On the voyage his hat blew over board, and because the captain refused to stop the ship and send a boat's crew to pick it up, a suit is imminent. The nobleman said the hat was given him by his mother, and he would not have lost it for all the castles on the Rhine.

The election of Mr. Disraeli as Lord Rector of the University of Glasgow adds another to the roll of distinguished men who have enjoyed that honor. Among his predecessors were Burke, Adam Smith, Jeffrey, Brougham, Mackintosh, Peel, Macaulay, Lytton, Palmerston, and the present Earl Derby. Lord Macaulay's inaugural address, delivered in 1849, was one of the most brilliant oratorical performances of his life.

A BOOK FOR THE MILLION!

MARRIAGE GUIDE.

A Private Counselor to the Married, or those about to marry, on the physiological mysteries and revelations of the sexual system, with the latest discoveries in the science of reproduction, preserving the complexion, &c. This is an interesting work of 300 pages, for those who are married or contemplate marriage; still it is a book that ought to be under lock and key, and not left carelessly about the house. Sent to any one (post paid) for Fifty Cents. Address Dr. Butts' Dispensary, No. 12 N. Eighth st., St. Louis
