The market was quite large today; receipts of grain, vegetables, hay and fowls were good, while those of fruit, eggs and butter were not as large as usual.

Wheat sold steady, at $1 45 for good quality.

Oats were active and in good demand, at 75c for good stock, old or new. An odd lot of extra quality of old went over this price occasionally, and in one instance 80c was paid for black, grown in 1893. They were in remarkably good condition. The keeping seemed to have done them good rather than harm.

The demand for peas was good and the supply light; 70c was the usual price paid.

No corn offered.

Rye is quoted at 70c. There is not much coming in now, and very little being asked for.

Eggs were held much higher, 15c being asked retail, and 13c to 14c by the basket.

Butter sold at 18c to 20c for single rolls, and 16c to 18c by the basket; good crock brought 16c.

Meats were steady. Lamb sold at 8c to 9c by the quarter; beef at 3½c to 5½c, and mutton at 5c to 6c; trade was quiet and demand light.

Hides, skin and tallow steady; demand firm; prices unchanged.

Ducks were firmer, at 50c to 90c alive, and 70c to 80c dressed, for good stock only.

Apples were more plentiful and sold at $2 to $2 25 by the barrel, and 40c to $1 20 by the bag; the 40c apples were small Sweets, and poor quality.

Some local-grown grapes offered at 5c a pound; the imported stock sold at 10c to 30c a basket.

Peaches went from 25c to 45c per basket.

Pears, 15c to 20c a basket, and 90c to $1 20 per bushel.

Plums were higher, selling at 25c to 50c a basket.

Only a small number of Montreal buyers were present. Butchers' cattle sold at from 3¼c to 3½c; ordinary export sold as high as 4¼c. Export bulls sold at 2½c to 4c. Canadian Produce.

Our Bacon On the Top to Stay in Great Britain.

Contradictory Views as to the Outlook for Cheese—Ontario Eggs for British Columbia.

CANADIAN BACON IN DEMAND.

The London correspondent of the Trade Bulletin writes: There is not enough Canadian bacon on the market. I don't wish to blow too much about this, but will quote a leading authority to show that others begin to share my views: "Canadian is in brisk demand, and so popular is the brand becoming that this week's arrival cannot half fill the demand, and all orders have to be cut down." Yes, Canadian bacon has come to stay; 58s to 60s, 55s to 58s, and 52s to 56s, shows its complete gradient. The finest bacon ever cured in this country cannot get more than 6s higher than the top for Canadian, nor can the boasted Danish do any better. Let it be sent along and it can be sold.

EGGS FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Inquiries have been made for a carload of eggs for shipment to British Columbia, but the Bullettin has not heard whether the sale has been put through or not. A great deal will no doubt depend upon the limits given the party in Montreal. There have been sales in the west, however, for the Northwest and the coast, 3 cars being purchased in Chatham, 2 cars in St. Marys, and 1 car in Waterloo, Ont.

THE BUTTER TRADE.

The receipts of butter at Montreal keep heavy, amounting to 100,495 packages during the past four weeks, while the shipments in that time have only amounted to 77,358, being 23,139 packages less than the receipts. The market for creamery is very quiet, and it would be difficult to get 19½c for export; in fact, the Bulletin hears of sales of last half of August make at 19c to 19¼c, aggregating about 2,000 packages. A lot of choice New York State creamery was sold at 19c laid down in Montreal in bond. The stocks of butter in Montreal are still liberal, being about 25,000 to 30,000 packages, a considerable proportion of which is American produce. In dairy butter there has been some demand, with sales of between 300 to 400 tubs reported at 13c to 13½c, the quality being late make.

CHEESE HAS A DEMORALIZED LOOK.

The Bulletin says:

In listening to the opinions and arguments of the great majority of dealers and shippers, one would come to the conclusion that the cheese market was on the ragged edge of a tremendous collapse, and that it was about to plunge into the throes of a demoralization, from which recovery would be a long and tedious process. And really, it must be admitted that, judging from the factors which appear to govern the situation, it seems difficult to see how the market can be saved from going to smash. With a stock of 350,000 to 400,000 stored in this city, among which is probably 30,000 to 40,000 boxes held on factorymen's account with the heaviest fall make on record, and few orders coming from the other side, the outlook has unquestionably a dark-blue tinge. Admitting all this, however, must it not be conceded that the course of the cheese market this season has gone directly contrary to the views of every one in the trade on this side of the Atlantic? Is it not beyond question that values persisted in taking an upward course until about two weeks ago in direct opposition to the reiterated predictions of an inevitable depreciation? The future of cheese does look particularly gloomy; but, should it escape the adverse doom which seems to await it, it will be no more wonderful than the contrary feats it has already performed this season. The big stocks held here are almost exclusively held for English account, as none of our local firms believed in cheese at the prices paid. And yet, blue as the situation appears, some of the biggest bears on cheese had to admit this morning on 'Change that in order to fill orders, full figures would have to be paid, that is 9¾c to 9⅞c for finest western; and in order to fill an order for finest French cheese 9⅝c was actually paid on this market today; and we are only stating facts which cannot be gainsaid when we report sales over the cables of finest western August at 48s to 49s, c. i. f. Liverpool; and finest Septembers at 51s, c. i. f. Liverpool. The above are amonly indisputable facts of the cheese market which our readers can chew, digest and reconcile as best they can.

A LONG LIST!

This Whole Column Would Not Contain the Names of the Many Prominent Ministers, Members of Parliament and Professional Men All Over This Continent Who Have Been Cured of Catarrh by Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder—It Gives Relief in 10 Minutes.

Volumes of testimony have been written of its curative powers. Catarrh is an aggravating malady, insignificant in its beginning—a little cold in the head; neglect it and soon you're in its thrall. Eighty in every hundred have the taint. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder will cure the slightest cold in the head, and cure the most stubborn case of catarrh. "Its action is instantaneous," says one. "I feel it my duty to recommend it to the public," says another. "Never got relief until I used it," says another, and so on and so on. Acts like magic and always cures.

Mount Brydges.

Caradoc Felt the Force of Thursday's Storm Severely.

Mr. David Thomas' Heavy Loss—The Oil Prospect.

Mount Brydges, Sept. 17.—The storm which broke over this community yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock resulted disastrously for Mr. David Thomas, of con. 3, Caradoc, about three-quarters of a mile from this village. His fine barn and granary were totally destroyed by fire, caused by lightning. The granary contained about 700 bushels of grain, some of which was saved by the neighbors who carried it out in bags, boxes and barrels. Mr. Thomas was away to the Fair in London, and left Mr. Thos. Snelgrove working on the farm, when the rain started. Mr. Snelgrove brought the horses in from the field and put them in the stable, which is under the barn, and took shelter there himself, when a terrific crack of thunder came, and instantly he saw the flash in the barn which set the place on fire. He succeeded in saving the working team of horses, but a valuable driving horse was burned to death, as it was impossible to get it out. He next ran and opened the pig pen, and liberated five fine hogs. One could not be driven out and was burned. It was thought that the house would go, as a strong wind was blowing the flames toward it at the time, and it received a bad scorching, but by hard work it was saved. While the men were working at the barn the women were busy carrying the furniture out of the house. Mr. Thomas was insured in the Caradoc Mutual. The loss is not known definitely at present, but will be considerable.

Rev. Thos. Jackson and wife, of Fingal, paid a visit to Mount Brydges yesterday, calling on old friends, who were pleased to see them again.

The following visitors are in town: Mr. and Mrs. John Burgess and son, of Burford, are visiting Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Burgess' mother. Mr. and Mrs. Martin, of Capac, Mich., are renewing old acquaintances.

The brethren of St. John's Lodge, A., F. and A. M., will listen to their annual sermon in the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Bro. Rev. J. E. Holmes will preach.

The oil well is down about 460 feet. It is proposed, if the necessary money can be raised, to bore to the depth of at least 600 feet, and thus make a thorough test. Oil experts says the indications are favorable, and a good flow of the greasy is expected in a few days.

The office of postmaster in Mount Brydges will be vacant soon, as Mr. Pearce intends to remove to London, where his family are already. His goods were moved last week.

Wheat has been coming in very fast the last few days, and farmers are beginning to wear a broad smile, as nearly everything they have to sell is bringing a good price.

The W. C. T. U. elected the following officers at their last meeting: President, Miss B. Pilkey; vice-presidents, Mrs. Abray and Mrs. Bateman; corresponding secretary, Miss London; recording secretary, Miss A. Pilkey; treasurer, Mrs. Bice. After the meeting adjourned the retiring president, Mrs. (Dr.) Bice, invited the members to her residence, when, after a bountiful tea, a pleasant and profitable evening was spent. The annual county convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held at Mount Brydges on Oct. 1.

Mount Brydges Lodge, No. 217, I. O. O. F., intend paying a return visit to Ilderton Lodge of Oddfellows on the evening of Oct. 7.

Toronto, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Maud Campbell-Taylor has entered an action against Mrs. Florence Hardwell for $20,000 damages for the alleged alienation of the affections of the plaintiff's husband, Harry Taylor, and for alleged illicit intercourse.

Mrs. Taylor is a daughter of Mrs. Campbell, of the Grand Union Hotel, and her husband was for some time clerk of that establishment. Mrs. Hardwell is the wife of Mr. James A. Hardwell, of the Grand Trunk Railway, and they boarded last winter at the Grand Union. The action is against the separate estate of Mrs. Hardwell.

STARTLING OCCURRENCE

A Montreal Man Drops Dead on the Street While Quarreling With His Wife.

Montreal, Sept. 18.—A peculiar occurrence took place in the north end of the city last night. George Waldron, 65 years old, who has been separated from his wife for some time, but has persisted in annoying her, tried to get into her house at 517 St. Urbain street. She and a friend, thinking he had gone, went to make a purchase at a store, and she had to shut the store door to prevent his attempted embrace. Finally he succeeded, and she struck him over the head with a cane which she carries on account of her lameness. He followed her across the street, but dropped dead in the middle of it. The woman is under arrest.

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST AN ACTOR.

New York, Sept. 18.—Augustus Cook, an actor, who supported Kathryn Kidder as Napoleon in "Madame Sans Gene," and who has more recently been in the cast of the "Circus Girl," at Daly's, was arrested today on a charge of having tried to kill his wife, his baby and a nurse. Neighbors in the same apartment house heard an uproar and interfered. Mrs. Cook and the nurse were cut slightly, but no weapon was found.

SOLDIERS GOING TO THE GOLD REGION.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 18.—Lieut.-Col. George F. Randall, Eighth United States Infantry, stationed here, received orders last night from the war department to start within a week with 25 enlisted men and two officers for St. Michaels, Alaska. Col. Randall and his command will remain at St. Michaels until spring and then proceed to the upper Yukon country and establish a United States military post near the Alaska-British boundary line.

THE YUKON GOLD FIELDS

How Best to Reach and Outfit for the Klondike and Stewart River Gold Diggings

As much has been written concerning the Yukon gold fields, especially those of the Klondike and Stewart river districts of that country, and with the view of imparting as correct and reliable information as it is possible, the following, prepared by the Vancouver, British Columbia, Board of Trade, can be relied upon as being implicitly correct:

The city of Vancouver by reason of its geographical position being the most northerly port on the American continent, and the terminus of the greatest transcontinental railway—the Canadian Pacific, with connections with the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways, traversing the United States—possesses unrivalled advantages for handling the trade to the Yukon the Klondike and Stewart river mining districts.

Vancouver is the Pacific coast terminus and headquarters in the northwest of the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is likewise the home port for the famous Pacific ocean Empress line of royal mail steamers, plying direct between this port and China and Japan. It is likewise the home port for the Huddart-Australian and New Zealand royal mail steamship line, calling at Honolulu, the Fiji Islands, and Wellington, New Zealand, going and returning from Sydney in New South Wales. Every fifth day one of the fine steamers belonging to the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, calls at and departs from Vancouver. A daily line plys between Vancouver and Nanaimo and Vancouver and Victoria, while the staunch steamers Sehome and Utopia make twice a week trips to Seattle and other Sound ports. Passengers and freight from all parts of the continent can be landed in Vancouver by rail without having to endure the slightest inconvenience or breaking bulk. From all parts of the globe passengers and their effects can reach Vancouver by modern and elegantly equipped steamships. All this goes to show that Vancouver is one of the most important points on the Pacific slope. Vessels leave Vancouver regularly direct for Dyea, Skaguay and other northern ports.

Parties for the mines can be equipped in Vancouver with every requisite from gold pans to canoes or boats, to carry the voyager along the rivers and lakes of the interior of that country. Vancouver's merchants carry everything required by the miner in the way of groceries, provisions, clothing, hardware or other lines of manufacture, at such rates as will enable all classes of buyers, whether possessed of large or small means, to obtain the best value for their money. In no place on this continent can purchases be made to greater advantage than in Vancouver. The prices are lower than elsewhere on the west coast, and much below what it would cost to buy the same goods in the East, and ship them here; whilst the best grades in all classes of goods are kept in stock. These goods are landed fresh from the warehouses on to the decks of the steamers without any extra cost to the purchasers. Vancouver being, in fact, the nearest port to the Klondike gold fields and offering everything that the miner desires or can wish for—except the nuggets—the Yukon—the members of which to outfit. They will be passed into Canadian territory free of customs duties. Intending purchasers and those going to the Yukon gold fields will do well to remember these facts.

LETTERS TO THE ADVERTISER.

MR. ATTWOOD'S VOW.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

In The Advertiser of Sept. 13, Mr. A. C. Atwood reports himself being in the city closing a purchase of the Tindal farm. He lost that land 40 years ago on a bending speculation in the good city of London, and with his brother, P. H. Atwood, became insolvent. He said he made a resolve to get the property back; so after 40 years he gets 50 acres back. There is still 155 acres that belonged to the Atwood estate, of which I own 105, and hardly desire to have brought under his rash vow. A. C. Atwood is now 63 years old. At the same rate of purchase, how old will my good friend be when the last acre of his resolve is deeded back? If The Advertiser fails in getting an answer, the question might be sent up to the School of Pedagogues at Ottawa or Toronto.

REBEL VICTORY IN GUATEMALA.

New York, Sept. 18.—A dispatch from Panama says: According to advices just received by way of San Salvador, the city of Quezaltenango, in Guatemala, has been captured by the rebels. For 24 hours the garrison there held the city by hard fighting, but the rebel force was so much greater that they were forced to surrender. Immediately following the surrender the main body of the garrison joined the insurgent ranks. The rebels are now moving on Champerico.

TO WED THE MAN SHE BLINDED.

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 18.—Miss Susie Dennehey, who dashed vitriol in the eyes of her sweetheart, Thomas Kelliher, while in a jealous rage, a few weeks ago, will wed her almost sightless and disfigured victim. There were tears in the eyes of Miss Dennehey as she observed him being led about the court room by his sister. Kelliher, who had just left the hospital, was driven to his home, accompanied by his sister and Miss Dennehey. She pleaded not guilty.

Our Registered Mark.

The words "Pan-Dried" as applied to Rolled Oats are our registered trade mark.

It admits of no infringement — yet because "Pan-Dried" has become so popular you may be induced to try some other brand said to be "just as good" as

Pan-Dried Rolled Oats

but cheaper in price than TILLSON'S brand.

Please remember this though—pan-drying is expensive. If the cost to you is less than the price of Tillson's brand you are probably buying an inferior quality of oats.

You will probably find black specks and hulls in the "just as good," too.
