BYLAW No.

To change the names of certain streets in the City of London.

Whereas, Hellmuth avenue has been opened up as a continuation of College avenue, between Oxford street and St. James street;

And whereas, there is another College avenue in the City of London, between St. George street and Richmond street;

And whereas, ratepayers on St. Patrick street have requested the Council of the Corporation of the City of London to have the name of St. Patrick street, changed to Gerard street;

And whereas, ratepayers on South street are desirous of having the name of the said street changed:

And whereas Shoebottom street and Thornton avenue are two short streets connected together;

And whereas, ratepayers on Beech street (sometimes known as Cavendish street), in the second ward, have requested the Council of the Corporation of the City of London to have the name of the same changed to Bedford street; and, by reason thereof, it is expedient to change the names of the said streets, as hereinafter provided;

And whereas, this council has, by a vote in favor of this bylaw of at least three-fourths of the whole council, decided to make the changes hereinafter mentioned:

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of London, subject to the approval of the Judge of the County Court of the County of Middlesex, as provided for by section 582 of "The Consolidated Municipal Act, 1903," as follows:

1.—That College avenue, between Oxford street and St. James street, shall hereafter be called and known as Hellmuth avenue, and the name of the said street is hereby changed accordingly.

2.—That St. Patrick street, in the second ward, shall hereafter be called and known as Gerard street, and the name of the said street is hereby changed accordingly.

3.—That South street, in the third ward, shall hereafter be called and known as Ottway avenue, and the name of the said street is hereby changed accordingly.

4.—That Shoebottom street, in the fourth ward, shall hereafter be called and known as Thornton avenue, and the name of the said street is hereby changed accordingly.

5.—That Beech street (sometimes known as Cavendish street), in the second ward, shall hereafter be called and known as Bedford street, and the name of the said street is hereby changed accordingly.

6.—That the City Solicitor be and he is hereby directed to take the proceedings necessary to obtain the approval of the said Judge to the said changes, pursuant to the provisions of "The Consolidated Municipal Act, 1903," and if such approval be obtained, to procure the registration of this bylaw, with the certificate of the said Judge, under the provisions of the said section of the said act.

Passed in open council this .... day of ....., A. D. 1905, by a vote of at least three-fourths of the whole council.

Clerk. Mayor.

I, Talbot Macbeth, Judge of the County Court of the County of Middlesex, do hereby, on the application of the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of London, appoint Friday the 7th day of November, A. D. 1905, at my chambers, in the Court House, in the City of London, at the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon, as the time and place for considering the bylaw of the City of London, to change the names of certain streets in the City of London, passed a first and second time on the second day of October, A. D. 1905, and for hearing the advocates of the change, and also any persons who deem themselves aggrieved thereby, and desire to be heard, and any other persons whom I may think fit.

Dated this 14th day of October, A. D. 1905. TALBOT MACBETH.

A Bunch of Sunspots.

San Jose, Cal., Oct. 23.—Rev. Father Joseph Rickard, S.J., the Santa Clara College astronomer, announced last night the result of his observations of a group of sunspots, the discovery of which was noted several days ago. Professor Rickard calculates the length of the entire group at 144,145 miles, with a width of 115,532 miles. The astronomer announces increased solar activity, with a probability that two new spots, first noted last Friday, will exceed in size any hitherto observed.

MOROCCAN SULTAN LOSES UPPER HAND

Departure of Ambassadors Is Last Stroke—France Will Give Venezuela Time to Ponder.

Paris, Oct. 22.—Information has been received here that Count Von Tattenbach-Ashold, the German minister at Fez, and M. Strene Taillandier, the French minister at the same capital, are about to depart together from Fez.

This marks the practical termination of the sultan's direct control of Moroccan affairs and the beginning of the powers' assumption of authority by means of international conferences. The Franco-German accord stipulated that both ministers should withdraw, but their actual departure closes the sultan's opportunity for further communicating, directly with the governments through the ministers. The result is not calculated to fulfill Morocco's hopes, which were aroused to a high pitch by Emperor William's visit to Tangier, and the assurances of German protection. The sultan has now recognized that the international conference subjects Morocco practically to the same foreign control as the French programme.

The officials say that Premier Rouvier's departure for Madrid with President Loubet for 10 days, indicates that no change in the Venezuelan situation is likely to occur in the near future. All now depends on President Castro's willingness to withdraw his offensive action towards M. Taigny, the French charge d'affaires at Caracas, and considerable time will be given him before instructions are sent to the squadron now gathering at Fort de France, Island of Martinique.

M. Delcasse, the former minister, Saturday made his first public appearance since his resignation, presiding at the Franco-Spanish congress called to encourage the construction of the proposed trans-Pyrenees Railway, to link Spain and France. The former minister received an encouraging and enthusiastic welcome, but made no allusion to the recent controversy over the reversal of his pro-British and anti-German policy. The congress adopted M. Delcasse's resolution applauding the Pyrenees line as a practical means of strengthening the bonds between the two countries.

A delegation representing the two French banks is now at St. Petersburg arranging the terms for the new Russian loan. The negotiations involve much detail incident to the new conditions arising from the termination of the war. An unofficial report says the issue will take place early in November, and that the total will be $250,000,000, of which France will take $150,000,000, Germany $80,000,000, and Great Britain and the United States $20,000,000 each.

The departure of Miles, Sapy and Amieu inaugurates the Sorbonne's plan of awarding free trips around the world to women making the best record in their studies. Miles. Sapy and Amieu go first to the United States, where Columbia and other universities affiliated with the Sorbonne will receive them. Later they will make tours of China, Japan and India, returning to Paris in six months.

Parliament will be asked to offer a $500,000 prize for a cure for consumption. The project has the approval of the government, and therefore its adoption is assured. It is expected that the prize will stimulate research in time for the result to be announced at the next tuberculosis congress in Washington.

The Chinese minister has received instructions from the emperor to investigate and report on the local systems for electrical lighting, locomotion and telephone communication.

MURDERER CAPTURED

Man Held at Paterson for the Middletown Triple Crime.

Middletown, Oct. 22.—Under detention in the Paterson (N. J.) jail is a man who is suspected of the triple murder at the Onley farm near this city on Friday, Oct. 6. The fellow was arrested at Ridgetown and taken to Paterson and locked up.

It was learned that the man whose name is not given out by the authorities, was wanted at Paterson for robbery and he was turned over to the New Jersey officials to await trial.

The information which led to the arrest was furnished by Mrs. Ingerick, whose little daughter, Alice, was brutally murdered with Willis C. and Fred Onley, and who herself received two fractures of the skull at the hands of the murderer. Mrs. Ingerick has been in Thrall Hospital in this city for two weeks, and since regaining consciousness persisted in saying she knew nothing of the murders.

On Thursday she was told of the death of her child and all the details of the triple murder, and it is believed that she then broke down and told all she knew, which has resulted in the arrest of the man in the Paterson jail.

This man was employed as a farm-hand near the Onley farm, and disappeared at the time of the murder. Detectives believe he had an accomplice, and that after the murder the two separated. They are confident of getting the second man.

The man in the Paterson jail will be held there for some time, ostensibly on the charge of robbery, but really to await the capture of his accomplice, when requisition papers will be asked for.

Etruria Rescues Crew on Atlantic in "Nick of Time."

London, Oct. 22.—The officers and crew of the Swedish barge Orion, bound for St. Johns and Halifax, arrived at Liverpool today on the Etruria which rescued them a day's sail from New York. When sighted her sails were torn to ribbons, her rigging in tatters, and her bulwarks smashed. The vessel lay so low in the water that the waves swept her deck.

a forlorn one. The first officer of the running made any attempt at rescue a forlorn one. The first officer of the Etruria called for volunteers, and rescued the crew amid the cheers of the passengers.

The captain of the Orion stated that they were 50 days out from Spain when they encountered a series of heavy gales. The tremendous seas constantly covered the main deck and prevented them from working the ship. They had been unable to cook their food for a fortnight, and during that time lived on tinned food, biscuits and cold water. Their clothing and bedding was drenched, and for weeks they were able to get sleep only occasionally.

"THIRD DEGREE" FAILED

Pinkertons Unable to "Sweat" Information From Cunliffe.

Pittsburg, Oct. 22.—Edward G. Cunliffe, who stole $101,000 from the Adams Express Company, and who was captured in Thursday at Bridgeport, Conn., was taken up on his arrival from the east to the local office of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, where he was put through a process of "sweating" by officers, that lasted many hourse. Whether it was productive, and disclosed the whereabouts of the remaining $11,000, could not be learned. Several newspaper men were permitted to visit him, to whom he said: "The Pinkertons put me through a terrible racking experience of about eight hours."

Notwithstanding Cunliffe's severe examination, it is said no additional admissions were secured from him. He was exceedingly aggravated when he learned that nearly $10,000 more had been recovered.

It is believed he will remain stubborn about the remainder of the missing money.

Rumors of ill-treatment said to have been accorded Cunliffe during the examination are persistent. While it is known food was taken into the room, it has not been learned whether he partook of it.

One feature of the "third degree" system is that of eating food before a hungry prisoner.

GROWTH OF MONTREAL

An Increase Last Year of $13,000,000 in Real Estate.

Montreal, Oct. 22.—The civic assessors' report, which was issued Saturday shows that there has been an increase in value in real estate of the city of Montreal during the year of over thirteen million
