HAIR CAME OUT IN HANDFULS

Scalp in Very Bad Condition. Dandruff Could be Seen Plainly. Lost Most of Hair. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

42 Lippincott St., Toronto, Ontario.—"About a year ago I had a very bad attack of typhoid and my scalp was in a very bad condition. The dandruff could be seen plainly and I lost most of my hair. My hair fell out gradually, but after having it shampooed it came out in handfuls. I used Cuticura Soap to shampoo my hair, then rubbed the Cuticura Ointment into the scalp. The dandruff was very soon removed and my hair stopped falling out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me." (Signed) Miss E. Chamberlain, Mar. 31, 1912.

HANDS COVERED WITH ECZEMA

Anse du Cap, Quebec.—"About one year ago my daughter had her hands covered with eczema. It broke out in a rash. She was unable to put her hands in water and she used to scratch them until they were red and inflamed and cracked and used to bleed. She was unable to sleep by spell from the pain and burning. We tried several remedies without receiving any relief. After she began washing with Cuticura Soap and applying Cuticura Ointment she got relief at once and after ten days' treatment was entirely cured.

"My baby when teething, broke out with pimples on her face. After three days' treatment of Cuticura Soap she was cured." (Signed) Mad. D. Coubure, Feb. 12, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. For a liberal free sample of each, with 32-p. book, send post-card to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 50D, Boston, U. S. A.

How Suffragettes Are Fed

LONDON TIMES AVERS THAT THE PROCESS IS NOT SEVERE.

London, April 21.—This is the procedure in the forcible feeding of suffragettes as described by a medical inspector, whose report is cited in the London Times:

Miss Lenton was not tied into a chair, but a sheet was thrown around her body and she was restrained by officers. Her head was not dragged across the back of her chair by her hair. This is not the usual method of restraining these prisoners. They are restrained by women officers, and if the resistance is very great and violent, by an attendant controlling each limb—that is four officers. Another officer holds the head by placing the hands on each side of the patient's head and a sixth officer would be in charge of the food. The tube was not forced through the nose twice, but passed only once, and that without difficulty, the tube passing to the usual distance. About half a pint of nourishment was given."

NA-DRU-CO LAXATIVES

are entirely different from others both in their composition and their effect—complete evacuation without purging or discomfort.

NEW SUFFRAGE SECRETARY; MRS. LEWIS RESIGNED

Owing to the fact that she is obliged to leave town, Mrs. Arthur Lewis, secretary of the Calgary Suffrage society has resigned her position in the society. At a committee meeting held yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Arthur Farley, on Thirteenth avenue, Mrs. Lewis stated that she was willing to do all she could in the interest of the society, and in the autumn hoped that there would be plenty of work for herself and all members, but meantime she wished someone else to take over the duties of secretary. After some discussion Mrs. Arthur Farley was unanimously elected secretary in Mrs. Lewis' place. With regard to the election result Mrs. Lewis stated that she did not consider that the women had suffered defeat. Like the others, she was sorry that the votes had not seen fit to put in power three such excellent men as the Liberal candidates who, besides being pledged to back the women's interests, had proved themselves worthy to represent Calgary, but the suffrage question had not, she asserted, been a failure, nor had the women's work gone for nothing. Each day, she continued, she was receiving questions from men and women, whose interest had been awakened by the recent campaign and she announced herself confident that from now on the Equal Rights movement would continue to prosper, and by educating the people to the need of votes for women, before long the necessary legislation would be obtained.

There is to be a special meeting of the society this afternoon at 3:30 in the library, when Mr. John Z. White, the well known American orator, will address the meeting on "Suffrage for Women." The regular monthly meeting will be held on Friday, May 2, also in the library, when Miss Coutts will speak on "Equal Pay for Equal Work."

The society is now in a flourishing condition, having a large number of working members, two of whom, Dr. Ethel Stewart and Mrs. Polly have become life members.

MAIL ORDER BRIDE TURNS DOWN RANCHER AT SIGHT.

Wenatchee, April 21.—When a rancher who owns a quarter section near Brief, in the upper Entiat valley, journeyed to this city today to claim a bride, he met with a sad disappointment, for she turned him down at first sight.

Two months ago this young woman, who is one of the handsomest brunettes in Wenatchee, advertised in a San Francisco matrimonial paper. The rancher answered it. For a month very warm letters passed. He felt so much encouraged that he ordered a new suit of clothes from a mail order house, paying $23.35 in advance. He could not wait for the new clothes, so came here wearing his working duds. This was the fatal mistake.

He called on the young lady, and immediately asserted his proprietory interest. He was stunned when she said:

"I was only joking. I do not want to marry anybody. Give me back my letters this instant."

"Give back your letters—nothing!" shrieked the irate rancher. "This is no joke. You sent me your regards marry me. I've already spent $23.35 for a suit to get married in.'

He then visited police headquarters, where he told his troubles. The chief sent for an attorney, who gave the love-lorn rancher this advice:

"Better give her up. You might possibly force her to marry you, but a woman who marries a man against her will generally makes life wretched for him ever afterward."

"Well," said he reluctantly, "if I had money enough I wouldn't let her slip. Just look at these letters."

The young lady wrote she would him in all the farm work, for, while she had always lived in town, she had visited her uncle on his big ranch many times. Her only fear was of a cow when it looked straight at her. She gave her address where she lives with her parents. She particularly requested him not to divulge this information, but expressed no other fear that they would not marry except that she might not look good enough to him.

DUCHESS ADELAIDE OF BEDFORD SCORNS LAW

Won't Pay Taxes While Women Are Without a Franchise

London, April 21. — Distraint was levied today upon Duchess Adelaide of Bedford, an ardent suffragist, for nonpayment of her taxes. A silver cup was taken to satisfy the claims of the tax collector.

The duchess took this means of showing her hostility to the taxation of women while they are still without the franchise.

GIRL SOLD FOR BRIDE.

Fifteen-Year-Old Daughter Accuses Father of Taking Money.

Wilmington, Del., April 21.—A 15-year-old girl, Teresa Sasso, complained today to the Wilmington police that her father had sold her in marriage, taking a sum of money from Antonio Cotillo in her presence and that her father compelled her to go through a ceremony. The chief of police said he had ascertained that Cotillo paid the father $130.

DO WOMEN NEED TEA TO INDUCE VOTING?

Tacoma, April 21.—Whether women register of their own scoord, or go to teh city hall for afternoon tea and to listen to talks on proposed bond issues, and register as a side issue, is not the question, so long as they register. This point was brought out in a discussion at the Presidents' council following a suggestion by the George Junior Republic, represented by Mrs. Frank Buchanan, that Tacoma women serve tea and cakes in the council chamber of the city hall all this week thus drawing out the delinquent women who have so far failed to register.

"We consulted with Mayor Seymour," Mrs. Buchanan said, "and we found him heartily in accord with any reasonable plan to stimulate the interest of women in their duty to the city. He was so eager to co-operate with us that he suggested the city demonstrate one of its new electric stoves, furnishing the stove, current and demonstrator for every afternoon next week. We urge that Tacoma women join enthusiastically in our plan to get the full quota on the registration books."

Daily Lectures Suggested.

Exception was taken to the suggestion and it was dubbed "ridiculous." However, the preponderance of sentiment seemed to be in favor of getting the negligent down to the city hall. When it was urged that those well advised on the subject would give daily lectures on different phases of the bond issue, the suggestion was given more serious consideration.

Suffragettes Still Busy

BRITISH PETROLEUSES THREATEN GREAT PAPER; HOLYROOD PALACE HAS BEEN DAMAGED.

London, April 21.—A militant suffragette plot to burn the office of the "Standard" newspaper, an anti-suffragette sheet, has been revealed to Scotland Yard. The police have taken stringent preventive measures.

Edinburgh, April 21.—Holyrood Palace has been so damaged by suffragettes that it is now closed to the British public. The time is not far away when the indignant populace will take these wild women in hand and treat them as they. If it is a justification for burning down the home of a man that he does not favor woman suffrage, why is it not a justification for burning down a woman's home that she does favor it?

"Those Horrid Men!"

MERE MALES DON'T FURNISH ENOUGH MUSIC, SO SUFFRAGETTES WILL TOOT.

Washington, April 21.—Men musicians—characterized as "horrid things" because they failed to furnish sufficient music in the two recent suffragette parades—will not be tolerated longer by the suffragists, for the suffragists will organize their own band of sixty pieces. The band will furnish music at all outdoor and other meetings and march proudly at the head of future "Votes for Women" processions.

Mrs. Estelle Lons, a local composer and musician, has undertaken the organization of the band. Already several recruits have been secured. The creation o fthe uniforms for the players now is being considered and it is announced that the organization will be strikingly costumed.

JANITOR UNDER GIRL'S BED

Orange, April 21.—John Hunt, janitor of the Allendale apartments at 247 William street, East Orange, was dragged from under a bed which had been occupied by a thirteen year old girl, niece of Jefferson A. Winslow, who lives in the house. Hunt had a revolver and a blackjack, the police say. The little girl had awakened her uncle and aunt after smelling gas.

NO MORE "LOVERS' NOOKS"

Evanston, Ill., April 21.—There will be no "bunny hugs" or other hugs in Evanston moving picture shows if the women of that town can help it. Mrs. W. A. Locy headed a women's committee yesterday to interview William Ullrich, who is building the new "movies." They demanded a system of indirect lighting, which would distinctly outline every spectator. Mr. Ulrich agreed, and the women announced they would interview Bodkin & Keane, prospective owners of the theatre.

Pittsburg, April 21.—William Montgomery, who wrecked the Allegheny National bank in 1909, is back from Leavenworth prison. Montgomery, former confidant of Senator Quay, was the last bank wrecker to enjoy the Taft pardon.

'PRINCE OF PILSEN' IS THE REAL THING

Fills Sherman Grand With A Delighted Audience; Jess Dandy Much of the Show.

It really doesn't matter whether you were or not, for the query has grown time-honored, and when "Jess" Dandy asks it you just have to laugh.

"Vass you effer in iZnzinnati?" "Jess" Dandy asks yod, with a sputter like a spark plug missing fire, and you laugh as you have—if you've been lucky enough—for the last ten years, ever since "The Prince of Pilsen" and his excellent musical beverage first foamed its way to popularity. Ten years! It's like old wine instead of the Cincinnati beverage, for it improves with age. The music and the book and the lyrics endure—they have become a classic now in musical comedy circles, and we all like to see classical plays—of "The Prince of Pilsen" type. That is why the Sherman Grand was packed last night, and will be tonight and Wednesday.

"Jess" Dandy is the same old entertainer. He has changed a little. Nightly douches in the fountain seem to have added, if possible, to his good humor and to his avoirdupois. He splashes around in that fountain for ten riotously funny minutes, and early in the game he has his audience tamed and is leading them around by a risible ear. And the famous query—'Jess" Dandy is the man who put the natty in Zinzin.

The rest of the cast is good. Miss Lottie Kendall, good natured and buoyant, as the widow, wears dashing gowns and really divides honors with Dandy. Frederick Lyon has a splendid voice and looks handsome as Lieutenant Wagner. Miss Mary Murray is good as Edith Adams, and Bernard Ferguson looks the real Prince of Pilsen, Campbell Duncan gave a good caricature of the stage Englishman, which was not overdone. Miss Evelyn Hall Mead as Miss Vancouver Sunshine is as pretty as the proverbial picture.

The chorus is young and snappy—the men's voices, too, are excellent—and the mounting and costumes are fresh and lavish as Sherge officiers always are.

Talking Motion Pictures at the Grand Thursday.

Manager Baker is bustling around and carries a happy smile all over. Thursday's bill will mark the first appearance of the "talkies" in Calgary, and the regular bill will have Madame Olga Petrova as its headliner. Patrons have been looking forth to the initial showing of the Edison kinetophone in this city, and at last they are to be satisfied.

Madame Petrova is noted for her rapid rise to the fore. She awoke one morning to find her name blazing in the electric lights of Broadway, and ever since that time she has been a star of the first magnitude. She was the star of "The Quaker Girl" for a short time, and then, feeling that her forte was vaudeville, joined the Martin Beck forces. Her success has been so marked that it will be a long time before she ceases to be one of the stars of that impressario's collection.

Daniel Frohman has finally joined the ranks of the vaudeville producers, and his initial effort will be one of the bright spots in the new bill. It is a playlet of the "crook" variety, and was written originally by Percival Knight, star of the company that presented "The Arcadians" for the actor's benefit, which was nothing but the very cream of the best features.

Then many are liable to look upon Flavilla as the star of the bill—she would be a star if she were only a little older. Her act is a very pretty combination of dancing and accordeon playing.

Bogert and Brown come to the Orpheum with a reputation to uphold of being just about the funniest pair on the vaudeville stage. They entertain for twenty minutes with a sketch that is full of laugh-creating nonsense, entitled "The Busiest Day of His Life."

The Woods Trio present a wire-walking act that is a delightful departure from the hackneyed act of its kind, and is incorporated into a bright little sketch, entitled "An Elopement by Wire."

At times the air appears to be filled with flying objects when the Juggling Cromwells are working, and there are only two of them, a man and a woman. So cleverly do they work that there is more or less doubt about the sex of the latter.

Sam Leibert, one of the funniest ever, supported by a fine company of comedy artists, complete the bill with a novel offering.

Faithful Feline Arouses Him Daily at 3 a.m

Boston, April 21.—John Jerndahl, a Swedish patternmaker, who lives in Cambridge, declares he has not slept more than three hours a night for four years. The other 21 hours he works, and he is perfectly healthy.

Instead of having an alarm clock, Mr. Jerndahl has taught the family cat to awake him every morning at 3 o'clock, and then, after a meal of bread, butter and coffee, he makes art objects from twigs and branches until it is time for him to go to work in an East Goshen foundry. Then he labors from 7 a. m. until 6 p. m. and nightly after supper he manufacturers his rustic art objects until midnight.

"I have never been ill a day since I went on the three-hour sleep schedule," said Mr. Jerndahl. "I never dream and I am always happy."
