CHIGNECTO POST AND BORDERER

SACKVILLE N. B., APRIL 28, 1892

THE MAYOR OF TRURO.

By the treatment of Mayor Thomas of Truro, Premier Fielding and his colleagues have placed themselves on record as possessing qualities as strongly asinine as tyrannical. They attempted to force the chief magistrate of a most prosperous town in the province to listen to a reprimand from the Speaker of the House of Assembly for an action which is considered by very few to be worthy of such heroic measures, and upon his refusal to attend upon the house without counsel, a privilege allowed the meanest criminal in the land, they sent him to the common jail for forty-eight hours. Mayor Thomas' fancied offence was this. The town council of Truro petitioned for the repeal of a law which made the recordership of the town a life office with a salary, the council thought too great for the work. The petition stated or suggested that Mr. Lawrence, M. P. P., for Colchester, who was recorder had introduced the measure without the consent of the council. The petition was forwarded to Mr. Lawrence's colleague in the house who did not present it but passed it over to him. Mayor Thomas meanwhile learned that such a petition was not a proper one to present to the house and recalled it, but it was too late. Conspiring against a follower of his was more than Mr. Fielding could stand and he had the Mayor brought to the house to listen to what he called a reprimand. When the culprit arrived the reprimand had not been written and he was told to go out until it was ready. When sent for he said he did not intend to fool his time away in Halifax waiting to be scolded by Mr. Fielding and took the train home. On Saturday a posse of policemen arrested him in Truro. He was brought again into the awful presence of the house and was sent to jail for forty-eight hours. On Monday, four judges of the Supreme Court issued an order releasing the magistrate from prison, and pointing out among other things that Mayor Thomas had done nothing worthy of imprisonment and if he had the legislature had no control over the Halifax jail. The humiliation is complete. The government has made itself the laughing stock of the whole Dominion, and Mayor Thomas' popularity is insured in consequence.

HON. G. S. TURNER.

By the decease of Hon. Gaius S. Turner the county of Albert in particular and the province in general, loses one of its most enterprising and valuable citizens. In the commerce of his native county he figured prominently and his shipbuilding and other ventures furnished employment to a large number of men. Even when others were abandoning shipbuilding as profitless he continued in it with a degree of prosperity and has built some of the best vessels in the province. In 1878 he was returned as representative of the county of Albert in the local House as a supporter of Mr. Blair and in 1883 was appointed a member of that government. In 1889 he found reason to abandon that party and he joined the opposition. In 1890 he was elected as an opponent of the ministry. Mr. Turner was a quiet, unassuming but energetic man both in politics and business, and possessed many excellent qualities, which endeared him to the hearts of those who knew him. His loss will be keenly felt throughout Albert county.

THE SHIP RAILWAY.

Mr. Ketchum arrived in Amherst on Monday last in company with Mr. Provand, M. P., for Glasgow, Scotland and vice chairman of the railway company. Mr. Ketchum is perfectly non-committal concerning the prospects for the early resumption of the work, but we are of the opinion that the financial aspect of the company is such that the work will be started in the near future and the road placed in a position this fall to take a vessel across. On Tuesday Mr. Ketchum and Mr. Provand made a tour of inspection of the line.

IN OUR last issue a notice was published concerning an important judgment recently delivered in Toronto upon the right of a firm to use the name Pink Pills, the recognized name of the medicine prepared by G.T. Fulford, Brockville. The court gave judgment prohibiting the defendants for using Mr. Fulford's trade name for their pills. This case was one of the substitution order. A reliable firm makes and sells a preparation for certain affections. Through their efforts and expense the people are brought to know the merits of the medicine. When they apply to the druggist for the article and he is out of it, he offers something "just as good," and usually succeeds in substituting an inferior preparation for the one asked for.

Dominion Parliament.

OTTAWA, April 19th.—After routine Sir John Thompson said: Mr Speaker, I think that probably the first duty which the house owes to its own history and to the country on resembling after the vacation, is to notice the great loss which the house has sustained, and which Canada has sustained by the death of the member for East York. If it devolved upon me today, if it devolved upon anybody, indeed, to state the great public service, the estimable character and the worth of the late member for East York, I would greatly prefer that that duty should have fallen to some of those among whom he served in public life when he was at his prime, because when it was my good fortune and my honor to enter this parliament the hon. gentleman had ceased to take that active part in public affairs in which for many years he occupied so commanding a position and did himself so much honor and the country so much useful zealous services. Fortunately, however, for me the history of the country supplies what is deficient in this regard. The achievements of the late member, his zeal in the public service, the great position which he attained, not only officially in this country in connection with its public affairs but in the estimation of the people of Canada, are all parts of the record of this county now. I can only say, on behalf of the gentlemen who are co-operating with me in this parliament, that I am expressing their sentiments when I state that the services which I have mentioned and the qualities to which I have referred evoke from us the greatest esteem. Those of us who were in the house when he was active in political struggles, and those of us who had not then entered public affairs in Canada, feel as deeply as I am sure hon. gentlemen opposite feel that a great tribute of respect is due to the memory of the gentlemen who devoted his great abilities, great zeal and great talents disinterestedly to the service of Canada. We feel therefore that it would be incumbent upon the house out of respect not only as I have said for its own history, but out of respect for the public feeling in Canada, that instead of transacting the business which is on the order paper today, we should ask an adjournment, and that the adjournment should take place until Thursday next, in order that as many members of the house as feel able to do so may be present at the funeral obsequies, which I understand are to take place in Toronto to-morrow. With these observations, Mr. Speaker, which I am sure but very feebly express the sentiments of the house, but which are very cordially given not only upon my part, but upon the part of those of whom I am the humble mouth piece, I beg to move that when this house adjourns today it do stand adjourned until Thursday next in consequence of the lamented death of the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, late member of the Queen's privy council of Canada, and out of respect to his memory.

Hon Mr. Laurier followed in a most touching tribute to the memory and many sterling qualities of the veteran statesman. He reviewed in brief the many stirring scenes which marked the lifework and career of Mr. Mackenzie and spoke of his excellent qualities as a politician and a man. He was supposed to be stern, cold and ungracious, but the very reverse was the truth. He was richly endowed with that quaint humor peculiar to his own race, little to be expected under a somewhat reticent exterior, but to which the unrestraint of in imate life acted as a stimulant, and which then broke forth into copious and rich fancy. To those who had the privilege of his hospitality he was one of the most agreeable of men, and with that he had a kind heart, a most kind heart indeed, which always responded generously when he was properly appealed to. In many ways Mr. Mackenzie was an exceptional man. I may say, and I am sure that in this all will agree with me, that he united many qualities seldom found together, and which combined made him one of the truest and strongest characters to be met with in Canadian history. I agree to the motion.

After adjournment of the house conservatives and liberals met separately and appointed representatives to attend Mr. Mackenzie's funeral tomorrow. The Nova Scotia conservatives will be represented by Mills and Gillies, New Brunswick by McAllister and Wood, P. E Island by McLean and McDonald. Messrs. Davies, Bowers and Borden respectively, the liberal contingent from the maritime provinces. Both parties sent gracefully worded messages of condolence to Mr Mackenzie.

A large deputation from Quebec interviewed the government today and asked that the bounty on beet root sugar, which expires in July next year, be extended five years.

April 20.—The premier states that the grit story that the governor general had intervened in the matter of the charges against Sir Adolphe Caron and insisted that an investigation be held is wholly false. The government adheres to Sir John Thompson's statements in the house that if Mr. Edgar will formulate specific charges the inquiry will be granted.

Arril 21.—Sir John Thompson introduced a bill relating to witnesses and evidences. This is a bill to permit a person charged with a criminal offence to give evidence in his own behalf.

Mr. Hazen brought up the subject of compelling steamers to carry metal life boats. Recently charters had been denied several of the St. John river boats on this ground. Mr. Hazen contended that for this section wood boats were as good as metal. Capt. Welsh supported this view. They thought the Minster should be allowd discretionary powers in the matter.

Hon Mr. Tupper pointed out that these discretionary powers would be vested in the governor-general in council and not in the minister.

Mr. Davies wanted the law altered without giving discretionary power to the government.

Mr. Temple trusted that the opposition would not oppose the bill, as on the St. John river he saw a number of boats which were laden and ready to proceed up river, but were prevented from doing so owing to their lifeboats not being metallic. They received no warning. He never knew of any accident on the river.

After recess the house went into supply, taking up the militia estimates and afterwards going into the agriculture department and proceeding with experimental farms.

The item of $75,000 for experimental farms was passed.

After a long discussion, which elicited the fact that two-rowed barley was being grown with great success in Canada, the committee rose and reported progress and the house adjourned at 12.35 a. m.

Dorchester.

—Wm. Dobson, Esq. one of Dorchester's best and most respected citizens, died on Friday at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. F. C. Palmer, and was buried on Sunday. A very large number of people attended the services, which were conducted by Rev. Mr. Baker. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Dobson's family, most of whom are residents of Dorchester. Mr. Frank Dobson came home from Nova Scotia, and Mr. Fred Dobson from Boston, to attend the funeral of their father.

—Tenders for the proposed new hotel were opened on the 15th, and were found to be too high for the purposes of the committee which had the matter in hand. It therefore looks much as if the hotel scheme is to be numbered with many other enterprises of a like nature which have suddenly sprung into prominence and as suddenly faded away.

—Mr. S. L Chapman's new is about completed, and Mr. Chapman proposes to move into it on the 1st of next month. He will have much more room for the display of his goods than in his present quarters, though the new location will not be quite as convenient for his patrons.

—Mr. G. M. Fairweather is having the interior of his drug store improved and decorated by Mr. A. M. Gudet. The effect is very good. (Inserted by request.)

—Messrs. H. R. Emmerson and J. W. Y. Smith have left town for a trip to Cleveland, Ohio, where they are called by business.

—Rev. J. R. Campbell has been called away to Wheeling, Virginia, by the news of the serious illness of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. F. Campbell. There was therefore no service in Trinity church on Sunday last.

—Mr. J. W. Y. Smith has rented the pretty residence of Mrs. Joshua Chandler, and is having a bath-room and other improvements added thereto before taking possession.

—Information is just received that the house and barns of Mr. DeMille Buck were distroyed by fire last night. No particulars are at hand. The loss will be about $1,200.

Wood Point.

—During the past few months Death has taken from us three of our oldest and most respectable residents. In February, within three days of each other, there passed away Mr. and Mrs. Everett Snowdon, who are mourned by not a few friends. Mr. Snowdon drove the mail between Wood Point and Sackville for many years, and through his kindnesss, carefulness, and anxiety to oblige those with whom he came in contact won for himself many friends who will not early forget his kindness. His genial, honest and unassuming manner endeared him to all classes of the community. They were both buried at the Westcock cemetery, the remains being followed to the grave by a large circle of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Snowdon were staunch members of the Baptist denomination. The family of the deceased came from Portland, Me., to attend the obsequies.

—On Tuesday last, Annie Snowden, beloved wife of Simon Outhouse Esq., passed away at the ripe age of 74 years, leaving a husband and 6 children to mourn their loss. Mrs. Outhouse experienced a paralytic stroke 3 weeks previous to her death, and later another one which proved fatal. Mr. and Mrs. Outhouse were married over 55 years ago and celebrated their golden wedding in Feb. 1887. The funeral took place last Thursday at Westcock. The services were performed by Mr. Darby of Mt. Allison. The family consists of 4 sons. Charles of Halifax, Rufus of St. George, Benjamin of Jonesport. Me., John of Texas; and 2 daughters, Mrs. Baird who lives at Wood Point and Mrs. Dr. Boyston of California. Jane, Mrs. John Smith died in California 7 years ago.

Westmorland Point.

—The spring has opened much earlier than usual, and the farmers are busily engaged in their seeding operations, which is very cheering, as the weather is generally such as to make the spring very long and tedious. As the frost and snow have entirely disappeared, we anticipate early pasture, the only thing necessary being warm and showery weather.

—The dykes that were cut down last fall in order to flow the marshes are being rapidly rebuilt. No. 1 body has been entirely secured; together with having a number of large flood-gates put in, so as to give the marsh tide whenever required. Much credit is due the commissioner Mr. Rupert Etter for his activity in the prosecution of the work.

—Rev. Cecil Wiggins who has held service in the Episcopal church for the last few months (in consequence of the illness of our rector) has discontinued his appointments. The great popularity he has gained during his labors among us is to be substantially manifested in a parlor social, to be held at Warden's Etter's on Tuesday, May 3. We trust he may receive the compensation his zeal and energy deserves.

—The Baptist Sunday School which has been running so successfully the last few years, will reopen on Sunday morning next. The Superintendent wishes all or any of the parents or children in the places irrespective of class or creed to be present and attend.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Hawkins have returned from Boston to settle and reside and reside permanently at Mount Whatley. Mr. Hawkins chooses farming as the occupation most congenial to his health.

—Mrs. Siddall Lowerison who was taken so seriously with LaGrippe in the winter, has not yet recovered, and serious doubts are entertained of her convalescence.

River Hebert.

—Fred Seaman, of Minude, has loaded schr. "Myrtto Purdy" Lowe, master, with piling for Boston.

—Capt. J. E. Priest is loading the schr. "Silver Spray" with poles & piling.

—Prescott, Gillespie & Co. are loading the schr. "Rondo" of St. John, with lumber for the U. S.

—The Maple Sugar harvest was very poor this spring, very little made, it is thought by some that they were too late commencing, that the sap flowed earlier than usual this spring, on account of the mild winter.

Chemical Fertilizers.

What They Can and Will Do.

With the dissemination of advanced knowledge among farmers by the press and through public meetings, much of the old prejudice against the use of chemical or artificial manures has been overcome, and on all large farms where only a moderate stock is kept, the aid of some extra fertilizing agency is sought in order to keep the fertility of the soil up to a favorable standard. These agencies take the form of various brands of Superphosphate, guano, bone meal, pandrette, or some of the commercial nitrogeneous compounds and instead of acting as a stimulant and forcing the natural fertility out of the soil, as was once erroneously believed, really give to the soil the elements of plant food which are required by the crop for its development. All this has come from what is known as Agricultural Chemistry. For years scientists worked to solve the problem of how the plant converted from the rude soil the most beautiful flowers, the most lucious fruits and most nutritious plants. By processes of slow research they found out what elements the plants used in the process and now know what is necessary in the soil to produce the best results. The farmer who has an abundance of rich, well kept farm-yard manure supplies these elements in that form, but those who have not have to rely on the artificial article for a supply.

The Provincial Chemical Fertilizer Company of St. John are manufacturing and have placed on the market a brand of fertilizer calculated to supply in a proper form all the requisite elements of a first class manure. Their Imperial Superphosphate, Bone Meal and Special Potato Phosphate are now used in every section of the eastern provinces and the results achieved win many glowing testimonials from practical farmers who have used them. One of the strongest proofs of their worth comes from Sackville and occupies a prominent position in the neat hand book issued by the company. Last year a prize of $60.00 was offered for the best crop of potatoes grown on an acre of land with the Special Potato Fertilizer. The successful competitor was Mr. Chas. Pickard of this place. Mr. Pickard coupled with his competition an interesting experiment the result of which shows plainly the effect and value of the above brand of fertilizer when applied to potato land.

The field in which the prize potatoes were raised is situated on a side hill and contains upwards of four acres. Upon one side a strip containing ½ acre was planted without any fertilizer whatever, with Beauty of Hebron potatoes. Adjoining this, a strip containing ¾ of an acre was planted with Beauty of Hebron and a piece ¼ of an acre with Black Montano Potatoes. These two strips making one acre was the acre upon which the prize was awarded. Five barrels of the Special Potato Fertilizer was applied and the whole field planted with potatoes early in May.

Now for the results: The first mentioned plot upon which no manure was applied produced 98 bushels of small, inferior potatoes which rotted badly both before and after being dug. The acre comprising the two other plots produced 431 bushels and 27½ pounds of potatoes. The quality was superior, they were smooth and even and were not affected by the rot while growing or in the cellar during the winter. A peculiar feature of the experiment was that the roots grown upon land treated with the chemical fertilizer matured full two weeks before all others. In turnips the same favorable results were shown.

The above experiment is accurate in every respect. The land was measured by Mr. C. E. Lund, D. L. S. The potatoes when dug in the fall were weighed by Mr. H. E. Bowser, and sworn to before Walter Cahill, J. P. The company have had an engraving prepared from the field and it adorns a page in the hand book. The advertisement of these fertilizers appears regularly in these colums.

Hon. G. S. Turner.

Died at Fredericton

After a lingering illness Hon G. S. Turner M. P., for Albert Co, died in Victoria Hospital, Fredericton, early on Monday morning last. The Parliamentary Companion say:

Hon. Mr. Turner swas the son of Isaac Turner and Elizabeth Colpitts. He was born in Albert Co., 12 Aug., 1838, where he was educated. Married 18 Aug., 1876, Lucy E. Stiles, and engaged in shipbuilding and merchandising. First returned to legislature at general election 1878, re-elected at general elections of 1882 and 1886, and again at last general election. Appointed a member of the executive council 3 March, 1883, but resigned on account of differences with the government. A liberal conservative.—Harvey, Albert Co., N. B.

Mr. Turner had been engaged as a shipbuilder at Harvey Bank since 1877. He built a number of large vessels, including the ships Revolving Light, Earl Granville, Constance, Vandalia, and Coringa, and the barks, Salacia, Serrano, Egeria, Latora, and Galatea, and the brig Argyll. He had another bark on the stocks at the time of his death. The funeral took place yesterday at Harvey, the remains being met at the train by a large circle of friends. He was interred with masonic honors.

Memramcook Notes.

—The contract for the artificial lake was signed on Monday by Messrs. Hipolyte Cormier and Jude Landry, for $450. The work will be finished in the first week in June. Father Michaud of Buctouche has promised a fine boat, she will be called the "St. John the Baptist."

—Quite a pleasant entertainment was given at College Bridge on Saturday evening, by the pupils under the direction of their teacher Mr. Frank Brun. The actors showed histrionic ability little to be expected in children of that age. Mrs. Brun delighted the audience by her vocal and instrumental selections, between the acts.

—News has been received here from Father Malone, formerly parish priest of Parraboro and Springhill. He underwent an operation for cataract some time ago, at the Carney hospital, Boston. The latest tidings are very cheerful, and we all hope our aged friend has completely recovered his sight.

—E. Vincent Hogan, of Weymouth, visited us on Monday, with A. E. Reilly of Dorchester. Mr. Hogan is to be congratulated on having just obtained his degree of B. A. at Antigonish. He left here two years ago, but still fond memories cling around the old place.

—Dr. E. T. Gaudet left on Wednesday last by C. P. R. on an extended trip to Montreal.

—Mrs. J. McManus of Memramcook is visiting her former home at Alberton.

—Two of our professors, Reids, Arsenault and Tessier enjoyed a fishing excursion. They succeeded in taking about four dozen of the speckled beauties.
