SUPREME COURT.

THE TUPLIN MURDER TRIAL.

TUESDAY, January 31

R. B. NORTON, (sworn)—Examined by Mr. Hodgson.—I do business in Charlottetown, and sell pistols and cartridges; (cartridges shewn by Mr. Norton.) This is a 32 calibre bullet, it has the letter "H," and has three rings on it.

Cross-examined by Mr. Peters.—All bullets made by the same manufacturers are not the same. The ball produced is not the same as the one in the pistol. We have cartridges that have no rings on them! (cartridges of this kind shewn,) these could be fired from that pistol.

JOHN MILLMAN, (sworn.) Examined by Mr. Hodgson.—I am the father of the prisoner. I remember Tuesday the 28th June; I was at a meeting at Irishtown church; I left home for the meeting about 7 o'clock; I know it was that time because my daughter said, before we began to get ready, it was twenty minutes to 7; it took us about twenty minutes to get ready; my son William was home when I left; he was at the door; he had on his working clothes and no coat; he had a black felt hat; I left him there when I drove away. It is a mile from my place to the church. After the meeting, we stood talking two or three minutes, I then untied the horse. It would not take more than ten or fifteen minutes to drive home. When I got home, I unyoked the horse and put him away. When I got into the house William was just going out of the kitchen to the hall to go to bed; he had no coat or boots on; he sleeps up stairs. I don't remember whether or not the lamp was lit when I got in. My wife went into the room to change her clothes. When she came out again I had to go down to the granary for a bag of flour; I brought the flour to the house and emptied it into a barrel. My wife then went to work to set some bread. We then talked a minute or two, and she went to bed, and I remained at the stove some time smoking. I heard the clock strike eleven when I was smoking my pipe. I think it was near 12 o'clock when I went to bed. I was a kind of chilly and kindled a little fire. When I went to the meeting, I left my children, Mrs. Nelson Evans, William, John Bradford, Mary, Johanna, Maud and David Reagh, all at home. I was examined before the magistrates, I said I was home all that night, but I thought it was Wednesday evening following they meant. I am sure about my wife setting the bread. I was not asked these questions before the magistrates. John Tuplin was at my place on Wednesday evening.

Cross-examined by Mr. Peters.—I remember John Tuplin coming to my place on Wednesday evening to ask where William had been on Tuesday evening, and I told him he (William) was at home when I left and was talking about going to the river to have a wash. [Depositions taken at the Magistrates' Court shewn to witness]—that is my signature; my memory is not very clear yet. [Mr. Peters hear read witnesses' evidence as given before the magistrates.] My opinion, as given in the deposition, that I got home from the church between half-past ten and eleven on Tuesday night, is correct. When I got home from the meeting, all the children were in bed except William and the little girl Mary Eliza. I was not up stairs. I imagined John Bradford was in bed. William said, "good night da," and went to bed. When I went away, he had on dark pants. I got up about seven o'clock the following morning and saw William. I cannot swear whether or not any one came to see him; I don't remember what he went to do. I got to the church quite a little while before the meeting went in. I don't know whom I was talking to at the church before the meeting went in. It was a small meeting. Rich, Paynter and Thomas Millman and his wife got to the church the same time we did. After church, I talked a few minutes with William Evans and Thomas Bryenton, and some others, before going home. (Brown straw hat shewn) — that looks like the hat William had. I know John Nathaniel Evans; he lives in Irishtown, between my place and the church. I did not see him on Wednesday. I was not down to the shore, and I don't know of any of my family being at the shore on Wednesday. I cannot swear John Nathaniel Evens was at the shore on that day. I was never down to the water, but might have been down to the marsh. I never took notice of Cousins' boat being moored there. My son said he had a notion to go swimming on Tuesday evening, before we went to church. I do not remember who was present when he said this. He told me he had been down to the shore. I don't remember whether he told me he was down at the shore or not. I won't swear that he did not tell me. My son William generally went to bed between 9 and 10 o'clock. I never asked him why he was up so late that night. He did not go with me to put the horse away, or take in the flour. Tuesday the 28th June was a very fine, warm day. It was a little chilly that night. I think there was a little fire on when I got home. I remember kindling it up. From the day of the murder till this day I never asked William where he had been that evening, and he did not tell me. After hearing my son was blamed for murdering the girl, I never asked him where he had been that night. I don't know that I had any reason for asking him. Tuplin told me the girl went out of the house a little after 9 o'clock. My son had no revolver that I know of. He used to have some old things around. (Revolver shewn.) Nelson Evans shewed me that revolver. I don't know whose it was. I don't know anything about him having another revolver. I told the magistrate my son had a toy revolver. My son never told me he had a revolver. After the magistrates' court was over, I was talking to my son, but I did not say anything to him about a revolver. We never since the night of the murder, talked over in the family or to any one else, as to where my son William was that night. My son did not put his boots to dry that evening, that I know. I don't remember seeing his boots that evening. They were shoes he had on, brogans. These were what he usually wore. I cannot swear whether or not he had on the brogans that night. Those are not the shoes he has on now. I never asked my son whether or not he had anything to do with Mary Tuplin. I don't remember any one being at my house on Wednesday. I know the Cousins girls, their names are Mary, Lillie and Jane. I don't know whether or not any of those girls were at my place on Wednesday. I do not know where my son was on Wednesday. I know William went to Charlottetown on Monday following the murder. He told me he was going to see a lawyer about the scandle. He asked me if he had not better go and see a lawyer. I told him he had. I never heard from him anything about the Power boys. I was at the investigation. I heard William telling that one of the Power boys was with him that night. I do not remember whether it was that night or not. I do not remember what he said. This was after the girl was missing and before the Magistrates' court. I do not remember whether I asked him this or he said it himself. It was outside. I do not remember any one else being there. I do not remember what I said. I think it was in the afternoon. I remember the day I was at the Clifton Court. I do not know what time of day I left home to go there. I do not remember whether or not I looked at the clock. It is most likely we have been talking over this matter within the past few days I do not remember when we first talked over this matter. I was talking about it with Mr. Reagh the day before yesterday. Mrs. Nelson Evans was at my house on the night of the murder.

JOHANNA MILLMAN (sworn). Examined by Mr. Hodgson. I am a sister of William Millman, the prisoner. I remember the day my father and mother went to the Irishtown church last June. I did not see them going away. I was outside, I saw William about there then. I do not know how he was dressed. I do not think he had a coat on. I do not know what kind of a hat he had on. He said he was going to have a bath. I do not know where he went. I do not know what time he came home. I went to bed about dusk. I have a sister younger than I am. She is eleven years old and I am thirteen. We sleep together.

Cross-examined by the Attorney General. When my father and mother went to the Irishtown church I do not recollect whether or not John Bradford was home. I do not know what time it was when my father and mother went away. It was not very long after that when I went to bed. John Bradford and Mary Eliza were up when I went to bed. William was not home. I do not know whether or not William was home when I went into the house. He went away before my father and mother. We keep the flour in the pantry. I do not know whether or not there was any bread set that night. There was no fresh bread for breakfast next morning. I did not see any baking going on the following day. I saw my brother William in bed when I got up next morning. I saw my father when I went down stairs. William was in the same room as I was. All the members of the family had breakfast with me except William who was in bed. I do not remember what kind of clothes William had on. (Hat shown). That is William's hat. I do not know how long he had it.

AFTER RECESS.

JOHANNA MILLMAN. (Examination continued). I did not hear any conversation at our house about Mary Tuplin. I saw John Tuplin at our place on Wednesday after the murder. He was speaking to my father at the barn. I did not hear what they were saying. Jane Cousins was at our house the Monday night after the murder. She is Alexander Cousins' daughter. Kate Millman, Thomas' daughter, was there. They and all our family were in the house together. John Bradford had been at Thomas Millman's, and he said the girl was found. William had not come home when we heard the body was found. When that was heard there was silence. Wm. did not get up on Wednesday morning until we all had breakfast. I did not see him up before I went to school.

MRS. JOHN MILLMAN (sworn.) Examined by Mr. Hodgson. I am the mother of William Millman. I remember the night of the meeting in the Irishtown Church. It was 20 minutes to seven before we decided on going. My husband thought it was too late to go. My daughter, Mary Eliza, then looked at the clock and found it was twenty minutes to seven. I had then to get ready. I think it must have been just seven o'clock when we started. William was home when we left. I asked him if we took a share in a table at the teaparty, would he assist us all he could in waiting. Our house is about a mile from the church. Mr. Paynter and Mr. Thomas Millman were going along with us. I do not know by the watch what time it was when the meeting broke up. We left a few minutes after the meeting was over. It would take fifteen minutes at the outside to go home from the church. There was no light in the house when we got home. I went to my bedroom and took off my things. I did not see William when I went into the kitchen, but when I came out of the bedroom I saw him. He had no coat on. He had his boots on. I saw him take off his boots and put them back against the wall. He then went to bed. I then set bread. There was no flour in the house, but my husband brought some in from an outside building in a bag, and emptied it into a barrel. I expect it took me fifteen minutes to set the bread. After that I washed my hands and spoke to my husband a-while about them eating, and then went to bed. I do not know what he was doing. I did not hear the clock strike. I did not notice whether or not William's boots were wet. I was asleep when my husband came to bed. I saw William next morning. We were done breakfast before he got up. I was up stairs next morning and saw William's socks beside his bed. They were not wet. They were shoes he left in the kitchen.

Cross-examined by Attorney General. The day the church meeting was held was Tuesday, the 28th June. We decided to go to the meeting twenty minutes to seven. We had a share in a table at the teaparty. It was about seven o'clock when we left for the church. Mr. Reagh had not arrived at the church when we got there. I don't know what time we left the church to come home. I never heard it called two miles from the church to our house I might have spoken to some one after coming out, but cannot remember anyone particular. We trotted the horse on the way home. We did not walk the horse all the way. I did not see anyone in the kitchen when I went in. There was no one in my bed room but my little boy and little girl. I don't know what time we left the church, or what time we got home. I think it was between half-past ten and eleven when we got home. My husband told me the following morning he heard the clock strike eleven when he was smoking his pipe in the kitchen. When I went home I did not see William or anyone else in the kitchen. I was in my bed room probably ten minutes. When I came out of my room William was standing up ready to hang up his coat. He was not toasting his feet at the fire, and whoever says so tells what is not true. I don't think there was any fire in the kitchen that night. If my husband made a fire it was to warm himself, and for no other purpose. I set the bread with cold water. If anyone made up the fire while I was setting the bread I would have noticed it. All the members of the family were at breakfast next morning except William, and perhaps Mrs. Evans. I have no distinct knowledge of when the bread I set that night was used. I saw John Tuplin at our barn on the 29th of June; he was talking to my husband and I went out. He was saying his children saw a man in the woods the evening before. Mr. Tuplin said he met William, John Nathanial Evans and Mr. Reagh going towards Kensington in a wagon. William arrived home on Wednesday evening before dark. He was home before I got throug milking the cows. That was probably about half-past seven o'clock. This is the usual time of milking. We had as few conversations as possible about this unfortunate affair. I heard on Wednesday, at noon, that Mary Tuplin was lost. On that evening, when I was in the dairy straining the milk, William asked me if John Tuplin had been at our place. I told him he had been here; and William asked what he wanted. I told him Tuplin must want him. He said, "what did he want me for?" he had nothing to do with the girl. Perhaps we had a conversation about the murder on Wednesday. We said if they were blaming William for coaxing the girl away, and anything should happen her, he would be blamed for it. John Tuplin did not say anything to my husband about Alice Connolly while I was present. Alice Connolly is now away in Boston. She went away since the examination before the magistrates. She is a first cousin to William. We had other conversations about the murder. My husband was likely present. It was the question of the day. I heard William say he was going to bathe He said afterwards he had been bathing, and had got home long before we did. On the 28th June my son William had on a grey woolen shirt, dark check pants, and had on his head a black felt hat. (Brown straw hat shown.) He had a hat like that.

MRS. NELSON EVANS (sworn). Examined by Mr. Hodgson. I am a daughter of John Millman and sister of the prisoner. My father and mother went to a meeting at Irishtown church on Tuesday evening, June 28. Eliza said it was twenty minutes to seven and it was time to get ready. They left about twenty minutes later. I heard my mother asking William if he would take any part in the Tea if they would take a table. After they went away William went out of the front door. He had no coat on. He said he was going down to have a bathe. I went to bed at dark and did not see my father and mother or William any more that night.

Cross-examined by Mr. Peters. My brother Bradford was down at the river before William went to the river. I saw my brother William that evening before my father and mother went to the church and did not see him again that night. I went away from home next morning to my husband's father's at Irishtown. I left home about 9 o'clock. I saw William before I left, and did not see him any more that day. There never was any conversation in our family about the murder that I heard. He might have had a coat on when he went out, He had no coat on when I saw him last. He never told me where he was that night.

MARY ELIZA MILLMAN (sworn). Examined by Mr. Hodgson. I am a daughter of John Millman and sister of the prisoner. I remember the evening of the 28th June last. My father and mother went to a meeting at Irishtown. They spoke of going at twenty minutes to seven, as I looked at the clock. I think they started about 7 o'clock. William was in the kitchen just before they started. He remained there about five or ten minutes. He was in his grey shirt sleeves, and had on a black felt hat. I do not remember the color of his pants. He said he was going to the river to have a bathe. I saw him leave the house to go bathing. I was in my mother's bedroom. He had no coat on. I went asleep in mother's room and remained there until mother woke me up when she came home. After that I left my mother's room and went through the kitchen and upstairs. I do not remember whether or not there was any light in the kitchen. I heard William talking a few minutes after I went up stairs. I heard him going up stairs. I saw William in the morning after I had breakfast.

Cross-examined by the Attorney General. I remember the night of the 28th June when my father and mother were at the Irishtown church. I think it took them twenty minutes to get ready to go to the church. I do not know what time they left. All the family were in the kitchen except John Bradford when they left, and they were all there when Wm. went out and said he was going to bathe. I did not hear him say he was going to bathe when father and mother were present. He had on a soft felt hat, and shoes on his feet. I do not know what time he went out. I heard those shoes were in town now. We were all at breakfast next morning except William. I heard the subject of Mary Tuplin's disappearance spoken of in our house. I saw John Tuplin at our place on Wednesday following. The body was found on Monday. William Evans was at our place to dinner that day. I think Ann Cousins was at our house Thursday after Mary Tuplin was lost. She had her tea there. So far as I know William finished his tea that evening.

MRS. NELSON EVANS (re-called.) To Mr. Hodgson. I heard of Mary Tuplin being found, and of my brother being charged with the crime. I washed his clothes on Monday following. I saw no blood.

CAPT. GEO. MCLEOD, (sworn)—Examined by Mr. Hodgson. I live at New London. I remember the 28th of June. I was at Clifton at Mr. McLean's lecture. I don't know what time the lecture was over. I went straight home. I heard two pistol shots on my way home; they appeared to come from the direction of Long River church. [Located on the map where he was when he heard the shots.] I think there were five or six seconds between the shots. It was a calm night; there was a little breeze from the westward, that would be towards me from Long River. Shortly after hearing the shots, I looked at my watch and it was 20 minutes after 11. I think I was about four miles from Clifton when I heard the shots. I think this would be between three quarters and an hour after the lecture was over. I am sure of the time, from having looked at my watch; I do not know whether or not my watch was right.

Cross-examined by Mr. Peters.—I was at the lecture; the lecture had started when I got there; I do not know how long the lecture lasted after I got there. I do not know what time it was dark that night. I do not know whether my watch was right or not. I was about four miles from the place where I thought the shots come from, and there are woods between those two points. I changed my watch since then.

GEO. B. MCKAY, (sworn.) — Examined by Mr. Hodgson. I was present at a lecture delivered at Clifton the night of 28th June last. I think it was over about 10 o'clock; it commenced about 9, just when the lights were lit.

Cross-examined by Mr. Peters.—Paul Thompson lives about four miles from the place where the lecture was delivered. It was sundown that night, something before 9 o'clock. I am only speaking from memory.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 1.

REV. T. B. REAGH, (recalled)—To Mr. Peters—I remember speaking of a watch that Thomas Bryenton had (watch shewn.) I think that is the watch; I cannot swear his watch would not keep good time.

ALEX. THOMPSON, (sworn.) — Examined by Mr. Hodgson. I reside at Malpeque. I remember the night of the 28th June. I was home till sundown, and then went to Thomas Bryenton's for some cabbage plants. I think his place is about seven miles from my place. I got home a few minutes after one o'clock; my daughter was with me. On my way home I saw a horse and wagon on the road. That was about a mile and a half from John Tuplin's; the horse's head was turned across the road; after that, it drove away very fast; it was a low wagon. Those in the wagon appeared to be close together; I thought they were some persons who did not want to be known.

To the Judge.—They drove the same way I was going.

To Mr. Hodgson.—I saw Mrs. Bryenton, her son and a girl, at Bryenton's. The young man was eating his supper when I went in. He took off his boots and socks. I cannot remember anyone he looks like. I do not know where that man is now. The wagon I saw, drove towards Yankee-town.

Cross-examined by Mr. Peters.—I left home about sundown, and drove to Mr. Bryenton's I will not swear the distance is not more than six miles. I don't know how long it took me to drive there. I don't know what time I got to Bryenton's. I left this young man there. I did not see Mr. Bryenton. I think it was bed time when I left Bryenton's. I don't know how long I was there. Burlington is on Lot 18. I live in Princetown Royalty. (Atlas produced,—road on which witness drove home, pointed out.) It was not many minutes after I left Bryenton's, when I saw the wagon. The young man I saw at Bryenton's could not have been in the wagon, for I left him in the house. I got within about twenty-five yards of the wagon. This was near Harrington's gate. The horse I had was four year's old, and I think it took me about two hours to go to Bryenton's. [Considerable merriment was here caused by the counsel's remarks regarding the horse's speed.] I don't know who was in the wagon that I saw. I did not tell Millman's lawyer about this affair before I came to town.

JOHN BRADFORD MILLMAN, (sworn) Examined by Mr. Hodgson.—I am a brother of William Millman and live with my father. I remember the evening my father and mother went to the Irishtown church meeting. William was there five or ten minutes after they left. I had been down to the river bathing before my father and mother left. William was going towards the barn when I saw him, I don't remember whether or not he had a coat on. I went to bed about dark and did not see William again that night. William slept with me. I saw him next morning. I was up before him. I have my brother William's shoes here (shows shoes.) I swear these are my brother's.

Cross-examined by Mr. Peters.—I remember the evening of June 28, my parents went to the Irishtown church. I don't know whether or not my brothr had a coat on when he went away. The barn is not in the direction of the river. [He pointed out on the map where he said he, witness, had been bathing, below Thomas Millman's farm. James Millman, Thomas' son, was with me. We were down a half or three quarters of an hour. We saw some men digging bait on the other side. We saw a boat or scow on the other side of the river where the men were digging bait. We did not notice any other boat on the other side of the river. We saw no boat crossing the river while we were there. (Depositions shown.)—that is my signature. I suppose when I said at the Magistrate's Court it was half-past six o'clock when I got home and some member of the family told me so, I was saying what I thought was true. I didn't hear William coming to bed. I don't know what time he came to bed. I don't remember being at the shore on Wednesday. I don't remember what William did on Wednesday. I do not know whether or not John Nathaniel Evans and William went any where on Wednesday. I did not tell John Tuplin, on Wednesday, that William had been to Underhill's corner that day. I did not see William going away from the house on Tuesday evening. I was back of the barn when father and mother went away. I never had a talk with William about the murder. He might have had a revolver, I did not see one with him. (Boots shewn) — These are my brother's boots. I wore them after my brother was taken tway. I showed those boots to constable McKay and detective Power, in the summer time. He has a pair of long boots and the pair he has on. I swear the boots were measured last summer, James Millman who was bathing with me that night, is sick. [Boots measured by jurors. — William Millman's shoe was found to be 10½ inches long, and John Bradford's boot was a little over 11½ inches long.]

T. A. MCLEAN, (sworn.) — Examined by Mr. Hodgson.—I was on the Grand Jury. Somers told us he saw a man in the woods, but did not know him then as Millman. I understood him to say he did not know Millman that evening. He was not asked whether or not he would know Millman if he were produced in the Grand Jury room.

JOHN BRADFORD MILLMAN (realled) Brought in a pair of boots and said they were his brother's.

Defence, here, closed the case.

AFTER RECESS.

PETER M. BURKE, foreman of the Grand Jury, being called by the Attorney General, Mr. Hodgson raised some objection. This was overruled by the Judge.

Mr. BURKE was sworn and examined by the Attorney General. Mr. Burke related that James Somers stated before the Grand Jury that he (Somers) had seen a man in the woods on the evening of the 28th of June, but didn't know who it was. When he saw Millman afterwards, he supposed him to be the man he saw in the woods. He did not say he would not know the man if produced.

GEORGE PEAKE, (sworn.) — Examined by the Attorney General. I was a member of the Grand Jury. I remember James Somers telling us he saw a man in the woods whom he did not know, he merely looked at him. So far as I know, he was not asked if he could identify him if brought into the Grand Jury room.

MAURICE BLAKE (sworn.) Examined by the Attorney General. I was one of the Grand Jury. James Somers was examined before the Grand Jury. He said that in passing the road near Tuplin's house, he saw a man who had ferns round his neck, and his hat to the side of his face. He said the man he saw in the woods was about his (Somer's) size. When he saw Millman arrested he thought he was the man he saw in the woods. Somers was not asked whether or not he would know Millman should he be brought into the Grand Jury Room.

EDWARD WARREN (recalled.) To Mr. Peters, I remember seeing Thomas Bryenton (Sexton) that afternoon, June 28th, and saw his watch. (Watch shown.) He had a watch like that when I saw him in my mill. We compared our watches, they agreed as to time. I told him my watch was right.

THOMAS BRYENTON, (re-called). To Mr. Peters. (Watch shown). That is my watch. I had it last June. I bought it about the 13th of April last. I was at Warren's Mill on the 28th June and compared our watches, and there was not over a minute in the difference between the watches.

To Mr. Hodgson. I paid a five dollar bill for the watch.

GEORGE PROFIT, (Black Horse), (re-called). To Mr. Peters. I saw Millman on Thursday evening after the murder at the Black Horse. He asked me if the girl was found yet. I told him she was not, although thirty-five or forty persons had been hunting the woods, and they are now going to search the river. "Are they," said he. "Yes," said I. He said he left home on Tuesday night about six or half-past six to go bathing, and that he afterwards returned to the line between their place and Richard Paynter's, and then went to the corner and afterwards went home about 10 or half past ten.

To Mr. Hodgson. I am positive he said that. I don't know whether or not Millman carries a watch. I never saw one with him.

ALEXANDER MCKAY, (re-called). To Mr. Peters. With regard to the man's tracks, I am not sure that I got the entire length, the toe was not clear in the sand. The heel of the large track was deepest. (Stick shown.) (The heel measurement marked on the stick, corresponded exactly with the heel of the prisoner's shoe produced in court. The measure taken across the ball of the track, appeared to be narrower than the sole of the boot). Some sand had fallen into the tracks, as they had been there for some days. The edges of the sole did not appear clear and square in the tracks. The mark around the toe track was not impressed in the sand.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hodgson It was my impression that the measurement I took was the length of the man's shoe.

The Attorney-General said he wished to produce two witnesses, who could not be in town before the following morning. Consequently the court adjourned till then.

THURSDAY, Feb. 2.

MRS. BENJ. BRYENTON (sworn). Examined by the Attorney General. I live in Burlington, Lot 18. I remember the night of the 28th of June last. I know Alexander Thompson. He lives in Malpeque. He and his daughter came to my place after dark that night. My son James was in the house when Thompson came, and also William Bryenton, Alice Bryenton and Ellen Bryenton, My son James was home when Thompson left, and remained home all night. I am positive of that. Thompson came for cabbage plants, and when he got them he gave me some money, which I found, when I looked, to be five cents and two cents, instead of sixteen cents. We have a clock and a watch in our house. Thompson left our place at twenty miutes after 9 o'clock. My son took off his boots while Thompson was in our house.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hodgson. Thompson came to my house about twenty minutes before 9 o'clock, and left there twenty minutes after 9. He came out to the garden with me and my daughter to pull the cabbage plants. It was a moonlight night. We had a lamp and a pitch pine torch when looking for the plants, in order to get the best ones. His daughter was in the house when we were in the garden. I looked at the watch and the clock after Thompson left. My husband was at Hillman's that night. I heard the Irishtown church bell ring that evening when I was in the valley looking for the cows. I don't know what time it was then, as I had no watch with me looking for the cows. The lamp was lit when Thompson came to our place.

ELLEN BRYENTON (sworn.) Examined by the Attorney General. I am a daughter of Mrs. Bryenton, who was examined here this morning. I remember Alexander Thompson coming to our place on the night of the 28th of June last. He and his daughter came to our place that night, a little after the lamps were lit. They came for cabbage plants. My two brothers, my mother and myself were there when Thompson came. I saw my brother take off his boots and socks when Thompson was at our place.

[MR. MCKINLAY was here recalled and gave some additional particulars relative to the scale of the map, distances, etc.]

A good deal of discussion took place about the measuring of the prisoner's boots. Juryman Frizzle was directed to take the measurement of the boots (gaiters) and the bare foot. The bare foot with sock on was shown to be 10½ inches; the boot 11 inches.

One of the jurors asked Constable McKay to measure the width of the boot the prisoner wore. It measured within between an eighth and a quarter of an inch of the track in the sand. This closed the case.

MR. HODGSON commenced his address to the Jury at 11.40, and spoke for one hour before recess. After recess he resumed his address at 2 o'clock and spoke till a quarter after 5, when the Court adjourned.
