HAY PRICES LITTLE HIGHER

Fodder Sold as High as $13 a Ton on the Square Today.

OATS WERE VERY SCARCE

Dairy Produce Is Still in Sharp Demand—Butter Continues High.

The price of hay took a gentle rise on the local market today. First-class timothy readily sold at $13 per ton. Of late there has not been a great deal of hay on the square, and the apparent scarcity is probably responsible for the advance in the price. The past winter has been a long one, and present prospects do not as yet point to an early spring.

As a result the farmers are husbanding the hay in their mows in case they require the greater portion of it for their own stock before the grass is green and succulent.

Oats were also scarce, one load selling for $1 02 per cwt. The price varies from 97c to $1 03 per cwt. Wheat and barley were minus quantities on today's market.

Dairy produce still is very much in demand and comparatively scarce in supply. Butter readily sells for 26 and 27 cents per pound, wholesale, the retail price occasionally touching the 30-cent mark.

POLICE CAME IN TIME

ened to shoot Marjory and himself, rather than let anyone else have her.

Looking for Trouble.

"Last night he came over and said he was prepared for Armstrong if he took Marjory to the show, and was going to make trouble. I asked him what he meant, and he asked me to come over, and he showed me the revolver. I told him to give it to me, and he took the sylinder out and offered it to me. I told him I wanted the whole thing, and he wouldn't give it up, and I went and took hold of his coat and tried to get it. I told him to look out, as the gun was loaded, and might go off, and finally got it from him. He made me promise that I would give it back to him when he came back, and said he was going down to the City Hotel for a few minutes. I promised, and then he made me raise my hand, and say, 'So help me, God.'

Sent for Police.

"Then he went away. I sent out for a policeman. When Carfrae came he asked me if I had his revolver, and I said yes, and he told me to give it to him. I did, and he put it in his hip-pocket. Suddenly I saw him looking at Marjory and put his hand to his hip-pocket. Fearing that he might shoot her I told her to go away into another rom with the other children. She did so, and then the policeman stepped in front of Carfrae and took him away. I think he should be put some place where he can't do anybody any harm," concluded Mrs. Sully.

Is Lovesick.

The police believe that Carfrae's silly conduct is a result of his having brooded over love matters and the letter he received yesterday made him greatly excited.

Not long ago Carfrae sent Miss Sully a card, on which his own picture was shown.

On the card was written:

"Dear Marguerite,—Do you recognize this mug? I thought I would send it to you, as my mind is down there with you. With affectionate love.—G. Carfrae."

Carfrae is 20 years old and lately has been working on the G. T. R. unloading freight cars. For some time he worked at Dyment-Baker's mill.

PRESENTS ARRIVE FOR TWO LONDON LADIES

Men in the West Send Wearing Apparel For Matrimonial Bureau Experts.

A remarkably handsome dress from a man in Michigan, and a fine pair of shoes from a man in Wisconsin, have arrived at the postoffice for Mrs. Gall and Mrs. Ball, the two women whose matrimonial bureau at 552 Piccadilly street, was recently investigated by the police and postoffice department, with the result that the women disappeared in rather a hurry.

The postoffice authorities are holding the goods and have written to the men explaining how matters stand. When the women left London they left directions for their mail to be forwarded to Windsor in care of the general delivery.

Crown Attorney McKillop stated to The Advertiser today that he had heard nothing more regarding them.

BISHOP DUNOULIN WAS GREATLY ADMIRED

Hamilton Prelate Well Known to Many Londoners.

The news of the death of Bishop Dumoulin was heard with widespread regret among the Anglican clergy of this city. All of them had come to know him, and among the older clergymen he was well known and highly esteemed.

"He was a splendid man," said Ven. Archdeacon Richardson to The Advertiser. "When he was in Toronto his special noon sermons at Lent used to bring throngs to St. James' Cathedral, where he preached, every day. He was educated at Trinity College in Ireland, and was one of the celebrated three brought to London by Bishop Cronyn—Sullivan, Carmichael, and Dumoulin.

"He was ordained here in St. Paul's Cathedral in 1862 by Bishop Cronyn, and was advanced to the priesthood in 1863. His first appointment was as curate to Archdeacon Brough, in St. John's Parish, London Township. In 1863 he was married to Frances, the fifth daughter of the archdeacon, in 1863. After serving for some as curate, he went to Montreal, there becoming successively, curate at Trinity Church, and afterwards assistant at the Church of St. James the Apostle. In 1871 he became rector of St. Thomas' Church, Hamilton, where he was immediately succeeded by myself. In 1872 he was elected Bishop of Algoma, but declined, and returned in 1875 to Montreal as rector of St. Martin's Church. From there he was called in 1882 to St. James' Cathedral in Toronto. Here he greatly strengthened his preaching, and made the pulpit of St. James' a power not only in Toronto but throughout the province. He was consecrated Bishop of Niagara on June 24, 1896, and since taking charge there has had enormous influence."

A BIG GATHERING OF THE MASONS

Judge Macwatt Will Be Royally Welcomed on Thursday Evening.

All the arrangements for the reception of M. Wor. Bro. Judge Macwatt on Thursday evening, March 30, have been completed, and it is probable that the largest gathering of local Masons in many years will be present at the exercises.

The committee in charge are enthusiastic over the prospects. A large number of the prominent members of the craft will be on hand, from Hamilton, St. Thomas, Sarnia, Stratford, and other places.

"It will be a great success," declared Wor. Bro. J. B. McKillop, honorary chairman of the committee. Judge Macwatt will arrive in the afternoon, and will be met by the reception committee. Later he will be escorted to the Temple, where the rest of the exercises will be held."

SAID GOOD-BYE TO MR. PEATFIELD

Congregation of First Congregational Church Held Farewell Meeting.

There was a large gathering of the members of the First Congregational Church last night to bid farewell to Rev. E. H. Peatfield, who leaves immediately for Preston Lake, South Dakota, where he will probably preach. Mr. Peatfield stated that he was leaving the church with the best of feeling, and because he thought the work was not progressing as it should, and he wanted to give some else a chance. He stated that he was going to St. Paul, Minnesota, for a week, and would then go on to Preston Lake.

A farewell address was read to Mr. Peatfield by Mr. R. Moule, the senior deacon of the church. Rev. W. H. Claris, of the Southern Congregational Church, presided, and during the evening musical selections rendered by Miss Evelyn Wrightman and Mr. Anundson were greatly enjoyed.

The services next Sunday will be taken by Rev. Mr. Pedley, of Woodstock.

JUDGMENT FOR $1,515.20

Bank of B. N. A. Secured It Against D. H. Flannigan.

A judgment for $1,515.20 was yesterday afternoon given against D. H. Flannigan, jun., in favor of the Bank of B. N. A., by Judge MacBeth. The action was brought by the bank to recover the value of a promissory note given by D. H. Flannigan, sen., who died some time ago. The defendants were D. H. Flannigan, jun., who indorsed the note, and the executors of the deceased. The executors, also members of the Flannigan family, appeared yesterday, but D. H., jun., did not appear. The judgment was, therefore, given by default.

SENATOR COFFEY FOR 8-HOUR DAY

Gives His Support To Bill Now Before the Senate.

SCORES MONEY-MAD FOLK

Says Workingmen Have Right to Get Some Enjoyment Out of Life.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, March 29.—A speech favoring strongly the passage of the bill for the limitation of a day to eight hours on Government buildings, was made in the Senate yesterday by Senator Coffey, of London.

Senator Coffey gave his support to the bill and expressed the opinion that it was constitutionally sound. He declared that measures such as this were necessary to restrict those money-mad people who scheme night and day to increase their wealth, and who, as employers, were regardless of the welfare of feelings of workingmen, but followed their golden dreams without consideration for employees, whom they regarded as but cogs in the machinery which ran their gold-producing mills. He did not include all employers in this category. Some were most humane and considerate. There were such within the sound of his voice. If all employers of Canada were like Senator Jones, Senator Edwards, Senator Jaffray, or Senator Frost, instead of strikes and disorders, there would be a feeling of contentment throughout Canada among the workingmen, which would result in the extinction of the socialistic agitator.

Workingman had the right not only to live, but to take some enjoyment from life. This was impossible with long hours of labor, which had a dulling and deadening effect upon the human mind. The bill under discussion only crystallized into law what is already largely the practice among employers in Canada. It is a bill which would tend to hasten the arrival of the day of equality of man which all desire. It was a measure of reward for those who have laboriously put stone upon stone to raise the great edifice of this nation. Complaints had been made against the operations of unions. Most of these he thought were unjust, and in the last analysis it would be found that the union man had done his share and more towards the creation of the industrial fabric of Canada.
