Exemptions.

When tax exemptions are at length and forever abolished in this province, the share that the Jarvis-street Baptist Church has had in the reform will assuredly not be forgotten. Words are doubtless powerful on occasion, but the common expression that money talks was never more fittingly illustrated than by the payment by this church of what it considers its indebtedness to the municipality. It is truly a trumpet tongue for reform, and the whole evil growth of tax exemptions quivered to its topmost branch when the trustees delivered that fatal stroke to the roots. If Mr. Mowat is a reformer here is something for him to reform. We do not look for anything very drastic from a statesman of Mr. Mowat's conservative temperament, but he must see that the country is ripe for the beginning of this change. We do not look for him to wipe away the whole system at one sweep, but a commencement should be made. The cities and towns suffer chiefly from the evil. In Toronto, as a correspondent in another column points out, the exemptions now amount to $23,000,000. The people in the country do not feel the pressure of the injustice, and that accounts to a large extent for the slow movement in our legislative halls on the subject. There is unfortunately a lack of sympathy on the part of members from the country districts with the difficulties and disabilities that the general law in some cases inflicts on large communities. This is very narrow and unworthy of men of public spirit. If the Legislature does not feel inclined to pass a bill abolishing exemptions for the whole province it might see its way to amending the Municipal Act so as to give towns and cities the power of deciding on the matter for themselves. This seems to be about the most satisfactory way of settling the church exemptions. These are not, however, by any means the only exemptions that appear to be improper to the people. The exemptions on provincial and federal buildings and property are, if possible, more unjust than any other class of exemptions. Why the Governments of the Dominion and of the province should expect to dead-head the various civic services which they enjoy in common with the rest of the citizens passeth human understanding. The Government of the Province cannot order the Dominion Government to pay its honest taxes, but they can set their big brother a notable example by paying their own.

If Sir Oliver, however, does not favor making the exemption question a local option one he can at least begin the reform by abolishing the exemptions now enjoyed on land. This would be an initial step in a movement that cannot cease until all exemptions are swept away.

Mayor Fleming's Economy.

One of the results of Mayor Fleming's economic policy may be seen in his handling of the Isolation Hospital question. Immediately prior to his election last January the Board of Health had approved of Dr. Allen's proposition for the erection of a $5000 building for the treatment of contagious diseases. One the score of economy, however, the new Mayor withheld his signature, and consequently the work has been delayed, considerable legal expenses have been incurred in fighting the injunction applied for by East End property-owners, and patients still continue to be treated at the old Smallpox Hospital. But apart from all this Mr. Fleming has defeated his professed policy of economy. For now, instead of a $5000 building, plans have been approved for a structure at an estimated cost of $20,000. And the site which must now be utilized is far inferior to that which could have been secured before Mr. Fleming's accession to the Mayor's chair.

Persia has sent out more than one invading army, but not even that which the poet described to be composed of "ships in thousands and men in nations" created more consternation than the foe that has issued from her borders in the shape of the cholera microbe. This is an enemy whose numbers no Leonidas can meet, whom valor is powerless to repulse and whose victims will feel no glory either in conquering or subduing.

The World believes in preserving history in the names of our streets, but really Sorauren and Roncesvalles are corkers. Even one glass of innocuous lager would incapacitate a man for pronouncing either of 'em.

All Bound for the Sea.

The town really seems deserted. Where have all the people gone to! Why, to the sea, of course. Then to the remaining few we ask, why not follow them? Summer is young, and there is still plenty of time for an enjoyable holiday at the sea. And then the traveling facilities will satisfy the most exacting.

The routes arranged by the Canadian Pacific Railway are sure to suit every person, as examination will prove. Here they are:

Route (1). All rail to Old Orchard Beach. For this service a through sleeper is run every Tuesday and Friday night from Toronto at 9 p.m., while daily trains leave at 8.45 a.m. and 9 p.m., arranged thus to afford a daylight ride through the heart of the White Mountains.

Route (2). Train to Kingston, boat to Montreal, and rail to destination. Trains leave Toronto every day for Kingston at 8.45 a.m. and 9 p.m., with a through sleeper attached to the latter, making direct connection with mail boats at Kingston. From here one of the finest river sails in the world is before the tourist. Remainder of journey lies directly through the heart of the White Mountains to Portland and Old Orchard Beach.

Route (3). Train to Ottawa, boat to Montreal, and rail to destination. To insure satisfaction to the traveler trains leave Toronto every day at 8.45 a.m. and 9 p.m. for Ottawa, with through sleeper attached to the latter. At Ottawa the boat may be taken for a sail down one of the grandest American rivers to Montreal. Remainder of journey as per route 2.

Route (4, 5, etc.). The return trip may be varied in a similar manner. If, therefore, you wish to spend the remainder of the summer in sure enjoyment, call around at the C.P.R. office, 1 King-street east, where tickets and berths may be secured.

Tax Exemptions—A Noble Example.

Editor World: As an earnest advocate of justice and an uncompromising opponent of the iniquity of tax exemptions, I rejoice to read the letter from the secretary of the Jarvis-street Baptist Church, which appears in to-day's papers, wherein it is stated that the said church decides voluntarily to pay the taxes on its property, amounting to nearly $1000, which the law does not demand from them. In said letter the Jarvis-street Baptist Church formally protests against all exemptions, and requests the corporation to use its influence to have the law amended so as to abolish the same. All honor to them for their noble example. It is indeed a standing rebuke to others who do not take a similar course. The glaring injustice of tax exemptions is manifest to all honorably-minded men. It is a startling fact that in this city nearly $23,000,000 of property is exempt from taxation. So long as such an infamous state of things is allowed to exist the burdens of the people will increase rather than diminish. All property, of whatever description, should bear its fair share of the burdens of taxation. This is a sound principle and is the only way to equalize our assessments and dispensate even-handed justice in this respect. Tax exemptions are a fraud upon the community at large and should be totally abolished.

RACES ON A GLASSY SHEET.

C.A.A.'S SUCCESSFUL SPORT ON THEIR FIRST DAY.

Vespers and Argonauts Capture the Only Prizes Offered—Dons and Sunnysides Capture Their Heats—A Tie Between Torontos and Bayslides—Betting To-day and Yesterday—General Sports.

Race.	Winner.	Club.	Time.
1 Half mile dash	Hedley	Vesper	3.08 2-5
2 Jun. singles, 1st heat	Sullivan	Dons	10.05
3 Jun. singles, 2nd heat	Jury / Nye	Bayslides / Torontos	10.21 2-5
4 Jun. doubles	Small bros	Argonaut	9.20 2-5
5 Sen. singles, 1st heat	Ryan	Sunnyside	9.24 2-5
6 Sen. singles, 2nd heat	Durnan	Sunnyside	9.33¼

All the elements joined to make a success of the first day's races of the 13th annual Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen's regatta.

The bay presented an almost perfect glassy surface, and a slight breeze, came from the east as if to help the scullers and oarsmen on their way as they sped from Ward's to Hanlan's.

The attendance of spectators was eminently satisfactory. There were just sufficient people present to demonstrate that amateur aquatics has a host of supporters in Toronto. And the crowd was not so dense as to affect the course and thus interfere with the races. So well did the regatta officers arrange the events that not a single mishap occurred, and the referee was not called once to adjudicate upon a foul.

Uncle Sam's scullers started in 3 of the 6 events and only captured one. Hedley of Philadelphia finished first in the dash. Durnan was favorite, but his oar became loose—he lost a couple of strokes and finished third. Hedley was also fancied by a great many for the first heat in the senior singles. Wright of the Torontos also was expected to be well to the front. Ryan of Sunnyside surprised many and won the heat handily, while Hedley was second three lengths away. McDowall, another sculler from across the line, started in the second senior heat. He was nowhere and Durnan won with plenty up his sleeve. Fred Thompson was second, two lengths away, with his brother E. A. a close third.

Both junior single trials furnished close races. Sullivan won the first by a length with Russell a length behind. Nye and Jury were declared to have finished even in the second trial. Spencer had the event won, but unfortunately a flag fooled him 30 yards from the finish. He stopped sculling and the pair passed him. An intervening yacht did not permit Judge Willis luck to take a photographic glance at the wire and he announced a dead heat, although young Jury admitted that Nye finished in front. Both would be in the final at all events.

The only rowing event of the day was the junior double between representatives of Argonauts and Dons. The former won by two lengths, and were ahead 100 yards at one stage of the course.

Philadelphia's Dash.

FIRST RACE, ½ mile dash:

Edwin Hedley, Vesper Rowing Club, Philadelphia	1
Robert McKay, jr., Argonaut Rowing Club	2
E. Durnan, Sunnyside Rowing Club	3
W. S. McDowell, Farragut Rowing Club	4
Joseph Wright, Toronto Rowing Club	5

Time 3.08 2-5.

E. A. Thompson, A. Grinstead and Robert Curran did not start, which left five men in the race: Eddie Durnan, Edwin Hedley, Robert McKay, Joseph Wright and W. S. McDowell.

When the signal was given McDowell, who was nearest the referee's boat, had a length to the good. For ¼ of a mile he held his lead, pulling 38 strokes to the minute. Durnan had the worst of the start, being a length and a half behind when the gun was fired. When one-fourth of the distance had been traversed Hedley went to the front, passing McDowell, who dropped back to third place. Robert McKay was second position, pulling at a 35 rate. When the half mile had been reached Hedley was still in the lead and seemed to have the race well in hand. Durnan, on whom the knowing ones had staked their cash, was in fourth place. At the beginning he caught a crab and this, together with the bad start which he was unfortunate enough to obtain, seemed to discourage him, and he rowed in very poor form. Hedley rowed a game race, finishing a length in front of McKay, who came in a couple of lengths ahead of Durnan. McDowell finished 4th, with Wright several lengths behind. Many reasons were advanced as to how Durnan lost this race; but the true facts are that his outrigger broke and that he was unable to keep the car in its place.

Sullivan Spurted and Was First.

SECOND RACE—Junior singles. First trial heat:

Joseph Sullivan, Don Rowing Club	1
J. A. Russell, Bayside Rowing Club	2
Charles Raine, Don Rowing Club	3

At the start Raine took the lead, closely followed by Sullivan. After 200 yards had been traversed Russell, who had passed Sullivan, made a spurt and passed Raine, gaining the inside position. At the three-quarters Russell was still in the lead, pulling a 36 stroke, with Sullivan and Raine going together as one man. In the race towards the finishing buoy Sullivan, who was pulling a powerful stroke, went to the front, closely followed by Russell. In this order they crossed the line, Sullivan winning in 10.05 1-5 with Russell 5 seconds behind.

Spencer Stopped—The Other Two Tied.

THIRD RACE—Junior singles. Second trial heat:

*Alfred Jury, Bayside Rowing Club	1
Fred W. Nye, Toronto Rowing Club	1
W. J. Spencer, Bayside Rowing Club	2

Time 10.21 2-5.

* Dead heat between Jury and Nye.

In this race Spence was the favorite, and it is probable that if he had not made a mistake at the finish would have won. He took the lead at the start and maintained it until near the finish. Here he stopped rowing, and Jury and Nye, who had rowed as one man during the race, passed him, and as they were apparently together at the finish it was given a dead heat. Spencer said that he thought he had passed the finishing line when he stopped rowing. He was a good three lengths ahead, and if he had allowed his boat to drift in would have undoubtedly finished ahead of his competitors.

The Argonauts' Small Victory.

FOURTH RACE—Junior doubles. Final heat:

H. Small and S. Small, Argonaut Rowing Club	1
F. Hogarth and James Hedley, Don Rowing Club	2

The Argonaut pair were the favorites in this race, and they maintained their reputation by taking the lead at the start and keeping it until the finish. The Dons steered badly, but gave their opponents a good race, finishing only 6 seconds behind.

Ryan Sculls Home Ahead of Hedley.

FIFTH RACE—Senior singles. First trial heat:

J. J. Ryan, Sunnyside Rowing Club	1
Edwin Hedley, Vesper Rowing Club, Philadelphia	2
R. McKay, jr., Argonaut Rowing Club	3
M. Shea, Don Rowing Club	4
Joseph Wright, Toronto Rowing Club	5

Time 9.24 2-5.

Hedley was the favorite in this race. All five got away together, and soon Ryan, who was never in better form in his life, went into the lead. He pulled beautifully at 38 strokes to the minute, with Hedley laboring two lengths behind, pulling at a 36 rate. Ryan was never headed and won by three lengths in 9.24 2-5. Hedley finished ½ seconds later, a length ahead of McKay. Shea finished fourth and Wright last.

Durnan Won in a Canter.

SIXTH RACE—Senior singles. First trial heat:

Edward Durnan, Sunnyside Rowing Club	1
E. H. Thompson, Argonaut Rowing Club	2
W. S. McDowell, Farragut Rowing Club	3
E. A. Thompson, Argonaut Rowing Club	4

Time 9.38 1-5.

Many sports not knowing how Durnan had lost the first race bet against him in this one, and to their sorrow, for he won "in a canter." Jim Rice had fixed his outrigger and had given him a new pair of oars, and the manner in which he walked away from his opponents clearly showed that he is, as The World has always said, the fastest amateur in Canada. He took the lead at the start and was never passed. McDowell and Fred Thompson kept well together for three-quarters of a mile, and then the Argonaut man passed McDowell and took second place. Durnan paddled in three lengths in front. McDowell finished third and E. A. Thompson fourth.

Speculation on the Scullers.

An enterprising Hamilton bookmaker sold pools last night in secluded spots on to-day's races. The most speculation was on the senior final. Durnan was a prime favorite against the field. Hedley and Ryan were split favorites for second honors at 3 and 4 to 1 with F. H. Thompson, the outsider, at 5 to 1. There was also some betting on the senior fours. Argonauts were made slight favorites at 5 to 3. The Dons and Bayslides were quoted at 2 to 1.

There was very little betting done on yesterday's races. Durnan was favorite for both events he started in. The field lacked even money and 4 to 5 supporters in the dash or Durnan's supporters would have been hundreds out. There was practically no speculation in any of the other events.

TO-DAY'S PROGRAM.

Positions of Scullers and Oarsmen for Six Races—Two Meetings.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen was called for last night. At 8 o'clock representatives met in the Argonaut Club House and decided to adjourn until this morning at 11 o'clock at the same place, when the officers for the year will be elected and the annual report received.

Afterwards the regatta committee convened and the drawings were made for to-day's events.

The prizes will be presented to successful competitors at the T.R.C.'s casino at the Island at 8.30 by President Sweny this evening. The trophies, which are valuable and of most beautiful design, are now on view at Ellis'.

The first race is expected to start promptly at 2.30 and one every subsequent half hour, which will have the last race over shortly after 6 o'clock. Here is the program with the probable starters, giving the proper positions of the men, the first mentioned being nearest the Island shore:

FIRST RACE, senior singles, final heat—Ryan, Sunnyside; Durnan, Sunnyside; Hedley, Vespers; F. H. Thompson, Argonauts.

Regatta Ripples.

R. Tianing with a party of good-looking ladies watched the races from a rowboat.

A dozen persons watched the races from Mr. Gooderham's steam yacht Abeona.

James Rice returns to Erie, Pa., to row Chris Shaw for $250 a side next Thursday.

Durnan's time in the last heat at the mile was 6.05. He evidently did not exert himself in any part of the race.

The Sunnyside carried a half dozen of the finest, who performed admirable duty in keeping the course clear.

The regatta committee stored the Luella with a good stock of refreshments which did good service all afternoon.

A sportive looking crowd was on board the Mascotte. The boat was crowded, as a very reasonable fare was charged.

The crowds in the Mayflower, Primrose and all the ferries careened the boats in their efforts to get a glimpse of the races.

His father's encouraging words from the Greyhound made Alfred Jury, jr., redouble his efforts and landed the youth in the final.

The new steamer A. J. Tymon will follow the races to-day, leaving Geddes' wharf at 3 o'clock. This will be the Tymon's maiden trip.

Curly McKay surprised the crowd by appearing in a rowboat. Everybody thought he was at home. He had returned about a week.

The Argonauts' war canoe, the Argo, was manned by a trim crew in nautical costume, who cheered their men in the different events.

Ryan sprinted in the first heat of the senior singles at the mile was a trifle less than 6 minutes. Hedley was right on his stern.

The Greyhound was the boat chartered by the regatta for subscribers to the C.A.A.'s prize fund. The committee paid $250 for her use for the two days.

Luella, Jackman, Viola and Greyhound looked like a big fleet of racers when they kept abreast after the shells. Jackman persisted in spoiling the line.

President Col. Sweny of the C.A.A.'s, with the painstaking and hard-working Secretary W. H. Littlejohn, viewed the races from the referee's steamer.

Messrs. McGaw, Ted Gegg, Dave Roberts and a party of about a score were aboard the Viola, who told spectators everywhere of her presence by her unique whistle that everybody knows.

The Frank Jackman followed the races with a party of about a score of persons. They would have gained the favor of the other boats had they been less rash in persisting in passing the Luella.

James Rice has just returned from Erie, Pa., where he rowed Harvey Thompson, a champion clinker sculler, last Monday. Rice gave Thompson a minute start in 3 miles and won by two lengths.

Hanlan, Hosmer, Ross, O'Connor, Stanbury, Kenny, McLean and Tom Sullivan will probably be invited to row at Chicago during the World's Fair for a purse of $5000 offered by Richard K. Fox.

Doty's grand stand at the Point accommodated upwards of 150 persons, who had a good command of the whole course. It was an enchanted view, as the distance was not considered. The docks both at the Point and Centre Island were crowded with spectators.

It was a pretty sight at the finish, with both sides of the course kaleidoscopically fringed with all the colors of the rainbow in scores of rowboats, whose occupants were prettily dressed girls in summer costume gallantly looked after by their big brothers and beaux.

Mr. Tom Mitchell, the Dons' capable representative at the meeting, was commissioned on the steam yacht Sunnyside to put the Cygnet in place and flag the course. His steamer broke her machinery, but the gallant Tom sent the flags out in a rowboat and despatched word for another tug and the cutter soon was in position at the finish.

"Get back to your buoys!" yelled Referee Pearson to three of the scullers in the last race. Durnan was the fourth man whose beam was at the flag. "Go up No. 3!" came the order from the Lizzie. "Oh, send us off!" returned the laddie, who is expected to defeat Ryan, Hedley and Thompson to-day.

The officers of the day performed their duties admirably. Referee Pearson, who was the starter, experienced his only trouble in making the men get back to their buoys before going off. The officers were: Referee, James Pearson; judge at the finish, William Ince, jr.; timekeepers, John Henderson, W. J. Bryce, A. C. Macdonell; scorers, J. Gulnane, Frank Lloyd, C. D. Lennox.

GENEVA PARK, Lake Couchiching, July 19.—The following members have arrived at the northern division A.C.A. camp and are busy making tents comfortable and landings for canoes secure: Vice-Commodore D. B. Jacques, Purser J. W. Sparrow, Robert Tyson, W. A. Fraser, H. F. McKendrick, A. J. O'Malley, John Agnew, also a party of five ladies.

The members all seem well pleased with the situation of the camp, and a beautiful view of the lake and racing courses can be seen from headquarters and ladies' camp.

The sailing men have not had as yet an opportunity to test their boats, as the wind has been very strong and is keeping up the reputation of the lake. Those members who intend coming to camp need not fear to come without camp kits, as a first-class mess has been established under the management of Mr. Hatley of Orillia.

Sporting Miscellany.

There is talk of establishing another race track in Chicago as a rival to Washington Park.

The Hamilton Bicycle Club has engaged Ed Case, the sprinter, to train Palmer for the summer's races.

Members of the Phenix Cricket Club, Chicago, arrived in the city last night and are registered at the Walker House.

The Phenix club of Chicago played a draw at Detroit on Monday. Detroit scored 175 and the Chicagoans 150 for nine wickets.

The Crescent Baseball Club are willing to play the Primroses at any time and for any amount. The latter have been doing a deal of talking as to how they can wallop the Crescents.

Shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday morning the Eastern League meeting was called to order. After a lengthily discussion Elmira was frozen out, much against her wish. Syracuse also retired. This leaves a six-club league.

The Toronto Shooting and Game Protective Association will hold their summer shoot at live blackbirds on Saturday on Stark's grounds at 2.30 p.m. sharp. Prizes will be given.

A Canadian Favorite.

The season of green fruits and summer drinks is the time when the worst forms of cholera morbus, diarrhœa and kindred complaints prevail. As a safeguard Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry should be kept in the house. For 35 years it has been the most reliable remedy. 246

Parmelee's Vegetable Pills contain Mandrake and Dandelion; they cure Liver and Kidney Complaints with unerring certainty. They also contain Roots and Herbs which have specific virtues truly wonderful in their action on the stomach and bowels. Mr. E. A. Cameron, Shakespeare, writes: "I consider Parmelee's Pills an excellent remedy for Biliousness and Derangement of the Liver, having used them myself for some time."

Teething.

During the period of dentition the suffering of infants is something terrible, and mothers are put to their wits' end to devise some means of alleviating the agony of their children. Dyer's Improved Food for Infants is eagerly taken by sick or healthy children—25c per package. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal.

James Cullen, Pool's Island, N.F., writes: "I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its introduction to this place, and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of nose; while not a few of my 'rheumatic neighbors' (one old lady in particular) pronounced it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a sponsor, but if I can add my testimony to my name in this place, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child."

When some stores would call it a (good day) we would call it extremely dull. We've been past some stores this last two or three days, just the time of day when we all ought to be doing a good steady trade, and lo and behold! if we hadn't more people in than they had 'twould make us feel bad indeed. But they don't seem to mind it; they plod along in a semi-contented way. They say we do the best we can — trade's so dull!!!

Trade dull? No! No!! No!!! A thousand times No!!! Trade is just exactly what you make it. Of course we'll admit that some seasons are not so good as others, and that's when money's scarce. Then we make prices to suit the pockets of the populace. Trade at a live store—one that's always displaying new goods on the counters. We always let prices do the talking.
