RENNIE DEFEATED SCOTT FINAL FOR WALKER VASE

Score 23 to 19, Caledonians Always Leading—Curling for District Cups.

The gold Walker Vase now passes into the hands of the Caledonians. R. Rennie's rink defeated W. Scott of Parkdale last night on a perfect sheet of Granite ice, by 23 to 19. The margin is only 4 shots, it was the Caledonians' game all the way. They were in front from the start, but Scott and his clever curlers from the Flowery Suburb made a gallant effort to pull down a lead that proved insurmountable. It was 16 to 4 on the 13th end, and 22 to 9 with only 5 to go. Scott tallied more than half his total on four of these, while Rennie was making only 1. With the last stone of this Walker Cup, Scott clipped out two counters and lay three himself. Rennie tallied fours twice by raising out second shots. The Rennies built up beautiful ends in the early stages of the game, when Parkdale's work seemed to consist chiefly in taking off the guards. Scott called for some shooting by Hunter and Snow in the first half, and many misses forced a change to the usual tactics of drawing and raising.

The Granite Rink was carefully roped off, and all round the ice and galleries was packed by enthusiastic brithers of the besom, not forgetting a sprinkling of ladies.

Skip Rennie stated that the rink will now stand. Next season, J. Rennie, with T. Rennie third, will likely enter for the new Walker, while R. Rennie says he will be content to play third for some ambitious Caledonian, probably G. Sear or A. E. Nichols, who surely has won his spurs during these long nine years as lead of triple rink champions of Toronto.

District Cup for Parkhill.

Stratford, Jan. 19.—Owing probably to the uncertainty of the train service, only four curling clubs were represented here to-day for the competition in the preliminary series of group B, district 7, for the district cup. Waterloo defeated Stratford by 19 shots, and Parkhill defeated St. Marys by 20. Parkhill and Waterloo then played off, the former winning by 19 shots.

Beat Terrors of the North.

Midland, Jan. 19.—The Midland septet of hockey players gave evidence of their ability to play championship hockey when to-night they defeated the Victoria Harbor team. Waldie's aggregation of all-star players, the so-called terrors of the north, by 8 to 6. The game was fast from start to finish, at half-time the score being 4 to 2 in favor of the visiting team, and after 35 minutes' play the score was 6 to 2 in favor of the same.

Referee F. C. Waghorn, Toronto, gave every satisfaction, and was very impartial.

LEGAL POINT RAISED.

Counsel for Sam Thompson Says Magistrate Has No Jurisdiction.

When Samuel Thompson was arraigned before Magistrate Denison the court room was crowded. The Crown evidently expected to be asked to make out a prima facie case, but the defence sprang a surprise at once. Mr. DuVernet appeared for the prisoner and objected to the introduction of any testimony on the ground that the court had not jurisdiction. The sum of the argument, well authenticated by recent citations, was that while the act of illegal voting had been defined as violation of the law, the statute had failed to provide a procedure for securing punishment. The Crown combated the idea and urged the implied right to impose the penalty prescribed by the section under which the charge is laid. Col. Denison's view seemed to favor the position of the Crown. He thought a remand was the proper course, however, until the legal aspects of the case could be carefully examined. The prisoner was released upon the bail previously supplied by his brother, David Thompson, in the sum of $1500.

The charge was that while the accused was deputy returning officer of the ninth division of the Fourth Ward he had fraudulently put into the ballot box a paper other than the ballots which he was authorized by law to so deposit. This charge might permit the introduction of evidence to show that the prisoner was responsible for placing in the box the blank school board ballots found there, or the twenty-five ballots found in one bunch for Richardson, Burns and Jones.

A Case in Point.

When Crown Attorney Curry stated the case, Mr. DuVernet immediately said: "This is a matter entirely without Your Worship's jurisdiction. The point was carefully gone over at St. Thomas before Magistrate Glenn. The magistrate held there was no provision in the Municipal Act of the revised statutes giving him authority to try cases under the act. There was nothing in the criminal code that would permit the investigation, he had held. He therefore refused to grant the summons in such a case as entirely useless."

Magistrate Denison inquired with much earnestness if this had really been held by the court. He was assured by Mr. DuVernet that it had, and Mr. Curry did not dispute the existence of such a decision, but he questioned its application in the present case.

Mr. DuVernet added that the case had been affirmed. It covered the placing of any paper in a ballot box, and is the same under which the charge against Mr. Thompson is drawn. He referred His Worship to section 193."

There is a Penalty, However.

"But, Your Worship," said Crown Attorney Curry, "I desire to direct your attention to the third division of the same section, which provides a penalty of two years in prison for its violation if the violator is a returning officer and six months if any other officer."

Mr. DuVernet insisted that there was no procedure prescribed. He asked Mr. Curry to point out where the procedure was authorized. The legislature had chosen to stop after the penalty was prescribed. It was not an offence at common law. It would require a municipal enactment to make it an offence. He referred to the case of Strachan, in which the court had decided the only competent tribunal was an examination before a Division Court.

The Crown Attorney insisted that the Ontario government had the power and had prescribed a penalty for the violation, and the usual procedure in criminal cases would be sufficient. The proceedings would be before a magistrate. Mr. Curry said he was prepared to argue the case as to the facts, but the legal argument he desired postponed.

Failed After Two Years.

Col. Denison ventured the opinion that there must be some way to carry out the expressed intentions of the legislature.

Mr. DuVernet replied that he had been engaged in the St. Thomas case, and had tried two years to discover how it could be done and failed.

"Why did they not create a procedure?" inquired His Worship with the usual vigor he manifests in disposing of hair splitting.

Mr. Curry added that they had created all the procedure necessary.

Col. Denison was clearly not much impressed with the nice point of law Mr. DuVernet had injected, as a bar to the further prosecution of Mr. Thompson. He observed the many references to political corruption in the States, and declared with emphasis that anything of the kind should be stopped here as soon as possible. "It ought to be done at once," he added.

Punish by Summary Conviction.

Mr. Curry remarked: "The legislature has said that whoever commits a certain act is amenable to this section, and shall suffer certain penalties. They can only treat an offence punishable on summary conviction and no other. To me it seems perfectly clear that since the only offence they can create is punishable by summary conviction that immediately they create the offence it would be punishable by summary conviction."

Col. Denison thought that would be the common sense way, the reasonable way of looking at the question. But while that was the natural conclusion Col. Denison was not certain about the legal conclusion so the adjournment until Monday was taken.

To The World Mr. DuVernet said he was certain his point was well taken. "IF IT IS NOT SUPPORTED I SHALL APPLY TO THE HIGHER COURT

Voted for Controllers in Sub-Division 3, Ward 3.

The detectives who are visiting the voters in the various sub-divisions, under suspicion, have adopted a new method of enquiry. Instead of asking the question Did you vote at a certain polling booth? they go further, and ask Did you vote in that booth for controller, aldermen, Board of Education and the bylaw? This method is producing excellent results. In sub-division 3 of Ward 3 yesterday the detectives found that only about ten out of thirty had voted for controllers. The full result of the canvass of this sub-division will not be known until this afternoon.

Messrs. Curry, Stark and Littlejohn had not determined last night which sub-division of any ward they would investigate. They are anxious to get at the polling booths, where most of the alleged crookedness and inaccuracies have occurred. Just where they will start will depend upon the number of suggestions and the amount of information that is received by them. There is no doubt that No. 2 division in Ward 5 will be considered and looked over at an early date. Crown Attorney Curry has received a number of anonymous letters reporting irregularities in various booths. None of these, the Crown officer says, will be overlooked, and all will receive attention.

It is possible that the investigation may not continue to-day, as the work is seriously conflicting with the regular duties of the officers who are conducting the scrutiny.

D.R.O.'S INTERVIEWED.

Three Officials Discuss the Incidents of Election Day.

The World last night interviewed several D.R.O.'s in whose districts it was rumored that irregularities had occurred similar to those at No. 9 Pheobe-street. Below is the result of those interviews:

FRED LAUGHTON, 17 Gardenavenue, D.R.O. in sub-division 20, Ward 6, was seen in connection with the alleged discrepancies in the figures in his returns. He thought the cumulative system would account for these. "I had no trouble with any of them. The only thing was that any ballot paper with three crosses marked for more than one man on the Board of Education paper I considered spoiled. So many of the Board of Education ballots were spoiled in my opinion, as many as fifty. I believe, that the average of the votes would be brought down. I had the impression that a paper marked with three crosses for one name and three crosses for another would be a spoiled ballot according to the instructions I got from the printed sheet of "guidance for voters." The officer in division 19 I think had the same impression. This could be easily settled in ten minutes by a recount. Any of the Board of Control ballots that were spoiled could not be disputed. Everything was as quiet as could be all day. There could hardly have been personators there, as I know nearly all the voters, and so also did the polling clerk, and the constable knew nearly everyone there. Many ballots for controller were only marked with one cross, where there might have been four, and this would also reduce the average vote. There were a great many Conservatives left off the lists in Ward 6 this year."

ABRAHAM CAHOON was seen at 10 Eden-place. He was D.R.O. in sub-division 2, Ward 5. "All my papers and lists and the polling book are down at the City Hall and I have nothing to say," he replied in answer to a World enquiry. "I am nursing a sick father and am going to sit up with him to-night. I saw nothing all that day more than usual." Mr. Cahoon seemed reluctant to talk, but said he saw no sign of any irregularity.

W. A. REID, 35 Bellwoods-avenue, D.R.O. in sub-division 7, Ward 5, saw nothing all day to excite suspicion. He knows nearly all the people in his neighborhood, and thing it should be made a rule that deputy returning officers should be appointed in the district in which they live, so that they may be familiar with the voters. There was no trouble at any time of the day, and he got thru with the counting quicker than in other years. "I had only 121 votes, tho, my division having been cut in two." Two men called to vote and their names had been left off the lists.

WILLIAM R. TOMLIN was seen at 63 Clinton-street, and, altho roused from bed, spoke courteously and freely. He had been a returning officer for many years, but took no interest in politics, and never thought of it from one year till the next. He did not even vote, and simply did his duty, as he understood it. He would not let his own brother do anything irregular at the polls. His division, he said, was quite a hot place at times, but this year was quieter than usual, as there was no Mayoralty contest. He had not had to swear any voters this year. From his long experience he knew most of the voters in the division. He thought that if there was any crooked work it would it would be found to be confined to one district. Mr. Tomlin was D.R.O. in sub-division 1, Ward 5.

CASE OF MR. BURNS

Presents Several Aspects—A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., Retained by Him.

Ex-Controller William Burns will appear before Col. Denison this morning in answer to a charge of having applied for a ballot paper in his own name after having voted once, and not being entitled to vote again at an election in the City of Toronto for aldermen, controllers and on a money bylaw.

This charge is laid under section 193 of the Consolidated Municipal Act of 1903, the same as that under which Samuel Thompson was arrested and the penalty provided by sub-section 3 is imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months. Thompson's case is covered by clause "b" of sub-section 1, relating to the acts of officials, while clause "f" under which Burns is charged relates to voters. Sub-section two of the same section provides that no person shall attempt to commit any offence specified in the section.

The case of Mr. Burns presents several aspects. The poll books show that he wrongfully voted in Wards Two and Three for the Board of Control, and twice in Ward One for aldermen. On his own admission, which his counsel will not dispute, he voted wrongfully in Ward One on the sanitarium bylaw.

In addition to this there is the statement of the D.R.O. in sub-division 10a of Ward One that Mr. Burns applied for a controllers' ballot paper in that booth and was refused. If this be proven, there will be evidence that Mr. Burns committed four separate offences against the act, and no denial of the charge that he was guilty of one offence.

Section 162 of the Municipal Act provides: (1) Any person who votes more often than he is entitled to under the provisions of this act shall incur a penalty of $50. (2) The receipts by any voter of a ballot paper within the polling booth shall be prima facie evidence that he has there and then voted.

The poll books of the different divisions furnish the required prima facie evidence, and it will be necessary for Mr. Burns to disprove the charges made against him.

Frank Slattery, counsel for Mr. Burns, was disinclined to discuss the matter last night, but said that Mr. Burns would appear this morning prepared to fight the case. He had not yet gone very deeply into the legal aspect of the case, as he presumed that the police magistrate would not go on until the question of jurisdiction raised in the Thompson case had been decided. He strongly upheld Mr. Burns' contention that he had a right to vote in every precinct in which he was assessed as a freeholder, and was not aware that the bylaw to provide for the vote on the sanitarium question contained a clause bearing directly on the question at issue.

Section three of the bylaw says: "Each ratepayer shall be entitled to vote once in each ward in which he has the qualification necessary to entitle him to vote on a money bylaw."

Mr. Slattery said that this clause provided no penalty for infraction of its regulation, and that no doubt Mr. Burns had never noticed it when the bylaw passed the Council. In any event he stated that the stand taken by his client showed that he had not gone to the polls with intent to commit any unlawful act. The standing of Mr. Burns in the community, his record as an alderman for 12 years, and as controller for three years, should be considered, said Mr. Slattery, in connection with the trivial advantage sought to be gained by the acts he is alleged to have committed. In fact if the Crown Attorney had not acted in the matter it had been Mr. Slattery's intention to apply on behalf of his client for a full investigation of the charges made in order to clear his character. He would assist in any way to bring out the facts to the fullest extent, as he was certain that it could be shown that Mr. Burns was entirely guiltless.

It is understood that A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., has been retained by Mr. Burns.

One Way of Tracing Ballots.

Altho the absence of numbers from the ballots or counterfoils prevents the possibility of securing an absolutely correct account of the ballots handled by each deputy returning officer, yet the returns made by those officials to the city clerk of their disposition of the papers entrusted to their care should show with sufficient clearness whether or not Mr. Burns received the ballot with which he is charged on the official books.

The ballots are put up by the printer in packages of hundreds, and are handed out by the city clerk to his deputies according to the number of voters in their respective sub-divisions. For these ballots the clerk takes a receipt, and when the boxes are returned there is also required a ballot account, showing the number received by the deputy returning officer, and the number used, spoiled, rejected and returned unused. While it often happens that the printer puts up a few more in a package than the number required or marked on it it is nevertheless the duty of the deputy returning officer to count the ballots before opening the poll and note the number on his sheet. The stubs are returned to the city clerk as well, and as they are stitched together, they will show how many ballots were issued. It would be possible to detach a few of the papers, ballots and stubs together from the bottom of the block, but the looseness of the thread would show that they had been detached.

The ballot account would show just how many ballots for controllers, aldermen and the sanitarium bylaw were used in each sub-division where Mr. Burns voted. If the poll clerks were in error in their records, then their ballot accounts will not balance. This is a test which should be applied as soon as the court orders the boxes opened and the ballots inspected.

LAW THAT APPLIES.

It is provided by Section 193 of the Consolidated Municipal Act that:

No person shall fraudulently put into any ballot box any paper other than the ballot paper which he is authorized by law to put in."

Sub-Section 3 says that a person guilty of any violation of this section shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labor.

Section 194 states that every officer and clerk who is guilty of any wilful malfeasance or any wilful act or omission in the performance of his duties shall, in addition to any other penalty or liability to which he may be subject, forfeit to any person aggrieved by such malfeasance, act or omission, a penal sum of $400.

Section 704 provides that every fine and penalty imposed by this act may be recovered and enforced with costs, by summary conviction before any justice of the peace in the municipality, and in default of payment the offender may be committed to the common jail, there to be imprisoned, in the discretion of the convicting justice, not exceeding thirty days, unless such fine and penalty, including costs, are sooner paid.

A QUESTION OF VALUE

The Pianola has, to its owners, a value which they are unable properly to estimate in dollars and cents—a value worth to them far more than the original cost of the instrument.

This value is measured by the amount of pleasure which the Pianola affords. Yet there are many owners of pianos who have never seen this wonderful device. Such owners, many of whom have paid a considerable sum for their pianos—which are only occasionally used, would most cheerfully pay an additional amount for an arrangement with the aid of which they and every member of their family can play upon their piano any selection they may desire to hear.

It is not necessary that you should know anything about piano-playing—the Pianola will enable you to do all this.

On the music roll there is an expression line for your guidance in all matters; yet you may infuse into the rendition of the selection the feeling, etc., which your own ideas of interpretation or your mood elects. This human element is what makes thousands appreciate the value of the Pianola. It will be appreciated by you—if you have a piano which is lacking the player, or has a player with a limited repertory.

Startling Story of Mrs. Adams

Stricken With Bright's Disease, All Hope of Life Was Abandoned.

Her Restoration to Health Causes a Sensation in the Medical World.

Doctors Gave Her Up, but Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her Completely.

Collingwood, Ont., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—While Canada stands aghast at the terrible inroads Bright's disease is making on the ranks of the brightest and best of her citizens; while the medical profession stand helpless before the dread destroyer of life, Collingwood has among her citizens one who knows all its terrors, who has been carried down by it till the portals of death were open to receive her, and who to-day is a strong, healthy, happy woman—a woman who knows Bright's disease in all its hideousness, but who fears it not, because she knows its cure.

Mrs. Thomas Adams is the lady's name, and she has now been a resident of Collingwood for a year and a half. Before that she lived in Burk's Falls, where she is widely known and highly respected. Mrs. Adams feels it her duty to spread the good news all over Canada, all over the world, that she has found a cure for Bright's disease and that that cure is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Adams' Story.

"Yes," she said, when interviewed regarding her case. "My friends can tell you how terribly ill I was. My doctor pronounced it Bright's disease and sciatica, but I got no relief from anything he gave me. It was Dodd's Kidney Pills that drove away the terrible disease, raised me from my bed of suffering and made me a well and happy woman.

"I was for years troubled with a pain in my back at times I would have to keep my bed. In March, 1900, I got so bad with pains in my back and hip that I was more helpless than an infant, and at times gave up all hope of getting well. I had no power of my back or limbs.

"I was for eight months an invalid, and my sufferings during that time were something too terrible for words to describe. My doctor said I had Bright's disease, but he could do nothing to give me relief.

How the Cure Came.

"It was then a friend of my husband induced me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I had no faith in them, for I never expected to get better. But I tried them, and I thank God that I did. They brought me relief almost from the first, and after taking three boxes I was able to do my own work and look after my children.

"It is three years since I started using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I have not had a return of my trouble since. When I feel a little out of sorts, I just get a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and they drive all the pains away."

It is needless to say Mrs. Adams' friends all use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They find that a remedy that cures Bright's disease easily disposes of all the earlier stages of kidney complaint.
