SHOP TALK:

Most persons long for the thrill of the big outdoors and the magic wrought by the great open spaces. Nature is awe-inspiring wherever you go, but can you imagine so tingling a feeling as the one that would grip you if you were standing on the top of the world?

In Canada's northern wonderland, where the virginity of nature is omnipresent, may be found the top of the world. Thousands of feet above sea level are campers, and the thrills they experience in wresting a living from nature far above the rest of the universe is vigorously told in the story which Glynn-Ward has written for tomorrow's Advertiser.

The land where big game is wildest is replete with thrills, and if you want to read a story that will sweep you to that north country, with its magnificent forests, its turbulent streams, and its joys for those who are brave, don't fail to read the feature on the first page of The Advertiser's magazine section tomorrow.

Of course, you will be waiting for the other bright specialties which make the Saturday Advertiser one of the most complete Saturday editions published by a Canadian daily.

Life's Little Comedies, that cartoon with the universal appeal, is better than ever this week, and you will also find the Page About People, with its unusual sketches of famous men and women, so interesting that you won't stop until you have read it all.

But the Magazine Section is only part of the big Saturday Advertiser. Besides the regular news section, giving comprehensive reports of the world's happenings during the previous 24 hours, there will be the eight pages of colored comics, all by foremost cartoonists, and the beautiful Rotogravure Section of four pages.

On the front page of the Rotogravure, The Advertiser prints pictures of London and Western Ontario people and miscellaneous photos of phases of the Garden of Canada. Many of these are contributed by readers.

On this week's front page you will find little Jack Scott of London, Miss M. McNeil, and an extremely pretty view of the Punch Bowl, near Elmira, with its remnants of Indian times, and others.

If you are interested in sports and you want to know at a glance what is happening over the week-end, then all you need to do is to take a look at the front page of tomorrow's news section, where all the happenings are tabulated in a manner that tells you what you want to know in a second or two.

Next week, a special treat is in store for readers of the Saturday Advertiser. You know Port Talbot, that quaint village on Lake Erie, near Port Stanley? Well, an absorbing story of the colorful, vibrant history of that district has been written by Purdom Love, of The Advertiser staff. Those were the days when Col. the Hon. Thomas Talbot was a dominant figure in the conquering of the Ontario wilderness. The Talbot Settlement was the name of that territory, which was one of the first in the province to be put to the uses of man.

The story tells many details of the struggles of those early days, as well as newly uncovered incidents of the bravery and foresight of Col. Talbot and his fellows. You should not miss it. Watch for it in next Saturday's Advertiser.

WARNS AGAINST POTATO BLIGHT

Present Conditions Favor Spread, Stratford Farmers Told.

Special to The Advertiser.

Stratford, Aug. 13.—A warning to the effect that present conditions and time of year are ideal for the spread of potato blight has been issued by Agricultural Representative M. C. McPhail. He advises those raising potatoes to use as a precautionary measure Bordeaux mixture. Potato blight is a fungus disease. Once started in a plot, it can kill all the growth in as short a time as one week.

The first sign of the blight is seen when the under-leaves of the potato plant turn brown and appear water-soaked. This deadness soon spreads to the whole plant and kills it.

Rescues Little Girl.

But for the promptness of Mrs. Ben C. Smith, 187 St. David street, in going to the rescue of little Evelyn Skirton, who was bathing in the river, the Avon might have claimed a victim. Evelyn, age 13, is the daughter of J. C. Skirton, 183 St. David street. With several other little girls, she was bathing at the beach, and got beyond her depth. Mrs. Smith, who was also a bather, heard her cries, and going to her assistance, brought her out of the water. The child was taken to her home in an automobile, and is little the worse for her experience.

There were races and games for the kiddies, and various amusements, including softball, for the adults. The evening was spent socially at the pavilion. Although to some extent interrupted by the weather, the outing was an enjoyable and memorable one. The gathering broke up about 9:30 o'clock.

She will die, surgeons say, of the bullet wound in her lung. The other woman, Mrs. Nancy Maloney Sout, said to be the daughter of the late Chief Justice Maloney of New York, is expected to recover from the effects of a draught of poison.

The constable explained that most of the trouble-makers on the reserve were doing time in the county jail here.

The new jail at Muncey is practically completed and will open for customers in a week or two, the mounted policeman stated.

KANSAS CITY MAN ADMITS SENDING MELLON LETTER

Associated Press Despatch.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 14.—Will K. Reeme, has confessed sending to Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury, an anonymous letter threatening his life. He is being held at police headquarters for investigation.

As a measure for rendering street traffic more safe, and at the same time expediting it, the Ontario minister of highways, the Hon. George S. Henry, has had the above diagram produced by department engineers. The safety of motor travel is a prime consideration with the minister, who is insistent in the warnings and advice he has issued on subjects such as non-glare lights and head and tail lights which are not constantly illuminated. Publication of the above official chart and instructions on the turning of corners is made in the hope that motorists will note the directions given. It is suggested that the chart be cut out and kept for reference.

BRITISH MINE OWNER WARNS UNION LEADER

Marquis of Londonderry Declares People Will Stand Only So Much.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 14.—The Marquis of Londonderry, who is a great coal mine owner, speaking in Wales last night, intimated that if A. J. Cook, general secretary of the miners' federation, challenged the preliminary institutions of the country, and brought about a revolution, the result would be disastrous to the trades unions of Great Britain generally, and they would be "smashed from top to bottom."

The marquis said: "I venture to tell Mr. Cook that if he believes that he is going to intimidate the British nation and challenge our parliamentary institutions, he will very soon find he has made a mistake. He has already found that Mr. Baldwin is prepared to go to the fullest length with honor to the country, in the direction of peace, but the time may come, and it appears as if Cook is anxious to force that time on the prime minister, when the government will say: 'We have done all we can; let the issue be joined.' If that evil day comes Cook may have his fill of revolution, but the revolution will not last very long, and I am convinced that the great mass of the people imbued as they are with the British spirit and tradition, will rally to the cause of orderly government.

"Whatever it may cost we shall find the trades unions smashed from top to bottom. They will have to begin again from the very bottom to achieve the position which they really do hold for the good of the community.

"I am certain of this, if it comes to an issue between A. J. Cook and the British government, every right-thinking British labor man, and the great majority are right-thinking, will be found on the side of the government—not a Conservative government nor a Liberal government—but the government of the country under his majesty the king."

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 14.—The Athens correspondent of the Daily Express reports that the volcanic eruptions which began several days ago on the island of Thira, north of the island of Crete, are continuing. The volcano is throwing up tongues of fire 300 feet high, accompanied by strong submarine seismic shocks between the islands of Kaimeni and Thira. A new island is said to be rising owing to the volcanic action.

NO DANGER OF FALLS LOSING ITS BEAUTY

P. W. Ellis Declares Erosion at Brink Nothing To Worry About.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Aug. 14.—No immediate danger of Niagara Falls losing its scenic splendor was seen by P. W. Ellis of Toronto, chairman of the Queen Victoria, Niagara Falls, park commission, interviewed today. Commenting on the statement of Walter Hoover, United States secretary of commerce, Mr. Ellis stated that scientific means of preventing the erosion of the brink of the falls had been known for some time. Nothing has yet been done to act on these plans to distribute the flow and reduce the erosion, but undoubtedly the time is not far off when this matter will be taken up by the governments, Mr. Ellis said. Erosion of the crest of the falls is taking place at the rate of five feet a year.

FIVE HUNDRED ATTEND IRON FOUNDRY PICNIC

Splendid Time Given by St. Thomas Company at Pinafore Park.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Aug. 13.—A merry crowd of five hundred people attended the picnic of the Canadian Iron Foundry at Pinafore Park this afternoon. Light showers did not dampen the enthusiasm of the picnickers, and everyone had a good time.

After the sports, a banquet in the pavilion held forth its usual appeal to the employees and their wives and sweethearts. Following a generous custom introduced last year, the company bore the entire expense of the outing.

Among the guests of honor were: Aldermen John Handford, William McIntyre, C. E. Raven, Frank Harding, William Stokes and Frank L. Brinkman, each of whom expressed himself as delighted with the splendid program. Alderman Brinkman conveyed the regrets of Mayor Geo. Sloggett, who was unable to be present.

The sports were run off with a spirit of fun and friendly rivalry. W. Liddle, Y.M.C.A. secretary was largely responsible for the long and varied program, and the efficient manner in which it was handled. In the softball games the wheelmen knocked the casters out of the lot, then trounced the officemen and foremen's team.

Mrs. E. Smale and R. Robinson won the guessing contest; baby show under six months, A. Henry, J. Geraske, six to twelve months, C. Neal, C. Cutter and W. Yarski. The judges of the baby contest were W. J. Shaw, J. Handford and J. Clarke. Mr. and Mrs. Henry, with eleven children, won the prize for the largest family on the grounds.

FREE STATE EXPECTED TO DROP TARIFF PLAN

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Aug. 14.—The Dublin correspondent of the Westminster Gazette says the tariff experiment started by the Irish Free State about two years ago has failed so signally that it is likely that most of the duties will be dropped. The idea was, of course, to protect and foster Irish manufactures, but the correspondent writes, foreign goods have not been excluded, while prices naturally have risen as the consumers paid the penalty.

He cites the motor car trade among the people specially affected, saying the purchasing of cars has diminished greatly, while all drygoods except tobacco and household furniture also have suffered, and several Dublin firms have been unable to pay their way.
