Miss Sadie Hogan and her pupils of Grade X attended the United church, Bridgetown, to hear Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities" with illustrated slides. This book is being studied in that grade this year and after having seen the pictures the study of it will be much more interesting.

An item of interest in last issue of the Monitor was the marriage of Miss Ariel Conrad and R. Carlyle Davies, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Davies. Lyle is well known here and his bride is a sister of Mrs. J. E. Conrad, a former resident of this place, but now residing in Haines City, Florida. The friends of this couple would extend best wishes for their future happiness.

Messrs Arthur and Hennigar Bent with their teams, are hauling gravel for Messenger road. This road in the early spring was almost impassable in places, and this is very necessary repair work.

OBITUARY.

Isaac Longley Durling.

On Friday, April 17th., Isaac Longley Durling passed away at his home in Lawrencetown, aged 81 years. Until about ten days before his death he had been actively engaged in business.

Mr. Durling was a life-long resident of Lawrencetown and by his kindly disposition made many warm friends. In politics he was a staunch Liberal, and in religion a Methodist, of which church he had been a member for thirty-five years.

Mr. Durling was twice married, in 1871 to Miss Henrietta Fairn of Albany, who left three daughters, Winnifred, widow of J. Elvin Shaffner of Lawrencetown; Ethel, wife of Rev. J. Holmes Toole of Swift Current, Sask., and Miss Bessie of Brookline, Mass. In 1892 he married Miss Ada Sophia Stoddart, who survives him, with her daughters, Miss H. Marie of Boston; Mildred, wife of P. M. Mason, of Welland, Ont.; and Miss Helene of Boston. There are eleven grandchildren. Mr. Durling was predeceased by his three brothers, James of Inglisville; David of Lawrencetown, and Fletcher of Paradise.

His children, except Mrs. Toole, were present at the funeral services, which were held at his late residence on Tuesday, April 21st, by Rev. W. H. Rackham, Methodist, assisted by Rev. A. H. Whitman, Baptist. Many friends from a distance joined with those of his home town in paying their last respect. The pall-bearers were his grandsons, Malcolm and Ernest Shaffner, and nephews Paul and Isaac Durling.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Interment was at Fairview Cemetery.

Local Happenings

We would call our readers attention to the advertisement appearing in this issue announcing the great "Matrimonial Trial" to which we referred last week. All roads will surely lead to the Primrose on the evening of Thursday, May 7th. The production will be under the direction of Mrs. W. D. Lockett.

STORES CLOSE ON WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS.

Beginning May 1st, and continuing until October 31st, stores will remain open on Tuesday evenings and will close on Wednesday afternoons at 12.30 p.m. of each week.

On Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Women's Missionary Aid Society of the Baptist church held at the home of the President, Mrs. J. W. Peters, a presentation of a fountain pen was made by the members to Mrs. Harry Miller, who has been the efficient secretary of the organization for some considerable time past, and is leaving here for Nictaux.

In their entertainment on Thursday May 7th, the Upstreamers Tuxis Square will have the assistance of the Bridgetown Melody Men, and the Male Quartette. Vaudeville and acrobatic stunts will also be features. See advt.

On Friday evening there was a spelling match in the Sunday School room of the United Church between the Baptist and United Church young people. Mr. Gladstone Parker was captain for the United Church and Miss Hayden for the Baptist. On each side twenty were chosen and the contest was very interesting. Vice Principal R. J. Messenger gave out the words which were from the Public school speller. The Baptists won by a very good margin and Miss Margaret Peters was the last speller left on the floor.

At the Baptist church on Sunday evening a large congregation attended the Service of Song and saw the stereopticon views of prominent scenes in the life of Christ which were spoken on by the Pastor. The service was under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Aid Society. The President, Mrs. J. W. Peters occupied the chair and read the Scripture. Prayer was offered by the Honorary President, Mrs. E. C. Young.

Rev. P. R. Hayden landed a twelve pound Salmon at Paradise on Monday morning. This we understand is the third Salmon taken from the river this season.

Miss Muriel Miller, who has been one of the most efficient members of the teaching staff here for several years has tendered her resignation to take effect at the end of the present term. Her successor has not yet been appointed.

A business deal of considerable importance was consummated a few days ago when Major C. T. Ferguson, of Glasgow, Scotland, purchased the fine farm owned by Mr. E. B. Tracey at Carleton Corner. The Major will shortly occupy his property. We extend him, Mrs. Ferguson and family a cordial welcome and trust that they may have both profit and enjoyment here.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracey have been residents here for several years and enjoyed the esteem of a large circle of friends who hope that Mr Tracey may decide to remain in this locality.

Last week a spark lodging early in the evening on the roof of Mr. Allison FitzRandolph's house started a blaze. It was soon noticed and with the help of neighbors the fire was put out after considerable damage had been done to the roof.

An ad in the Monitor and Mr. Tracey was soon booked up with orders for all the wood he could sell. Moral: If you have anything to sell which people want and the price is right an ad in the Monitor is the quickest and cheapest way to bring buyer and seller together. If you think we are romancing ask Mr. Tracey.

MARRIED.

Beals—Banks.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening, April 15th, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guilford Banks, Turnpike Road, when their daughter Olive Edith was united in marriage to Frank Kenneth Beals, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Beals, Fayville, Mass. The double ring service was used, Rev. Frank Neary, pastor of the Fayville Baptist church, officiating. The bridal procession came in as the wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Grace Beals and stood under an arch of roses. The bride was given away by her father.

The bridesmaid was Miss Marjorie Banks, sister of the bride, and the best man was Raymond Beals, brother of the bridegroom. Doris Banks, the bride's little sister, was ring bearer. The bride was gowned in white satin charmeuse and wore a veil and wreath of orange blossoms and a string of pearl beads. She carried bride's roses. The bridesmaid's dress was rose crepe de chine and she carried sweet peas. The ring bearer wore dotted swiss.

The bride's going away dress was blue charmeuse trimmed with fur and she wore a coat of henna boliiva, with hat to match. The bride was born in Torbrook, Nova Scotia, the former home of Mr and Mrs. Banks and came to Massachusetts when very young and resided in Framingham, where she attended the public schools, graduating from Framingham high school last June. She is a member of the First Baptist church of Framingham. The bridegroom was born in Keene, N. H., and has lived in this town seven years. He belongs to the Fayville Baptist church and is also a member of the U. S. Reserves, being master Sergeant Grade 1, of the 302nd Infantry. The couple were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts ,one being a dinner set from the postal clerks of Wellesley, where the bridegroom is employed. Other gifts were china, cut glass, pyrex, linen, money ,etc. After the reception to immediate relatives only, the couple started on a short wedding trip and on their return will reside on Lexington street, Framingham.

The bride and groom were both formerly residents of the Annapolis Valley and had a large circle of friends in that part of Nova Scotia.

THE GREAT MATRIMONIAL TRIAL

We are looking forward to some very interesting situations in the great matrimonial trial, "Snooks and Foozle," to be staged in the Primrose Theatre, on Thursday evening, May 7th. The cast of characters is certainly suggestive, viz: Solomon Fobb, an elderly Judge (Arnold Wood); Henry Hines, Clerk, (George Jefferson); Thomas Foozle, Proprietor of a Matrimonial Bureau, Defendant, (Joe Dand.)

Abraham Octavius Snooks, the Plaintiff, a bachelor, forty years old, in want of a wife (Ralph Henson); Demosthenes Goff, K. C., Counsel for Plaintiff (Charlie Anderson); Lemuel Gump, K.
