Verdict for Heavy Damages Against a Railway—An Octogenarian Conductor.

The Baldwin Locomotive Works has contracts on hand for 64 new locomotives.

The Lackawanna will, it is reported, build a new depot at Binghamton in the early spring.

The total net earnings of the Union Pacific for the past ten months are $783,596 less than in the same time last year, a decrease of over 6 per cent.

Conductor Jared Turrell, of Attica, who is still running on the Attica branch of the New York Central, is 80 years old. He promises to live to be 100.

Henry M. Stanley travels in one of the finest of the Pullman private cars, which he chartered for a long period. In consequence the name has been temporarily changed to Henry M. Stanley.

Railway superintendents are usually very practical men and not given to poetry, but one on the Rio Grande recently issued the following bulletin: "Narrow gauge engines and broad gauge cars, should always be coupled with Johnson bars."

Counsel for Mrs. Abbie Annetta Annison, of Chelsea, Mass., who was severely injured at the railroad disaster at Quincy in August last, have obtained without trial the sum of $28,000 from the Old Colony Railroad in settlement of her claim.

There promises to be trouble in the Western States Passenger Association over the refusal of the Santa Fe to redeem 91,000 miles of editorial tickets bought up by the Rock Island. The Santa Fe claims the tickets were not on the market, as the conductors had been ordered to refuse to honor them.

The Windsor Postoffice Robbery.

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 6.—Chas. Beuglet, a registered letter clerk, testified in the Egan case yesterday that on the morning of Nov. 12 his attention was attracted to Egan, who had charge of Windsor letters, by the tearing up of paper. He opened the slot of Egan's compartment and saw Egan had pieces of paper in his hand, which defendant threw in a rubbish box in the rear lobby of the postoffice. Witness picked out the pieces of paper, took them to his desk and examined them. The capital letter "E" was on one piece and the words "five dollars" on another. Witness and Clerk Conway pasted the pieces together. The result was a letter written by William Horne, of Gesto, to E. Rodd, of Windsor. Clerk Conway stated he received the pieces of paper from Beuglet. He went to Inspector Barker's room, examined them and began pasting them together. It took them four hours to do the work.

Business Across the Border.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The somewhat restricted volume of business throughout the country, reported to Bradstreet's a week ago, continues a feature of the commercial and industrial situation, notwithstanding colder weather within a few days has tended to stimulate buying. Holiday specialties are fairly active at retail. The general tendency of prices of staples has been downwards. The effort to advance anthracite coal prices has failed. Large stocks and slight demand have shaded print cloths, and wool is quite as dull as previously, with a reduced volume of sales at Boston this week. Cattle and hogs are off 5c at the west, and provisions are a little lower on the week. Wheat stocks available in the United States and Canada, east of Rockies, Dec. 1, were 9,612,000 bushels smaller than one year ago. The aggregate of domestic stores both coasts (Canada included) at European storage points and afloat for Europe on the 1st inst. is also nearly 10,000,000 bushels less than on Dec. 1, 1889. Total exports, both coasts, equal 2,487,183 bushels, against 1,911,633 bushels last week, and 2,327,342 bushels in the like week last year. Total exports July 1 to date equal 43,963,875 bushels, against 44,851,855 bushels in 1889.
