Determined But Unsuccessful Attempt at Suicide.

A Comber Lawyer Pays $7 for Breaking the Law.

Conclusions of the Essex Fishery Commission—An Eagle Caught in a Minx Trap—Serious Accidents at Wallaceburg.

BRUCE.

It is reported that Dr. Bradley, warden of Bruce, will retire from public life this winter.

Rev. Mr. Turnbull and his family have arrived at their new charge in Goderich. The reverend gentleman and his wife were presented by the Sunday school in connection with their recent charge at Kincardine with a very handsome brass piano lamp and a kindly-worded address, beautifully engrossed and illuminated.

ELGIN.

Rev. Mr. Baldwin, Aylmer, was agreeably surprised a day or two ago by the receipt of a gold-headed cane from his week-night Bible class. Mrs. Baldwin was the recipient of a pretty bon-bon dish.

Mrs. Wm. Telford, of Shedden, died Thursday, aged 65 years.

John Marlatt, of Aylmer, whose pork packing establishment was recently destroyed by fire, will commence operations in the same line in Ridgetown.

Mrs. W. J. Tippham, St. Thomas, has received a telegram stating that her brother, Wm. Elliott, conductor on the Great Northern, formerly on the M. C. R., had been killed. He leaves a wife and two children.

The other evening while returning from the West Lorne station, Mr. Leitch was horrified to see a man stretched across the track, while a special freight train was but a few yards distant. He rushed to the rescue just in time to save a life, for in another instant the train would have been on the spot. After the train had passed he recognized the person he rescued as an old man named Shores. Every indication goes to show that the old man intended suicide. It is said that this was the second attempt to rid himself of his life on the railway that day.

ESSEX.

J. W. Reynolds, head porter on the City of Alpena, was seriously injured a day or two ago by being struck in the abdomen with a truck handle.

Lawyer T. F. Johnson, of Comber, pleaded guilty to the charge of assaulting Harry C. Hess and was fined $7.

Tilbury North Council paid out in one day $100 for sheep killed by dogs.

The Fishery Commission has concluded its labors at Sandwich. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the hatchery system was not any good. The majority of the fishermen believed better results followed from the fish spawning in the pens in November. Millions of whitefish had been seen in the pens in the spring and they came to maturity. It was thought small whitefish from the hatchery died when put in the cold water in the spring. The water in the hatchery was warmer and the eggs were hatched out prematurely. When they were dumped into the cold water it killed them. The fishermen are opposed to a close season on this side while the Americans had none. One man knew of his own knowledge that fish passed rapidly from one side of the river to the other, according to the wind. He strongly objected to the regulations preventing Canadians fishing while Americans were allowed to do so. The regulations had ruined the fishing on the Detroit River. He believed that the nets were the cause of the catch of whitefish falling off. Joseph Allen had been fishing for twenty years mostly in the Detroit River and Lake St. Clair. His opinion was to have no close season, but to make all nets for whitefish four inches extension. He had had seventeen years' experience of the hatchery and saw no practical results from it. There is no evidence that it has ever produced a whitefish.

Jacob Fry, Cottam Plains, died recently, aged 63 years. It is only a few weeks since one of his daughters died.

J. L. Stewart has tendered his resignation teacher of the Elford public school.

KENT.

A day or two ago as a young man named Homer Case was chopping in the woods near Wallaceburg, his uplifted axe caught a small twig, causing it to glance, when it descended on his left foot, severing his great toe so that the piece was held by a small portion of cuticle, and seriously injuring the two adjoining toes. He was assisted home and a physician summoned to dress the wounds.

A young man named Daniel Shepley, who was operating a stave cutter in Steinhoff & Gordon's mill, Wallaceburg, on Thursday, cut off part of the middle finger of the right hand. Several months since he amputated the index finger of the same hand with the same knife.

The second son of Rev. D. Currie, ex-moderator, Chatham district, died from malignant diphtheria in Wallaceburg on Thursday. He was about 8 years of age.

There are several cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever reported in Wallaceburg.

GREY.

George Marlatt, of Shelburne, set a trap near the fifth line of Amaranth recently to catch a lynx. When he went to examine the trap he found a large gray eagle in it. The bird is on exhibition in Shelburne.

The death of George Mathews, seventh line, St. Vincent, near Meaford, was a sad event. A few weeks ago his wife had to be sent to the lunatic asylum. Since that time Mr. Mathews, who had not enjoyed very good health for quite a while, submitted to an operation for removing a carbuncle off his head. He became very weak and succumbed in a few days. He leaves a family of three.

HURON.

W. T. Whitely, editor of the Clinton News-Record, has retired from that paper and accepted the position of collector of customs at Clinton.

A new grist mill is talked of for Exeter.

The wife of David Miller, veterinary surgeon, Exeter, died suddenly a day or two ago.

Clinton Presbyterians have very successfully inaugurated a new departure in their services by the introduction of a fine $1,300 Warren pipe organ. The condition of its entry without opposition was that it should be placed without cost to the church and this has been fulfilled by voluntary contributions all but the small sum of $70, which the committee in charge has assumed.

MIDDLESEX.

A Middlemiss correspondent writes: While digging a drain on the farm of A. J. Fryer, near this village, J. McIntyre unearthed the bones of some huge monster of the prehistoric ages. A tusk measuring about six feet in length and ten inches in diameter, also some very large ribs and other large bones, were found. Owing to the abundance of water further researches are impossible at present.

PEOPLE'S FORUM.

Something Emphatic re School Heating.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

Stevely & Son once more sign their name to a letter re school heating and therein repeat a most audacious false statement that the contract was awarded to Mr. Dowd at a figure $1,400 higher than the work could be done for. Now none of the others intended to do the same work as Smead-Dowd, but even for the inefficient job they did propose to do none of the contractors offered to do it for $1,400 less than the Smead-Dowd Company, and Stevely & Son were fully aware of the falseness both of the figure given and of the pretense that the work was the same.

Another perversion of the truth is contained in their statement that it has been found necessary to put up a pot furnace to try and heat the Collegiate Institute and so assist the Smead-Dowd furnaces. They know that the furnace is put up in the garret in a temporary room (unplastered and against the bare roof) and that the furnace is to be removed when the new building is finished, and will be utilized at Rectory street kindergarten. The garret never was intended to be used and so never was proposed to be heated by Smead-Dowd. They also know that the board were some years ago compelled to remove pot furnaces and substitute Smead-Dowd at the institute. They complain that I stated that they did not tender until the third tenders were received; I stated no such thing, but I did state that at the time of the third tenders both the McClary Manufacturing Company and Stevely & Son hotly opposed the introduction of any new tenders. Although in the case of Talbot street, by comparison with the figures of the other local tenders, it was quite evident, as shown in my former letter, that Stevely & Son did not tender to do the same work as the tender accepted (Smead $425, Wyatt $390, Stevely $175,) yet they ignore the cold logic of the figures and seek to create a favorable impression by sheer force of bold assertion of an ability to do the work as well as Smead-Dowd. As to Princess avenue, the figures are: Stevely & Son (with McClary furnace) $650, Boyd $975, Wyatt $1,084, McClary & Co. $650, $725, $1,325, Smead-Dowd $1,875. The Stevely tender was identical with the lowest McClary tender, and consequently can be considered with the McClary tenders. McClary & Co. gave three tenders, the highest being more than double their lowest. It hardly seems reasonable to suppose that McClary & Co. did not contemplate doing something more for the highest figure than for the lowest, yet if Stevely & Son are correct the lowest figure was for as efficient a system as can be provided.

Taking the tenders other than Smead-Dowd it becomes apparent that some of the local tenderers proposed to supply a far better job than did Stevely. I thought then, and still think, that Smead-Dowd allowed ample ventilation and heating for same, and the local tenderers offered heating without sufficient ventilation, although some of their schemes are of considerable merit and may be adopted for larger schools when tested in small schools. It is quite possible that the Bolton hot water can also supply the ventilation by use of heated piping in ventilation shafts, the only objection then being the first cost of the Bolton system. I look for decided competition to Smead-Dowd from this system, coupled with ventilation as outlined. It is totally unnecessary to defy me to show that, taking materials at their commercial value, the Smead-Dowd charges are reasonable. In my former letter I intimated that if the opposition would supply a similar furnace and so break the monopoly, it would lower the costs to the public. My selections of furnaces for schools or residence were not made because of the same being highly advertised, but from consideration of the cuts, etc., of the same. The Smith-Anthony furnace I saw at work, and if Stevely & Son would only tell the whole truth I feel confident they also saw it at work years ago, and as a result complimented the makers of the Smith-Anthony by imitating the same as far as they dare and selling it as their own production. The Stevely system at Askin street school is not by any means as efficient as the Smead-Dowd in Simcoe street and elsewhere. It has been amended already, but cannot be made equally efficient because both the furnaces and the ventilation flues are not capable of doing as efficient work as Smead-Dowd.

I contend we are elected to give fair play to the pupils, and that ample ventilation is more important than the interests of local dealers. I am not prepared to accept the assertions or guarantees of any manufacturers or dealers. In this matter they frequently show a bias. I propose to rely on my own judgment, more particularly when confirmed as result of our experience with Smead-Dowd, and cannot be frightened by appeals to local prejudices nor reserved by bold assertions of manufacturers and dealers as to the merit of their system and their guarantees. I did carefully examine the Stevely plans, and in the face of the bold assertions in their letter am still convinced that their ventilation must prove insufficient and their furnaces incapable of heating sufficient air for crowded school rooms.

Get at the Railway's Value.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

Our City Council proposes to lease the London and Port Stanley, Railway, and have asked for tenders. I should think, before attempting to deal with this important interest, that in the first place it would occur to the council to take steps to ascertain the value of the road, and also what it is worth as a factor to build up and develop the business of the city. With this ascertained the council would be in a position to deal intelligently with the matter and not till then. This road is worth to the city one million of dollars, and the council, knowing nothing whatever of its worth or value, propose dealing with it. The value can easily be ascertained by the council appointing a committee from themselves, or of some competent gentlemen, to examine and report upon the business of the road, say from the time it was opened until it was leased to the G. W. R. The books can be seen and every day's business ascertained since the railway commenced running.

Came to Canada TO BE CURED

418 Pall Mall Street, London, Sept. 15, 1892.

To the Histogenetic Medicine Association:

GENTLEMEN,—Permit me the pleasure of humbly adding one more leaf to the wreath you so richly deserve, and as an evidence of my heartfelt gratitude, I beg to state my condition before and after receiving your treatment. You have my permission to make this testimonial public, if so disposed. Trusting that a discerning public, who are afflicted as I was, will have the scales removed from their doubting eyes, and avail themselves of the benefit your treatment will assuredly bring to them.

Am a farmer aged 25 years, and a resident of Sand Beach, Michigan, U. S.; was taken ill about the 11th of November, 1891, with a cold from exposure, and about two weeks thereafter visited Dr. ——, a well-known medical practitioner of Sand Beach, who treated me for about three months, calling my disease Pneumonia, stating that both my lungs were diseased badly. I had chills for a long time, with bloody expectoration, sluggish liver and bad digestion, bowels costive and a bad cough, also sleeplessness. Receiving no benefit from the doctor's treatment, I then visited Dr. ——, of the same place, who examined and prescribed for me, and stated I had bronchitis, with consolidation of both lungs. The treatment benefited me only for a while. I then went to Detroit and visited a doctor, a lung specialist, who prescribed for me, and said my case was hopeless and advised me to go west to a warmer climate. I steadily lost flesh, dropping from 168 pounds to 136 pounds, and I became despondent, but thanks to the Great Architect of the Universe I heard of famed success of your plan of treatment, and decided to visit your London branch, arriving here on the 18th of last month; was carefully examined by the Association's physician, who gave me so much encouragement that, having patiently and carefully followed his directions, am now almost well: eat heartily, no cough, and gained rapidly in flesh—exactly four pounds in three weeks—and the happy result costing me only $12 for the Histogenetic Medicine used. Consultations free. Myself and family are placed under obligations to the Histogenetic Medicine Association never to be forgotten. Yours truly,

ISAAC LESTER, JUN.
