Baseball Brevities.

In following out the policy of a player-manager, the Cleveland owners in selecting Lajoie, point to the success of Collins of the Beaneaters, Griffin of the Highlanders, McGraw of the Giants and Clarke of the Pirates.

Dopesters have figured up that Lajoie made a grand batting average for nine years of 367. This is slightly better than old Pop Anson's record. Hans Wagner's average for eight years is 346. This shows Lajoie to be the greatest batsman that the game has ever had.

Jack O'Neil, the fleet-footed Washington ball tosser, as he passed thru this city on his way home to St. John, N.B., stopped long enough to express his willingness to run either Dougherty, Bay, Browne or all three, for the baseball sprinting championship. The Canadian things that he can throw dust in the eyes of our league sprinter. O'Neil is thinking of going to England to take part in the Sheffield handicap. He is said to have a record of ten seconds flat on the track.

Longest Motor Boat Race.

New York, Oct. 29.—The longest race ever run by motor boats in American waters was finished to-night, when Frank Croker's X.P.D.N.C. crossed the finish line off the Columbia Yacht Club's house on the Hudson River at 86th-street, after having covered 136.4 statute miles. The course was from the club house here around a stake boat at Poughkeepsie and return.

The competitors were the X.P.D.N.C., the Vingt et Un II. steered by Clinton Crane and the Challenger steered by A. D. Proctor Smith. Croker's boat won easily.

The start was from the Columbia Club's house. Mr. Croker crossed the line at 12.05.20 p.m. and the Challenger followed at 12.07.30. Trouble with the engines of the Vingt et Un II. delayed her start until 12.16.25. Each boat carried three men.

Gotham Golfers Beat the Quakers.

Garden City, L.I., Oct. 29.—The annual inter-city team golf match between the Philadelphia Golf Association and the Metropolitan Golf Association was played over the Garden City Club's links to-day and resulted in a victory for the local men. The match was played 1 ntwo parts, the first at 36 holes having been decided at Philadelphia last spring, with the scores standing 27 to 17 in favor of Philadelphia. To-day's scores were 48 to 3 in favor of the Metropolitans, who thus win this year's series by a total score of 65 to 20.

The Metropolitans played a strong team in the field to-day, which included Walter J. Travis, the international champion and former national champion, and Findlay S. Douglas, who at one time was holder of the national title.

The first round of 18 holes was at four ball match play, in which the local men led by a score of 6 to 1. The afternoon round at single match for 18 holes resulted in a score of 42 to 2 against the visitors, the only local man to lose being the ex-champion, F. S. Douglas.

Gans Should Win.

New York, Oct. 30.—Bat Masterson says: The Gans-Britt contest, which will take place Monday night in San Francisco, will be on the level, according to the best information I can gather from the seat of war. Herford is betting his money on Gans, which indicates, to my mind, that Gans is going to try. That is all I want to know.

Herford betting his money on his man Gans is all the evidence I want that the contest is on the level, and, according to my way of thinking, if both men are on the square and trying, there is but one man in it, and that man is the negro. With Herford playing Gans, there is nothing in it for him to lose, consequently he will win if he can. I have got all along that Gans could do the weight and be fit and strong, and with the negro right and ready for a battle there is nothing to it but Gans.

Britt is, in my opinion, the biggest sucker that ever went into a prize ring to battle for a title. He has no more chance to beat Gans than I have to beat Jeffries. He may think so, and that is why I say that he is a sucker.

Jim Corbett believed that he could beat Jeffries if the latter would only give him a second chance. Jeff gave him the chance, and he was defeated with greater ease than he was in his first attempt.

Fitzsimmons thought the same way, and was given a second meeting with the champion, only to meet disaster greater than in his first battle.
