Push Back the Curtains

out of sight, and see what a blank, cold effect it leaves. Pretty Curtains at the windows make the sunshine seem warmer and brighter and add an air of refinement and culture to the plainest room. Chenille Curtains hung in doors and arches give a warmth and finish to the furnishings of a home that nothing can take the place of. A few dollars spent for curtains and draperies will make a greater addition to your home than the same amount spent in any other way.

Our Lace Curtain Sale

means such cutting in prices as these:

LACE CURTAINS worth 35c, for 25c pair.
LACE CURTAINS worth 75c, for 50c pair.
LACE CURTAINS worth $1, for 75c pair.
LACE CURTAINS worth $1 25 and $1 50, for $1 pair.
LACE CURTAINS worth $1 50 and $1 75 for $1 25 pair.
LACE CURTAINS worth $2, for $1 50 pair.
LACE CURTAINS worth $2 50, for $2 pair.

These Curtains, except the 25c line, are all 3 yards and 3½ yards long, taped all round, beautiful patterns. Purchased at Special Prices for cash.

A Surprise in Store

We have a surprise in store for every woman who has been sadly contemplating the condition of her last year's hat and wondering how she could trim it over to look like an 1897 hat.

We can save you time and lots of trouble if you'll come and see us. There isn't a hat in our stock which isn't chic and stylish—some are more expensive than others, but there's something here to suit every woman in London, both in style and price, either in Trimmed or Untrimmed Hats. Just call and see what we can do for you.

OUR DRESS GOODS

Incorporation is being asked for the Parkhill Mineral Oil Syndicate, of which Mr. Isaac Newton, of Sarnia, is president. The first well struck on the company's property in West Williams proved to be worth eight barrels per day, and now two more wells are being bored in proximity to the first.

Leona Heath, a fourteen-year-old Kingsville girl, died Saturday as the result of a fall downstairs which she sustained a few days ago. When the unfortunate accident occurred nothing serious was apprehended, but internal complications set in, and the doctors could do nothing, the girl dying in great agony.

Messrs. Stewart and Burton, Fort MacLeod, Alberta, have been in the Guelph district for seven weeks buying up all the prime cattle they could get hold of for their ranch. The shipment consisted of 285 stockers shipped at Paisley, 75 at Durham and 430 at Lucknow; 85 pure-bred shorthorn bulls, one and two years old, and twelve head of cows, all pedigreed, from the herds of the best breeders from Guelph. The shipment cost about $30,000.

Mrs. Lee, of Lemuel street, Thamesville, had a startling experience on Friday. Missing her younger son, Ernest, a boy of 2 years, and seeking him, she found him floating in a cistern, the cover of which he had managed to tilt aside. The mother pulled him out, and with the assistance of neighbors did what was necessary till a doctor could be summoned. Dr. Stewart applied proper restoratives, and the little one, after a good sleep, was able to run around much as usual.

What may prove a fatal accident happened Mrs. Lewis Farcinault, of Sombra, on Friday. Mrs. Farcinault was driving along the Lambton line, and encountered the severe thunder storm that visited the county on that day. An unusually severe thunderclap frightened a team of horses being driven behind Mrs. Farcinault's rig, causing them to plunge forward into it. The shock threw her from the vehicle and into a deep ditch that borders the road. It is not known whether the victim of the accident will recover, although the chances are strongly against it, she having sustained internal injuries.

The council of Sandwich West has granted a franchise to the Randall electric railway to run to Amherstburg, on condition that it be built at once, and put in operation within eighteen months, and that the company deposit $10,000 bonds as security that it will carry out its agreement. Another stipulation was that the electric line should run at the side of the road. Daniel Scotten offered the right of way through his property rather than have the railway run along the front. There was a large gathering of the ratepayers, and all seemed to be in favor of granting the franchise.

Dr. William McEachran, Government veterinary inspector, referring to the allegations that he had been mistaken in his diagnosis of hog cholera at Kingsville, and had ordered a number of animals slaughtered which afterwards turned out to be free from disease, said that there was not the slightest doubt that some of the hogs were affected with the disease, and that others had been exposed to contagion. The disease has been lingering around Kingsville for several years, he claims, and has caused great loss among young hogs. Unless prompt measures are taken Dr. McEachran believes that very serious loss will ultimately result. In Kingsville yards 23 hogs have already been slaughtered, and the remainder of the drove, about 70 in number, will be quarantined until all danger is past.

"Scored Up Well."

Notes From the Provincial Dairy School

In Connection With The Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

The session of 1897 at the Provincial Dairy School closed March 26. The cheese made by the students on practical examination during the last two weeks of the term were scored by Mr. A. T. Bell, of Tavistock, on April 24. The butter was scored soon after being made. Both butter and cheese scored up well, considering the quality of milk which was available for the work.

The class was not quite so large as in other years. The students on the whole were very attentive and anxious to learn. Nearly all those who were not engaged for the season obtained positions before and since leaving the school. Several have gone to the United States. We should prefer to keep them at home, but American firms are usually willing to pay higher wages for first-class men, and we can scarcely blame the boys for going where they can do best. A number have gone to Manitoba and the Northwest, to lay the foundations for scientific dairy practice in our Western Canada. The results of their work will appear when the history of dairying in the New Canada is written.

We still have two or three good cheesemakers, one or two good buttermakers, and a few young men who would make capital assistants in either cheeseries or creameries, if any desire such. Already our students who have gone from the school this year have been asked to address dairy meetings, and they are responding well. This is as it should be. Canadian dairying, in order to reach the topmost rung of the ladder needs the brightest intellects, the smartest workers, the tidiest and cleanest men and women, that our country can produce. In what other field is there opportunity for more effectual use of Canadian talents than in the queendom of the cow?

Our students write back expressing their appreciation of the good work done for them at the school. One, in far-off British Columbia, says: "Before I took the dairy course my work was drudgery; now it is a pleasure. My butter has never gone begging for a customer. I wish that the school were nearer, and I would take another course." Another student, who is in charge of a large establishment in the Empire State, writes that he now appreciates the sound teaching and practice which he received at the provincial school.

WHAT THE SCHOOL CAN DO FOR STUDENTS.

1. It raises them above the drudgery of work. They live in a realm where labor is pleasure, and where the mind continually rewards the body.

2. Students receive a practical and scientific training that is more valuable than rubies or fine gold. The trained mind cunningly guides the hand in the production of golden butter and palatable cheese.

3. The unseen foes of the dairyman are as naught to them, for their ways are understood and their efforts come to naught; whereas, the unskillful man is continually in trouble because of these small enemies which harrass him, yet are not seen.

4. Students who have taken the full dairy course are safe from frauds and quacks, who find a profitable field in the ignorant dairyman. How many sharks there are who devour the hard earnings of the unthinking man!

5. The best positions are open for the brightest men of experience who take the course. We are being continually asked to recommend someone for various places of trust in the dairy world. This feature will grow as the dairy industry becomes more important, and scientific skill is more needed. We do not claim to be able to find "snaps" for all students, but our graduates will always have first choice as far as there may be openings.

6. Lastly, the school can give a training to cheese and butter makers which will enable them to produce a better quality of dairy goods, thus obtaining better rewards for their labor and for the labor of the man who produces the milk—the maker's raw material.

WHAT THE SCHOOL CAN'T DO FOR STUDENTS.

1. It can't put brains into them. The instructors and lecturers can train and develop the natural intellect, by having the co-operation of the students, but the raw material must be supplied for them to work on. It is not reasonable to suppose that every student at a dairy school is a bright and shining light, any more than such is true of students in any college.

2. The dairy school cannot make students work if they are lazy and are determined to avoid work.

3. The instruction of the school cannot regenerate naturally untidy, slovenly, dirty men or women. We may improve such, but cannot wholly reform them. Ancestry and early training have most to do with tidiness and cleanliness. These are beyond the control of a college.

4. The school cannot make students like dairying. Unless a person has a natural liking for the dairy cow and her products, he or she ought not to engage in the dairy business. This love for the work is an important factor in a successful dairyman.

Many would, no doubt, like to share in the benefits of a dairy course. Make arrangements now to attend the class of 1898—January, February and March. To the ladies we have this announcement to make: A lady instructor will be put on the staff for next year, and you are specially invited to enter the home dairy course.

A DINNER PILL—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions, and convert the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.
