LONG TRIP BY CANOE

Two Chicago Men Set Out on a Voyage to New York.

St. Joseph, Mich., July 20.—James Wallace and Earl Parsons, members of the Chicago Naval Reserves have set out to make a canoe trip from Chicago to New York, and completed their first stage on reaching here to-day. Their route, as planned, is twelve hundred miles. From here they go to Fawn River, thence to Maumee, thence to Lake Erie, across the lake and down the Erie Canal to the Hudson and thence to New York.

The men travel in a thirteen foot open canoe, which weighs thirty-five pounds, and their paddle across Lake Michigan to this place is a feat accomplished by no one within the memory of any person in this vicinity. The voyage has to be completed within sixty days, which means that the pair must travel twenty miles a day on the average.

TURTLE 100 YEARS OLD.

Freehold, July 19.—James Reeves of Lincroft, near Freehold, has a turtle which he picked up in the woods of James F. Crawford, near Lincroft, and which had carved on its lower shell "J. B. C., 1800." It is supposed that the initials were carved by John Bowne Crawford, who owned land in that vicinity a hundred years ago. The tortoise had only three legs, and part of its tail was missing.

NAVAL BATTLE IN PANAMA

Two Rebel Gunboats Appear in the Bay and Government Vessels Meet Them.

CITY HEARS THE CANNONADING

One of the Insurgent Craft Disabled—Government Ship Absent From the Fight.

Panama, Colombia, July 19.—The insurgent gunboats, Padilla and Darien, appeared last night between Flamenco and Ottique Islands.

Governor Salazar thereupon ordered the government gunboats Chucuito and Clapet to put to sea and meet them.

A battle between the war vessels began this morning in the bay. The firing was first heard at 10 o'clock. Great alarm prevailed in this city. The entrenchments were filled with soldiers.

The Chucuito and Clapet, upon sighting the Padilla and Darien, opened fire, which was returned by the rebel ships, and the cannonading continued until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

It is announced that the Padilla left the harbor, towing the Darien, which had been hit and disabled.

The government squadron was handicapped by the absence of the gunboat Boyaca, the keel of which is being repaired. It is believed that this fact was known to the insurgent General Herrera, who decided to attack in order to prevent the government from helping General Berti's troops at Agua Dulace.

The United States cruiser Ranger, which returned here at 10 o'clock from Chiriqui, came within the line of fire. During a part of the heavy firing she was back of Flamenco Island.

Repairs on the government gunboat Boyaca, which is at La Boca, are being hurriedly completed, and she will go out at 5 o'clock. The Ranger left the bay after the Padilla started, taking the same course as the revolutionary gunboat.

It is thought probable that a battle is being fought at Agua Dulce.

NO NEW EVIDENCE.

London, Ont., July 19.—The preliminary hearing of John MacArthur, charged with the murder of Gus Nindham, will take place on Wednesday next. It is unlikely that any new evidence will be submitted.

GOING BACK TO CORONATION

Thirteen Canadian Soldiers Will Form a Portion of the Escort to the King.

EIGHT OF THEM FROM TORONTO

It is Expected That They Will Sail on Steamer Pretorian, From Montreal, Saturday.

When the Canadian Coronation Contingent was in England 13 of its mounted members were chosen to represent Canada, as a royal escort, in the coronation procession. Since the contingent returned to Canada the authorities have decided to have those men in the procession, as previously arranged, and they have been, consequently, notified to be in readiness to depart again for England this week.

It is likely that they will embark on the steamship Pretorian, at Montreal, on Friday night, to sail on Saturday morning.

The Lucky Thirteen.

The names of Canada's royal coronation escort are:

Sergt-Major Widgery, R C D, Toronto.

Sergt-Instructor Leblond, R C D, Toronto.

Sergt-Instructor Rhoades, R C D, Toronto.

Sergt-Instructor Fuller, R C D, Toronto.

Squadron Sergt-Major Skinner, R C D, Toronto.

Sergt Baldwin, R C D, Toronto.

Sergt Hudson, R C D, Toronto.

Corp Smith, G G B G, Toronto.

Sergt-Major Knight, N W M P, Regina.

Quartermaster-Sergt Parker, Strathcona Horse, Regina.

Corp Collins, P L D G, Ottawa.

Pte McCusker, 2nd Dragoons, St. Catharines.

Pte Anderson, 8th Princess Louise Hussars, New Brunswick.

Eight From Toronto.

They are the pick of the cavalry of the Canadian coronation contingent, and it is a high compliment to Toronto that eight of the men chosen were from this city. The choice rested with Col. Turner V.C., D.S.O., of Ottawa, with the full endorsement of Col. Pellatt.

To be on the royal escort it is necessary to be a medal man, and the men from Stanley Barracks are quite well qualified in this respect. Sergt.-Major Widgery wears the medals for the Northwest in 1885 and for South Africa. Sergt.-Instructor Leblond has the jubilee decoration and the South African medal. Sergt. Instructor Rhoades was in South Africa, and so was Squadron Sergt.-Major Skinner, who also has the Northwest medal. Sergt. Baldwin was also in South Africa, and Sergt. Hudson wears the Egyptian medal, the Khedive star, the Suakim expedition medal, with five clasps, the Nile medal for 1894-5, and the South African medal.

Escort Will Be 100 Strong.

The men at the fort are quite pleased at the prospect of another trip across the briny, and they are the recipients of cordial congratulations from the other members of the contingent who were not so fortunate, but appreciate the good time they had in the Old Land.

The men will form a portion of the King's Colonial escort, of which Col. Turner is to be the commander. The escort will include representatives from every colony of the British Empire, and will be 100 strong. The men who are now going over again rehearsed the proceedings when they were in the Old Country.

Quartermaster-Sergt. Parker and Corp. Smith are in England, having remained there on furlough, but they can be located.

The local representatives will probably leave Toronto on Thursday night.

EDNA WALLACE HOPPER SUES

Seeking to Recover Her Mother's Estate From Premier Dunsmuir.

Victoria, B.C., July 19.—Edna Wallace Hopper is here with her attorney, Judge Coyne of New York, to begin her action against James Dunsmuir, Premier of British Columbia, for her mother's share of the Dunsmuir estate, her mother having married Alexander Dunsmuir, the younger brother of James. At the time of Mr. Dunsmuir's death James Dunsmuir made a settlement with her, allowing her an annuity. Miss Hopper claims that at the time this agreement was made her mother was not in her right mind, and wishes to have the agreement set aside and have Alexander Dunsmuir's share of the estate awarded to her. Mrs. Joan Dunsmuir, mother of James and Alexander, is also suing James for Alexander's share of the estate on the ground that it is hers, Alexander having simply held it in trust for her.

One of the horses was killed and the rig slightly damaged.

ONE WHO WILL BE MISSED

Impressive Service in Zion Congregational Church in Memory of the Late Pastor.

TRIBUTES TO MR. WOOKEY'S WORTH

That the Church Has Lost a Dear Friend Was Evidenced in an Unmistakable Way.

That Zion Congregational Church has lost a dear friend in the person of the late Charles Wookey, its pastor, who died in New York last week while journeying to Bermuda for the benefit of his health, was evidenced in an unmistakable way at the memorial service held in that church last evening. The interior of the edifice was appropriately draped for the occasion, while the Bible stand bore several bunches of beautiful white flowers. Many touching tributes were paid to the deceased reverend gentleman. The hymns were suitable, and two solos were sweetly rendered by Miss Eva Snarr and Mr. Alexander.

Rev. Mr. Shaver's Tribute.

Rev. Melville Shaver, who is pastor pro tem, alluded in feeling terms to the loss the congregation had sustained in the death of their late pastor. You are here to-night to do honor to your former pastor, Charles Wookey. There is something very fitting in the observance of the translation of one of God's ministers. I believe in the divine origin of saints, and without fear of contradiction from on high I believe that our brother taken from our ranks was one of God's chosen servants. Last week, while friends were gathering for the funeral service, I picked up a book in the residence of the late Mr. Wookey, which contained an article by that gentleman on education and congregationalism. The deceased was one of the editors of the publication. Let me put my estimate of the deceased in a sentence taken from the article in question. It is this: "In working for God we sometimes meet discouragement, but the word 'defeat' is not in our vocabulary." I think this is the noblest sentiment I can give you. He himself has not been defeated by death; he has been translated, and we may be cheered in the thought that God in His goodness does all things well.

But One True Church.

Rev. Mr. Duff followed in a touching eulogy on behalf of the congregational brotherhood. He believed that in the late Mr. Wookey every member of the Ministerial Association lost a valued friend. He had applied for admission to the Presbyterian Church because he believed that there was a better sphere to work for God in that church. We lived in times of transition. Changes were taking place, but there was but one true church for all that, and that was the church of Jesus Christ. It was a sin and a shame that the various denominations were separated as they were to-day. Churches came into existence with a perfectly pure motive, but it seemed to him that the time was about at hand when the searching light would throw a beam to show us that there was no right to separate. Until their unification was consummated he hoped, however, that they would all work for the glory of the Redeemer and the advancement of His kingdom.

The Congregation's Loss.

Mr. Adams, superintendent of the Sunday School, spoke pathetically on the congregation's loss. He told how they all at different stages had learned to love the late Mr. Wookey; how the little children were not afraid to run, and take him by the hand; how the young men and young women found in him one they could trust and seek advice from, and how the aged of the congregation found in him one who would take the keenest interest in their welfare.

Rev. Dr. Gregg, on behalf of the Presbyterian ministry, paid a fitting tribute to the memory of the deceased clergyman, stating that his death would no doubt deepen the thoughts of the members of the congregation on the advice he had given them during the term of his pastorate.

INDIAN WAS ELEVATED.

Threw a Match Into a Pile of Gunpowder.

Portage la Praire, Man., July 19.—A serious accident occurred at the Sioux encampment, several miles east of the town, yesterday. One Indian was lighting a lantern in his tent, and threw the match down when finished with it, but the match was not finished, and it happened to fall in a pile of gunpowder, causing a serious explosion.

The Indian, his wife and the various cooking utensils were suddenly elevated into the air. The brave is badly burned and his recovery is very doubtful. His wife is very seriously burned, but is not fatally injured.

FELT THE EARTHQUAKE.

St. Thomas, D.W.I., July 19.—Advices received here from the Island of St. Vincent, under date of Thursday, July 17, say that a most severe earthquake was felt there at 9 o'clock in the morning of that day. Several buildings rocked, and there was great consternation, the people abandoning their homes. Other shocks were experienced at 11.25 a.m. and at 12.20 p.m. the same day.

ISLAND IN CONSTERNATION.

New York, July 19.—A despatch has been received here from St. Vincent, cables the Port of Spain's Trinidad correspondent of The New York American, stating that the island is in consternation over a series of violent earthquake shocks.

The tremblings began Thursday morning, and were so severe that all the business houses of Kingstown were deserted.

Many buildings were badly cracked by the shaking of the ground, and further news from the island is anxiously awaited.

Tobin, a leading Irishman of the Capital.

CATHOLICISM IN CANADA.

Discussed By the W.C.A. in Connection With Missions.

Silver Bay, N.Y., July 19.—The general work of the W.C.A. was discussed at to-day's conference. At night, home missions was the topic and specifically the work among non-English speaking immigrants. Special interest attached to the report from Canada of the work among the French-Canadians. The general type of Catholicism there was well spoken of, but it was declared that there is a great danger in the influx of European priests trained in hostility to English rule.

GAVE IT ABSENT TREATMENT.

New Haven, Conn., July 19.—Acting Coroner Pond to-night caused the arrest of the parents of Gladys Northrup, an infant, who died on Tuesday of this week. Coroner Pond charges that the parents "aided, accelerated and caused the death of their child by neglecting the remedies which the experience of mankind shows to be generally necessary." He filed his report with the prosecuting attorney, Mr. Bush of West Haven, who issued a warrant charging manslaughter. The Northrups, husband and wife, were arrested and lodged in the town hall until a bondsman was found for them who gave bonds of $1000. The child was taken sick on Wednesday and died on the following Tuesday. After three days' illness the child was subjected to "absent treatment," it is alleged, by a Christian Science healer, but no physician was called, and no medicines given, according to the testimony which the parents gave the coroner.

PLANTERS STILL DISSATISFIED

Say Home Government's Offer of £10,000 is Insulting.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 19.—The planters here are greatly dissatisfied with the Imperial offer of £10,000 to help the sugar industry. Robert Craig, a Scotchman, former legislator, and one of the largest sugar planters, in a statement published to-day, says: "The offer is insulting, and will increase the clamor on the part of the planters for annexation to the United States. It has appeared to me for many years that the home government has been deliberately playing into the hands of the Americans. Its every act would appear to show this, and that annexation will come sooner or later I do not doubt."
