

writing signed Wm. Taylor, tending to create in the minds of his Majestys subjects a disregard of their authority.—The Sheriff returned the writ and brought up the body as in and by the said writ it was commanded him.—Whereupon the Court exhibited to the said Thomas Taylor the following interrogatories.

Interrogatories to be administered to Thomas Taylor in his Majestys Court of Common Pleas concerning a contempt supposed to have been committed by him against the said Court.

1st. Did you, on the first day of July, last leave at the house of Mr. Frazer, one of the Judges of this Court, to be delivered to him, the paper now exhibited to you, signed Wm. Taylor, marked A. declare the truth of all and every the matter inquired of this interrogatory.

2d. Did you on the same day deliver such an other paper, to Mr. de Rouville one of the Judges of this Court, at this house declare &c.

3d. Did you know the contents of each of the said papers, declare &c.

4th. Did you on, the said first day of July last, deliver to the Clerk of this Court during the setting of the Court, the letter now shewn to you marked B. declare &c.

5th. Look at the letter now shewn to you, do you know in whose handwriting it is, and did you know the contents of the said letter and that there was a paper inclosed in it, and did you know the contents of that paper declare &c.

The said Thomas Taylor being duly sworn to declare the truth of all and every the matters