A LEADING New York paper states that all the reports about negotiations between Mr. Seward and Mr. Thornton, concerning a new Reciprocity Treaty, have no foundation in fact. The subject has not been broached at all, nor is there any likelihood that it will be. It is somewhat singular that these reports about a Treaty to apply to all these Provinces did not originate until Gen. Butler had started on his way to this colony to promote a special arrangement with reference to the fisheries, etc. We do not think it would require a great stretch of imagination to saddle the reports on their right authors; but if their object had been to make the people and Government indifferent to Mr. Butler's mission, they signally failed. It must be now evident that if Prince Edward Island has to wait for a renewal of Reciprocity until the Dominion of Canada brings about so desirable an end, we are afraid she will have to wait a long time. Her only hope evidently is in the successful prosecution of those negotiations so auspiciously inaugurated by the Congressional Committee. For our part we cannot see why Confederates should gloat, as they are doing, over the prospect of the defeat of the negotiations; why lying "reports" should be circulated about a general Reciprocity Treaty; and why the Congressional Committee should have their motives impugned, when a few months at furthest will test their sincerity, and prove whether a special arrangement can be made with this colony or not. There has been nothing too low or mean for the Confederates to vent their ill-favor on the proposition ever since it originated in the United States House of Representatives. The people do not forget these things, and will remember in the future those gentlemen—Liberal and Conservative—who have striven to secure for them the most remunerative market in the world for their surplus productions. Oh, yes; the people will remember at the proper time the contrast between those who hailed with delight the prospect of a renewal of a partial reciprocity, and who are using their best exertions to obtain it; and those who scowled upon it when the prospect was bright; and laughed with demoniacal glee when it promised to end in nothing. If there is no reason or argument in what the advocates of the new arrangement say, there is much less in its opponents. They are opposed to it on the pure and simple ground that they are Confederates, and its success would ensure our freedom against the Dominion. The fact may speak well for their consistency, but not for their honesty to their native or adopted land. Hereafter, if we have not already received the lesson, we shall come to learn that it is only what is positively injurious to our interests as a people, that the Dominion would be willing for us to secure. We shall also learn from the cunning and lying "reports" which were scattered by the telegraph just as the Congressional Committee had reached our shores, how cautious we should be in dealing with the enemy; for we must confess that upon reading about that time that Secretary Seward and Minister Thornton were taking up the question of Reciprocity, so as to apply to the whole of the British North American Provinces, we were disposed to feel indifferent as to the mission of the Congressional Committee. Had such a feeling been allowed to find root in the Executive of the colony, in the principal gentlemen of the city, and throughout the country generally, Gen. Butler and his friends, instead of departing from us as they did with the most kindly feelings, would have carried away with them such a poor opinion as to blot out all chance of any arrangement mutually beneficial. Canada may be as envious as she pleases, and her satellites may endeavor to belittle this Congressional Committee, but they cannot shut their eyes to the fact that an honor has been done to this small colony rarely accorded to the most powerful nations in the world. We are full of hope that the negotiations going on will be crowned with success. General Grant will undoubtedly be the next President, and he is a friend of Gen. Butler. Gen. Butler, too, has sufficient power to carry through Congress much more important schemes than the one he has now in hand. In England, Gladstone and Bright, the friends of free trade and the rights of individual colonies, will probably assume the reins of power before the present year is out, and any arrangement such as that which this colony and the United States now purpose entering into, will doubtless receive their ready sanction. The Islander, therefore, may sing away for the present, for the "singing" will be sure to follow.

ONE of the most stupidly ignorant newspaper articles we have ever read, appeared recently in the columns of the Boston Commercial Bulletin on Gen. Butler's propositions. Considering that the Bulletin pretends to instruct the merchants of Boston in matters of trade, we are simply amazed at it. The writer knows nothing—absolutely nothing—of his subject, and as might naturally be expected, he becomes enveloped in a fog which may be described as impenetrable.

We have been shown some copies of Penmanship by the pupils of Mr. Staples. It is really surprising to note their progress during the twelve lessons. We must in justice admit that Mr. Staples possesses to a high degree the true system of imparting to his scholars his beautiful art. We are pleased to observe that he has opened classes in Summerside, and only hope that he will receive the patronage which he deserves.

THE Christian Curb-Stone Association is the name of a new organization in New York. The self-sacrificing duties imposed on the members of the C. C. A., are to stand at street corners and stare at and closely inspect every female as she passes by. A branch of the organization will hardly be needed in Charlottetown, as the system has become fully developed in this city without the aid of a co operative movement.

THE Hon. Attorney General left last evening, per Princess of Wales, for New York, on business connected with the Telegraph Cable across the Straits. We hope that he will meet with success on his mission, and that the old cable will be repaired, or a new one replaced before the close of the navigation. The Hon. Gentleman will be absent about a fortnight.

NOVA SCOTIA.—The House of Assembly of Nova Scotia presented their thanks last week to the Repeal delegates—Hons. Messrs. Howe, Annand, Troop and Smith—within the bar of the House. They were fully deserving of the honor—than which no higher could be conferred by a liberty-loving people.

The Continued Emigration from Germany is attracting the attention of the authorities both in Austria and Prussia. Baron Von Beust, the Austrian Prime Minister, lately said that in thought some plan ought to be taken to stop the emigration of such masses of the population. And in Prussia this continued drain of men and wealth, that are both so much needed, is causing great anxiety. It is from Northern Germany that the emigrants have chiefly gone this year, and that specially from the districts lately annexed to Prussia.

The Paris crew of oarsmen in St. John, challenged the Wards to race on the Connecticut River for $1000 a side. After some hesitation the Wards agreed to accept the challenge if the stakes be made $5000 a side. Negotiations are therefore at an end. If so what is to hinder Fulton coming to Halifax to row a match with our champion, George Brown?—Hx. Unionist.

THE DOMINION RIFLE MATCH.—A private despatch from LaPrairie, states that at the first stage for the All-Comers Prize yesterday, Lieut.-Colonel Creighton made the highest score at the 600 yards range, Captain Piers next. From our despatch it will be seen that the riflemen from Nova Scotia are upholding the honor of the Province.—Hx. Reporter.

IT is stated that the Schr. Archer, Capt. Allan an American fishing vessel, was run down a few days since off Cape George, by another American fishing vessel, and the Archer sunk immediately. Crew saved. Report says she had 199 bbls. mackerel on board.

Maine has gone republican by a majority of nearly 20,000, which is a very large gain on the vote of 1867. Though a small State, Maine has been considered as generally striking the 'key note' If there be any truth in the idea, Grant and Colfax are sure to win.
