THE OAR.

WINNING AGAINST THE WIND.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 24.—Almost in the face of a stiffish wind, and the water so rough that the boats of her two opponents filled and swamped, one before and the other after the finish line was passed, Columbia rowed steadily on to victory this evening in the fast time of 21 minutes an 25 seconds. Cornell was second, seven boat lengths back. Pennsylvania's evil luck lasted to the end. He skull was smashed by the waves from Gov. Morton's tug last Friday, and patched up till it was practically as good as new, and went down over a mile from the finish. The Cornell boat was swamped just below her own boat house after the race was over, by swells from the steamboats, and was broken in two. Pennsylvania's shell suffered little.

MOUNT BRYDGES.

("Advertiser" Agent, T. Pearse, P.M.)

June 24.—Mrs Dr. Weekes, of London, has returned home greatly benefited in health after spending a couple of weeks at the residence of Rev. G. J. Kerr.

A telegram conveying the sad intelligence of the death of the only son of Mr. Wm. Francis, township treasurer, was received on Saturday. Deceased had been away in the Northwest for several years, and the sympathy of the community is expressed to the bereaved family, especially the mother, as she is and has been in very delicate health for over a year.

Mr. G. N. Weekes, barrister, London, is to address an open meeting of the Methodist Sabbath school next Sunday afternoon.

The public school of Mount Brydges held its annual picnic on Saturday on Seabrook's Flats, near Delaware, and the children enjoyed the day immensely, and came home in good time, no accident occurring to mar the happiness of both scholars and friends. The following programme was carried out, and a lot of nice prizes was awarded to the successful competitors:

Girls' race, 9 and under—Edna Northcott 1, Elsie Hare 2, Edith Cartner 3.

Boys' race, 9 and under—Willie Taggart 1, George Osborne 2, Charlie Fisher 3.

Potato race, girls—Jennie Taggart 1, Ethel Clark 2, Leone Steer 3.

Boys' race, 13 and under—M. Bignell 1, Harold Pearce 2, Earl Sutherland 3.

Girls' race, 11 and under—Ethel Clark 1, Effie Torrence 2, Ethel Lipsit 3.

Boys' race, 14 and over—J. Betts 1, Fred Ringrose 2.

Girls' race, 14 and over—Daisy Wootton 1, Cora Mines and Claire Robinson 2 (tie), Leone Steer 3.

Shoe and stocking race, boys—Harold Pearce 1, I. Betts 2, M. Bignell 3.

Three-legged race, boys—Harold Pearce and George Lipsit 1, Fred Ringrose and Eddie Dingman 2.

Girls' race, 13 and under—Leone Steer 1, Jennie Taggart 2, Mary West 3.

WILL PROBABLY GET HIM.

The Queen's Avenue Church and Mr. Daniels—Mr. Cunningham Averse to Coming.

The Queen's Avenue Methodist pastorate trouble remains in statu quo, so far as any official action is concerned, but there is a well-authenticated opinion that Rev. Mr. Cunningham will decline to come to the church against the congregation's wishes. A reporter asked Rev. Walter Rigsby today as to the position of affairs. Mr. Rigsby alluded to the refusal of the trustee and quarterly boards to accept the compromise suggested by the special conference committee. "The question is," he said, "what is to be done with Mr. Cunningham? Is he willing to go to Queen's Avenue under the circumstances? The probability is that he will not, though he has not definitely said so. There is no other place available for him but the Hamilton Road. But suppose the Hamilton Road people should follow example of Queen's Avenue and refuse to accept a pastor whom they had not called? However, the special conference committee has taken no action yet, nor has it been called to revoke its former decision, and until it does the appointment of Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Daniels to Queen's Avenue stands. Of course, the president may convene it any day."

Mr. Rigsby pointed out that the action of the Chatham district committeemen in seeking to relieve the pressure there by allowing Mr. Daniels to leave Dresden to oblige Queen's Avenue, has caused difficulty in that district, the Blenheim congregation objecting to Mr. McTavish's removal.

A prominent layman suggested today that the best way to get over the difficulty would be for Mr. Cunningham to be given complete control of Queen's Avenue missions, permitting Mr. Daniels to be the pastor of Queen's Avenue Church. He argues in favor of conciliation all round, or, he asks, where is the itineracy?

WAGES GOING UP.

United States Manufacturers Busy—They Voluntarily Increase the Pay.

Lowell, Mass., June 25.—The weavers employed by the Merrimac Woolen Company have been granted an increase of 6 per cent in wages.

Loraine, Ohio, June 25.—The Johnston Company today posted a notice of 15 per cent increase in the wages of the men in the converting dry house and machine shops—in all about 200. The men employed in the shane mills had their wages increased last week. The raise is entirely voluntary. The mill is rushed with orders and every branch is running to its full capacity.

SHE SUDDENLY TALKED.

A Case Which Puzzles the Staid People of Hamilton.

Hamilton, June 25.—A girl named Maria Lamburgh turned up in the city some time ago seeking relief. She was apparently deaf and dumb, and gave Mayor Stewart and others to understand that her parents had died in Scotland a short time ago, and she had been sent to Canada by friends. The mayor sent her to the Deaf and Dumb Institute in Belleville. At the close of the term Maria was sent back to Hamilton, and since then charitably disposed persons have sheltered her in their homes. She refused to answer any questions as to her previous history. This morning she began to talk, and showed that she could hear as well. She ascribed her recovery to divine workings. Inquiries are being instituted as to her past.

Britain's Shake-Up.

Lord Salisbury Kisses the Queen's Hand and Becomes Premier.

Lord Salisbury in a Tight Box Because of Joe Chamberlain.

Conference of Politicians Likely to Be in the New Ministry.

If Salisbury Accepts Office, Rosebery Is Not Bound to Help Him.

SALISBURY IN A TIGHT PLACE.

London, June 25.—The Daily News says editorially: "If Lord Salisbury demands terms from Lord Rosebery, we trust the impudent request will be met with a peremptory refusal. If Lord Salisbury refuses to accept office he will play himself in the ludicrous and conspicuous position of one willing to wound yet afraid to strike. The fact is, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain has got Lord Salisbury in a mess, and the latter now calls upon Lord Rosebery to help him out of it. This is not Lord Rosebery's business. Lord Salisbury must either pluck up courage or exhibit a spectacle of impotence and poltroonery, of which we are sure he will shrink."

The Westminster Gazette says Lord Rosebery has not received any communication from Lord Salisbury in regard to the conditions of acceptance of office by the latter, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

GOSSIP ABOUT GLADSTONE.

The Pall Mall Gazette says Mr. Gladstone, at his conference with Lord Rosebery last night, seriously questioned the wisdom of the resignation of the Ministry. Certain Liberals believe that Mr. Gladstone, having been physically fortified by his cruise in the North Sea, will throw the weight of his influence and eloquence upon the side of his old colleagues, but the ex-Premier's personal friends are strongly opposed to his taking any such course, fearing that the excitement and exertion might cause a physical reaction.

GETTING TOGETHER.

The Liberal-Unionists held a conference at Lord Salisbury's house this morning at 11 o'clock. The Duke of Devonshire, Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Balfour, Mr. Goschen and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach were present.

Lord Salisbury went to Windsor again this afternoon.

The Unionist conference came to an end at 11:30 a.m., and Lord Salisbury almost immediately afterwards took a train for Windsor. It is not known definitely whether he has decided to accept office.

GLADSTONE NOT IN IT.

Herbert Gladstone this morning definitely stated that his father would take no further part in political life.

THE RETORT COURTEOUS.

The Pall Mall Gazette, referring to the Daily News' statement that if Lord Salisbury demand an agreement of support from the outgoing Government as a condition of his taking office, they will be refused, says: "If Lord Salisbury refuses to form a Ministry without terms, then Rosebery must again take up the responsibility, which none but a coward would ever have cast off on such a pretext as his. He ought to have dissolved Parliament instead of resigning."

LORD SALISBURY ACCEPTS.

London, June 25.—Lord Salisbury has accepted the commission to form a Ministry, and kissed the Queen's hand upon being formally appointed Premier.

The Central News says that Lord Salisbury informed her Majesty that he was ready to form a Ministry, and submitted the names of the members of the proposed Cabinet. Mr. Balfour, it is said, has accepted the post of First Lord of the Treasury, and Mr. Chamberlain that of Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Sir Wm. Harcourt said he had hoped to be able to give definite information as to the course affairs would take, but it was impossible for him to do so, as the information was not in his possession.

SOO CANAL SCANDAL.

Botched Work Which Was Well Paid For by the Country.

Crib Work Filled With Ice and Frozen Earth That Rose and Floated Away.

(Special to the "Advertiser.")

Ottawa, June 25.—The investigation into the Soo Canal contracts was continued in the public accounts committee this afternoon by Mr. Lister, the first witness being Mr. Thompson, the superintending engineer of the canal, recalled. From his evidence it appeared that the 7,000 feet of crib work was a failure. It had not been properly filled in, some of the filling being ice and frozen earth, which subsequently rose to the surface and floated away, and the crib work, not being able to withstand the pressure on it, bulged out. The price paid for it was $450 a yard. Nobody was discharged for the botch-work. Ryan & Co., the contractors, received $90,000 bonus in order to have the canal ready for opening on July 1, 1894. He did not know if the canal was yet open, nor did he know that the tug Jessie had grounded there the other day in eight feet of water in the entrance. He advised the pier in the middle upon which the C. P. R. bridge rested. He did not think it was what Mr. Lister described it, "an engineering atrocity." There was a span of 150 feet across. There were other bridges with a single span across larger spaces. There was no pier on the American side. He did not know why the Government built this bridge for the C. P. R. It cost about $56,000, and was paid for by the Canadian Government. Witness was examined further by Mr. Gibson, who got out the fact that the blunder of the crib work required $66,000 to repair, in addition to a further sum for timber.

Mr. Hugh Ryan, head of the firm of contractors who built the lock, was examined by Mr. Haggart. The first charge was that he received $16 for masonry instead of the $11 for the 5,500 yards necessary for the enlargement of the canal. This was allowed, because the price of labor and for mechanics had gone up considerably. While stone-masons were $2 50, they had to pay them $4 per day up there. Everything else was in proportion. Mr. Ryan swore that the bonus of $90,000 he received for hastening the completion of the canal did not compensate him, because he paid $64,000 for extra plant and calculated $16,000 for night work. There were other extra expenses. "You must have lost a lot of money on that work," said Mr. Lister, and Mr. Ryan smiled at him. His examination will be resumed on Thursday.

WESTERN HIGH COURT.

The Last Sitting Prior to Vacation Held in London

By Mr. Justice Ferguson—Motion in an Alimony Action—Other Cases.

This morning Mr. Justice Ferguson opened the weekly high court sitting for London, for which a good grist of cases had been entered. There were a large number of lawyers present, including Mr. Mabee, of Stratford, Mr. Farley and Mr. Norman Macdonald, of St. Thomas, who acted as counsel for Murderers Welter and Hendershott. The following cases were heard before 2 o'clock:

Abraham vs. Abraham—Petition by plaintiff for payment out of court of certain moneys. The action was originally one for alimony, in which plaintiff got judgment registered against the lands of defendant. Defendant after the judgment made an assignment to the sheriff, and the case went to the Court of Appeal, the plaintiff succeeding in holding her judgment and the money going into court. The defendant, Thos. Abraham, died a short time ago, and the question now is what are the rights of the plaintiff with respect to the $500 which was set apart in lieu of her dower in the lands. The original judgment was for $150 a year, and there is a sum in arrears on this prior to the husband's death. Order made for payment to the plaintiff of the alimony due—$8 60—and the annual interest on the sum during her lifetime. Mabee (Stratford) for petition.

Ferguson vs. McCrone—F. P. Betts (London), for the official guardian, asked that the case be postponed. It is an action to cancel given by one of two brothers with reference to the division of the estate, one brother having been absent for eighteen years. Farley, QC., of St. Thomas, informed Justice Ferguson that the family originally consisted of several children, but one by one they had died of consumption. When last seen the missing one was in very delicate health, and it was generally conceded that he was dead. The relatives had advertised in all leading American papers from San Francisco to Chicago, but no trace of the man was found. Postponement granted.

Re Dominion Provident Benevolent and Endowment Association, of Stratford, a defunct unregistered insurance corporation, over a disposition of whose funds there has been no end of litigation for some months—Mabee (Stratford) asked for an interpleader issue to be directed between one Cook and 80 or 90 other claimants, stating how their actions should be tried. Mr. Justice Ferguson suggested that the motion be allowed to stand until an appeal from a judgment in a recent action at Stratford is heard. Agreed.

NO LAWN WATERING.

The Prohibition in Force Until the Commissioners Give Notice.

The Colville Springs Ready—A Scheme to Save Street Watering.

The water in the Colville springs has now been collected in the pond and will be pumped into the city reservoir this afternoon. The springs have a good flow—in fact, the grounds seem to be full of them, and they can be seen bubbling up all over.

A great many people used their lawn services last night. Perhaps they were unaware that the prohibition of street and lawn watering is still in force. Neither will be permitted until the reservoir supply warrants it, and when it does the water commissioners will give the consumers notice.

Waterworks Engineer Moore has a plan which will save a waste of vast quantities of water now used for street watering. It has always seemed regrettable that the beautiful Springbank water should be thrown on the roads, when river water would serve the purpose equally as well. "As the Grand Trunk are now drawing their supply from the river," said Mr. Moore, "I propose to take advantage of their pumping machinery and to erect three large tanks along the track—one at Richmond, one at Wellington and one at Ridout street—from which the street watering carts can be filled. One contractor told me that he filled 130 carts a day. As each cart holds 600 gallons, that means 78,000 gallons. There are seven contractors, and if each used the same amount 548,000 gallons a day would be thrown on the streets—but the average per man is somewhat less."

When the street water comes from the river the lawn services will probably be allowed to be used without interruption.

Public opinion is generally not very far astray after all, for the simple reason that it is the result of experience and not theory. It can be taken with plain water, aerated water or claret and soda, in fact, a dash of "Montserrat" improves almost anything.
