Special Editorial Correspondence by Telegraph.]

OTTAWA, Feb. 23.—J. Smith, Williamsport, Pa., interviewed the Minister of Finance this forenoon. He asks that the duty of 50 cents per ton on coke should be taken off. His company is now sending coke into Canada, but the market is restricted because of duty. Many manufacturers and miners in Canada favor the abolition of the duty.

The sub-committee on agriculture and colonization met to-day and decided to recommend to the full committee to have stock breeders and leading veterinary surgeons examined on oath to show that no pleuro-pneumonia exists in Canada.

A peculiar company was indorsed by the banking and commerce committee this forenoon. It is named Dominion Burglary Guarantee Company, and it purposes to provide, for a consideration, for the insurance of persons, firms and corporations against loss from house-breaking or burglary. It will have a capital of $200,000, divided into $100 shares, and must put up $40,000 before it begins business.

The report having gone abroad that Hon. John Costigan, to settle the difficulty of the question of the lieutenant-governorship, had decided to accept the post, a prominent New Brunswick Conservative paper makes a bitter onslaught on the Secretary of State, charging that his career has been far from brilliant and that the people of New Brunswick would not accept him as their governor. It further adds that Mr. Costigan could not be elected in any other constituency in New Brunswick than the one he holds. The article in question has caused considerable commotion here in political circles, as it is said that it has been inspired by Conservatives who are anxious to prevent Mr. Costigan introducing a motion favorable to home rule for Ireland, and would like to see him put out of the Cabinet.

OTTAWA, Feb. 23.—The famous Connolly-McGreevy prosecution comes up before the assizes here next month. This afternoon an examination for discovery was held in the Exchequer Court, when Mr. Osler, Q.C., gave N. K. Connolly, who was on the stand, a great raking over. Connolly admitted that the two sets of notes granted for $25,000 and $23,000 by his firm might have been paid for political purposes to the Conservative party, but he personally did not know. Mr. Larkin, St. Catharines, is here on this case.

LOBO LIBERALS.

Resolution of Condolence With the Late P. Carmichael's Family—Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the Lobo branch Reform Association was held in the town hall, Coldstream, Feb. 18. The meeting was very largely attended, the hall being filled by sturdy Reformers from all parts of the township. The vice-president in opening the meeting referred in feeling terms to the great loss the association had sustained in the death of their esteemed president, Mr. Peter Carmichael. Mr. E. M. Zavitz, D. A. Brown and Peter Mitchell were appointed to draft a letter of condolence to the widow of deceased.

The officers elected for 1893 are as follows: President, John Ferguson; first vice-president, A. Lynn; second vice-president, Dougald McArthur; secretary, D. A. Brown; treasurer, D. Campbell. Delegates were elected for the north and south ridings of Middlesex. Rousing speeches were delivered by R. Boston, Rev. A. Sinclair, C. M. Simmons, T. B. Scott and others.

The Pope's Cope.

ROME, Feb. 23.—The Catholic noblemen of Rome gave the Pope a magnificent violet cope in which he was expected to celebrate his jubilee mass. The Pope declined to wear the cope as he believed that on such a solemn occasion he should wear only white. His decision has given such offense to the nobleman who presented the cope that he has now promised to wear it at a special mass on St. Joseph's Day.

TO FACILITATE BUSINESS.

(From the Canada Farmers' Sun.)

The headquarters of the Canada Salt Association is at Clinton, and the New Era of that town says some funny things to explain the present situation. It says:

"As our readers know, the Salt Association ceased to exist on Dec. 31 last. Since that time several meetings of the manufacturers have been held, not so much with the view of reforming a combination, but more for the purpose of amicably settling conflicting interests. It has been found both impracticable and impossible to form an association of all the manufacturers on the same lines as the old one was based upon. But, realizing the necessity of keeping down expenses as much as possible, an association has simply been formed among some of the makers to keep one central office, with headquarters in Clinton. There is no combination as to prices; it is simply for the purpose of facilitating business. The advantages of one office in a case of this kind are so apparent as scarcely to require explanation, but among them might be mentioned the saving of correspondence, the assurance of orders being promptly filled at the lowest market price, with a first-class article, and also the freedom from anxiety resulting from doing business with a thoroughly reliable institution. The Canada Salt Association, by which name it will be known, represents works situated on the G[illegible] and Trunk Railway, the Canadian Pacific a[illegible] the water front, thus enabling them to [illegible]uote salt for any point in the Dominion, a[illegible] giving the choice of route to the buy[illegible]r, an advantage they claim that nobody [illegible]ut themselves are able to offer. W. M. [illegible] Gray, of Seaforth, is president of the ne[illegible] association, and John Ransford still rema[illegible]s as secretary."

This is a modest [illegible]xplanation. The association is not a [illegible]mbination now. Of course not. Its only [illegible]bject is to keep down expenses, and sever[illegible] meetings have been held within a mo[illegible] to accomplish this object. To "amic[illegible]ly settle conflicting interests" is a kind [illegible]side show among the brethren. It is al[illegible]ys wise to regard a thing that is "impos[illegible]ble" to be also "impracticable," but it [illegible]ally is too bad that those who are so ver[illegible] anxious to maintain low prices for the [illegible]efit of their patrons should not have b[illegible]n able "to form an association of all the [illegible]manufacturers on the same lines as the old [illegible]ne was based upon."

Perhaps the best l[illegible]son given to farmers by these good people [illegible] is that while they declare it to be adv[illegible]able to group their interests to enable them to sell cheaply, it will also be beneficial to farmers to group their orders so that they may be enabled to purchase cheaply.

Yes, it must be accepted as a truisim that in unity there is strength wherever unions are established.
