JUNIORS CONFIDENT OF UNRAVELLING KNOT

Expect To Lead Group After Tomorrow Night's Tilt.

WILL BE YOUNG FEUD

Glencoe and London Have Few Hangovers From Last Year.

The group title is at stake in tomorrow night's tilt between the local juniors and Glencoe at the Westminster "arena," and the local youths are confident that they'll be perched at the top of the heap by the time the timekeeper has blown final time on the old ship horn, which now does duty as the stop signal. There's quite a little grudge feeling as a hang-over from Manhattan-Glencoe mixes last year.

Glencoe punched a 4 to 2 defeat on the locals' ticket as they started on the first leg of the journey to group honors, a fact which hasn't been forgotten, and which is acting two ways on the locals; in first tapering off on any overconfidence that might creep into their attitude toward the game, and at the same time putting it strictly up to them to wipe away the stain.

When Ingersoll defeated Glencoe, the locals figured that it was a false alarm they heard on their trip down there, but Glencoe's defeat of Ingersoll Tuesday night in the return game knocked the idea into a cocked hat, and now the locals realizes they'll have to put forth every effort tomorrow night. The young Scots free Glencoe play a good all-round game in every department, and the fact that they are away from home is not likely to bother them much.

The locals will probably be further switched around for this important tilt. In addition to Mowry, the Western U. student, who was added for the St. Thomas game, the youthful Ryan, who has been making things hum in the Manufacturers' set-tos, is also included in the invitation sent out for a workout tonight at the Westminster from 5 to 6.

At last night's meeting of the hockey sub-committee, Coach Hi Ferguson, who has been unable though business and other reasons to do what he considered was necessary in the way of coaching, offered to resign, but was prevailed upon to keep on with the job and consented, providing Cap. Graham and he were left to work out the juniors' destiny. The two will be on hand tonight for the work-out, and the boys will get a real drilling, something they've experienced about once all this season.

In the London camp, there is an opinion that two of the goals that Glencoe got on their last meeting were somewhat flukey. They are not producing this ancient piece of information as an alibi so much as to show that 4 to 2 in that early effort didn't quite indicate the relative strength of the two teams.

Those who are wanted to show up tonight prompt on time so that the full hour's work will be obtained, are: Tupholme, Clift, Milne, Barrett, McGeoch, Blackwell, Wilcox, Ryan, McKay, Mowry.

WOODSTOCK WINS N.H.L. GROUP WITH 14--4 WIN

Pan Drieds No Match For Fast-Going Red and White.

Woodstock, Jan. 17.—Tillsonburg were no match for the Woodstock Senior N. H. L. team this evening, when the locals won an uninteresting game by 7 goals to 1, and could have scored as many more as they wished. This gives Woodstock the round by 14 goals to 4. Garvey, King and Douglas were at the top of their form. Barrett and Conn tried hard for Tillsonburg, and were the best of the six. Hamilton in goal was weak. Conn scored the only goal of the first period on a pass from Douglas. In the second period Douglas took a pass from McLarty and scored, and Thurston scored Tillsonburg's only counter on a nice combination rush with Barrett. The third period was a runaway. Pascoe scoring two goals, and Garvey, King and McLarty one each. All of them came after nice three-man combinations.

The lineup:

Woodstock—Goal, Childs; defence, Garvey and King; center, Cohen; wings, Douglas and Cohen; subs, Pascoe and Sabine.

Tillsonburg—Goal, Hamilton; defence, Thurston and Barrett; center, Russell; wings, Conn and Lang; subs, Parkey and Williams.

Referee—J. Richardson, Ingersoll.

From Pro Hockey To Prize Chicken

Ottawa, Jan. 17.—Jack Darragh, well-known hockey player, and member of the 1921 world champion Ottawa team, is winning fame along another line now. In his "leisure" hours, Jack is quite a poultry fancier, and yesterday, at the Ottawa winter fair, he was awarded the silver cup given as first prize for the best pen owned by a member of the Ottawa Poultry Association. Jack's specialty is Rhode Island Reds.

Johnson Should Wait Awhile

Gibbons Is Next Hardest Man To Champ Himself.

By FAIR PLAY.
Copyright.

New York, Jan. 17.—Oh, well, of course, what must be—must be.

And sure as shooting it will be, unless all the dope, prognostications are wrong. All of which is a wurrah, wurrah moan over the fact that Charley Cook is playing the card too far away from his thumb in agreeing to match his Floyd Johnson meal ticket with Tommy Gibbons.

True, the young Iowa giant will have to take a small reverse or two in the coming twelve months while learning a lot of things that he will have to know before he could hope to cope with Champion Jack, but it does seem too bad that this early in his career he should be sent against perhaps the most dangerous enemy he could be called on to face outside of Dempsey himself.

The scrap is to be held in March at Madison Square Garden. That gives Mr. Cook's protege and the hope of the fans for a new heavyweight champion, not quite two months in which to achieve a near miracle.

It may be done—strange things are happening day by day in every way, but the writer believes firmly that M. Coue will have to rush immediately to Floyd's assistance and work nonunion hours to bring the latter out a winner over Gibbons.

The writer has seen both men in their last fights—Gibbons against Miske, and Johnson against Brennan—and on these showings Gibbons could today, provided, of course, he is in any kind of shape, fight rings all around Johnson. Evidently Cook has thrown overboard the heretofore admitted and wise policy of making haste slowly.

As stated at the opening, unless all the dope is unexpectedly overturned, his new policy of haste will end in the proverbial waste.

The March battle will be for the benefit of the milk fund. Unquestionably, it will draw a record house. Incidentally, Rickard first offered Willard a chance to meet either Johnson or Gibbons, but the ex-champion said a thunderous "No," so there you are.

GALT BEATS WATERLOO FOR RIGHT TO ENTER TANKARD

Galt, Jan. 17.—In one of the greatest games with the stanes and beesoms that has ever been witnessed in this old Scotch city, a pioneer in the curling game, the Galt Granites today earned the right to play in the tankard finals, when they defeated Waterloo by one shot. On both sheets of ice it was a battle every end, with the sheet so keen that skill at getting the right weight became a factor. The outcome was not decided until Harvey Sims had played his last stone, with which he tried to get Galt's third shot and thus tie up the round, but he went through the house.

Teams From Auld Kirks Win Three Peppery Tilts in Church League

Every game in the Church League last night was a close one. St. Andrew's nosed First Methodist out in the opener to the tune of 3—1.

Chowen rang in the first tally for First Methodist five minutes after the start, and things then settled down to a 50-50 argument for the remainder of this chapter.

The Scotsmen came in strong in the last period and put three shots past Martin in quick succession, Black getting two and Southcott the other.

Lineup:

St. Andrew's—Marr, goal; Wilkins, left defence; Southcott, right defence; Black, center; McKillop, left forward; Smith, right forward.

Referee—Richardson.

In the second game, King Street Presbyterian downed Chalmers Presbyterian by a score of 3—2 after a lengthy see-saw struggle. Chapman and W. Dalrymple starred for Chalmers, and Lightfoot, Goodhand and Ross for the victors.

This game was a speedy one throughout, with both goalies stopping many dangerous shots.

Ruth Center of Deep Mystery

Operated On in N. Y. Hospital For Infection "or Something."

By JAMES CRUSINBERRY.
Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Jan. 17.—Some sort of a mystery operation was performed today upon Babe Ruth, Yankee swatting star in summer and country gentleman of Sudbury, Mass. Babe arrived in New York about midnight Tuesday. An hour later he was at St. Vincent's Hospital for an operation on his left arm, wrist, hand or finger. About 2 o'clock this afternoon he took a train back to Massachusetts.

An operation on any part of the left wing of Ruth, the left-handed start, is something of import to fandom, and the fact that the facts were more or less concealed made it the subject of much comment.

The Yankee office, guarded by Business Manager Ed Barrow, seemed little interested in it, notwithstanding the alleged salary of something like $50,000 a year the club is paying Babe. Without the full use of his southpaw, Babe would be worth about $3.27 a year to the Yanks.

Barrow, urged to get information on the operation, finally located Mrs. Ruth at the Ansonia Hotel. From her, it was gathered that Babe had an infection "or something" on the third finger of his left hand. Dr. King, who performed the operation, could not be reached.

It may be recalled that Babe had trouble with an abscess "or something" of the sort more than once before. In the world's series of 1921, he was out of some of the games with a bad arm. He had some trouble with it last summer.

LEANS OVER BOARDS, GETS SKATE IN EYE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Welland, Jan. 17.—Allen German, well-known hockey player, and son of W. M. German, M. P., was injured last night, when watching the intermediate game between Port Colborne and Welland.

He was leaning over the boards when one of the players fell, his skate making a deep gash under Mr. German's right eye.

CANUCK NAG DRIVEN TO STRAIGHT HEAT WIN

Peter Johnson Stalled Off All Competition in 2:20 Pace.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Jan. 17.—Typical winter weather, something unusual for Michigan, greeted horsemen at the third day of the Mt. Clemens ice meeting, and the racing proved to be the best of the meet to date. The track was hard and smooth and the air biting and the crowd of nearly 2,500 was rewarded with nine heats of grand circuit calibre.

The feature was the straight heat victory of Peter Johnson, that sterling Canadian horse which won the 2:20 pace in a field of six without really being forced to extend himself. Fleming gave Peter a magnificent drive and stalled off all competition. In the first heat Peter Johnston was the choice, and he led throughout, always some distance from his field. In the second heat he repeated, and G. A. Brown of Leamington, Ontario, his owner, and the entire Canadian contingent, gave him whole-hearted support in the auctions. Peter was unmolested in the third heat, but was chased to the wire by Todd Harvester.

Another good race was that of Della Unko in the 2:15 pace. Monday afternoon the mare, after landing the opening heat, succumbed to Don McGregor, but today the hard ice suited here and upset the calculation of the wise men who figured Blend J. and Peter Hall best.

Thursday's card includes the 2:09 pace, 2:20 pace and a classified race, with good fields.

There were nine in the 2:15 pace today, and in the opening heat Blend J. shot to the front and fought it out to the last turn with Della Unko.

There Blend J. was handicapped by a loose tire, and Della Unko paraded home. Blend J. again made the pace in the second heat, and held on until near the wire. Peter Hall was even at three-quarters, but when the stretch was reached Della Unko came on very fast and won by a nose. Harper was pacemaker in the final mile, but when ready Della Unko scooted by him and won from Peter Hall at the end.

Ella R. Knight had the first heat of 2:24 trot presented to her and won the next one. Baroness Maxie finished in front in the initial scramble, but was set back for pacing.

Ella R. Knight was second on a run and given the heat, which really belonged to Worthy Rico who trotted. Worthy Rico led in the second until Ella R. Knight felt like trotting by him.

The H. and B. was a contender the first time around, but fell on the third turn and gave his driver a wonderful toboggan slide. Ella R. Knight never was in danger in the final heat, although she ran at the end, but so did Worthy Rico.

TIGERS PUT IRISH IN CELLAR WITH 5--2 WIN

Hams' Four-Man Defence and Forbes Do Big Upset.

FRENCH GO UP

Win Over Ottawa Puts Them in Second—Tie With Tigers.

Toronto, Jan. 17.—Thousands of Toronto fans were shown the reason why the Ottawa Senators were humiliated last Saturday night at Hamilton, when Art Ross' Bengal tribe outplayed St. Patrick's in every department tonight at the Arena and beat them 5 to 2. As the Canadiens defeated Ottawa the Senators are out in front with a scant one point lead, while the Canadiens and Hamilton are tied for second place, with St. Patricks in the cellar position just two points behind Ottawa. Seldom has the race in the pro circuit been so close with every team in the race for the honors.

To Goaler "Vern" Forbes must go the major share of the honor for the victory.

After scoring two easy goals in the opening period the Hamilton team adopted a four-man defence, with one man breaking with the puck on the attack. For forty minutes they held the almost frantic Irsh front line at bay and earned three more goals, that kept them always far in front on the score sheet. At times Adams or Babe Dye broke through, but they found Forbes on the alert, and their goals came on a long shot and when the Tigers were playing two men short through penalties. The teams:

St. Patricks—Goal, Roach; defence, Cameron and Stuart; center, Adams; wings, Dye and Noble; subs, Randall, Andrews, Scott and Denford.

Hamilton—Goal, Forbes; defence, Reise and Corbeau; center, Arbor; wings, Prodger and Buchard; subs, Roach, Wilson and Mummery.

Referee—Lou Marsh.

CANADIENS TRIUMPH.

Montreal, Jan. 17.—Outplaying and out-generalling their opponents throughout the game, Canadiens triumphed over Ottawa Senators by 2 to 1 in the scheduled National Hockey League fixture at the Mount Royal Arena tonight. Canadiens owe their victory to better planned defensive and offensive play. They adopted tactics usually used by the Ottawa playes while in the lead, and in doing so defeated Ottawa at their own game. Canadiens showed more aggressiveness than they have shown in the previous games played at the Arena this season. They seldom let up in the pact, until the closing ten minutes of the final period, by which time they had the game safely tucked away.

The habitants made fewer mistakes than Ottawa and suffered less from penalties. The teams were:

Ottawa—Goal, Benedict; defence, Boucher and Gerard; center, Nighbor; wings, Broadbent and Denenny; subs, Darragh, Helman and Clancy.

Canadiens—Goal, Vezina; defence, S. Cleghorn and Couture; center, O. Cleghorn; wings, Boucher and Joliat; subs, Pitre, Berlinquette and Malone.

St. Peters and St. Marys came through winners in last night's Catholic Hockey League.

The Italian boys suffered a 9-to-1 defeat at the hands of the St. Peters crew. Some of the sons of Sunny Italy have names which are distinctly Gaelic, such as Pook and Delaney.

Both teams played airtight hockey in the first period, and it was only in the last canto that the Cathedral lads were able to run up their counters.

St. Michaels and St. Marys locked horns in the opener, the east enders winning to the tune of 5—4. Both of these teams have a number of youngsters who have great promise of developing into stars.
